Danville, Pa., Apr. 29, 1909.

SULTAN'S WIVES SHARE HIS FATE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 28. Abdul Hamid, the deposed Sultan of Turkey, left the capital last night for Salouiki. He is accompanied by eleven women of his harem.

He was conveyed quietly under cov er of darkness from the imperial palace at Yilliz to the railroad station in Stamboul. Shortly after he was installed on board the train pulled out for Halil Halid Bey, a leader of the Young Turks, declared today that when Abdul Hamid reached Saloniki he probably would have to stand trial on the charges set forth in the fetwa deposing him.

WILL MOT BE EXECUTED.

"A sentence of execution is not probable," continued Halil Hamid Bey, "but he probably will be imprisoned. Abdul Hamid has, however, been voluntarily practically a prisoner for years, so this will be no great His property acquired illegally will be confiscated by the state. I do not anticipate serious trouble in the provinces, except possibly in Northern Albania, where Abdul Hamid recruited his personal body guard.

FETWA IS MADE PUBLIC. The fetwa, or official decision of the Sheik-Ul-Islam authorizing the de-position of Abdul Hamid, has been made public. It embraces the questions put by Parliament to the Sheik Ul-Islam and his answer thereto. The text follows: 'What becomes of an Imam (the title of the Sultan of Turkey as head of the orthodox faith) who has destroved certain holy writings, who has seized property in contravention to the Sheri laws, who has committed cruelties in ordering the assassination and imprisonment of exiles without any justification under the Sheri laws who has schandered the nublic money. who, having sworn to govern accord ing to the Sheriat, has violated his who by gifts of money, has provoked internecine bloodshed and civil war, and who no longer is recognized in the provinces?"

"ABDICATE OR BE DEPOSED."

"Quite true," added his reverence,
"Guite by our seems to forget that the other
"About one of the Canstantinople news.
Dapers has a good word for Abdul Hamid whose life and reign are being held up to universal execution. On the other hand, the scoession of Mehemmed V is regarded as the dawn of a new rea.

In order to enable the palace to indulge in rejeicings there has been ordered a temporary suspension of the state of siege until 160 clock tonight.
The city will be illuminated, but fite works have been prohibited.
The Cabinet has been requested to remain in office for some days longer.

The young lady on your right drops a half bow. The young gentleman to your left drops a pork chop. Thus, amid covert sneers, supercilious glances and general askiwardness you teke

Moving on Short Notice Moving on Short Notice.

I was lying on the floor of an old reminds me of a minstrel show," decountry log house one summer day near a big open fireplace when I heard a seated, gentlemen; know each other seated, gentlemen; know each other seated, gentlemen; know each other peculiar, frightened squeak. I got up to see what looked like a huge mouse moving at a very rapid walk across the room. When I got a close rook I saw that it was a mother mouse moving her whole family. At least I hope there was none left behind, for very soon a small enake, but large enough to mit into a pende the mother of for the property of the mother of the mo to put into a panic the mother of fou. less than half grown children, came had two in her mouth, and fastened to either side of her, apparently holding on with their months and for "dear life," were the other two. I killed the snake and watched the moving family disappear through a hole in the corner

The Creditor's Letter.

Toy a well known English tailor in reply to a "final" application for settle-ment of a long outstanding account: "1 have much pleasure in informing you that I have placed you on the list of my creditors, your number on the roll being 103. In view of your name ap-pearing so far down my list and in common fairness to my other creditors who have been on my books now for out back he some considerable time, I am afraid I resignation. "But you also when the some considerable time, I am afraid I resignation." 'early' settlement which you ask for. I think it will be well therefore if you discontinue forwarding you-frequent 're ninders,' which can do no gossible good and which are a constant source of annoyance to me."--London Pick-Me-Up.

inquired a neighbor.

Mime!"-London Express.

Repartee.

Him—And you won't go with me?
Her—No; I don't like your style. Him —Pooh! You're as full of airs as a street piano. Her—Maybe, but I don't street piano. Her—Maybe, but I don't engaged?"

member made reply: "I'm very sorry.
I won't do it no more if it's agin the rules, but perhaps you won't mind tell ing me, then, how am I ever to get engaged?"

