MRS. JOHN JACOBS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Mrs. Charlotte Jacobs, widow of the late John Jacobs, died at her home, West Market street, at 9:45 o'clock, Tuesday night.

The news of Mrs. Jacobs' death comes as a great surprise, as it was not generally known that she was critically ill. She was indisposed for some months prior to her death, but she was able to be about and there was nothing to indicate that death was lurking near.

Mrs. Jacobs was seventy-two years of age. She was a native of Maryland, her maiden name being Charlotte Frisch. The greater part of her life was spent in Danville.

Five sons and three daughters survive, as follows: Charles, of Philadelphia; Alfred, of Pittsburg; Frederick W., George B., and John R. Jacobs, of Danville; Mary (Mrs. James Marks), of Pittsburg; Mrs. Margaret Geise and Miss Clara Jacobs of this city.

The deceased was a member of Pine Street Lutheran church. She was a woman universally beloved. She was kind-hearted and generous and ever solicitous about the welfare of others.

BISHOP GARVEY HONORED

The celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination to the priesthood of the Rt. Rev. Eugene A. Garvey, bishop of the Altoona diocese of the Roman Catholic church, was observed today with imposing religious and elaborate social features.

A banquet was served at the Logan house in Bishop Garvey's honor following the celebration of the mass. Rev. Thomas P. Smith, rector of the Sacred Heart church of Altoona was toastmaster. Rev. B. J. Farrell, of Spangler, and formerly of St. John's church of Altoona, made an address, presenting to Bishop Garvey a well-filled purse.

Over twenty persons were injured only two of them serious enough to be taken to a hospital and there is not any danger of anything serious in the hurts of these, and there was a loss of about $5,000 when a number of films exploded on the fourth floor of the Ferguson building in Pittsburg.

QUARANTINE IN DIPHTHERIA

During the past month eight cases of diphtheria and one case of scarlet fever have been reported. It was this circumstance that was advertised by the school board Monday night in connection with the fact that the rules of quarantine, isolation, &c., where the above diseases exist, are in the majority of instances not observed as they should be.

In relation to the above Dr. P. C. Newbaker, president of the local board of health, was interviewed Tuesday. He made it quite clear that many of the rules laid down by the State department of health to be observed in the treatment of diphtheria and like diseases, while of undoubted value, in the homes of the poor are mostly impracticable.

For instance in diphtheria the rules require that the patient have a special attendant and be confined to room with windows screened, the room, if possible, to be of southern exposure and as remote as possible from other occupied rooms.

The physician pertinently asked how this, the first and most important of the rules laid down by the department of health, is to be carried out in the homes of the very poor, where the cooking stove furnishes the sole warmth and where the family is crowded together in one room.

Likewise in the matter of quarantine. The house is placarded and thus the public is warned. This, it was urged, ought to prove sufficient in any enlightened community, where the people understand the deadly nature of the disease and what precautions are necessary.

By an "absolute" quarantine is meant absolute prohibition of entrance to or exit from the building except by officers and attendants.

The rules and regulations of the State department of health in all cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever call for a "modified" quarantine, which includes, first, prohibition of entrance and exit, as in absolute quarantine, except against certain members of the family, authorized by the health authorities to pass in and out under certain definite restrictions; second, the placing of a placard on the building; third, isolation of patient and attendant; fourth, prohibition of the carrying out of any object or material unless the same shall have been thoroughly disinfected.

From the above it would seem that merely placarding a house in the case of either diphtheria and scarlet fever is hardly sufficient. It would seem that some cognizance should be taken of the fact whether or not the rules of quarantine are being observed. The cases reported by the school board where children of infected families mingled with other children on the street is a case in point.

It becomes the duty of all good citizens in cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever not only to observe the rules of modified quarantine themselves but to aid in every way in securing their observance. If a violation of the rules is persisted in and the health of the community is endangered thereby as in the cases cited by the school board the authorities may place a watchman at the infected house to enforce the quarantine.

