PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Goodrich Post, No. 22, G. A. R., at its last meeting arranged its program or Memorial day. The task this year has been no easy one, as the features of the observance have had to be arranged so as not to conflict with the exercises of unveiling the soldiers' monument.

May 30th, this year, occurs on Sunday. Following custom the decorating of the graves and the other features of the observance at most places will be carried out on Monday, which will be the true Memorial day.

As arranged the graves of the soldiers, sailors and marines in Montour county will be decorated on Saturday morning, May 29th, by Goodrich post. The various committees, which have this detail in hand, are being selected by the chairman, George W. Roat, and will be announced in a few days.

On Sunday May 30th, the memorial sermon will be preached to the members of Goodrich post by the Rev. Samuel Fox, at St. Peter's Methodist Episcopal church, of Riverside.

On Monday, May 31st, the members of Goodrich post, accompanied by the pupils of the public schools, will meet at the post room at 1 o'clock. The veterans and children will march to the river bridge, where the usual ceremony will take place of casting flowers upon the bosom of the water in memory of the sailors and marines who went down to unknown graves.

This part of the observance will be unattended with any other ceremony than the firing of three volleys by the firing squad.

At the river bridge the veterans and school children will counter-march, proceeding to the soldiers' monument in the park, where the usual memorial ceremony will be rendered and the memorial oration will be delivered to the veterans by the Rev. L. D. Ulrich, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church.

The period of the afternoon prior to about 2:30 o'clock has been set apart for the memorial ceremony of the G. A. R. including the address by the Rev. L. D. Ulrich. Immediately following, the part of the day's program relating to the unveiling of the monument will take place. Some of the details of the unveiling have not as yet been arranged but the program will be completed in a few days.

HAPPY RESULTS Have Made Many Danville Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Danville citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough for years of suffering. Public statements like the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Danville by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Chas. D. Whispell, 127 West Mahoning St., Danville, Pa., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills justifies me in recommending them. I had pains through the small of my back and kidneys and at times my back was so painful that I could hardly straighten. I was unable to rest comfortably and in the morning when I arose, I was scarcely able to get about. A dull, languid feeling sapped all my energy and I felt miserable. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me so highly that I procured a box at Hunt's drug store. They relieved the pains in my back, in a short time and after using one box, my strength and energy returned."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SUSQUEHANNA MAGNATES MET

At a meeting of the managers of the various teams of the Susquehanna league, held in Bloomsburg Saturday, the schedule for the month of May was completed and action taken upon a number of other important matters.

The completion of the schedule for the season at Saturday's meeting had been contemplated, but when the managers came together on the schedule it was found impossible to complete it at one meeting and after framing up the first month's schedule, which includes eight games, the completion of the entire schedule was held over for a future date.

SCHEDULE AS COMPLETED. The schedule as completed follows: May 8—Nanticoke at Berwick; Alden at Bloomsburg; Nescopeck at Shickshinny; Benton at Danville.

May 15—Danville at Nanticoke; Alden at Shickshinny; Bloomsburg at Nescopeck; Berwick at Benton. May 22—Nanticoke at Bloomsburg; Shickshinny at Alden; Nescopeck at Danville; Benton at Berwick.

May 29—Bloomsburg at Shickshinny; Alden at Nescopeck; Danville at Benton; Berwick at Nanticoke. May 31—a. m., Nanticoke at Alden; Berwick at Nescopeck; Bloomsburg at Danville; Shickshinny at Benton.

May 31—p. m., Alden at Nanticoke; Berwick at Nescopeck; Danville at Bloomsburg; Shickshinny at Benton. REPRESENTATIVES PRESENT. Present at the meeting were the following, all the teams being represented except Shickshinny. Hoffman, of Danville; Hess, of Nanticoke; Erene, of Alden; Savage, of Berwick; Patterson, of Nescopeck; Tittel, of Bloomsburg; McHenry, of Benton.

PROTEST WAS DECIDED. Nescopeck's protest to Bloomsburg's signing of Moyer, last year's pitcher, came up and was decided by Nescopeck securing him. From the statements it appears that Moyer had signed a preliminary contract with Nescopeck and had later signed a league contract with Bloomsburg. After a discussion of the matter it was decided to have President Steiber interview him and ascertain with which team he preferred playing, this without any interference on the part of either management. This was done and Moyer chose Nescopeck and the incident was closed.