Scant Working Clothes

In Singapore and Penang may seen people from almost every part the globe and representatives of alevery race except our North American Indians. To greater propor-tion of Malays, East indians and Cin-galese, with their bronze black skins, make the Chinese and Japanese seem almost like white people. Each wears the costume of his native country in so far as he wears anything, but eight out of every ten persons to be seen consider themselves sufficiently well dressed when they have a yard or two of cheesecloth twisted about their loins. This fashion of dress applies to the workmen of all nationalities, whether Malay, African, Indian, Chinese or other. The Indian of the bet-ter class, whether Hindoo or Parsee, dresses as he would at home. The Cingalese wears fine robes and a comb encircling his crown. The Englishman of course has the usual ill fitting clothes and a pith helmet to prevent sunstroke. The tourist, who has taken advice from many sources as to his outfit, helps to make the picture complete - Denver Post.

Two Bootblacks.

The bootblacks had no regular stand, but each had his box slung over his shoulder and, standing on the curbstone, solicited the passersby to stop and have a shine. Each boy had one

The cry of the first boy was "Shine your boots here!" It announced the simple fact that he was prepared to shine their boots. The cry of the second boy was "Get your Sunday shine!" It was then Saturday afternoon, and the hour was 4 o'clock. This second boy employed imagination. He relat-ed one attraction to another; he joined facts together. His four simple words told all that the first boy said and a great deal more. It conveyed the in-formation not simply that he was there to shine shoes, but that tomorrow was Sunday: that it was likely to be a pleasant day; that he as a boot-black realized they would need an extra good shine.

Was it merely good luck that this boy secured twice the business of the other?-Lorin F. Deland in Atlantic.

Perfectly Correct.

A young minister in the course of an eloquent sermon on the pomps and vanities of the world staggered his congregation by exclaiming:
"Here am I standing, preaching to you with only half a shirt on my back, while you sit there covered with gew-gaws and other baubles."

The next day a parcel containing several brand new shirts was left at his house by one of his hearers, a kind hearted old lady. Meeting the donor a few days afterward, he thanked her exceedingly, but expressed much surprise at receiving such an unexpected gift.

"Oh," said the lady, "you mentioned in your sermon on Sunday that you had only half a shirt on your back."

"Quite true," added his reverence, "but you seem to forget that the other and general awkwardness, you take your place among an alien people. "A hash house introduction always nles," says a young lady boarder to the humorous one. "As for me, I'm too timid."

"Why are you timid?"

"Oh, I'm so little!"

"Sweet goods come in small pack-

"So does poison."

Fine old repartee! After dinner you ascend to your hall bedroom and wonder if you will ever be at home in this after awhile or whether the father mouse put up a "To Let" sign and joined them in a foreign country, but I do know that I saxed a happy fam.

But you know you will. Within a month you will be lending money to the humorous boarder and perhaps have a love affair started.

The Creditor's Letter.

Here is an interesting letter received by a well known English tailor in redly to a "final" application for settle the county of the experiences. "The funniest case of his experiences. "The funniest case of his experiences. "The funniest case of his experiences." he said, "was that of an experience of the experience of his experiences." from whom I expected great things He made a careful study of the litera ture we supplied him with and was very enthusiastic. Judge of my sur prise when the first morning he went out back he came and handed in his

"But you should not be so easily discouraged, I told him. 'Few make a success at the start, and you acknowledge that you went into only two places.'
"'Only two,' he said lugubriously.

One was a real estate agent, who persuaded me to sign a contract for two A Doubtful Outlook.

A woman in evident distress was standing at her door.

"What's the matter, Mrs. Brown?"

"What's the matter, Mrs. Brown?"

"Oh, I don't know what to do!" was the reply. "Bill's away at the football match."

"Well, what about that?" said the story is told: A certain club for working girls in the east end of London "Ah," responded Mrs. Brown, "you had recently elected a new member, and one day the secretary happened to the gets on the loose, and when they look out of the window and was sur prised to see the new member rush up to a strange lad in the street, punch Rose he comes home and whacks me.

