Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation. Several new railroad bridges in Mexico are of white marble of the best grade.

DANVILLE WON FOURTH PLACE

Danville High School was represented at the inter-scholastic meet held at State College last Friday by a team under J. C. Ainsworth composed of Price, Ryan, Kase, Russell and Harley. Although the efficacy of the team was marred by an accident, yet it won fourth place with a total of twelve points. Ryan won two handsome medals.

The inter-scholastic meet took in a large section. Danville was classed in with some of the best "prep" schools and academies in the State, among them being Bellefonte academy, Dickinson seminary, Juniata college, Middletown high school, Altoona high school, Huntington and Berwick high schools.

Kase, Price and Russell took part in the 100-yard dash. Price after winning second place in this race was disqualified for "interfering" with another runner.

KASE'S ACCIDENT

An accident happened to Kase, Danville's strong broad jumper, which threw our team out of first place in that event. Kase while jumping, at the height of four feet, ran a spike from one of his shoes into his right leg near the ankle severing an artery.

The accident caused considerable alarm, as the injured jumper lost at least two quarts of blood before any of the remedies applied proved effective.

RYAN'S BIG SCORE

Ryan, the weight man, won first in the twelve pound shot put at a distance of thirty-eight feet, seven and a half inches. He also took first in the twelve pound hammer throw, distance being one hundred and twenty feet, four inches.

Ryan's showing was one of the best made at the meet, he being the only man who took two first. He was awarded two fine gold medals.

After the meet the points of each school was totaled. Danville high school winning fourth place with a total of twelve points.

The Danville team was royally entertained by "The Exis," one of the college fraternities.

The members of the local team declare themselves much indebted to the courtesy of our townsman, T. J. Price, by whose automobile they were conveyed to Lewisburg Friday morning and which Saturday met them at that point on the return trip. But for Mr. Price's courtesy the team would have been obliged to leave Danville on Thursday.

BANK INSTALLS BURGLAR ALARM

If robbers again visit the Farmers' National bank at Exchange as they did on one occasion this spring they will be given a warm reception for on Saturday an up-to-date burglar alarm system was installed by the enterprising financial institution in the northern end of the county.

The system installed is the Boston burglar alarm system. Near the top of the building is a bell one foot in diameter, which will ring if the building is tampered with at any part. The bell gives forth a clang that can be heard a quarter of a mile away, and would bring down on the world be robbers the whole country side. In addition to the bell persons in gaining entrance could not escape touching a mechanism that would illuminate the entire building.

Party of Young People

A party of young people were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Frye, near the hospital on Friday evening. Refreshments were served. The evening was spent in music and games.

Those present were: Edith Shepperon, Julia Warner, Emily Prout, Clara Beyer, Blanche Reed, Esther Rogers, Mary Yeager, Annie Kinn, Bessie Unger, Eva Bird and Florence Frye; Messrs. William Kase, Howard Morrison, Wilson Dye, Joseph Hess, Lloyd McCloughan, Ferris Keim, Alfred Switzer, and Gorman Chesnut, Raymond Frye, Pearl Frye, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Frye.

Remodeling of Foster's Block

Foster's block, on Mill street, the lower story of which is occupied by Emerick's ten cent store, is undergoing extensive alterations. A modern glass front will be installed, in addition to which the hallway on the south side and the living apartments in the rear will be thrown into the store room. The latter room, now 18 by 60 feet, after the remodeling will be 24 by 90 feet. A great deal of work is involved in the improvements. Several men have been employed for a week or so past in getting things in readiness. The remodeling is in the hands of John A. Mowrey. A large number of heavy iron girders to be used in the work were unloaded on the spot yesterday.

STATE MINSTRELS SCORE A HIT

On Saturday evening a select audience at the Danville opera house was treated to a real live college minstrel show and to say that the effect was pleasing is putting it mildly. The performance was fine, much better than one would believe that amateurs could do. Each number was heartily applauded, especially by the numerous young ladies in the audience, whose charming appearance and absorbing interest breathed a fervent "de-lighted" to each pretty number.

