

THE CONFERENCE YEAR HAS CLOSED

Tuesday was the last day of the conference year of the Methodist Episcopal church in Central Pennsylvania and this morning the annual sessions of the conference open at York.

Tuesday Rev. George S. Womac, pastor of St. Paul's and Rev. Charles Cameron Snavely, pastor of Trinity, left for the conference city, carrying with them reports of the year's work in Danville that will reflect much credit on the two congregations of this town.

AT ST. PAUL'S.

Saint Paul's Methodist Episcopal church has had a very successful year during the conference year just past. Not one unhappy thing has occurred during the year to mar the relation that was very early in the year established between the pastor and the people.

The pastor among many things will have these facts to report to the conference that meets this week in York: Three have died during the year. The present membership of the church is 311 full members and 35 probationers.

$1755 has been raised and paid for pastoral support—this includes the amount paid to the local pastor, the district superintendent, the bishops, and the aged preachers.

The missionary collection is $240 from the church, $180 from the Sunday school, $60 from the Women's Foreign Missionary society and $80 from the Women's Home Missionary society, a total of $560. Standing debts amounting to $175 have been paid. $350 has been spent on improvements; this does not include the new piano which has now been fully paid for.

On Monday night the corporation met and elected the following trustees, Irvin Vanman, Robert Morris, J. N. Pursell, Abram LaRue, John Carry, W. J. Rogers, Malton Winger, E. S. Fernwald and B. F. Foulk.

AT TRINITY.

The past year has been a most busy one at Trinity, with Rev. Snavely in the first year of his pastorate. All departments of the work have prospered, and this in the face of adverse conditions during a part of the time.

Trinity at present has 315 full members and 10 probationers. During the year $200 was raised for missionary and benevolent purposes. In all about $600 was raised above the amount of the regular subscriptions.

Trinity's great pride is in its large and enthusiastic Sunday school, of which the membership roll numbers 373, a gain of 75 during the last year. This is one of the largest, if not the largest, Sunday school in Danville.

SEEING KHARTOUM

KHARTOUM, March 15.

Bent upon making the most of their brief stay in this, the capital of the Egyptian general government of the Soudan, the Roosevelts were early astir today. Colonel Roosevelt was especially busy, occupying the intervals between planned excursions to points of historic interest in receiving callers and making reply to such of his voluminous correspondence as he had been able to examine.

After breakfast he summoned to him the native servants who had accompanied him throughout the expedition and bade them goodbye. Each received a present of cash from Colonel Roosevelt and a gift from Mrs. Roosevelt.

The sight-seeing programme began with a visit to Gordon Memorial college, built at the east end of the town in 1902 by subscriptions solicited from the British people by Lord Kitchener. From the college a drive was taken to other parts of the town, Colonel Roosevelt, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Major General Sir Rudolf Baron von Slatkin, the inspector general of the Sirdar's staff, made up the party. They occupied a carriage drawn by a handsome pair of horses and escorted by two Egyptian lancers.

Late this afternoon the Roosevelts planned a visit to Kerri, the scene of the great battle on September 2, 1898, when the Anglo-Egyptian forces defeated the Khalif and reconquered Egyptian Soudan. The trip to Omdurman will be made in the Sirdar's yacht Elfin and the other seven miles north of Kerri possibly on donkey-back.

Cold as a Cure.

Cold of a certain intensity produces not only hunger, but, as it has been proved, health as well. Raoul Pictet, the famous Swiss chemist, was making experiments on a degree of cold considerably lower than any which occurs naturally, and he found that at temperatures between 110 and 150 below zero no covering of any kind would keep cold out, or, more exactly, would keep warmth in. There is nothing surprising about that. The surprise is in the result. A subject is a gentleman who has suffered greatly from indigestion. After an exposure of several minutes to the cold which he had produced, he experienced a sensation of hunger which he has described as ravenous. When he had eaten he experienced none of the tortures of his ailment, and when he had alternately frozen and eaten three or four times he found himself entirely cured.—London Telegraph.