They've played a draw today, and I'm to a strange lad in the street, punch sure I don't know what he'll do this him violently on the head and then run away. The secretary remonstrated with her sharply, to which the new drove over to call on my old friend, Den Thompson. It happened that I called at an inopportune time, as the women folk were housecleaning. In fact, I noticed as I drove up to the house that the clotheslines in the yard back of the house were laden carpets. "Den was very anxious that I should look over his prize fowls, in which he took especial pride. We went out into the big yard back of the house. As Den was pointing out to me his favor-Ites we noticed one old hen going through some queer antics. She was pecking away at something on the ground, lifting it in her bill and dropping it again.

"What's the matter with the old Biddy, anyway, Den? I asked.
"Den was silent for a minute, then drawled out:

'Well, you see, Joe, as she's a rather domestic sort of hen I cal'late the old girl must be getting ready to lay a carpet."—New York Telegraph.

Daintiness In Dough.

A west side family that abhors all products of the bakeshop advertised for a maid of all work. "Can you make bread?" was question put to each applicant.

Of all the maids who professed to own that accomplishment the mistress chose the one with the frailest hands and arms.
"I don't know about the wisdom of

"I don't know about the wisdom of that choice," ventured a male member of the family. "Wouldn't it have been better to pick out a sturdler girl?"
"Not at all," said the lady. "What we require in this family, above all things, is good bread. We half live on bread. I am confident I have chosen a good breadmaker. A girl with rather delicate hands always makes better bread than one whose fists are better bread than one whose fists are like sledge hammers. Bread to be good needs to be coddled in the kneading. The light fingered do that in-stinctively, but the heavy handed slam and bang the very life out of the dough."—New York Globe.

"Coquelin was very charitable," said a theatrical manager. "He did more for superannuated actors and actresses than any other man in France. I once heard him speak on charity in the French Actors' home, that he did so "There are plenty of philanthro-pists,' said Coquelin. 'There are plen-ty of philosophers—plenty, I mean, according to the definition that too many of us accept."

"He smiled grimly.

"Too many of us, said Coquelin, define a philosopher as one who bears with resignation the cold and hunger from which his neighbor is suffering, and too many of us define a philanthropist as one who gives away other

In the state of Oaxaca, Mexico, a crusade by the business men has been started against the observance of so many flestas, or holidays. While in the capital, City of Mexico, there are 123 feast days in the year, in Oaxaca there are 168, and business men there find a great deal of difficulty in having work done.

In the City of Mexico the invasion of so many American, British, French and German merchants has caused a revolution in the matter of holidays, and the number has been cut down, but still there are more than 100 days in a year which are observed and on which all business houses are closed at least part of the day.

Seismographs In Colleges.

Following quickly upon the recom-nendations of the Geological Society of America, the Jesuit fathers an nounced recently that the order had made plans for the installation of selsmographs in twelve of their principal colleges in the United States, one of them to be at the Brooklyn college, at Nostrand avenue and Carroll street. There every record of earth shocks will be made for the northeastern states

Miss Roberta Stover, the daughter of one of the largest manufacturers in Trenton, N. J., created a sensation on Easter Sunday afternoon by appearing on the fashionable thoroughfares of the city wearing a hat of her own creation. It was a waste paper basket

The streets were crowded with Easter promenaders, and Miss Stover attracted a great deal of attention. She was escorted by her two brothers During the afternoon she called on her Sunday school teacher and her pastor, the Rev. John D. Fox, who was taken aback at sight of the novel top dressing of the young lady, but realized the humor of it and passed her along with a laugh.

Girls For Messengers. Leipzig is the first German city to inaugurate a system of bicycle messenger girls. They are dressed in uni-forms of red, trimmed with gold braid and gold buttons, and wear their little messenger caps at the dangerous angle of forty-five degrees. The hat is held securely by the regulation band, which passes under the chin and also does away with the necessity of hatpins.

Earlier Yet. Clubman—I understand, sir, that you began life as a newsboy? Guest of the Evening—I fear some one has been fooling you. I began life as an infant.

—Philippine Gossip.

Pennsylvania Chestnut Orchard.

