ITEMS CONDENSED.

Some Scranton boys found the partly decomposed body of an unknown man in an old standpipe in a vacant lot in that city. It is thought the body had been there for a week. It was that of a man of 60, poorly clad.

Shamersville, Berks county, is not only without a postmaster, but nobody can be found who is willing to serve.

The East Liberty Presbyterian congregation has decided to quit renting its pews and to throw them all open for the free use of the public.

The superintendent of Bethany Orphans' home, Womelsdorf, reports that 972 dozen Easter eggs were sent by friends of the little inmates to that institution.

A new counterfeit silver dollar was detected at one of the Chester banks last Saturday. It was dated 1855, is light in weight and glassy in appearance.

Mrs. W. J. Kerr, wife of one of Smithport's prominent business men, committed suicide at an early hour Sunday morning by drowning herself in a deep pool.

Yale men of Pittsburg are making elaborate preparations to entertain President Taft when he attends the fifth annual convention of Associated Yale clubs, May 29.

It has been determined by the school authorities of Hazleton that children under 14 who cannot read and write shall be taken out of the mills and factories by the truant officers.

The poor farm of McKean county is now a misnomer, for a fifty-barrel oil well has been drilled on one of the 345 acres owned by the county and others will follow.

Adam Bosold, of Reading, while walking over the hills two weeks ago fell and received injuries to one of his arms which was followed by blood poisoning, causing death on Sunday.

William Fabian, 65 years old, has assisted in picking up the mangled bodies of twenty-two victims of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad's death trap at Twenty-fifth and Wolf streets, Philadelphia, and nobody seems particularly concerned.

Over 250 Reading public school teachers were examined last Saturday for permanent certificates in order to get ahead of the new school code, which requires passing in seventeen branches instead of the present eleven to procure such a certificate.

Five hundred members of twelve commanderies of the Patriotic Order Sons of America in Philadelphia observed the anniversary of Washington's inauguration by attending services in Old Christ church, that city, on Sunday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. Louis O. Washburn, preached a patriotic sermon.

COUNTERFEITS WERE FOUND

It was discovered yesterday that a large quantity of spurious coin in the form of nickels and pennies were unloaded in this city on Tuesday.

Pennies are only a trifle larger than silver dimes and when nickeled, on such an occasion as Tuesday when there is a rush and money passes freely, they may readily be taken for silver ten-cent pieces.

Who the counterfeiters are or who "shoved the queer" of course is not known now, although it may be discovered later. The spurious coin was discovered among the money collected by the taggers and the considerable number of nickels and pennies that found their way into the boxes indicates that there was a large number of them in circulation here on Tuesday.

The nickeling was so well done that it baffled M. G. Youngman, cashier of the Danville National bank, where the money was deposited, to tell whether the coins were composed of nickel or were merely nickel washed. An application of the proper chemical, however, soon ate away the nickel and revealed the copper.

Joseph Reरिक, of Lewisburg, was a Danville visitor on Tuesday.

Miss Ruth Hoover has returned to Shamokin after a short visit with relatives in this city.

Mrs. William Flora and son Harry, of Exchange, spent yesterday with friends in Danville.

W. Fred Jacobs and Randall Jacobs will spend today with relatives in Hazleton.

ODD FELLOWS ATTEND CHURCH

Following custom the Odd Fellows of this city, comprising Montour and Myrtle lodges, Sunday attended divine services in a body. Some 180 members of the order were present, marching in a body from city hall where the lodge rooms are located to the Shiloh Reformed church on Bloom street, where the services were held.

To comply with the order from the sovereign grand lodge the subordinate lodges each year must attend divine service in a body on the Sunday nearest April 26th, the anniversary of the order.

The large body of Odd Fellows Sunday presented an interesting sight as they marched double file along the street. At Shiloh Reformed church seats were reserved for 160 members of the order. When the space reserved was filled there were still Odd Fellows waiting to be seated. All the members of the order were finally provided for, but many of the regular church attendees were crowded to the aisles, where chairs were supplied.

The sermon preached by the pastor, the Rev. Joseph E. Guy, was a most excellent and appropriate one, having for its theme, the motto of the order: "Faith, Hope and Charity." Mr. Guy also touched with much effect on "Friendship, Love and Truth," the other motto of the order.

Mr. Guy, although not a member of the order, revealed as he proceeded not only a comprehensive knowledge of Odd Fellowship but also a keen interest in its advancement, an appreciation of its principles as well as sympathy with the objects that it labors to promote. The members of the order were very much pleased with the address.