OTHER MATTERS DISCUSSED. The by-laws came in for discussion and they were so amended that the president has the power and control over all league umpires. The approval of the players was taken out of the hands of the board of directors and given to the president. The eligibility of players also came up for discussion and it was decided to change the by-laws so that any man who successfully plays professional ball for a month or more this season is debarred from participating in Susquehanna league games.

People past middle life usually have some kidney or bladder disorder that saps the vitality, which is naturally lower in old age. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects urinary troubles, stimulates the kidneys and restores strength and vigor. It cures uric acid troubles by strengthening the kidneys so they will strain out the uric acid that settles in the muscles and joints causing rheumatism. For sale by Paules & Co's. Pharmacy.

State College Minstrels Coming. The Pharonians, the minstrel organization of State college, are coming to Danville on Saturday, May 8th, to play for the benefit of the Danville High School Athletic association. The show will be given in the opera house.

The visit of the Pharonians to Danville will be part of a four days' trip which the club will make during the second week in May, and which will include, beside this city, engagements at Chambersburg and Carlisle. The arrangements for presenting the show in Danville were made by William L. McCoy, State, 1910, who is one of the end men.

The first production of the show was given at State college on March 26, and was pronounced the best thing ever gotten up by the State students, who, by the way, are noted for their fine productions. The students on their trip will carry a big production which will include elaborate stage settings for both the first and second parts and costly costumes. In the personnel will be the Pharonians' own orchestra of 10 pieces and musical director and a large cast.

SHOEMAKER FOUND INSENSIBLE

Englebert Albert, the well-known shoemaker, was found insensible in his place of business early Tuesday morning as the result of a sudden attack of illness. At last accounts he was quite seriously indisposed.

A newsboy, who was passing Mr. Albert's shop near the corner of Pine and Bloom streets, was surprised to see his feet protruding from the half open door. At the same moment Seth Lormor came along, who lost no time in making an investigation.

It would seem that Mr. Albert had just returned from market, when he was seized with the attack and fell. After some difficulty he was partially restored to consciousness, and removed to his home on Spring street. His symptoms were considered serious.

OWNER OF CANAL APPEALED TO

Although the streets and alleys are being cleaned up and the business places are being decorated with stars and stripes and so many other things are being done to make the town tidy and attractive for the Odd Fellows' anniversary, yet there is great danger that the old canal, the greatest nuisance in the borough, will be overlooked.

The first few days of warm sunshine have produced the usual effect. The vilest of odors and effluvia are exhaled from the filthy and sewage-saturated bottom, which is rendered still more offensive by the accumulation of trash that has found its way into the old ditch.

The attention of the public can not be invoked too earnestly to this eyesore, this source of contagion maintained in the midst of town.

The matter was brought up in council at its last meeting but no definite action was taken. This was not because the members did not think that, in view of the Odd Fellows' anniversary and the other important events scheduled for Danville during the next few weeks, a thorough draining and cleaning of the old canal was not a desideratum, but rather because the solicitor had advised against any such course on the part of the borough for purely technical reasons.

Since the meeting of council the question has been submitted to the D. L. & W. Railroad company, the owner of the canal, begging that it take hold of the matter in some way that will afford instant relief. In the past the D. L. & W. Railroad company always denied responsibility for the foul and unsanitary condition of the old canal, claiming that all the pollution had come from a local source and might have been averted. Under the circumstances it is doubtful whether any practical help will come from the D. L. & W. Railroad company at this time.

It is intolerable to reflect that the old canal must lie in its present condition during Odd Fellows' day, when thousands of strangers will pour into town. What kind of an impression they will carry home with them, if the old canal is permitted to lie in its present condition, it is not difficult to conjecture.

If it should come to the worst and the borough hesitates to act in the premises could not individual citizens take hold of the matter? The canal, between Mill and Ferry streets, at least as well as a small section west of the Mill street culvert, should be cleaned up at whatever cost. A shallow ditch, dug at trifling cost, would drain off the water and after a few days the vile odors would decrease.

Public Fountain in Commission. The public fountain has gone into commission for the season. It was much frequented Monday. At this season the river water is still quite palatable and it is surprising how many persons stop to quench their thirst at the fountain. The new cup, the contribution from J. W. Phillips, is in almost continuous use.

The delivery and other horses constantly employed on the street have not forgotten their favorite drinking place and now that the water has reappeared may be seen drinking with their accustomed regularity.

On the whole the fountain would seem almost indispensable in hot and dusty weather. No finer gift could have been presented the town, and the ladies of the Christian Temperance Union, whose diligence and humane sentiments made the fountain possible, have the satisfaction of knowing that it is most nobly fulfilling its mission.