Coleman K. Sober of Irish Valley Northumberland county, Pa., has pur chased 165 acres of timber land in Columbia county upon which to plant another chestnut orchard. It is his intention to take off what timber is marketable and then to clear the plot of all underbrush and rotten limbs, trate paid the physician's bill. After this is done he will com mence the systematic planting of his Paragon chestnut trees, with which he has won fame and fortune. It is his intention to make the Columbia
The philosopher stroked his heard his intention to make the Columbia county chestnut farm the equal of his Northumberland county property, from which he harvested 3,000 bushels of wanting to live 100 years."—Philadechestnuts last year, which he sold at phia Record.

Joe Jefferson used to tell this one: "In the spring of 1892, being in the vicinity of West Swanzey, N. H., I FINE PLACE AT WHITE HALL

FIRE of unknown originswept been leveled by the flames

The work of the flames was speedy the collection of fine lumber, finished and thorough—among the destroyed property being Mr. Dildine's fine place was stucked. Mr. Dildine estiframe home, his barn, lumber shed and well equipped cabinet maker's shop together with practically the entire contents of the buildings.

The fire was discovered by Mr Dildine's little son, Frank, who was playing outside the house. He ran and told his parents that the barn was on fire, the flames then were bursting from the building. The lumber shed adjoined the barn and connected to the shed was the work shop, a building 16 by 24. A strong wind was blowing over the surrounding country, most of the barn in the direction of the house, male population aiding in fighting the and the flying sparks had in a few minutes ignited the latter structure. Within thirty minutes from the time adequate means of fighting the fire at the fire was discovered by the little hand, little could be done to stop the abit, so when she reached the next in the fire was discovered by the little hand, little could be done to stop the abit, so when she reached the next in the fire was discovered at the door of the fire was discovered at the door of the fire was discovered by the little hand, little could be done to stop the abit, so when she reached the next in the fire was discovered by the little hand, little could be done to stop the abit. boy, all the buildings on the place had blaze until it had run its course.

Mind Your Own Business. Avalanches. An old custom once prevailed in a remote place in England of giving a clock to any one who would truthfully swear that he had minded his own business alone for a year and a day and had not meddled with his neighbors. Many came, but few, if any, gained the prize, which was more difficult to win than the Dunmow flitch of bacon. Though they swore on the four gospels and held out their hands in certain hope, some hitch was sure to be found somewhere, and for all their asseverations the clock remained astationary on the shelf, no one being able to prove his absolute immunity from uncalled for interference in things not in any way concerning himself. At last a young man came with a per-fectly clear record, and the clock seemed as if it was at last about to change owners. Then said the custo dian, "Oh," a young man was here yes-terday and made mighty sure he was going to have the clock, but he didn't." And why didn't he get it?" that to you?" snapped the custodian "That's not your business, and you don't get the clock."

The Chinese Sampans.
In Canton 400,000 people spend their whole existence in boats, which are there called sampans. They are born in them, live in them from infancy to old age and finally die in them. Col-lectively these boats form a floating suburb to the city proper, one of the most amazing human settlements in the world. Every creek is crammed with them. Along the main banks of the river they are huddled twenty deep —so close together that the covering of mats appears continuous as far as the eye can reach. And each sampan houses a separate family, with its own big brazier lamp, which serves for heating, lighting and cooking the even-ing meal. The scene when a really serious conflagration once gets a proper hold in the midst of these floating wooden homes may be imagined. Escape is impossible except for those moored at the outermost edge. In one of these conflagrations over a thousand persons lost their lives.

Carrying a Watch.
"After carrying a watch for thirty years I have just learned something new in watch lore," said the city salesman. "I don't know whether this is true or not, but an old watchmaker told me. I bought a watch of him the other day. It was a cheap watch. He said:

"What pocket are you going to carthe right or left?"

right, so to keep it from gaining time ation. It was a waste paper basket elaborately trimmed with two feather dusters, an ear of corn, a miniature suit case, a squash, a pincushion resembling a strawberry, a clay turkey variation. He could give none: said he only knew it was true, and then, whether he was faking or not, he pretended to regulate my watch for the left pocket."-New York Sun

Why the Judge Paid.