PEACE TALK IS REVIVING

PHILADELPHIA, March 15.

The fact that representatives of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company and officers of the Central Labor union and Amalgamated association of street and electric railway employees were brought together late yesterday afternoon for a "friendly talk" and became "better acquainted" is expected to lead to some definite propositions upon which negotiations can be opened looking to a speedy settlement of the strike.

Yesterday's conference came so suddenly that everybody was taken completely by surprise, and the fact that both sides got together for an exchange of views is looked upon as a sign that the Rapid Transit company is willing to concede a point and discuss peace plans with the strikers. The traction officers had repeatedly announced to various committees seeking a settlement that it would not discuss plans for ending the conflict until the strikers returned to work and opened negotiations as employees of the company.

NO DEFINITE PROPOSITION

It was reported that a definite proposition had been presented at the conference. This is untrue, but the way has been certainly paved, it is declared, for the presentation of a plan upon which a settlement, it is hoped, will be worked out.

The conference was brought about by Edward Lowber Stokes, a member of the stock exchange, and a nephew of the late John Lowber Welsh, who was interested in street car companies in this city. Those at the conference were: Charles O. Kruger, president of the Rapid Transit company; George H. Earle, one of the city's representatives of the company's board; W. D. Mahon, president of the car men's union, and three members of the Central Labor union.

All those in the conference declared themselves as satisfied with the progress of events. While no predictions were made, they expressed themselves as hopeful of a speedy ending of the trouble. Mr. Mahon in a statement of what occurred at the meeting said:

DISCUSSED SITUATION

"We discussed the general situation without laying down any basis of a settlement. It was suggested that both sides carefully think over the entire matter with the hopes that we might be able later to come together again and reach some kind of a settlement. There was the best of feeling, seemingly, all the way around when we adjourned."

The committee of seven of the United Business Men's association, which last week began a movement for peace, is still at work devising a plan of settlement. Unless the contending parties get together themselves, the committee will meet tonight to decide upon a plan that may bring about an adjustment of the difficulties.

The Spring Term of the State Normal School, Bloomsburg, Pa., will open Tuesday, March 28th, 1910. It will continue fourteen weeks. Rooms on two floors of North Hall have been opened for occupancy by girls. The course of study occupies three years. Students are admitted to advanced standing at any time. Graduates having taught two years receive salaries of not less than $50 per month as teachers. Physical Training receives special attention in a good gymnasium, and on a fine athletic field. The Model School, library and laboratories are under the direction of specialists.

The Waters Under the Earth.

Below a depth of six miles under the surface of the earth's crust it is believed that the water can exist in deep rock formations, because the tremendous pressure probably closes all pores. But above that level the quantity of underground water is estimated to be equal to one-third of all the water contained in the oceans. If poured over the land surface of the globe the underground water would, it is averred, be sufficient to cover it to a uniform depth of from 3,000 to 8,500 feet.

Rapid Transit.

In response to a growing demand in his home a certain author once went to his father's house, borrowed the family high chair and started taking it home by hand. He had to wait long for his car, and when it finally came its conductor was a humorist. "Aren't you pretty big for that chair?" that official ventured. "Yes," admitted Webster wearily. "I grew up while waiting for the car."

GRIM REAPER'S HEAVY TOLL

Daniel Mottern, a veteran of the civil war and a life-long resident of Danville, was found dead in bed at his home, East Market street, Monday morning. He retired in his usual health Sunday night.

The deceased was one of our best known citizens. He was a native of Danville, being born near the spot where he died. He was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting in Company F, 178th Regiment, P. V. I., under Captain Winner. For many years he was employed about the rolling mills. He was formerly a member of the Danville police force. For some years prior to his death he was employed as watchman at the Structural Tubing works.

On Sunday he filled his position as usual. On his way home from work Sunday evening he was seized with a coughing spell, but no importance was attached to it, as he ate supper as usual and said that he felt quite well. He retired at the usual hour. A short time afterward he called for his son, complaining that his heart was not working rightly and asking for some medicine that he usually took when such attacks came on. The medicine was administered, after which he seemed to rest very comfortably. When he was called Monday morning there was no response. On visiting his room it was found that he had died during the night. A physician was called, who gave it as his opinion that death had occurred about midnight.

