WELL-KNOWN MAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

George H. Sonneborn died at his home, Riverside, at 1:45 o'clock Monday afternoon following an illness of less than a week.

In the above brief statement is embodied news that will cause the keenest sorrow. George H. Sonneborn was a man who was beloved in the best and fullest sense of that term. Plain and unassuming he was the soul of sincerity and honor. His heart was touched by the sorrows that he saw around him and the lowly and unfortunate had no truer friend than Mr. Sonneborn. He was a man well read, intelligent and progressive, one whose companionship was eagerly sought by those capable of appreciating the qualities that enter into true manhood.

Mr. Sonneborn was aged fifty-one years. He was born in Philadelphia and graduated from the high school of that city. Early in life he went to New York engaging with George H. Harding, patent right attorney. In 1888 he was admitted to the bar. About 1890 he engaged with John R. Bennett, remaining with him until the latter's death.

In 1907, Mr. Sonneborn, with his wife, removed to Riverside, where he has since lived retired.

On Monday of last week the deceased was in Danville, seemingly in his usual health. The next day he was taken ill, symptoms of pneumonia developing. His condition grew rapidly worse. Monday morning slight hopes were entertained for his recovery. Death, however, came unexpectedly.

Mr. Sonneborn is survived by his widow, and one brother, Lewis Sonneborn, of Philadelphia. He was a Freemason, belonging to a lodge in New York city.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Danville Readers Cannot Deny.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

J. W. Swartz, 211 Church street, Danville, Pa., says: "Several years ago I was caused much suffering by pains in my back and kidneys and often there was a lameness and soreness across my loins. Nothing gave me much relief until I took Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Hunt's Drug Store. They restored my kidneys to a normal condition and after this was done the pains and aches ceased. Since then, when my back has bothered me, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always helped me at once."

NIGHT BLAZE IN STORE

As John Jacobs stepped out of Leniger's drug store at 10:30 o'clock Monday eve he saw the interior of Frank Linker's tobacco store and pool room on the corner of Mill and Mahoning street, to be a mass of fire and smoke.

Calling Charles Leniger to his assistance, Mr. Jacobs burst open the door of the burning room, forced his way through the dense smoke and pulled down a curtain that was in a blaze. The curtain, a heavy one, which divided the store proper from the pool table, had been almost entirely consumed by the flames and the fire was eating into the wall and ceiling. With a few minutes more of a start the fire would have been beyond control in the old wooded building, and the result would have been a disastrous fire.

Mr. Linker had closed his store less than a half hour before the fire was discovered and it is believed that the flames were communicated to the curtain from a cigarette.

Worth a Dollar a Drop.

Fred Patchen, Manlius, N. Y., writes: "For a long time I was afflicted with kidney trouble which caused an almost constant pain in my back and inflammation in my bladder. Other remedies did not even relieve me, but two fifty cent bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy completely cured me and I have not had any symptom of kidney trouble for over two years." In Lock Up for 5 Days.

Charles Hartman, who was arrested Saturday for creating a disturbance at the Glenclower home, was given a hearing Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Oglesby, and in default of $11.05 fine and costs was committed to the borough lock-up for five days.

STATE HIGHWAY NEEDS REPAIRS

The State highway, especially that portion lying between the borough and the Valley township line, is in a very bad condition and to neglect to make thorough repairs this spring would be to jeopardize the road.

The highway has now seen several years' continuous service since the last touch was applied. The effect of the wear and tear is very apparent. Every trace of the top course of screenings has disappeared. The stones, even those of the largest size, used in construction, have worked loose from the roadbed, making the highway rough and opening the way for speedy disintegration.

In an interview with A. S. Clay, engineer of the State highway department, Monday some facts relative to the care of macadam were learned.

In the first place it may not be generally understood that, although built with State aid, the care and preservation of a State highway devolves wholly on the township through which it passes. In too many instances, after a highway has been secured the view taken seems to be that it is going to last forever, whereas, Mr. Clay says, to protect a piece of macadam and make the road lasting constant attention is necessary. Otherwise what might be a fine and permanent improvement will speedily go to pieces, bringing a very poor return for all the money invested.

The first repairs, the engineer says, should be put on the highway six months after it is thrown open to travel; thereafter at the end of every year repairs should be made. What the section of highway at this place needs at the present time, Mr. Clay says, is a coat of limestone screenings. If something is not done, this spring, he says, the road will go to pieces very fast.