There was special music on the occasion.

ARM AND LEG AMPUTATED

Further particulars were received in this city yesterday relating to the terrible accident which befell Curry Fisher, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher, of this city.

The telegram received Tuesday evening merely stated that the young man was in a critical condition and urged that relatives come at once.

Yesterday morning another telegram was received stating that Curry's left foot and left arm had been amputated.

Councilman J. R. M. Curry, who received the message, stated that as he understood it Curry had been struck by the cars. A letter, he said, was on its way to this city which would explain all the circumstances of the terrible affair.

About noon yesterday an additional telegram was received from Dr. E. A. Curry, of this city, who in company with Mrs. Fisher on Tuesday evening left for Roanoke, Va. The telegram sent after Dr. Curry's arrival at Roanoke, stated that the injured man's condition was good.

Curry Fisher is employed by the Norfolk and Western Railroad company. He was formerly superintendent of signals of that line, but later was given the position of chief clerk in the office at Roanoke.

REPAIRS ON TROLLEY TRACK

The car of the Danville and Sunbury Transit company, which was removed from the northern to the southern side of the Pennsylvania track Sunday, made one trip to DeWitt's park by way of trial, but since then has not made trips through Riverside.

The road, which was constructed several years ago, has gotten out of repair at a few points. Slight alterations will have to be made, which will prevent the car from running on the south side of the Pennsylvania track for some days.

EXCURSIONISTS GOT ON WRONG TRAIN

Three belated and badly-strayed Danville excursionists holding tickets from Mount Carmel came into Williamsport over the New York Central railroad from Jersey Shore yesterday morning. They told the ticket clerks at the Williamsport station that they had boarded the New York Central at Danville Tuesday night under the belief that it was a Mt. Carmel train and did not discover their mistake until long after leaving Danville. Philadelphia & Reading officials "choked their hats" for Mt. Carmel and they set out for home.

Out After Accident.
Elmer Wertman, Church street, who was badly injured several weeks ago in a fall from a hay mow, is able to be about again.

CARS RUN TO BERWICK

Beginning with Sunday morning the cars of the Danville and Bloomsburg and the Columbia and Montour Electric railways, united in the Columbia, Power, Light and Railways company, began making through trips between Danville and Berwick.

Four cars are employed, leaving Danville and Berwick on the hour. The cars pass at Grovania, Bloomsburg and Willow Grove. The same crews of course take the cars all the way through.

On weekdays the first car leaves Danville for Berwick at 6 a. m., the second car at 7 and so on each hour until 10 o'clock at night. The latter, or 10 o'clock car, is the last one that runs through to Berwick. A car leaves Danville at 11 o'clock for Bloomsburg. On Saturday night the last car leaves Danville for Bloomsburg at 12 o'clock.

On Sundays the first car leaves Danville, for Berwick, at 8 a. m. A car leaves each hour during the day until 10 p. m. At 11 p. m. a car leaves for Bloomsburg.

On Saturday the office of the Danville and Bloomsburg line was removed from Grovania to Bloomsburg.

PICKPOCKETS WERE BUSY

Some half a dozen persons were robbed while circulating in the crowd in this city Tuesday. Yesterday our policemen were busy running out clues. At last accounts there were no prospects of finding the pickpockets.

The heaviest loser was Homer Johnson, proprietor of the skating rink at Bloomsburg, who had his pocket picked of $100. Three residents of Danville were relieved of their pocket books, one losing $42; one $21 and one $12.

A young man of this city was arrested yesterday morning on a description given by a woman in Bloomsburg whose pocket book containing two dollars was stolen while she stood on Mill street near James Martin's restaurant. The woman had a good view of the fellow and declared that she would be able to identify him.

After the arrest yesterday she came down to Danville. At the first glimpse of the man in custody she declared that he was not the thief. The unfortunate suspect, who had been detained in jail, was of course released.

PERSONALS

Albert Dreibuss returned to Lewisburg yesterday after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Dreibuss, Lower Mulberry street.

Miss Edith Kramer, West Mahoning street, spent yesterday with friends in Sunbury.

Mrs. Mary Rantz, Iron street, is visiting friends at Glen Rock.