A physician, says a medical journal that vouches for the truth of the story, was once summoned in baste to attend the child of a family that lived in tw rooms in the heart of a large American city-not New York. The child had been seized suddenly and seriously and just at election time. The mother was in despair, and when the doubt ful prognosis was given she broke into wailing and violent self condem nation for some horrible sin of the family to which she said the child's illness was due—a direct punishment for their crime. She would go and curse the magistrate for it all, her husband should resign from force," and such evil ways should be renounced forever.

Curious to know how the magistrate could be held responsible for the child's illness, the doctor finally se-cured the confession that the crime of the poor, conscience stricken woman consisted in allowing the names of many fraudulest voters to be registered as residing in her house, in swearing to the lie, etc. The magis-trate also had demanded this of all the neighbors in return for indescrib able political favors.

The child recovered, and the magis-

"Can you tell me how to live 100

mates his loss on this part of his prop-

At the house, also, practically nothing

All of the buildings on Mr. Dil-tion, having been built about fifteen years ago. All the buildings were nicely painted. The loss is estimated at between $2500 and $3000, which is

The fire drew a large crowd from partly covered by insurance.

dine's place were in excellent condierty alone at between $500 and was saved.

There are avalanches of different kinds, but when the term "avalanche" sweetly at the woman and, lifting up his voice, called:

"Bill, come out! There's a lady the save and is determined by supposed to apply to falls of great bodies of snow or lee, says Mr. Edward Whymper in the London Strand Magazine. One of the wants to see you." London Strand Magazine. One of the first occasions of this kind which attracted attention took place in 1820, upon Mont Blane, and it is commonly "Is she young, John, or old?" In the words of the old poem, "she took and John looked at a Russian, set out on Aug. 18 to go up Mont Blanc, accompanied by two Englishmen and eight guides. They had ascended to a height of more than "You'll be satisfied, Bill, when you who were cutting or making steps, when all at once the snow above them gave way, and the members of the party were carried down a thousand 5,000,000 produced grows up through all the grocerous of the Fittest. party were carried down a thousand all the successive stages of youth to they had tolled. Snow again broke away above and more or less covered them. Some of them struggled out, away above and more or less covered them. Some of them struggled out, Importance cannot be reduced to a matter of size. The success of a piece of work may depend on a tiny detail. Such is the case in regard to that marvel of construction, the violin. Rev. H. R. Haweis in his "My Musical Life" tells of the care and labor ex-pended on two little pieces of wood which go to make up the perfect whole. The sound bar is a strip of pine wood running obliquely under the left foot of the bridge. A slight mistake in its position, looseness or in equality or roughness of finish will produce that hollow, teeth on edge growl called "wolf." It takes great cunning and a life of practical study to know how long and how thick the sound bar must be and exactly where to place it in each instrument. The sound post is a little pine prop, like a short bit of cedar pencil. It is the soul of the violin, and through it pours all vibrations. Days and weeks are spent in adjusting the tiny sound post. Its position exhausts the patience of the maker and makes the joy or the misery of the player.

Sister's New Spring Hat. s got a new spring hat, one of these

After pa had took one look at her he let out a dismal sigh. Sister's hat hid half her nose and hung down across one eye.

Pa he stood and gazed awhile; then at last he sadly spoke.

There was something in his voice made me think his heart was broke.

Still, I guess it's hard to make women lose of the foregoing petition.

Nero's Golden House.

The "golden house" of Nero seems from all accounts to have been the most stupendous dwelling place ever built for a mortal man. Even if we regard the ancient descriptions as somewhat exaggerated it remains one of the largest royal houses ever built, and the internal decorations seem to have been incomparably magnificent. It was surrounded by parks, woods and pools of great size, which appear to have been entirely within the walls. The colonnades of the house itself extended a mile in length and crossed one of the main thoroughfares of the city. The cities of the east were ran-sacked for masterpieces of Greek art for the interior. The walls shone with gold and pearls, and the roof rested on marble columns of enormous size and beauty.—New York American.

Firemen's Year's Pay 32,000 Pennies. On the recent annual pay day for the members of the Fire King Engine company at East Douglas, Mass., forty members, who get $8 a year each, renembers, who get as a year easiefyed that amount in pennies. number of copper coins paid was 32-000, each man's burden weighing five and one-half pounds.

The Middle Horse.