The deceased was aged 78 years. He was a widower and is survived by one son, Alonzo Mottern; also a grand daughter, Mrs. Harry Pope of Bristol. He was the first to pass away out of a large family of brothers and sisters, the survivors being: Jeremiah Mottern of Watsonstown; and Samuel, Joseph, Peter and Charles Mottern, Mrs. Clara Minglin and Mrs. Mary Jane Bogart of Danville.

THOMAS MCBRYAN.

Thomas McBryan, an old and esteemed resident, died at his home, West Mahoning street, at 4:30 o'clock Monday morning following a stroke of paralysis, sustained at 10:30 o'clock Sunday night.

The deceased was a native of Ireland and was born in County Cavan. He came to America in 1833. For many years he was employed as padder in the Montour rolling mills. He was a good citizen, an industrious man and a kind and dutiful parent.

The deceased was 86 years of age. He is survived by his widow, four sons, John, of White Deer; Lawrence, of Kingston; and Thomas and Patrick of Danville; also two daughters, Mrs. Daniel McCloud of this city, and Mrs. John Mountain of Reading. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. John Casey, of Danville.

MRS. GEORGE PERRY.

Mrs. George Perry, a well known and highly respected resident of this city, died at her home on Mill street Monday morning about 6:30 o'clock after a short illness. Mrs. Perry had been in her usual good health until about a week ago when she was seized with a severe attack of la grippe and forced to take her bed. Pneumonia developed and she sank rapidly, passing away peacefully.

The deceased was about fifty-six years of age and had lived the greater part of her life in the third ward. She was beloved by all, kind and generous and ever willing and anxious to extend a helping hand.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, George, Frank and Jasper, one daughter, Mrs. John Ward, and grandson, David, all of this city. Miss Mary Ann Hannon, of this city, is a sister and Hugh Dougherty, of Plymouth, is a brother of the deceased.

MRS. JOHN O. GEISE.

Mrs. Emma M. Geise, wife of John O. Geise, departed this life Monday afternoon at her home in Philadelphia. The deceased suffered a stroke two weeks ago from the effects of which she never recovered and which was the direct cause of her death.

Mrs. Geise was formerly a much beloved and widely known resident of this city, residing for 16 years on Pine street. The family removed to Philadelphia several years ago. During Mrs. Geise's residence here she was a prominent member of the Grove Presbyterian church.

Beside her husband the deceased is survived by a brother, George Mauleberger, of Reading; two sons, Frank, of Beaverdale, and Jacob, of Philadelphia, and five daughters, Mrs. Anna McCoy of this city; Mrs. Bessie Johnson, Misses Brown, Helen and Nellie, of Philadelphia.

EX-JUDGE MARR DEAD.

While visiting his sister, Mrs. Margaret B. Barber, at her home, No. 2808 North Broad street, Philadelphia, ex-Judge William A. Marr, of Ashland, died suddenly, on Saturday night. He was widely known as a jurist, having served on the common pleas court of Schuylkill county for the ten years ending January, 1909. A Democrat of the old school, he took a deep interest in the affairs of his party, and on several occasions sat as a delegate in State and national conventions. Judge Marr was born seventy-three years ago, in Union county. For several years in early life he resided in Danville, teaching school in the old Danville academy on West Market street. Later he lived at Ashland, where he studied law prior to his admission to the Schuylkill county bar. Burial will be made at Lewisburg on Wednesday.

ADVOCATING A GIRDER RAIL

Danville, March 12, 1910.

Editor Montour American:— Much has been said concerning the paving of East Market street. Especially has it been urged that the work should go forward at once, as the street needs repairs badly. The latter will not be denied, but at the same time let us not proceed in too big a hurry, if thereby we get a defective piece of work—a pavement that will not meet the requirements.