DANVILLE'S BIGGEST DAY

Danville has had some big days in the past, but none that eclipsed Tuesday in the distinctive features that made the day enjoyable and noteworthy. To be more definite, probably, it was as a lodge or fraternal event that Tuesday occupies the foremost place with the chroniclers. To the Pennsylvania Odd Fellows Anniversary association belongs the honor of stirring up Danville as it was never stirred before.

Cantons, lodges and encampments began to arrive with the early morning trains; long before noon they were all here representing the entire district embraced by the association.

And such a crowd. Density is scarcely the word to describe the condition. Congestion is the better term. Very early in the day the sidewalks on Mill street were filled to their utmost capacity. At many times the street from curb to curb was blocked making it difficult for automobiles and other vehicles to get through. There was music everywhere: bands in front, bands in the rear, bands passing out of sight and others coming into view.

The weather conditions, although not precisely what might have been desired, yet were not of a sort to interfere with the success of the event. The sky was overcast nearly all day. A raw wind blew out of the east, which made it slightly unpleasant for the sightseers, although those in the parade found it just about right for comfort.

To sum up matters it might be said that the program, so fully set forth in these columns in our last issue, was fully carried out. The crowd of visitors attracted to town is variously estimated at from six to eight thousand people. In addition, the entire town of Danville took a holiday so that during the parade and immediately following it there were massed on Mill street a throng of at least fifteen thousand people. It was generally conceded that yesterday's event was one of the biggest that ever took place in Danville.

HOW THE PEOPLE CAME.

During the forenoon four special trains came into Danville over the P. & R. railway. One of the trains came down over the Northern Central railway from the section north of Williamsport; one train came from Williamsport, one from Milton and one from Mt. Carmel and Shamokin. In the four special trains were thirty-eight cars, all packed with passengers.

The Pennsylvania road specials during the forenoon, but the regular trains, which arrived at convenient hours, contained extra cars. The 10:26 train contained seven coaches and unloaded over three hundred passengers at South Danville. The other trains also brought many visitors to Danville. Station Agent Clark last evening said that he had no doubt but that his railroad had brought to Danville during the day at least five hundred passengers. Thousands of people came to Danville by trolley. All the cars, even the open cars, of the Columbia, Power, Light and Railways company were pressed into service.

SEVENTEEN BANDS.

Seventeen bands in all were in the line of march. Cantons from Berwick, Shamokin, Williamsport, Milton, Renovo, Lock Haven and Danville, along with practically all the lodges of the extensive district, were in the parade. The very few lodges not in the line of march were represented by delegates.

A GREAT PARADE.

The parade was one feature of the day that easily surpassed any thing of the kind that ever took place in Danville. There were 2500 to 3000 marching men. It was a spectacle worth going miles to witness. The parade was probably viewed to the best advantage from the elevated portion of Mill street south of Mahoning street. Without exception the members of the grand presented a fine appearance and one could not but be impressed with the apparent worth and manhood of the men. Neatly and attractively uniformed, without the least semblance of disorder, they marched over the long route. The same good order and discipline was maintained during the entire day. This was all the more remarkable considering the multitude of men embraced.

Company F, 12th regiment, N. G. P., acted as an escort and presented a very attractive appearance in their dress uniforms. Then followed Chief Marshal Dr. Jno. Sweisfort, Chief of Staff Thomas G. Vincent and the aides. The four divisions followed, made up of the different cantons, lodges and encampments. The banners were very beautiful and along with the uniforms, especially those of the patriarchs militant, were much admired by the vast concourse of sightseers.

The music was indeed an inspiring feature. In the long parade the bands as they followed each other at regular intervals, discoursing choicest music, seemed to be the one feature that was needed to crown the event with success. It was after the parade, however, when the bands consolidated, and, with the Catawissa band as leader, playing, marched from Bloom street up to the court house that the feature of music rose to heights that were positively sublime. The effect on the ear was one that should have been heard to have been appreciated, while the column with its banners and glittering instruments filling the street from curb to curb and moving in wavelike undulations presented a spectacle that will linger in the memory for many a day.

ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The association meeting was held in Odd Fellows' hall at 10:45 o'clock a. m., W. H. Keiss, president of the association, presiding.

Divine blessing was invoked by the Rev. George S. Womer, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, this city. The roll of lodges, both of Odd Fellows' and Rebekas, was called by the secretary of the association, H. E. Eberly. The delegates as their names were called came forward and received a delegates badge.

REPORTS PRESENTED.

The auditing committee presented its report incident to the last meeting at Shamokin, which showed a balance on hand of $135.25. On motion the report was accepted and ordered spread on the minutes.