We often wonder how any person can be persuaded into taking anything but Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung trouble. Do not be fooled into accepting "own make" or other substitutes. The genuine contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. For sale by Paules & Co's. Pharmacy.

No "Fizzology" for Her. The following note was received by a Bellefonte school teacher from the ambitious mother of one of her pupils: "Dear Sir—You will please let my children enjoy their mor about fizzology stuff. I don't think it is purity to talk to children about their skilton and Bonz and won't have it. I want my children razed nice. You can learn them to speak grammar and talk correct but I don't desire them to know that they have such things as bonz. Please let them come home before the fizzology class begins to talk."

Danville Loses Close Game. The Danville Y. M. C. A. base ball team opened the season in a game with the Berwick high school at the latter place Saturday, in which the locals were defeated by the close score of 5 to 4.

Danville played a fine game and were ahead until the eighth inning, when an overthrow started a romp for Berwick which resulted in the scoring of three runs.

The local team was as follows: Burke 2b, Kase c, Ammerman of, Wolridge 2b, Snyder cf, Price 1b, Loeh lf, Muckelrath ss.

The third attempt by incendiaries to burn out J. Schlanger, a West Berwick storekeeper and hotel proprietor, was successful. Early Monday morning his large hotel, store, barn, warehouse and eleven dwellings were burned to the ground, rendering seven families homeless and involving a loss of $250,000.

LADYLIKE GAME OF BASKET BALL

When the gentler sex breaks into athletics it puts the editor rather up against it, for he don't know whether to hand out the assignment to the sporting writer or to the social hack. For Saturday evening's event of the basket ball game between the Danville high school and the Sunbury Young Women's Christian association, it was decided that it was up to the sporting man to cover the story, and now the poor fellow can't decide whether he is supposed to hand out the usual basket ball dops or dwell upon the social features of the contest.

Anyway (to get a start) it was a select audience, and a large one too, that gathered at the armory for the event, included being a bunch of fair rosters from Sunbury, numerous papas and mammas of the Danville contestants, and rah rah boys in plenty to encourage the varsity.

There were to have been two games but Sunbury was able to send but one team to Danville at the last minute, because, as explained by Miss Griffith the physical director and chaperone of the visitors, Saturday night being a night from the down river town were constrained to remain at home. Danville boasting of two teams each of which demanded recognition the personnel was divided so that one team played during the first half and the other team during the second half, the same group of visitors doing duty during the whole game.

At the end of the game the score stood 22 to 8 in Sunbury's favor, which might indicate to the unexperienced that the local bery had been worsted at all points, which certainly was not the case. True, the Sunbury team played better basket ball, but Danville had them far and away beaten as to looks. Another reason for Sunbury's victorious score might be found, but we hesitate to say it, in the slightly more advanced age and greater weight of the visitors.

Girls' basket ball is a vastly different proposition from the ordinary variety when the boys get out on the floor and raise a general rough house for two halves. With the former, as is natural, the sport is far gentler, although notwithstanding all precautions one Sunbury player had the misfortune to receive the plump weight of a Danville damsel on the left ankle with the result that a slight sprain resulted.

In the girls' variety of basket ball there are six players instead of five, the additional one being a center. Marks on the floor keep forwards, centers and guards on their own sections of the floor, only forwards being allowed to toss baskets. Almost anything constitutes a foul, but as not many of the foul tries result in tallies that doesn't make much difference.

That the audience enjoyed the event was attested by the cries of admiration and enthusiasm that burst spontaneously several times and which were promptly quieted by the referee.

The Danville players were: Misses Ethel Rockefeller, Ethel Woods, Martelle Wolvertont, Lois Williams, Mabel Shepperson, Lotens and Elsie Ginter, Edna Gearhart, Edith Jenkins, Edith Shannon, Edna Hughes, and Lillian Foster. The Sunbury players included Misses Messimer, Griffith, Vought, Lunderman, Myers and Bair.

A Gentle Knight of Old Brandenburg.

Is a new serial story and the latest success of Charles Major, the author of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" and those "Uncle Tom Andy Bill" stories. "A Gentle Knight of Old Brandenburg" is a strong story dealing with love and German history and will appeal to all classes of readers, but particularly to German-Americans and those of German descent.

The characters are historical and young Frederick and his favorite sister, Princess Wilhelmina, figure conspicuously throughout the entire story. Charles Major in this story attempts to do for German literature exactly what he did for English literature in his "Knighthood" volume and his efforts have certainly proven very successful. It is an entertaining and powerful story and will be printed exclusively in serial form in THE SUNDAY EDITION OF THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS, and the opening chapters appear May 16th. Order your copy in advance or write THE PHILADELPHIA SUNDAY PRESS, Seventh and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia.