To come to the point, it is useless to deny that there is widespread objection to the paving of East Market street, in connection with the trolley rail that is at present in use there. It is much to be regretted that proceedings to that end have gone as far as they have, but from present indications it does not seem unlikely that a halt may be called.

The fact is that people are generally awakening to the realization that the 4 1/2 inch T rail, at present lying on the street, is not only too small, but that it is of the wrong kind. What is needed is a girder rail, which, instead of being a detriment is a positive aid to travel. There are no troublesome grooves as in the T rail and vehicles of all sorts naturally use the track, so that on narrow streets, occupied by trolley tracks, the entire width is available for general traffic.

The larger rail used on Mill street daily affords an object lesson showing what disadvantages arise from the use of a T rail on a paved street. The width of Mill street, however, makes it practicable to avoid the trolley track in many instances.

On East Market street the condition will be changed. The street, narrow enough at present, will be still narrower after paving, when the sidewalks are widened to conform with the plans and specifications. It will be impossible to drive in either direction on the street without crossing and recrossing the trolley track. The annoying experience of having the wheel confined in the stubborn groove, which occurs often enough on Mill street, on East Market street, if present plans are carried out, will be such a detriment that no one will care to drive on that thoroughfare if he can help it.

It was unquestionably a bad precedent to permit the use of the T rail on Mill street. But while the borough was frequently called upon to act on the more matter of trolley franchises the actual building of a trolley road was taken less seriously and thus it occurred in the matter of rail that the interest of the public was not safeguarded. The proper thing to have done would have been to require a girder rail for Mill street. Then when it came to a question of a rail for East Market street, involving a franchise that indirectly grew out of the one taken in Mill street, the matter would have been definitely settled.

As it is, under the terms of the ordinance, probably the most that could be insisted upon by the borough would be that the Danville and Sunbury Transit company use a rail in paving that conforms with one on Mill street. This it is true, would permit the laying of a heavier brick and make a more substantial job of paving, but it would not overcome the difficulty, which distinctively accompanies a T rail.

So great will be the advantages of a girder rail and so marked the disadvantages of a T rail on East Market street, that to secure the former, if paving goes forward, the borough had better agree to stand good for that portion of the cost over and above what may be represented by a T rail.

Sustained a Stroke.

George Herr, a well known and aged resident of Strawberry Ridge, sustained a stroke of apoplexy Sunday morning that has left him in a critical condition. The stroke occurred about 7 o'clock while Mr. Herr was out in the yard. His one side is nearly paralyzed and his speech is impaired.

New Basket Ball Captain.

A special from Annapolis in a Philadelphia paper Sunday stated that George Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fred Jacobs, of this city, and a member of the corps at the U. S. Naval Academy, had been elected captain of the academy varsity basket ball team for next season. Mr. Jacobs has played guard on the Navy team for two years, and is considered one of the best players who has ever worn the navy colors.

A Timely Protection.

Everyone knows the after effects of La Grippe are often more dangerous than the disease. So often it leads to pneumonia, which a weakened heart action makes fatal. La Grippe coughs that strain and weaken the system yield quickly to the healing and strengthening qualities of Foley's Honey and Tar. For sale by Pauls & Co.

EGGS DROP TO TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Along with the general awakening incidental to the approach of spring the curb stone market has taken on a new aspect. On Saturday morning there was a larger turn out both of vendors and buyers than at any time since the holidays.

Eggs, which have been increasing in quantity and falling in price for a couple of weeks past, Saturday seemed to be the ruling commodity and the price went down to twenty-five cents per dozen.

During the last couple of months it was only on rare occasions that more than half a dozen farmers could be counted in market. There were times when only the butchers and a few other regular attendants were on hand. On Saturday, however, Mill street with its respectable array of wagons and the sidewalks crowded with good natured buyers jostling each other to get the pick of produce on sale called up visions of the happy summer time, when a crowded market three times a week is a feature that makes Danville unique.