The secretary presented his report for the year, which on motion was accepted and ordered spread on the minutes. The treasurer's report was read and on motion, likewise, accepted and filed.

PAST GRAND MASTER CHALFANT.

The secretary very touchingly dwelt upon the case of Past Grand Master Charles Chalfant, who by reason of prolonged illness has been unable to meet with the association during several years past. On motion of the secretary a resolution was adopted expressing sympathy for Past Grand Master Chalfant in his affliction as well as deep regret that he was not able to meet with them yesterday. On motion it was ordered that the resolution be reduced to writing and at once transmitted to Mr. Chalfant.

A PROTEST.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted: Whereas, At the session of the grand lodge held in Philadelphia, May 19-23, 1908, it was proposed to take the counties of Potter, Tioga, Cameron, Clinton, Center and Mifflin from the Sunbury Orphans' home district and transfer them to the district of the Meadville Orphans' home and Whereas, Action was deferred by the grand lodge until the next session and the counties affected by the change given an opportunity to vote on and express their opinion either for or against the proposed change;

Therefore, Be it resolved by the members of this association that it would be unfair as well as unjust to make the proposed change, thereby breaking the ties of affection and association of years, losing to the members the interest they have manifested in the orphans' home and requiring years to establish the same feeling again in an entirely new home. Resolved, That the association does hereby protest against the proposed change and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the committee on the revision of laws and a copy be sent to the secretary of the grand lodge of Pennsylvania.

Fort Augusta Lodge No. 620, Sunbury.
E. W. NYDER,
James A. Garfield Lodge No. 106,
Shamokin.
G. W. MARTIN,
No. 163, Renovo.

On motion it was ordered that the usual contribution of $35 be made to the Orphan's home at Sunbury. In addition to this sum $42.50 were raised for the Orphan's home by passing the hat around among the members.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

On motion the present band of officers serving in Pennsylvania Odd Fellows' association was re-elected for the ensuing year by acclamation.

MT. CARMEL NEXT.

On motion it was unanimously decided to hold the next anniversary meeting at Mt. Carmel, Williamsport was presented but it was withdrawn. Owing to the cold wind prevailing, which made it exceedingly unpleasant for persons standing, the addresses at the court house after the parade were cut short. An enormous crowd had assembled at that point, which was entertained with two well rendered selections by the Shamokin band.

BURGESS AMESBURY'S ADDRESS.

From the court house steps Chief Burgess Amesbury delivered the address of welcome, speaking as follows: "Gentlemen: It is with extreme pleasure that I extend to you a welcome to our city. As citizens of Danville we are proud of our town; our town is justly proud of its Odd Fellows. We sincerely hope that during

OPENED SEASON WITH VICTORY

The Danville Susquehanna league team opened its season on the fine new ball park that has been built this spring by the Danville Athletic association Tuesday afternoon. The game was with the Sunbury ex-Atlantic league team, and proved an easy victory for the locals to the tune of 10 to 2.

A large crowd was present for the opener and the grounds had all the appearance of a gala occasion. The Catawissa band was in attendance and opened the festivities with the National anthem, during which everybody (ought to have) stood.

Danville clinched the day first time at bat by pounding out five runs. Sunbury never caught up. Two more in the second, a single one in the fourth and two in the eighth completed Danville's tally. Sunbury was blanked until the fourth when Moorehead's two-bagger started a romp that netted the visitors one point. In the eighth Aimes put one over the fence, the first on the new grounds, totaling two for Sunbury.

McCloud pitched a fine game. His total of nine strike-outs and two passes, while allowing the visitors but three singles gives an idea of his steady work in the box. A number of good plays were made, probably the best being Ammerman's single hand catch in centre. For Sunbury Aimes, the star left fielder, was easily the best thing on the team. He scored Sunbury's two runs and made several pretty catches in the field.

Two New Cars in Danville.

Two new Elmo automobiles arrived in this city yesterday. One red car will be the property of J. B. Clayberger and a blue car for P. F. Johnson, the Elmore's local representative. T. E. Swain, of Philadelphia, will arrive in Danville today to make adjustments on the new cars if any are needed.

It's rank cowardice which smiles to your face and stabs your reputation behind your back.

your stay here you will enjoy yourselves to the utmost. We hope that you will enjoy it so much that you will be eager to come here again. We want you to carry away with you the feeling that the reunion you attended at Danville was one of the most enjoyable ever held in this district.