Many people delude themselves by saying, "It will wear away," when they notice symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. This is a mistake. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy, and stop the drain on the vitality. It cures backache, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, and makes every trace of pain, weakness, and urinary trouble disappear. Surprised on Birthday. Mrs. Hurley Baylor, East Danville, was very much surprised Monday evening to be greeted by a large number of friends gathered to celebrate her birthday.

A flighting on a street at York to feed a worn-out homing pigeon, presumably on a long flight was run over by a wagon and killed. The bird bore number D-10,295 and had a special racing number, 3235, on a leg band.

NEW SYSTEM AT LIBRARY

The trustees of the Thomas Beaver Free Library held a meeting Friday night at which they decided to adopt a new system of circulation. They also authorized the removal of the covers from all the books in the library.

At the meeting in question, besides President, Dr. Jno Sweisfort, the following trustees were present: F. C. Derr, W. J. Rogers, F. G. Schoch, E. M. Herrington and W. E. Gosh. The above action was taken on the recommendation of the librarian, Miss Bird.

The new system, which is known as the Nina Brown system, redounds to the advantage of the librarian and the borrower of books alike. For the former it facilitates work while the latter is relieved of the cumbersome card, which at all times was supposed to have a place in the borrowed book, but which was constantly causing annoyance by being mislaid or getting lost.

In lieu of the heavy card each book in the library on the blank leaves at the end on opposite pages heretofore will contain, pasted fast, a dating slip and a small paper pocket, the latter being the counterpart of another "pocket" in the library "tray," bearing the borrower's name.

A small card, on which are marked the class and book number, the author's name and short title, fits into the pocket and is kept in the book at all times when the latter is in the library. When a patron borrows a volume the date at which it is due to be returned is written on the dating slip pasted on the blank leaf and the card containing title, book number, etc., is removed from the book and placed in the pocket in the tray.

This suffices to hold borrowers responsible, while all the latter have to do is to refer to the dating slip, which is always at hand, to determine when the book is due. The librarian's work is simplified to a wonderful degree, and in giving out a book, besides dating the slips, she has practically nothing to do but to transfer the card.

COVERS TO BE REMOVED. It was also decided that the covers should be removed from all the books in the library. It appears that the Thomas Beaver Free Library is the only one recalled in which the books are covered. It is a question with the trustees whether it is necessary that the binding should be protected in this manner. Certain it is that it entails an enormous amount of work on the librarians.

The covers, dull and unsightly, it is held, detract much from the appearance of the shelves in the library, where the binding of the books with the titles in full view, ought to be an attraction that would arrest the eye of any person on entering. The novelty of covering the books and the disadvantage that accrues to the library because of it have been freely commented on by strangers visiting the building who are familiar with libraries in the large cities and elsewhere.

THE LAST RITES. Frederick Sweitzer, whose death occurred Monday, was consigned to the grave yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. Joseph E. Guy, pastor of Shiloh Reformed church, and the Rev. C. C. Snavely, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church.

The pall bearers were: Calvin Diehl, Arthur Diehl, Alfred Yerrick, Jasper Perry, Michael Ryan and George Fansnaught.

The following persons from out of town attended the funeral: Wilson Bloomer, of Buckhorn; Miss Sweitzer, of Sunbury; Mrs. Betz, of Watsonstown, and Mrs. Cleve Geiger of Bloomsburg.

DISPOSAL PLANT IS DISCUSSED

The Pitt Construction company, which is building the sewage disposal plant at the hospital for the insane, has been awarded the contract for a sewage disposal plant at Bordentown, N. J., at $58,000.

There are one or two facts in the above statement that should not be without interest to Danville people. The cost of the plant is especially significant, as Bordentown is somewhere about the size of Danville.

Mr. Harshbarger, a member of the contracting firm at present in this city, explains that the construction of a sewage disposal plant is not essentially expensive. What adds to the cost, he says, is the construction of sewers that are mostly included in the contract. For instance, at the hospital for the insane, in addition to the building of a sewage disposal plant, the contract calls for the construction of 1 1/2 miles of sewers, the most of which, as is well known, are deep and located where the digging is hard. The pumping also becomes an expensive factor, as the sewage has to be lifted seventy feet.