The first part of the show was planned in the good old fashioned minstrel fashion, with the circle in handsome style suits and the four end men in a terrible shade of green. Among the latter was William L. McCoy, of this city, whose appearance was loudly applauded. Mr. McCoy was suffering from a severe cold which greatly handicapped his efforts. Nevertheless his "Sleep" song was one of the hits of the evening.

Each number presented was most enjoyable. The fine voices and pleasing presence of H. P. Armstrong in his songs, "Sign of the Honey-moon" and "Song of the Pipe," made a remarkable hit and he was encored again and again. The dancing of W. H. Foster was a unique feature, his buck and wing and Spanish dances being almost professional. B. V. VonSenden, in his female impersonations, H. E. Waha, as interlocutor and soloist, Mr. Snavely, in his musical skit and Mr. Meade, contortionist, were all very fine in their parts.

The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Danville High School Athletic association.

More Revenue for Orphanage

Increased revenue for the Orphans' home near Sunbury and the other similar institutions in the State will be one of the principal subjects to be brought up when representatives of 1160 lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this State will gather at Harrisburg next Sunday, at the sixty-eighth annual session of the Grand lodge of Pennsylvania, for a five days' business meeting.

THE BIRD WAS A BITTERN

A gentleman from Cooper township Monday brought a bittern into town, which is, indeed, a very rare bird in these parts and it proved quite a curiosity. Probably in all our population there were not half a dozen who had ever seen a bittern.

The bird was about the size of a hen with a long spear-like bill, yellowish in color. The legs and feet were yellow-green; the iris yellow. The length of the bird was about twenty-six inches—extent about forty-five inches. The general color was brownish yellow; the top of the head dull brown. The other part of the body was finely freckled and variegated with different shades of brown; the chin and throat were white with brown streaks. The gentleman who brought the bird to town was walking on Lohach's farm, Sunday, when he was attacked by the bird, which charged upon him after the fashion of a hen which wishes to protect a brood of chickens. He was carrying a stick, with which he struck the bird, temporarily stunning it so that he was enabled to pick it up. The bird soon revived and when seen in Danville yesterday was quite lively and in a very belligerent mood.

No one had ever seen such a bird before and there were many conjectures as to what family it belonged to. The strange bird was taken to the store of M. H. Schram, who speedily settled the controversy, by pronouncing the bird a bittern, or as it is sometimes called by sportsmen a "green-legged crane." The bittern is a wader and subsists on frogs, lizards, small snakes and fish, which it spears with its long bill as it walks or wades stealthily along.

The habitat of the bittern is temperate North America south to Guatemala and the West Indies. It is occasionally seen in Pennsylvania during the summer but very rarely breeds in this State. It is thought that the bittern captured in Cooper township was hatched or probably had a nest of young nearby. The bittern is mostly seen single or in pairs.

Sudden Death of Irvin Vought

Irvin Vought, a well known farmer of Mayberry township, was found dead in his residence Sunday morning. The deceased was in Danville on Saturday. When the family arose yesterday morning he was found lying on the kitchen floor. Death, which was due to heart failure, is supposed to have occurred between four and five o'clock.

The deceased is survived by his widow and eight children. He was aged about fifty-two years.

There Will Be Plenty Doing

There will be plenty doing in Danville during the second week in June. On Monday, the 7th, court will convene and will no doubt occupy at least half the week. On 8th, 9th and 10, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the firemen will be in Danville. On Saturday preceding, June 6th, the Spring primary will be held.

WALK OF BROKEN RANGE WORK

The concrete walk laid around the base of the soldiers' monument by the borough was completed Saturday and during yesterday was viewed by many hundred people.

The pavement, which was laid under the supervision of P. J. Keefer, is pronounced a masterpiece. Mr. Keefer does not conceal the fact that out of regard for the soldiers' monument in constructing the pavement he did the very best he was capable of, sparing neither time nor pains. The walk is eight feet wide, of broken range work and has no equal anywhere in the borough.