A farmer, plowing with three horses hitched abreast, noticed that the middle horse became tired and exhausted long before either of its mates. As the animal was the equal in every way of the other two, he was puzzled as to the cause of its not being able to stand the same amount of work. FIRE of unknown origins wept the property of Frank Dildine at White Hall, Anthony township, yesterday about noon, feaving of the fine group of buildings on his place nothing standing but a small smoke house.

The work of the flames was speedy been leveled by the flames.

Mr. Dildine does not follow farming to the contents of the barn were not extensive. A cow was saved, but 20 chickens perished together with some feed. In the lumber shed and work shop practically nothing was saved of the procured a long "jockey" stick, which the result that the middle horse was compelled to breathe the expired air from its fellows. The farmer shop practically nothing was saved of
the procured a long "jockey" stick, which the fastened with straps to the bits of the outside horses. The device worked perfectly, for, given its rightful share of good, fresh air, the mid-dle horse was able to do the same amount of work and with no greater fatigue than its fellows.

Many persons are like the middle horse—they do not get their rightful share of pure air. And this is why they are not able to perform as much work nor of as good a quality as they would otherwise be able to do.—Chicago Tribune.

A Ticklish Moment.

flames. They worked heroically but and admiration: A woman, driving with a high wind blowing and ina bit, so when she reached the next village she stopped at the door of the blacksmith shop. A man was holding up the doorpost, and to him she said:

"Will you please tell the blacksmith to come out? I want to see him." After the manner of the village idler, the man did not stir, but smiled them. Some of them struggled out, but three of the leading guldes were huried into a crevasse and buried under an immense mass of snow. The bodies of these men reappeared at the foot of the glacier thirty years afterward.

Survival of the Fittest.

Two Bits of Wood.

Importance cannot be reduced to a leading to the leading all the individuals into consideration, only a single pair of the leading all the individuals into consideration, only a single pair of young arrive at maturity to replace their pair ents. There is no exception to the rule that every organic being naturally multiplies at so high a rate that if not destroyed the progeny of a single pair of young arrive at maturity to replace their pair ents. There is no exception to the rule ents. There is no except er of known animals. It commences to breed at thirty years of age, dies at 100 and has six young in the interval. After 750 years, supposing all the offspring of a single pair fulfilled the rule and were not destroyed in an untimely way, there would be nearly 19,000,000 elephants alive descended from the first pair.—Sir Ray Lankester in London Telegraph.

To Send Taft Garden Seed. "Why, you're my Congressman," said President Taft to Representative Hardwick of Georgia, when the Augusta statesman called on him at Washington the other day, playfully referring to his recent sojourn in the South. "That's right, and if you're good I'll send you some garden seed," cheerfully answered the Georgian, whose bulk is about one-third that of the President.

Monkeys Apt Pupils at College. That a monkey can learn something new every day, although the only people with whom it comes in contact are college professors, is said to have been demonstrated by the department of psychology in George Washington uni-Sister's got a new spring Hat.

Sister's got a new spring hat, one of these wastebasket things.

On the top it's kind of flat, bare of ribbons and of wings.

It comes down around her neck, and it hides her ears from sight.

Gee, I don't see why a girl wants to be a screaming fright!

Notice. Notice is hereby given that the Court of Common Pleas of Montour County has made and entered the fol-

"And they made you pay for that?" pa asked in a dismal tone
As he looked at sister's hat and seemed pained enough to groan.
"Made you pay good money which I have worked blamed hard to get.
All I've got to say is this is the biggest outrage yet!

DECREE.

And now April 17th, 1909, it appear-ing from the record that no answer as been filed to the rule granted Jan-uary 11, 1909, and that the rule was advertised as directed, after due con-sideration it is ordered, directed and "Do you s'pose that any beau while you've got that on," says he.
"Would come in and try to win you away from ma and me? There's no use, if you must wear such a blamed outlandish thing.
To expect we'll have a chance to get rid of you this spring."

autersised as directed, after due condected and decreed that Ralph Winter Diehl shall, after the publication of this decree as directed by the Act of Assembly, be known by the name of Ralph Beaver Diehl, in accordance with the prayer of the foregoing restition.

still, I guess it's hard to make women lose their loveliness.

