DISPOSAL PLANT UNDER WAY

Work on the sewage disposal plant at the hospital for the insane is fairly under way, some thirty men being employed on the job.

The present stage of the work affords only a vague idea of what the system will be like when completed. The main operation seems to lie at a point some five hundred yards north of the farm buildings.

The latter part of the work is the most difficult and is being done by Italians employed by the Pitt Construction company.

Welsh Singers Arrive Home.

In the "Druid" of March 11th, published at Scranton, is found an interesting letter from Mountain Ash, Wales, written by a member of the famous "Mountain Ash Male Choir" which rendered a concert in the opera house here during the past winter and which quite recently returned to Wales.

That the singers were pleased with their American trip is quite evident from the tone of the letter. Upon returning to Mountain Ash they were tendered a reception by their townspeople. The following extract from one of the addresses made will be read with interest by Danville people:

"Dr. Arthur Jones said they had given the American people a representation of Cymru Lan (clean Wales)."

"Gentlemen of the council and fellow townsmen, allow me first to convey to you and to all my countrymen a message from James Scarlett, chief attorney to the American government. He wished me to say that the beautiful singing and exemplary character of the Mountain Ash Choir had struck another strong melodious string along the Atlantic, which would surely help to blend harmoniously together the two countries."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. A Queer Chinese Notion.

One of the beliefs which the Chinese are slowly unlearning is that foreigners use the eyes and hearts of Chinamen in compounding rare and costly drugs which are valuable aids in magic. Medicine and magic have for ages gone hand in hand in China, just as they once did in Europe. Ignorant Chinamen therefore readily believe such tales. The use of eyes of Chinese by foreigners in metallurgy is described in a work called "A Deathblow to Corrupt Practices," published in 1870. According to this, when white Christians had charge of a funeral they drove all the relatives and friends from the house. Both eyeballs were then removed from the corpse, the orifices being filled with plaster. This was called "sealing the eyes for the western journey." By compounding these eyes with a hundred pounds of Chinese lead, this veracious chronicler continues, eight pounds of silver could be extracted from it. The sight organs of any other people were useless for this purpose.

Marine Rubber Chewers.

The sailor, taking a fine, new rubber band from the stationery display, began to chew it with vigorous enjoyment.

"What are you up to there?" snarled the druggist. "Just rubber chewing," said the sailor. "It's a habit with all us navy fellows. Keeps off gun headache."

"Of course you, a landlubber, don't know nothin' about it. But let me tell you, mate, when a sixteen inch gun goes off aboard ship the jar shatters windows, splinters planks and brings your lower teeth up against your upper lips like a straight left from old John L."

"The result is a gun headache—such a headache! But if you chew rubber in firing time it eases off the shock and you don't suffer none. I been chewin' it steady ever since Manila Bay."

"Rubber chewing—what a nasty habit," said the druggist. "Rag chewin's worse," was the sailor's reply.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Grant and Sumner.

Concerning the reliability of things in print, it is recalled that Charles Sumner criticised General Grant savagely, and some time after some one was talking to Grant about atheism in New England and remarked, "Even Sumner does not believe in the Bible."

"Why should he?" quietly replied Grant. "He didn't write it."

Too Great a Strain.

Every once in awhile the actor while taking the part of a duke in a play would spend large sums of his stage money. On one of these occasions it seemed too much for a certain person in the audience, for a volcanic shrill and clear through the house, "Hey, Bill, how about that five you owe me?"—Exchange.

SUPERINTENDENCY WYOMING MISSION

Rev. L. D. Ott of this city has been tendered the superintendency of the Wyoming Mission of the Methodist Episcopal church to succeed the Rev. Mr. Biemel, who has held the position for some years.

The proposition is presented to Mr. Ott in a communication from Rev. Dr. W. W. Evans, district superintendent, of the Juniata district, who is a member of the cabinet that has the matter in hand.

The appointment will be made at the coming session of the Central Pennsylvania conference, which will convene in the fifth Street Methodist church at Harrisburg, on March 24th.

Meanwhile Mr. Ott has the offer under consideration. As superintendent of the Wyoming missions he would reside at Cheyenne, Wyo., and would have charge of all the missions in the State. Best of all there is a handsome salary attached.

As pastor of the Trinity M. E. church, this city, during several years past the Rev. L. D. Ott has proven himself an earnest and conscientious minister of the gospel, who is not only loved and loyally supported by his congregation but is esteemed by the people of town irrespective of religious belief.