RELOCATING WALK

On Saturday ground was broken for the relocation of the walk leading in from Bloom street opposite the monument. To make room for the change one of the young trees Saturday was taken up and transplanted. The walk from the monument will be moved downward some four feet at Bloom street. To conform with this, later, a wide crossing will be laid, enabling persons on the sidewalk on the southern side of Bloom street to cross the roadway and enter the park directly.

It is found that the large tree growing along the sidewalk which those who opposed the measure were afraid might interfere, is not in the way at all.

Colored Arches Illuminated

Our council is to be commended for its public spirit and liberality in lighting up the vari-colored arches on Mill street each Saturday night. They are very beautiful and prove an attraction to our neighbors from Bloomsburg and other towns who happen to drop into town at the close of the week.

Incidentally the colored arches help to advertise the unveiling of the soldiers' monument and the Six-County Firemen's convention, as it is well known that they are to enter into the system of decorations on each of those occasions.

Victim of Typhoid Fever

Elizabeth Bryan Roundley, wife of John Roundley, died at the family residence, Bloom street, at 1:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, as the result of an attack of typhoid fever complicated with other diseases.

The deceased was ill only a little over a week. She was a highly esteemed and beloved woman and her unexpected death has cast a gloom over the part of town in which she resided.

She was aged thirty three years. Besides her husband she is survived by two small children, Olyde, aged three years, and Rollin, one year. A brother, John Bryan, of Harrisburg, also survives.

Firemen Measured for Uniforms

The members of the Continental Fire company, fifty-nine in number, have been measured for new uniforms by Henderson & Co., of Philadelphia.

The new suits consist of red shirt and black pantaloons with cap and belt, a combination which is again becoming popular with firemen.

The uniforms will be completed and will be delivered by the time of the Six-County Firemen's convention.

Cost More to Wed

Danville couples who are contemplating matrimony had better move with alacrity, if they wish to save the increase in the fee for their marriage license.

Governor Stuart on Thursday signed the Snyder bill raising the fee from fifty cents to a dollar. It is likely, however, that any man who is willing to pay fifty cents for the privilege of getting married will not object to paying fifty cents more.

Attending Synod

Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, pastor of the Pine Street Lutheran church, and Joseph Divil, representing the congregation, left yesterday for Williamsport where they will attend the sessions of the Susquehanna synod. The synod convened last evening and will remain in session until Sunday evening.

Grief is like the morning dew—it never lasts long.

Charleroi has a citizen who needs to take lessons in marksmanship. John Meekel is his name and he has just been fined $1 and costs for shooting a neighbor's dog. He aimed at a cat that was among his young chickens, but the bullet flew wide of the mark and slew the dog in an adjoining yard.

TRINITY GREETS ITS NEW PASTOR

The congregation of the Trinity Methodist church tendered a reception to the new pastor, Rev. C. O. Snavely, and family, Friday evening. The lecture room was filled to overflowing. For the occasion the room had been tastefully decorated with the national colors, the speakers' platform being hidden by a bank of laurel and palms. Japanese lanterns, hung here and there, made a most pleasing appearance.

The affair was under the direction of the Epworth League. An enjoyable program, consisting of recitations, vocal and instrumental selections, had been prepared. The applause which greeted each number testified to the appreciation of those present.

Frank Lovett, representing the Epworth League, and B. F. Kelly, representing the congregation, delivered the addresses of welcome. Mr. Lovett, taking as his subject, "The Influence of the Pastor on the Coming Congregation," dwelt on the fact that the young people represented by the Epworth League, were in a position by reason of their youth to receive more and lasting benefit from the work of the pastor than the older members of the congregation. Their minds and hearts are more susceptible to his influence and the welfare of the future congregation depends largely on the effect of the pastor's words and work while among them. He assured the minister that at all times he would find the League ready to do its share of any work tending to benefit the church.

