An account of the accident was printed in this paper at the time of its occurrence. Mr. Dawson, after several mouths' idleness, left for Pittsburg in search of work. Disappointed in his quest he was returning to Danville when in attempting to jump a freight in the Williamsport yards he was thrown under the wheels and his left arm and leg cut off. Since that time, about ten weeks ago. Mr. Dawson has been in the City Hospital at Williamsport where he was taken directly after the accident.

From the first Mr. Dawson began to improve. With one exception he had not been sick a day in his life, and his strong constitution carried him through. The arm is off just above the wrist, while the leg is off above the wrist, while the leg is off above the knee. The stumps are already healed over nicely and Mr. Dawson is able to make his way about with the aid of crutches. It is his intention to procure an artificial leg in a short time.

It was in June, 1904, that Clark went to the isthmus. He returned in March of the present year, serv ing in all about five years. Had he put in another year he would have been entitled to another bar.

The medal was provided for by an act of Congress in 1908, as a direct result of the efforts of ex-President Roosevelt, who desired to see an honmortem table has never perhaps given or conferred on the government men who had assisted in the construction

The medal is of heartiful design about the size of a silver half doilar. It contains in relief the likeness of eye, and for this reason, the likeness neath the bust is the name of the re- pany. cipient, H. R. Clark.

lief, of a portion of the waterway as next spring it will appear when completed, with ships passing through a deep cut. Surrounding are the words "Presented by the President of the United States." Beneath is Mr. Clark's number, 64, and his first two years, 1904-06. On the extra bar is the number, 36, and the two extra years of service, 1906-08. From the above it will be seen that Mr. Clark's number on the roll had changed from sixty-four to thirty-six in two years, showing that in that time twenty-eight of the original engineers had quit the service

The name of the designer, V. D. Brenner, he of Lincoln-penny fame, appears in a conspicuous place, alongside the likeness of Roosevelt.

The medals were struck at the Philadelphia mint and are made of a composition of metals, having the appearance of bronze. They are of especial value to the fortunate holders, in that they are made from the metal of the machinery, found on the isthmus, left by the old French operations The machinery was shipped to this coun try and the medals struck here.

John Hayes, of Catawissa, a parine Clark in the construction of the surface sewer at the State hospit al, who served five years in the canal zone, was also a recipient of a medal.

EXPLOSION OF

GAS STOVE

An explosion that might have resulted seriously occurred at the home of Philip Benzbach at the corner of Ferry and Water streets Monday evening.

The evening meal was in course of preparation and the maid was in the act of lighting one of the burners when there was an explosion that shook the house. The stove was totally wrecked and a number of dishes blown to pieces. By good fortune the maid was not hurt.

It is thought that the gas had been turned into the oven by the baby at some time during the day and when an attempt was made to light the outside burner, the gas in the oven ignited with the above result.