There were probably a score of farmers in market Saturday and they seemingly all had eggs on sale. As a rule these were choice—large and fresh-looking eggs. At the opening of market eggs sold at thirty cents but it was not long before the price dropped successively to twenty-eight and twenty-five cents. The largest number of eggs was sold at the latter figure, which was also the price that prevailed at the stores during the remainder of the day. The drop represents a decline of fifteen cents in the price of eggs during a period of less than a month. The hens have not yet gotten down to work rightly and with an increase in the yield of eggs will undoubtedly cause a further drop in price. All of which is encouraging news considering that Easter is coming on apace.

During February eggs sold at forty cents per dozen, which is probably the highest price they ever commanded in the curbstone market.

BILL FOR $200,000

Sunbury's government building is now almost an assured fact. Recently Senator Penrose introduced in the senate a bill providing for the "erection of a suitable building, including fire proof vaults, heating and ventilating apparatus, elevators and approaches for the use and accommodation of the United States post office," the cost of the building complete not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars.

A Night Alarm.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. Foley's Honey and Tar has saved many little lives and is the only safe preparation for children as it contains no opiates. For sale by Pauls & Co.

GIVES THEM TEN DAYS

In a letter made public Saturday evening Hagenbench, who at his own expense attended the Susquehanna league managers' meeting, and retained for Bloomsburg its franchise and reserve list of players, serves notice that if decided action does not crystallize out of talk in 10 days' time he will release the players and turn the franchise over to the president.

The trouble in Bloomsburg lies in securing grounds for a ball park. Two plots are now under consideration—the fair grounds and a public square which was presented to the town for a public park. There are many advocates for both pieces of ground, but until definite action is taken as to location, there will be no subscriptions forthcoming.

LAI'D TO REST

The funeral of George M. Gearhart took place from the family residence, East Market street, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. There was a large attendance.

The services were conducted by the Rev. James Wollaston Kirk, pastor of the Mahoning Presbyterian church. The honorary pall bearers were: W. J. Baldy, M. G. Youngman, Frank Jamison, and Adam Mayan. The active pall bearers were: F. W. Magill, Edward Johnson, J. A. Mowrey, E. V. Stroh, B. F. Lanlan and Wesley Bodine.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Kirkendall, Former Sheriff Kirkendall, of Wilkes-Barre; Dr. I. W. Willet and wife, of Bloomsburg; W. C. Yetter and wife, of Catawissa; and Ira Kirkendall, of Dallas. Interment was made in the Episcopal cemetery.

Returned to Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar D. Pentz and son Harold who left for California about the holidays, returned to Danville yesterday. The Pacific coast is not without attractions, but Mr. Pentz and family are attached to Danville and prefer to spend the remainder of their lives here.

SOME PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

Now that the season is near at hand when out-of-door work may begin it is not untimely to revert to some of the public improvements that are expected to go forward the coming summer. The allusion may appear somewhat trite, as each improvement in the past has been urged and as regularly postponed. Inasmuch, however, as they are matters that vitally affect the public a few lines at this time may not be devoid of interest.

Among the work devolving on the county commissioners that would seem to stand no further postponement is the re-painting of the river bridge. It is needless to advert to the necessity of proceeding with this work the coming summer. Successive grand juries have recommended that the bridge be painted and the county commissioners recognize the necessity of it. It is generally understood that the work will go forward the coming summer.

That the retaining wall west of the abutment of the river bridge will be built by the county commissioners is by no means so certain, although it is an improvement badly needed and has been recommended by several grand juries. The spot at present is familiar to people as an eyesore and a retaining wall would not only make it possible to fill up and grade the declivity, which is now a dumping ground, but would also render a very dangerous spot secure.

The borough council which is now organized and ready for a season's activity, will find a summer's work on East Market street, which needed repairs three years ago, but which, in view of the prospect of paving, has been postponed from year to year. It would seem that the question of paving, between Pine street and Cook's court, has been settled at last and that the work may go forward very early this summer. The special task in street improvement that the council has to address itself to is the reconstruction of East Market street between Cook's court and the hospital macadam.