Those towns, like Danville, whose sewer systems are practically complete and have nothing but a disposal plant to provide for are altogether in a different category and the cost is not appalling. Mr. Harshbarger stated that there are few towns in which more or less pumping is not required in connection with a sewage disposal plant. The height to which sewage has to be raised is more likely to be ten feet or less than seventy feet as in the case cited above. The cost of pumping is much reduced where the sewage has to be raised to only a slight elevation.

He explained that he had been struck by the cars. The wound was stitched by Drs. Paulus and Newbaker.

THE DEATH OF CHARLES MOURER

The death of Charles Mourer at his home at Strawberry Ridge Friday morning at 5 o'clock removes from this life one of the most widely known and highly esteemed agriculturists of Montour county.

While not a native of this county Mr. Mourer lived a large part of his life here. At one time he followed farming in Anthony township, later moving to Washingtonville and then to Strawberry Ridge. He celebrated his 82nd birthday on the 26th of last February. Mr. Mourer was one of the charter members of Derry Lodge, I. O. O. F. and a member of Trinity Reformed church at the Ridge.

The deceased is survived by his wife and the following children: Jonathan F., Emanuel M. and Perry E., of Strawberry Ridge; James, of Athens, Pa.; Mrs. Amanda Heddens, of Washingtonville; Mrs. Jacob Diehl, of Anthony township, and Mrs. George Bortz, of Wilkes-Barre.

SAND STANDS TEST

The sand hauled upon the driveway of the river bridge to prevent horses from slipping has stood the test of the first rain admirably. The worst that was anticipated has not occurred. The sand has neither been blown off the bridge by the wind, nor was it washed by the rain from the middle and higher part of the driveway to the sides leaving the paving exposed.

The sand Friday morning was found in excellent condition as though a rain was all that was needed. It was spread over the driveway, packed upon the paving blocks, in a thin smooth coat, which made it a pleasure to drive over the bridge.

How the sand might act under a heavy gale of wind or a prolonged downpour of rain is a matter of conjecture. Certain it is, however, that a horse could have been driven over the bridge during the heaviest part of the rain Thursday night, without falling or of being in any danger of slipping.

Testifies After Four Years.

Charles Center, N. Y., G. B. Burbanck, writes: "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured." Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. For sale by Paulus and Co. Pharmacy.

WILL BENEFIT CORN

Farmers who drove into town Friday expressed themselves as delighted with the rain of Thursday night, which they declared was the heaviest since last spring.

The rain, which began about 9 o'clock, continued until about 3 a. m. At times it approached a downpour. Although it does not seem to have affected the river or small streams to any appreciable extent yet it sank into the ground to a considerable depth, even penetrating sod plough-deep.

Farmers generally agree that the rain benefits vegetation but little, with the possible exception of corn planted late, which is still growing. To what extent even corn will be benefited will depend upon whether or not we have an early frost. The rain is especially appreciated at this time, as it puts the ground in good condition for seeding.

A Narrow Escape.

Edgar N. Bayless, a merchant of Robinsonville, Del., wrote: "About two years ago I was thin and sick, and coughed all the time and I did not have consumption, it was near to it. I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar, and it stopped my cough, and I am now entirely well, and have gained twenty-eight pounds, all due to the good results from taking Foley's Honey and Tar." DANVILLE BOY WEDDED.

The following wedding announcement from the Sault Sainte Marie, Canada, Star, of Friday, will be of interest to a large number of Danville people, the groom being the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Books, and a former resident of this city:

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's Pro-Cathedral last night by the Rev. H. A. Brooke, when Edward Books, a popular employe of the steel plant, was united in marriage to Miss Louise Bell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bell of Bruce street. The bride, who was becomingly gowned in navy blue, was the recipient of a handsome set of mink from the groom. A large number of people attended the ceremony, and later the reception held at their new home on Albert street. The bride, who was given away by her father, received a large number of valuable presents.

Emmitt Cunningham, of Springersbury, York county, went to York after an alleged quarrel with his wife and cut his throat and drank a quantity of laudanum. Then he stalked into a bar room and sat down. When he was discovered the excitement was intense and the police and an ambulance were called. When they arrived it took a hard struggle to get the man into the ambulance. The fellow's life is despaired of.