Three Schools Closed Monday. A case of diphtheria in the third ward necessitated the closing and fumigation of three rooms in the public school building of that ward. The rooms infected were those of the second, third and seventh grades, taught respectively by Miss Boudman, Miss Mann and Miss Musselman.

The fumigation as practiced in the schools at present is most thorough and the microbes, if any exist in the building, have little chance to escape. So caustic and penetrating is the gas that lingers in the building that the rooms no matter how well ventilated are hardly fit to occupy for at least twenty-four hours after the fumigation. The effect is said to be very subtle and can only be detected on the children in the form of a languor often approaching stupor together with an affection of the eyes, which in extreme cases becomes painful. It is a question among the school authorities whether the rooms disinfected should be used for at least 24 hours after fumigation.

When Comets Terrified.

To Evelyn a comet was a very terrifying phenomenon. He notes the appearance of one on Jan. 12, 1680, which he describes in his diary as "a meteor of an obscure bright color, very much in shape like the blade of a sword."

"What this may portend," he adds, "God only knows, but such another phenomenon I remember to have seen in 1640 about the trail of the great earle of Strafford, preceding our bloody rebellion. I pray God avert his judgements."

Woman's Seven Hours' Swim.

Miss Marie E. Pike of Madison, S. D., broke Miss Lillian Williams' record the other day for continuous swimming without a rest by staying in the plunge at Long Beach, Cal., seven hours. She entered the water at 9:50 a. m. and left it at 4:50 p. m. Miss Pike went to Long Beach a year ago practically an invalid.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had the stomach he would have the region of the stomach, he'd have launched at him for an ignominious. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the vulnerable blade of the solar plexus is until discovered in Nasal Catarrh and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot.

"Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or "dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition."

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it may be used to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or "dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition."

H. S. CONTINUES WINNING STREAK

The invincible High School five easily defeated the Bloomsburg Normal Sauter team in a rather one-sided game on the local floor Saturday night. At no time was the score near a tie, the steady playing of High School telling against the irregular methods of the visitors. The first half High School had everything its own way, playing all around Bloomsburg and caging the ball at will.

The Normal five scored first on two fouls. They placed their first and only basket in the first half by the hardest kind of work after the ball had been in play eight minutes. In the meantime the High School players, unmindful of the interference of their opponents had been steadily boosting their score, Dailey, Ryan and Edmondson taking turns at tossing and leaving Cooper and Price to play the visitors. At half time the score stood 27-4 in favor of High School.

In the second half the tables were turned. Bloomsburg got together and put up a fine exhibition of basket ball. Their passing and covering was applauded time after time by the spectators. Welliver, a former Danville boy, in particular, doing good all around work. For about ten minutes High School was unable to solve the riddle. Finally they recovered and caged enough baskets to place them unquestionably in the lead. Bloomsburg was handicapped in the middle of the second half by the disqualifying of one of their best men for talking back to the referee. The interruption was fatal, breaking up their winning spurt and leaving the remainder of the game with Danville. The score at the end of the game stood 36-18.

High School played the usual good game, using team playing to best advantage.

The lineup: High School Normal Seniors. Dailey forward, Weller forward, Ryan forward, Colander center, Eumondson center, Steiner center, Cooper guard, Gordon guard, Price guard, Barrow guard.

DANVILLE WOMAN WINS DISTINCTION

Another of the numerous Danvillians who have left their home town to rise to successful heights in the world, is Dr. Ella B. Everitt, daughter of Mrs. Eliza G. Everitt, Front street, of whom Saturday's Philadelphia North American says:

A distinction hitherto achieved by only two women in twenty-seven years has been attained by Dr. Ella B. Everitt, of 1807 Spruce street, professor of gynecology in the Woman's Medical college of Pennsylvania, through her appointment to the obstetric staff of the Philadelphia General hospital.

Dr. Clara Marshall, at present dean of the Woman's Medical college, was the first woman physician to receive an appointment to the staff of the Philadelphia hospital, in 1882. On her retirement in 1897, Dr. Elizabeth L. Peck assumed the duties, and continued to act in that capacity until she resigned a few days ago.

When the appointment of her successor was contemplated, the name of Dr. Everitt was the unanimous choice. Announcement of the appointment was made yesterday.

Dr. Everitt was graduated from Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa., in 1888 and in 1891 from the Woman's Medical college.

Dr. Everitt has been professor of gynecology of the Women's Medical college since 1905, and in the same time has also been attending physician to Bryn Mawr college. Since the establishment of the hospital of the Women's Medical college, she has been an attending physician of the institution.

Dr. Everitt is also a graduate of the Danville high school, class of 1883.

I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I can fully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy." For sale by Paules & Co's.