After the session of court Saturday Judge Evans viewed the frescoing in the court room. He was much pleased with the effect, especially, of the figure of justice, which is now in its place at the rear of the bench.

The absence of the bandage over the eyes was noted and commented upon by Judge Evans, who stated that the open face of the figure of justice properly meets with his ideas on the subject.

Judge Evans said that he did not presume to dictate in the matter, but merely explained to the contractor why an open face appealed to his judgment. The figure of justice in the court house of New York City is minus the traditional hoodwink. Judge Evans cited other places where the open face has been adopted.

While looking over the improvements in company of County Commissioner George R. Sechler, Judge Evans called attention to recommendation of one of the grand juries to the effect that the bench should be lowered about a foot and advised that the improvement, which is very urgent, be made at the present time, while other work is in progress. The commissioners will take the matter up.

Mrs. George Lindsey, of Taylors-town, Washington county, went to the pasture the other evening and found a Jersey cow racing madly about. Investigation led to the discovery that a small snake had worked its way into the animal's right nostril and become wedged fast. The cow's nose was split to extract the snake, but later the animal was shot as a veterinarian said she had been bitten and would die.

Blood poisoning that developed from a horse's kick proved fatal to Henry Beecher, a Norristown produce dealer.

APPROVAL OF BOND REVOKED

Judge Evans Saturday handed down an opinion relative to the legality of the court's action in approving the bond of Alfred Blecher, tax receiver of Cooper township, for the year 1909, which contains points that will prove of value to the public, making clear the course to be pursued when a similar state of affairs occurs in the future. The approval of Mr. Blecher's bond was set aside and revoked by the court.

THE FACTS. From petition and answer the following facts appear: That Alfred A. Blecher was appointed by the court tax collector for Cooper township, February 26, 1906.

That in spring election in said township on February 19, 1907, the said Alfred A. Blecher received a majority of votes cast for tax collector.

That at spring election held in said township on February 16, 1909, Alonzo Mauser, the petitioner, was elected tax collector of said township for the three years next ensuing.

That on February 27, 1909, the court approved the bond of Alfred A. Blecher as tax collector for the said township of Cooper for the year 1909.

On behalf of the petitioner it is contended that the appointment of Alfred A. Blecher, the respondent, on February 28, 1906, was for the unexpired term of 3 years; that the election of February 19, 1907, was a nullity and that the approval of the respondent's bond on February 27, 1909, for the year 1909, was erroneous and should be stricken off and set aside. On the other hand the respondent challenges the correctness of the petitioner's contentions.

THE LAW ON THE SUBJECT. After quoting the acts of June 6, 1893, and of July 2, 1895, Judge Evans states: "The acts of assembly are decisive of the question. Tax collectors throughout the Commonwealth are elected triennially under the act of June 6, 1893. The first election under the act occurred in February, 1894, and thereafter triennially would bring February 1909, as the proper year for electing tax collectors throughout the Commonwealth."

"It, therefore, follows that the petitioner, having been elected tax collector at the February election, in 1909, is entitled to qualify and serve for the year 1909."

"And now to wit, April 17, 1909, rule absolute. And it is further ordered and directed that the approval of the bond of Alfred A. Blecher as tax collector for the year 1909, for Cooper township be revoked and set aside, the county to pay record costs."

By the Court, CHARLES C. EVANS, P. J. "Were Wedded at Harrisburg. The many friends of Miss Mary Wetzel and John R. M. Curry, of this city, were surprised Saturday when the news was made public that they had been married at Harrisburg on Wednesday of last week. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harry Curtin Harman, formerly pastor of Saint Paul's Methodist Episcopal church. The newly wedded couple left last evening on a wedding trip.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Curry are widely known and highly esteemed in Danville. The bride has for a number of years been librarian at the Thomas Beaver free library and the groom is one of Danville's successful young business men.

INSPECTED THE IMPROVEMENTS

After the session of court Saturday Judge Evans viewed the frescoing in the court room. He was much pleased with the effect, especially, of the figure of justice, which is now in its place at the rear of the bench.

A LONG AND USEFUL LIFE

Joseph Rishel, an old and lifelong resident of Mahoning township, died at his home, Bloom road, at 10 a. m. Saturday, after an illness of two years.