Mr. Kelly in a few well chosen words welcomed Rev. Snavely to his new charge, assuring him of the hearty feeling of love and respect that exists in the hearts of the members of the congregation. Rev. George S. Wemor, of St. Paul's and Rev. Samuel Fox of St. Peter's, Riverside, in brief addresses welcomed the new minister. Rev. Snavely in an appropriate address expressed his appreciation of the hearty welcome extended him and his family and expressed the conviction that the present occasion was but the forerunner of years of love and co-operation between pastor and people. Following a selection by the Orpheus Glee club refreshments were served.

AUTOMOBILED TO DANVILLE

Judge C. C. Evans, accompanied by Judge J. U. Kartz, A. O. Jackson, W. S. Johnson and F. A. Cressy, of Berwick, enjoyed an automobile trip to this city Saturday, taking supper at the Montour house. While in Danville they viewed the improvements in the court house and were much pleased with the effect. Judge Kurtz said that in his opinion Danville has now one of the best as well as one of the handsomest court houses in this section, an opinion which found ready support from others of the party.

WORK PROVES DEFECTIVE

A bad defect has developed in the granolithic floor or pavement at the soldiers' monument, which it is feared, will have to be replaced with new—a circumstance that may delay the completion of work about the base for some weeks.

The granolithic floor was the last branch of work completed by the Van Amringe Granite company. It was a difficult piece of work and required peculiar skill. First, over the entire surface—around the base of the shaft and embraced within the four flights of granite steps—was placed a course of concrete some four inches deep. Over this a top or smooth coat was placed. At first the effect was all right; the surface was well finished—a light grey and conformed with the other features of the memorial.

It is now found, however, that the top coat has cracked at several different spots, a condition which should not exist in a first class job. Those familiar with concrete work are aware of what follows as the result of such a defect. The water soaks in through the small fissures and in time ruins the entire paving.

Experts who have viewed the work agree that there is but one thing to be done in such cases and that is to chisel out the whole pavement including the lower as well as the upper course of concrete. Just what is involved in this in the way of cost and loss of time is well known to any person familiar with concrete work.

Experts explain that cracking of the top coat of granolithic pavements is caused by the failure to lay the top, or smooth coat at the precise moment when it will adhere to the coarser layer of concrete and the whole pavement will unite in a cohesive mass. In the present case it is believed that the laying of the top course was delayed a little too long—until the lower course had become set and was too dry to unite with the smooth coat.

The soldiers' monument committee has notified the Van Amringe Granite company, which will, no doubt, replace the granolithic pavement with new. The company has not as yet responded explaining in what manner work when it will take hold of the work.

Express Wagon in Runaway

The team of horses belonging to the Washington Hose company while hitched to the local express wagon took freight at the P. & R. station Tuesday forenoon and ran away. The wagon was overturned and considerably damaged.

William Reed, the driver, was standing in the car. Daniel Kennedy, a boy, was on the express wagon and undertook to drive the horses a short distance ahead so as to bring the wagon in better position. Just as the team stopped the boy fell out under the horses' heels, which frightened the animals and caused them to run away.

The boy escaped injury but the horses ran down Railroad street, where at the foot of the hill they overturned the wagon, scattering the goods that had already been loaded over the ground. At this juncture Mr. Reed, the driver, came up and caught the horses. The wagon will need general repairs.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure, or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable restorative properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

LITTLE CHILD BADLY SCALDED

The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Riffel, South Danville, fell into a wash boiler partly filled with hot water, Monday morning and was badly scalded.

Mrs. Riffel was engaged in washing while the child was playing about the room. The woman lifted the boiler from the stove, depositing it on the floor. She stepped aside to do something else, but had no sooner turned her back than she heard a scream and turning around discovered that the little tot had fallen headfirst into the boiler.

To clutch the child and jerk it out of its scalding bath was only the work of a moment, but in the interval the child was shockingly scalded.

Dr. Smith was called, who did every thing possible to relieve the suffering of the child, whose hands and arms had been immersed in the boiling water and were burned into blisters. The child's face was also scalded, but that part of the body had only partially come in contact with the hot water and was not so badly injured as the hands and arms.

At last accounts the child was resting comparatively well. There are fair prospects of its recovery.