It don't make much difference, after all, the way they dress.

Every night some fellow comes courting sister just the same, sister just the same, and shame.

-Chicago Record-Herald.

It is herbey further crowled that notice of this decree be published in the "Montour American." a weekly newspaper published and of general circulation in Montour County, Pa., for four successive weeks, and that the netitioner comply with all the It is herbey further ordered that the petitioner comply with all the other requirements of the Act of the General Assembly of April 9th., 1852

By the Court, CHARLES C. EVANS, P. J. A 22. 29. M6. 13.

Auditor's Notice. In the Orphans' Court of Montour

County.
In the Estate of William Taylor, late gists.
Liberty township, Montour County.

of Liberty township, Montour County, dec'd.

The undersigned, appointed auditor of the Orphans' Court of Montour County; in the matter of the First and Final Account of Henry Vincent, Administrator of William Taylor, late of Liberty township, County of Montour and State of Pennsylvania; deceased; to make distribution of the balance in the bands of said Accountant, to and among the parties legally entitled thereto; will meet all parties for the purposes of his appointment, at his office on Mill Street, in the Borough of Danville, on Wednesday, May 5th, 1909, at 10 o'clock, A. M.; when and where all revenue having any claim.

R. SCOTT AMMERMAN, Auditor.

A MEAN TRICK ON THE GOVERNOR

HARRISBURG, April 28 It is regarded as playing a pretty ow-down trick on Governor Strart for the legislature, after a solemn warning from that official to go slow in the matter of making appropriations, to have sent him appropriation bills aggregating $67,000,000, when there will be revenues of but $47,000,000 at the highest estimate. This jumping the money to $20,000,000 more of appro-priations than there will be revenue puts it up to the governor to get out his veto ax and lop off great chunks of warning. It is an exceedingly distasteful task to impose on the governor, throwing all the blame on him, and he doesn't like it a bit. The ordinary labor in-If to act cleverly on the spot is the measure of tact, then the man who figures in the subjoined New York Tribune story deserves both respect volved in paring down the appropria tions will take up every minute of the all bills must be disposed of. It is said that Attorney General Todd will pre-pare several veto messages that will accompany the wielding of the ax, and that they will be vigorous and terse.

cash from the various bills, something that the legislature might easily have prevented had it heeded the governor's

The governor has been beset on all sides by the people who want to come here and take up his time in hearings on appropriation measures, and he has determined to refuse all hearings on that class of bills. Yesterday after noon he issued the following state ment:

"After careful tabulation of the appropriation bills submitted to me for approval by the legislature, I find the amount aggregates more than $67,000. In the words of the old poem, and looked at John and John looked at her." Then, still without moving, he her." Then, still without moving, he charged with the responsibility of columns are dishuraing the State's relecting and disbursing the State's re venues, I am informed by the andier general, in a carefully prepared state ment, that the moneys available and to become available from every source for the payment of these appropriations will not exceed $45,000,000, and by the State treasurer that the amount will not exceed $47,000,000.

"In order to prevent a decifit it be comes necessary to bring these appropriations within the revenues of State, and owing to the limited time given to dispose of these bills, I regret to be compelled to say that it will be impossible for me to comply with requests for hearings concerning ap propriations,"

Modern Buildings.

Probably not one out of every 10,000 buildings standing in all parts of the world and built by modern masons will be standing 500 years hence. We do not know how to put stones and bricks together as the ancients did, and consequently the buildings we raise nowadays are really mere temporary structures and will be in ruins when the ancient buildings of Greece and Egypt, built thousands of years ago, are in as good condition as they are now.

Taft Cabinet's Average Age.
The average age of the Taft cabinet is fifty-seven years, which is about two years more venerable on the average than the Roosevelt cabinet.

the diseased membrane resulting from Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of AAY FEVER raste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail. In liquid form, 75 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

Scientific American. omely illustrated weekly. Largest cir-of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a our months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers. MUNN & CO. 361Broadway, New York Branch Office. 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

R-I-P-A-N-S Tabule Doctors find A good prescription

For Mankind.

The 5-cent packet is enough for usua occassions. The family bottle (60 cents contains a supply for a year. All drug