He is much interested in the road and personally he will do everything he can to assist the supervisors to put the highway in good condition. If he is notified when the township wishes to make repairs, he says, he will visit the highway, giving such advice as will secure the best results at a minimum of cost.

DIED MONDAY

George E. Sidler, a well known citizen, died Monday eve at ten minutes after nine o'clock at his home on Railroad street. Death was caused by apoplexy.

About six weeks ago Mr. Sidler sustained a stroke and this was followed by two others, the last occurring Sunday evening, since when his condition has been very critical. He was aged 59 years. Beside his wife he is survived by a son and three daughters: William, Mrs. George Kear, Mrs. Walter Breckbill and Miss Ida Sidler, all of this city. He is also survived by three brothers, Frank, of West Milton; Philip, of Catawissa, and Washington, of Danville.

The deceased was formerly an engineer on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad and more recently has been in the employ of the borough of Danville.

Rough House Over Phone Pole.

Five hundred people gathered and feeling ran high when a force of men attempted to raise a telephone pole in front of the dwellings of Misses Mary and Carrie Wilson at Reading, and the women and others objected. A team was backed to the curb near the hole, an American flag was held over the scene and a stepladder was placed across the opening to prevent the men from working. Police had to disperse the crowd. The telephone company was ordered by the city officials to suspend operations and the matter will be aired in court. Miss Carrie Wilson alleges that three of the telephone workmen knocked her down and used her roughly; she has brought suit against them.

Accepted Position.

Raymond L. Johns, a graduate of the commercial department of the Danville high school, has accepted a position as stenographer with the Danville Foundry & Machine company.

TEAM BACKS OVER HIGH EMBANKMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Cotner, of Cooper township, figured in a thrilling driving accident, Saturday night, in which the horses and wagon went down over a steep embankment and a block and tackle had to be employed to rescue the team. Mr. and Mrs. Cotner jumped in the nick of time and thus escaped death or terrible injury.

The accident occurred on the road leading up through the hollow from Jacob Shultz to Mt. Zion school house. The road is dug in the side of a hill, on the lower side the declivity being steeper than a barn roof.

At the steepest point, Mr. Cotner undertook to turn around. In doing so the rear part of the wagon went down over the embankment. The horses would no doubt have been able to hold the wagon and to have brought it back into the roadway, had it not been for the ice, which caused the horses to slip. Losing their foothold they were dragged along with the wagon down over the steep declivity.

Mrs. Cotner jumped from the wagon, escaping injury, as soon as the rear wheels went over the bank. Mr. Cotner held on to the lines until the last moment, when he leaped out of the wagon and seized the horses by the head. Nothing could be done, however, to prevent a terrible accident.

The wagon which went down the hill struck a tree about twenty-five feet below the road, the helpless horses in turn lodging against the wagon. The first on the spot to render assistance was Jacob Shultz, who lives near. The next to arrive was Phillip Boyer, the owner of the horses and wagon.

Entangled in the harness the horses, although spirited animals, were helpless, one lying upon the other. A block and tackle were procured and thus the top-most horse was laboriously lifted or dragged up to the road.

The other horse lay on his back with his feet in the air. Patient effort was made to lift the horse to the road; but he is a finely developed animal weighing 1400 pounds and no part of the harness proved strong enough to bear his weight.

It became apparent that there was only one way of saving the animal and that was to lower him by means of the rope and tackle to the bottom of the declivity, at least fifty feet below. The man worked out all right. The men standing beside the helpless horse lifted and tugged at him and thus he was finally gotten upon his feet, after which by means of the tackle he was lowered little by little until he reached level ground.

The horse was very badly bruised but does not seem to have sustained any injury that will cripple him permanently. The other horse was only slightly injured and Monday was driven into town. The wagon, of course, was badly wrecked.

THE COUNTY TAX AT FOUR MILLS

The county tax has been fixed at 4 mills by the commissioners, the same as it was during the last two years. The county tax for several years was three and a half mills, but it was found necessary to add one-half a mill on account of the five thousand dollars' contribution that the county was authorized to make to the soldiers' monument fund.

During last week the county commissioners were sitting as a board of revision as required to do triennially, to revise, correct and equalize the valuation of all property taxable by law in the county. The board of commissioners was engaged practically the whole week. Every piece and parcel of real estate in the county was carefully gone over.

General improvements leading to increased valuation were apparent in the first ward of Danville. Elsewhere throughout the county the valuation as a general thing remains the same as formerly.