The deceased was eighty-five years of age. He died at the homestead where he was born and where he spent practically all his life. He was a good citizen, a man of quiet manners, fond of his home. For him public life had no allurements and as he pursued the "even tenor of his way" his life afforded an example of one of the world's workers content to fulfill his mission in any sphere.

The deceased was a carpenter by occupation, but he was remarkably skillful in all trades. Indeed, his aptitude and ingenuity as a mechanic was a marvel. Although distinctively a carpenter he was quite as much at home at the blacksmith's forge, and it is said that he made all his own carpenter tools.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. James Morrison is an adopted daughter. The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Rishel covered a period of about 60 years.

Green Things Now in Season The season of "greens" is at hand, and soon we shall see the children and women, searching for dandelions for a salad. After a winter's diet of meat and cereal food, succulent vegetable matter is a necessity, and "greens" coming after the winter vegetables are gone, and before the new summer crop has appeared, make healthful change. Any wild or cultivated plant whose leaves are edible at all, is good for greens. Many of the best greens are wild plants. Dandelion, wild mustard and lettuce, lamb's quarter, "narrow" neck, sorrel, plantain, cress (pepper grass), purslane are all good. Spinach is the commonest of all domestic greens. Many plants have curative value, and old-fashioned people often credit their health to an annual course of dandelion greens in the spring. It is certain that the dandelion has a good effect on the liver and kidneys.

Spinach has materials for the enrichment of weak blood, as has asparagus also. Young cabbage, kale and collard have a great deal of building material. Iron is present in all of them.

Becoming Green. The willows along the river bank are bursting into leaves; likewise the laws about town as the result of the recent rain are becoming green. Evidently pleasant weather has come to remain.

Whitewashing is a job that is "looming up largely" on the poor farm. The board at a recent meeting decided to whitewash not only the fences and many of the buildings but also the trees of the orchard. Comparatively little whitewashing was done in the past and the way the present board of directors contemplate entering upon the work has filled the habitues of the farm with dismay.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

DEATH CLAIMS EDWARD GRAHAM Edward Graham died at his home, Upper Mulberry street, at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning after several months' illness of a complication of diseases.

The deceased was aged thirty-five years and is survived by his widow and three small children. His father, James Graham, also survives along with four brothers, Thomas, James, Frank and Charles, and four sisters: Mrs. Matthew Ryan, Mrs. Margaret Sheehay, and Misses Catherine and Julia Graham.

The deceased was employed as a rougher at the puddle rolls of the Reading Iron works. He was an intelligent and industrious young man and was very popular. He was first assistant chief of the fire department, being a member of the Continental hose company. He was a member of the Total Abstinence and Benevolent association of St. Joseph's Catholic church. He belonged to the A. A. of I. S. and T. W., to the A. O. H. and the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

During the spring every one would be benefited by taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. River Bridge Needs Paint. It is not known what action the county commissioners contemplate taking in the matter but it is the consensus of opinion that the river bridge ought to be painted this summer.

Over a year ago the grand jury recommended that the bridge be given a coat of paint and grand juries have come on record to the same effect ever since. Much of the iron work, especially the big batter posts show the bad effects of rust and present a most unsightly appearance. The only way to protect ironwork is to apply paint freely. That the painting of the bridge has been postponed quite long enough is evident to the most indifferent observer.

Mr. F. G. Fritts, Ontario, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative, and I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Orino Laxative is best for women and children as it is mild, pleasant and effective, and is a splendid spring medicine, as it cleanses the system and clears the complexion. For sale by Paules & Co's. Pharmacy.

Affairs at Poor Farm. The advent of spring has brought about a reduction in the number of inmates at the poor house of the Danville and Mahoning district. During the last few weeks the number has fallen from twenty-seven to a trifle over twenty.

The advent of mild weather proves a temptation to those affected with "wanderlust" and they lose no time in getting out on the road again. Besides, spring work is coming on and there are a good many jobs on the poor farm that the inmates can do, even if not very robust.

Whitewashing is a job that is "looming up largely" on the poor farm. The board at a recent meeting decided to whitewash not only the fences and many of the buildings but also the trees of the orchard. Comparatively little whitewashing was done in the past and the way the present board of directors contemplate entering upon the work has filled the habitues of the farm with dismay.

Tonic or Stimulant? There is an immense difference between a tonic and a stimulant. Up one day, way back the next; that's a stimulant. Steady progress day by day toward perfect health; that's a tonic. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a tonic, a strong tonic. The only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. Do not stimulate unless your doctor says so. He knows. Ask him. Do as he says. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