Docking Boss T. M. Martin and Check Weighman Leslie Corbett of No. 10 colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal company at Wilkes-Barre received letters signed by the Black Hand that if they did not stop docking miners their lives would be in danger. The writer threatened to blow up their houses with dynamite. The officials of the coal company have put detectives on the trail.

FOOT BALL IS LOOMING UP

The public of Danville, which has had its appetite for true sport whetted by a season of the best base ball that Danville has ever seen, will be delighted to learn that foot ball is looming up and that we are promised a series of games this fall that will surpass any ever played in Danville.

The material is already selected and the first games are arranged. Victor Vincent, who so successfully trained the High School team last year, will again be "coach." The game this year will be played on the field of the Danville Athletic association, this city, the use of which were granted at the meeting of the association, Monday night.

Football last year was played under the auspices of the High School Athletic association. The games proved interesting and the season on the whole was a successful one.

Robert Nice was elected manager and Harrison Edmondson, captain. Under this leadership the team will enter the arena this fall. It is true that the players will not all be high school boys but they all belong to the Y. M. C. A., so that the aggregation can claim sponsors in both the High School and Y. M. C. A. Athletic associations.

Coach Vincent Tuesday said the team would have last year's players, Dailey, Kase, Edmondson, Ryan, Snyder, Woodbridge and Schram, in addition to the Snively brothers, who last season played on the high school team at State College.

The team already has a game arranged for October 9th, when the season will open here in Athletic park, provided the field can be secured on that date. The opening game will be played with either the high school team of Milton or the Bucknell Reserves.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for lists of testimonials.

Farmers Are Posting Notices. With the hunting season fast approaching and with all kinds of conditions of men and boys from Danville planning to get into the woods and fields in search of game, it may interest all nimrods to know that they are subject to certain laws governing hunting which some of them at least forget or overlook from one season to another. Most important is the trespass law. Farmers and other land owners may under provision of the law prevent any person walking over or upon their lands by posting notices warning all persons from trespassing thereon. The notices must be placed in conspicuous parts of the land to be effective.

MILITARY BAND ORGAN

Large crowds are attracted nightly to the skating rink, which opened on Monday night. The large military band organ, which has replaced the smaller organ in use last season proves a great attraction. Not only is the music in effect animating in the extreme but the organ itself is a marvel and worthy of study. It represents a band of 18 pieces. The wonderful mechanism along with all the other pieces, contains cymbals and two drums which latter are pounded with a precision and effect that few drummers would undertake to imitate. The organ is made of quartered oak and is very handsome. It is operated by electricity.

A Wedding Hint.

The tall girl smiled in some embarrassment. "Haven't you any secondhand shoes?" she said to the shoe clerk. "But, miss," he remonstrated. "No, no; you misunderstand," said she. "I don't mean to wear. I just mean shoes, too worn for use, that customers have left with you. You see, there's a wedding up at our house tomorrow, and we want something to throw at the bride and bridegroom."

"I see," said the clerk. He rummaged in a black hole and drew forth an armful of dilapidated footwear. The girl selected some three, two and ones. "These will do. Thanks ever so much," she said, and so departed.

"Big footed people are always working that on us," said the clerk afterward. "That girl wears eight. She couldn't very well throw such mudscoots at the bride, so she chose some little and dainty shoes here—ones and twos. Oh, yes, it's an old trick with the big footed."—Los Angeles Times.

The "Snow Baby" Protest.

Miss Marie Peary, who is the only white child born north of the arctic circle, is now sixteen years old and a student in Western high school, Washington. She said she hoped that "dad may be home to celebrate my sixteenth birthday next Sunday." Then she added: "Please don't call me the 'snow baby.' I don't like it." In a book written by Mrs. Peary the "snow baby" otherwise Miss Marie, is the leading character. Robert E. Peary, Jr., the other child, was six years old a week ago Sunday.

Not Coughing Today?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. He knows. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deep-seated. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.