When the improvement of this section of East Market street was considered last fall it was thought that it could be paved, with State aid, under the act of May 1, 1905. At present, it would seem, that the idea of laying a pavement on the upper section has been abandoned and that the only form of improvement in view is a macadam. Experience has shown that street improvement on this important thoroughfare of town proceeds slowly and it is hoped that the new council will devise some means of hurrying up the work; otherwise another winter may be upon us before the improvements on East Market street are completed.

Coughs That Hang on.

Coughs that start in the fall and hang on until spring are sure trouble breeders unless checked and cured. Bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption are the direct result. For Public Building.

Senator Penrose, on March 1st, introduced in the United States Senate a bill for a public building for Sunbury which was read twice and referred to the committee on public buildings and grounds.

Circus War at Sunbury.

Just at present it looks as if Sunbury will be the battle ground of a merry circus war next month. As early as a month ago the route of the Miller Brothers Ranch 101 Wild West, the only real rival of Buffalo Bill, was fixed and it included a stop at Sunbury on May 16th, and now the Forepaugh-Sells Brothers circus men say that Sunbury will also be visited by that aggregation about the same time.

The management of the two great amusement enterprises is at loggerheads and because of this, Sunbury can look forward to with pleasure or otherwise, a hot advertising battle.

Good health is impossible when there is any derangement of the digestive organs. Foley's Orino Laxative is a natural remedy for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. It aids digestion, stimulates the liver, and cures habitual constipation. For sale by Pauls & Co.

Sunbury Wants It.

Along with making preparations to attend the Six-County Firemen's association, which meets in Shenandoah June 6th to 10th, the different companies of the Sunbury department are planning to secure the big event for that borough in 1911.

REBUILDING BOOTH

The county commissioners are rebuilding the voting booth on Walnut street, which for a year or more had hardly been fit for use.

The material used in the structure was corrugated iron, which was found to be very badly rust eaten. The woodwork, too, had yielded to decay, necessitating practically a new structure. The new booth will be supported on concrete piers. Otherwise it will resemble the old.

The voting booths have to be very frequently overhauled and are a source of considerable expense to the county.

Worth a Dollar a Drop.

Fred Patchen, Manlius, N. Y., writes:—"For a long time I was afflicted with kidney trouble which caused an almost constant pain in my back and inflammation in my bladder. Other remedies did not even relieve me, but two fifty cent bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy completely cured me and I have not had any symptom of kidney trouble for over two years." "SWANKEY" IS A TEMPERANCE DRINK

What is "swankey"? This question has been submitted to the highest tribunal in Montour county, but aside from the fact that it is a "temperance" drink with jag possibilities nothing has been learned concerning it.

The question was put squarely up to the court on Monday morning. The constables had just made their returns when Attorney William Kase West, accompanied by Constable Amos Albeck of Anthony township, took his position before the court; Mr. West acting as spokesman explained that "swankey" is becoming a popular drink at public sales and that it is dispensed freely as a "temperance" drink at some houses that have not a license to sell liquor.

It was a question Mr. West explained, whether "swankey" does not contain a fair percentage of alcohol and whether a person will not become intoxicated if he drinks enough of it. Constable Albeck judging of the effects had become dubious of "swankey" and was desirous of obtaining a ruling from the court.

Judge Evans was not long in defining the constables' duties in the premises. "The court," he said, "doesn't know what 'swankey' is—and consequently, whether it can be legally sold without license or not." "There is an infallible guide, however," the court explained, "if 'swankey' intoxicates, it can not be dispensed except under the restrictions that apply to alcoholic liquors."

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Danville Reader Will Feel Grateful For This Information.

When your back gives out; Becomes lame, weak or aching; When urinary troubles set in; Your kidneys are "in a bad way." Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Here is local evidence to prove it: Seth G. Lormer, 420 Pine Street, Danville, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are worthy of endorsement, being a remedy of great merit. My ears, which settled in my kidney disordered these organs and caused sharp pains throughout my back. I had