An exception was found in Valley township, where according to the assessor's returns there was a decrease in the valuation of over $23,000. In this township, except where the board felt that a decrease was warranted, the valuation was placed back at the former figures.

Many people, the commissioners say, seem to think that a decrease of valuation leads to a reduction of tax, losing sight of the self-evident fact that the county commissioners, the school boards, poor boards and boards of supervisors throughout the county must have a certain amount of revenue and that if there is a marked decrease in valuation then there must be an increase of millage to meet the requirements of these several boards.

The taxpayers will receive no notice of changes made in valuation until the assessors make their annual visit in April. Following the assessors' visits appeals will be held at the office of the county commissioners, of which due notice will be given.

The deceased was 76 years of age. He was a widower, his wife dying last August. He is survived by four sons, Henry, of Paw Paw, Ill.; William and Fred, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Jacob, of Williamsport; also three daughters, Mrs. Christian Kerstetter, of Stuttgart, Ark.; Mrs. Jacob Herman and Mrs. Lizzie Bisway, of Danville. Williamsport Selected.

The State Gubernatorial association has selected Williamsport as the place in which to hold the 1911 convention.

Hugh B. Weaver, an Uhlertown farmer, was found guilty by a Bucks county jury of sending threatening letters through the mails and with burning two barns belonging to his neighbors, Newton Jordan and Peter Tettemer. The culprit was recommended to the mercy of the court. Counsel for the defendant entered a motion for a new trial and bail was fixed at $5,000. The case attracted much attention on account of the nature of the anonymous letters sent, which went at a time that there was a wave of incendiarism sweeping over that region, and on account of the prominence of the defendant.

CURRENT BROUGHT FROM IRONDALE

On Saturday night for the first time the electrical current was brought in to Danville from Irondale; the two transformers recently installed in the plant of the Standard Electric Light company were started up and the system was given a thorough trial. Everything was found to work admirably. The test will be continued each night this week. In ten days' time the high voltage current will be brought to Danville from Harwood.

The transformers, as the apparatus are known which produce from a given electrical current another current of different voltage, are two in number and are installed among the other machinery at the plant. The current last night and Saturday night entered the transformers at 23,000 volts and left them reduced to 2,300 volts. The current from Harwood will reach the local plant at 25,000 volts and will be reduced to 2,300 volts.

It has been ascertained that there is practically no loss in voltage on transmission lines between points such as Danville and Harwood.

The long line is now completed. Nothing remains but to finish the high tension oil switches for controlling the 25,000 volts at the Berwick and the Bloomsburg plants.

The Irondale plant will be run each night this week to fully test the wires and machinery. Meanwhile the lines of the Danville and Sunbury Transit company and the Danville and Bloomsburg Electric Railway company will be supplied with the Irondale current after being reduced in voltage. Connection with the overhead system of the Danville and Bloomsburg line has been established at the undergrade crossing on Walnut street. After the Harwood current has been brought to Danville the local plant, now operated by steam, will be run by electricity. None of the engines will be used.

A huge motor of 250 horse power has been installed and will be connected with the trolley generator.

REGISTERED NURSES

Elizabeth DeLaney and Carrie J. Russell.

5,000 MEN EMPLOYED

With every department now running to practically full capacity an average of 5,000 men are employed each day at the works of the American Car and Foundry company at Berwick. There are between 5500 and 5600 men whose names appear on the pay roll for the month of February but with allowance for those who work but a short time and those who do not work the entire time, the 5,000 represents the average number of men working each day.

THREATENED OFFICER

Andrew Zimmerman, a well known farmer on the Joseph Campbell farm at Elysburg, was arrested Monday by the State health authorities for refusing to allow Health Officer J. R. Lynn of Elysburg to placard and quarantine his home for measles.

When the officer appeared at the house Zimmerman threatened to do him bodily harm. The incident was reported to the State authorities and Officer Mettler of Sunbury was instructed to proceed against Zimmerman. He was arrested at Elysburg Tuesday morning and was given a hearing before a justice of the peace at Sunbury Tuesday night, when he paid the costs.

PREACHER LYNCHED

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 9. A special to the "Item" from Greenwood, Miss., says that a mob there early today lynched a negro preacher by the name of Wallace, who last night shot and seriously wounded Policeman J. W. Slack. The negro was hanged to a telegraph pole by the mob.

Before the negro was hanged leading citizens pleaded that the law be allowed to take its course.