Gentlemen, we have no latch key to hand you, for the simple reason that Danville needs no latch key. We never have occasion to lock up our town. Our gates are always wide open. During your stay here we want to prove to you that Danville, the old and historic iron town of Pennsylvania, still maintains her reputation for hospitality.

Again in behalf of our citizens I extend you a most hearty welcome. We are proud to be honored with your presence.

Gentlemen, the town is yours. GRAND MASTER'S ADDRESS. Grand Master Christian W. Myers followed with a very brief address, dwelling upon the origin and the growth of Odd Fellowship and very beautifully explaining its principles and its objects. In the ninety years of Odd Fellowship, a spiritual temple has been built, he said, which challenges the admiration of the civilized world.

PAST GRAND MASTER.

Past Grand Master Rev. B. H. Hart, who was booked for the anniversary address declined to make more than a very few remarks. He spoke concerning the origin, the growth and principles of Odd Fellowship. He declared that it would be unkind in him to keep the crowd standing in the chilling wind, as he felt sure that pneumonia would follow such exposure. His remarks though brief, were exceedingly clever and seemed to strike a responsive chord in the big audience.

THE PROCEEDS OF TAG DAY

The proceeds of "tag day," held in conjunction with the Odd Fellows' anniversary on Tuesday, amounted to some two hundred and fifty dollars.

Tag day is a new institution in Danville and if the sum realized is not so large as some had in mind the partial failure is to be attributed to lack of experience in this particular method of obtaining contributions from the public. There was no end of difficult and exacting work connected with tag day and those who were in any way connected with the proposition are credited with discharging their duty to the best of their ability.

The central committee consisting of Mrs. T. J. Price, Mrs. W. L. Sidler, Mrs. O. M. Leniger and Mrs. Edward Purpur were on hand at the headquarters in the Brown building early in the day and remained on duty until night. In all there were 116 taggers employed. Many of these were very young and naturally did not possess the tact that enabled them to approach all classes of persons with equal success. The most inexperienced and timid, however, labored diligently and conscientiously and are entitled to much credit for the part they played on the occasion of "tag day."

The largest sums were collected by the Misses Isabella and Marlon Schoch, $22.79 and $17.26, respectively. The next highest was $11.08, collected by Miss Minnie Cohen; the next in order was $6.97, collected by Miss Margaret Vincent. Others who obtained $6 and a fraction were Bobby Ervin and the Misses Pauline and Alice Waite.

A few things relating to tag day have been learned by experience and if this method of raising money should ever be employed in Danville in the future it is likely that a few changes will be inaugurated.

Very few persons at all approachable escaped being tagged on Tuesday. Among the contents of the boxes, however, were found thousands of pennies and as nearly as many nickels, which suggests that a large number of persons did not pay very liberally for the privilege of wearing a tag.

FIRE QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED

A dangerous blaze on the alley at the rear of East Center street caused an alarm of fire yesterday afternoon.

The fire occurred in the stable on the rear of the property occupied by Michael Mehall and owned by Boyd Gearhart. The fire was discovered about 3 o'clock. The Continental boys, whose hose home is situated nearby, were promptly on the ground and soon had the fire extinguished, but not until the roof and the upper part of the stable were destroyed. The other fire companies were notified that they were not needed.

The damage caused by the fire is considerable, amounting probably to a couple of hundred dollars.

It is not known to a certainty how the fire originated. The building in which the blaze occurred is in the midst of a nest of wooden structures and but for the timely discovery a great deal of damage might have been done.

DECORATORS WILL RETURN

The three decorators in town were busy yesterday. They began early in the morning and by last evening the beautiful decorations that charmed the visitors on Odd Fellows' day were things of the past.

The same decorators expect to be on hand in June to adorn the buildings for the six-county firemen's convention.

The arches with the red, white and blue electric lights, which were such an attractive feature of the decorations, will not be removed by the borough at this time, but will be permitted to remain until after the firemen's convention. They will also be used at the unveiling of the soldiers' monument.

WORK BEGUN ON PAVEMENT

Yesterday ground was broken for the eight foot concrete walk around the soldiers' monument, which is being built by the borough.

An excavation a couple of feet deep is being made for the walk. The ground that accumulates is being carted away from the park. The work will be pushed along as rapidly as possible to the end that the finishing touches may be put on the park at an early day. Otherwise it may appear to the
