DEATH OF WELL KNOWN SALESMAN

The following notice is taken from the Harrisburg Star-Independent, of Monday, June 7th: Granville Slothower, who had been ill for seven weeks from erysipelas, died Saturday evening at 9:15 o'clock at his home at Lemoyne, Pa. He was a faithful member of the United Evangelical church and of its official board He was president of the Keystone League of Christian Endeavor. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F., Jr. T. M. He had served as a member of the borough council. He was a traveling salesman for about twenty years. He leaves a wife and six small children, his aged parents, four brothers and four sisters. In his death the town has lost a good citizen who took Dr. Charles J. Hastings, chairman of for the good of the community.

Mr. Slothower, who was the agent for Gottshall's Liniment is very well known in Danville, being a son-in-law of William Kocher, Grand street.

DEATH RATE

FLUCTUATES

The report of the local registrar for May shows that typhoid fever. which caused a little alarm a couple of weeks ago, is rapidly disappearing; also that the public had an exaggerated idea of the extent of the outbreak. During May seven cases of typhoid lever were reported. In all, since the first case of the present outbreak, there have been only nine cases. There are only four dwellings placarded at present. At the other places the patients are regarded as convalescent and the premises are released. The last case of typhoid fever reported previous to the present outbreak occurred on March 8th. In April there was no typhoid. There have been no cases reported since May 20th.

The local board of health requires the placarding of dwellings in which typhoid fever exists, not to regulate intercourse with the family so much as to afford a means whereby milk-men and others may know that the disease exists on the premises and may take the prescribed precaution.

During May, seven cases of measles were reported; one case of chicken were reported; one case of chicken pox and one case of pneumonis. There is probably more than the usual amount of malarial fever considering the season of the year, but the public big season of the year, but the

HALF-GROWN FOXES ATTRACT CROWDS

Three half grown foxes in the window of M. H. Schram's tobacco store on Saturday proved an attraction that kept the sidewalk blocked with people for several hours. A full grown fox is an unfamiliar sight to most people and the three lit-tle foxes proved a still greater rarity.

The little animals came to town Sat urday morning. They were dug out from among the rocks on Montour ridge by Clark Hower and John and Frank Roup, who reside near Camerou. The little fellows were captured about LONG ILLNESS four weeks ago, when they were only half as large as at present. They are exceedingly cunning in appearance and are very playful.