Five judges, McClure, of Union county; Shull, of Perry and Juniata counties, and Brum, Shay and Bechtel, presided in the Schuylkill county court at the beginning of the trial of the twenty alleged ballot fraud cases. The first case called was that of Fred Zimmerman, judge of elections in the Fourth ward at Shenandoah. Zimmerman fled last June when the ballot boxes were ordered opened, and was out of the county for several months. The prosecution is said to have proved that there were nearly 400 fraudulent ballots placed in the different boxes, and in the ward of which Zimmerman was the judge it is said that the fellow who put the ballots into the box did not even take the trouble to crease them.

Another reminder of the success attending the negotiations of notes by P. J. Kiernan among the Catholic churches in the Pittsburgh diocese came recently when a summons in assumpsit was filed in the United States circuit court by Gordon & Smith, representing the American Trust company, of Boston, against Bishop Canavin. The bishop is made the defendant because he endorsed a note given by one of the Pittsburgh churches.

Some men are liberal with their sympathy until it touches their pocket books.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN ELECTION LAWS?

Voters of Montour county are invited to suggest any changes that they desire in the present form of the election laws of the State. This word has been received by the county commissioners, and they are requested to cooperate in getting the best election laws possible in Pennsylvania.

This invitation comes from the commissioners for the revision of the election laws, which was made by Governor Stuart, following special legislation to that effect, at the last session of the State law making bodies.

The following letter upon the subject has been received from the board headquarters of which is in Philadelphia, where it is explanatory: Gentlemen:—

"Under authority of a recent act of the legislature the governor has appointed this commission to revise and codify the election laws.

"In this work the commission must avail itself of data from the various counties and would esteem it a favor if you would let it know whether the working in your county of the existing laws, particularly in relation to the form of ballot is satisfactory, and if not will you kindly state at length what improvements you would recommend.

"There has been enclosed under another cover to the clerk of your body, with the request that he will kindly fill in the information desired, a blank form which is intended to show the cost of conducting personal registrations, uniform primaries, and general elections under existing laws in comparison with the expense incurred by the general elections of 1905 and 1906 in which years were conducted the last elections under the old system."

WILL SUBMIT A NEW PROPOSITION

Pursuant to action of council taken at the meeting Monday night Chief Burgess A. C. Amesbury and President of the Board of Health Dr. P. C. Newbaker, Friday, will visit Harrisburg for the purpose of conferring with Commissioner of Health Dr. Samuel G. Dixon relative to the impure state of the effluent from the sewage disposal plant at the hospital for the insane, discharged into the river above the intake to the borough water works.

Three samples of the effluent in all have been subjected to bacteriological examination at different laboratories. Each report shows that among the sewage organisms discovered are the dreaded bacilli coli, which exist in great numbers. The report from the laboratory of the State department of health received earlier in the season, was especially bad, showing that in the effluent there were 20,000 bacilli coli per cubic centimeter.

In view of these unfavorable reports council fails to see how the establishment of a sewage disposal plant has improved the situation any, sewage seeming to be as great a menace to Danville as it was before the plant was installed. It is for the purpose of bringing all the facts personally to the attention of Dr. Dixon and determining whether something can not be done that will bring relief that the burgess and president of the board of health have been delegated to visit Harrisburg.

They will take with them the three laboratory reports showing the impurity of effluent and will endeavor to enlist Dr. Dixon in a proposition to get rid of the effluent at the hospital by bringing it down the abandoned canal and discharging it into the borough sewer.

SPORT FOR CHILDREN

Now that the ice has disappeared the wide concrete pavement at the court house has become a favorite floor for roller skaters. The boys and girls who frequent the spot are very small, some being mere tots. The smooth concrete affords nearly as good skating as a roller rink. The pavement on the north side of the court house along with the wide sidewalk in front affords a very long run and the little ones enjoy the sport immensely, some being very good skaters.

Each day after school the concrete is crowded. The noise of the skates and the shouts and the laughter are almost deafening.

Pedestrians occasionally have a hard time getting through, but no one seems to envy the children the good time they are having and consequently there is no complaint, most persons preferring to take the sidewalk on the opposite side of the street.

The Spring Term of the State Normal School, Bloomsburg, Pa., will open Tuesday, March 28th, 1910. It will continue fourteen weeks. Rooms on two floors of North Hall have been opened for occupancy by girls. The course of study occupies three years. Students are admitted to advanced standing at any time. Graduates having taught two years receive salaries of not less than $50 per month as teachers. Physical Training receives special attention in a good gymnasium, and on a fine athletic field. The Model School, library and laboratories are under the direction of specialists.
