Joseph Bouva, an Italian fish-dealer of Beaver Falls, made a wager that he could drink 250 glasses of Beck beer in three days. He did, and he is dying as the result.

More than 300 acres of valuable timber were destroyed near Orangeville by a forest fire recently. Forest fires have caused damage in many other places in the State.

Many buildings at Washington park, a recreation spot near Ashland, were destroyed by fire that started in brush near the resort. The flames have been entirely extinguished.

Julian Kennedy, a well-known Pittsburg civil engineer, at a recent meeting of citizens held in the Fort Pitt hotel, estimated the amount of graft collected in the "red-light" district of the Smoky City at $1,000,000 a year.

Extraordinary preparations have been made at York for the celebration of the twenty-fifth jubilee of the Knights of St. Paul, a Catholic society that boasts of being the strongest organization of that faith in that section of the State.

A merger of the electric companies in the two Stroudsburgs is expected in the near future. The Eastern Pennsylvania Power company, which recently bought out the Eastern Power company, is the new corporation that is behind the movement, which is expected to bring great things to that vicinity.

Joseph Howard, aged 55, maddened by drink, on Saturday evening shot and killed his wife at Latrobe, then ran upstairs and shot himself through the heart. The man is believed to have been deranged mentally through a recent illness. He lost his job in a brewery on Saturday and quarreled with his wife, following up by murdering her. He is said to have been drinking heavily for a week.

Sunday was appropriately spent in the McKeesport plants of the United States Steel corporation, including the National Tube company and the America Sheet and Steel works. For the first time in many years the plants were closed down, excepting in places where they were making repairs or doing work that was absolutely necessary. Every Sunday will be kept hereafter. The men declare themselves pleased with the order.

An obliging resident of Suter almost caused Frank Estep, of McKeesport, to lose his life and precipitated an explosion that wrecked the latter's $1500 automobile. The machine broke down and Estep crawled under it to fix things up. The Suter man crawled after him and was kind enough to light a match so that they could see. Estep was dragged from beneath the auto with his clothes ablaze as the result of the explosion that followed but staidersby put out the flames before the man was burned much. The machine, however, was destroyed and the people in the auto went home in the train after telling the obliging man their opinion of him.

Alexander McBride, aged 91, who fought Indians and Mexicans in defense of his country's flag, died recently at Pittsburg of pneumonia. He was born in Ireland and was a Catholic by faith. Mr. McBride saw service in the Civil as well as in the Mexican and Indian wars, having come to this country in 1839.

The members of the international jury to meet in Pittsburg on April 7 to accept paintings and award honors for the fourteenth annual exhibition at Carnegie art gallery have been announced by John W. Beattie, director of fine arts, Carnegie institute. The jury comprises a number of leading American artists. Three medals and cash prizes will be awarded by these men.

Pennsylvania Dutch was used in the Norristown court for the first time in many years recently when Amos Koffel, of Hatfield, the defendant in a non-support case, said that he did not understand English. It did not take long to find out that everybody else interested could understand Dutch so the trial proceeded in that language. The defendant was put under bond, which he was unable to furnish, so the judge told the sheriff to "nem en noch der jail."

Because the girl he loved would not marry him, Fred Ellman, aged 21, of Wilkes-Barre, committed suicide recently by taking carbolic acid. He had told his sister that if the young object of his affections would not change her decision [not to marry him within two weeks he would do away with himself, and he did, just when the two weeks were up. Pinned over his heart was the picture of a good-looking girl bearing the name, "Mary Brown, South River street, Wilkes-Barre."

NEW YARDS WILL BE IMMENSE

Leveling farms that for years have supplied produce to the cities, cutting away huge hills and filling valleys, the Pennsylvania Railroad company is transforming the country adjacent to the little town of Northumberland into one of the largest and most complete and modern railroad classification yards in the United States.

The completion of the yard will greatly facilitate the movement of traffic through Sunbury, where four divisions of the company's lines now converge, the old yard at that place being found inadequate for the increase of freight traffic. The shifting and classifying of cars at Sunbury have to be done on tracks which are crossed at grade by a number of important streets, thus preventing the enlargement of the present yard. The maximum movement at Sunbury has been as high as 4000 cars a day.

The new yard, work on which was started last July, will probably be completed next December. At the present time between 2300 and 2500 men are employed, showing the magnitude of the construction. It is necessary to remove 4,000,000 cubic yards of dirt. But little rock has been encountered. The construction work also involves 18,000 cubic yards of bridge and culvert masonry, the change in location of a public road, one and one-half miles long, the erection of a thirty-six-stall round house, power house, machine shop, transfer shed and some smaller buildings.

The yard, which will cost, when complete in the neighborhood of $4,000,000 will be three miles long and one-half wide, changing a fertile and wooded district into one great level plain of steel rail and yard equipment. The yard is eighty and 100 tracks wide, of which it contains eighty miles, the total area covered being about 700 acres.

It will contain a yard house with storage for 100 locomotives, storage room for 130 cabins, a coaling station with a capacity of 1000 tons a day, a freight transfer shed 30 by 600 feet, car repair shops, a power plant for furnishing light and air for operating switches and testing trains, standing capacity for 5500 cars and receiving, classification and departure yards.

The following points of superiority over all the other yards in the United States are noted: Arranging engines without turning; freight classification and advance yard, keeping the cars steadily in motion; arrangements whereby cars going in opposite directions may be turned so as to be placed on receiving tracks going in correct direction.

It is said that the yard, when completed next fall, will show a fill of forty feet at its highest point, the "hump." The object of this is to "shuffle" cars and form solid trains for the same destination or trains made up as near solid as possible.

There will be an eastern and western receiving yard, an eastern and western classification yard and an eastern and western departure yard in the one composite yard.

Trains will be brought into the receiving yard at either end and the road engines cut loose. The train will then be taken in tow by a yard engine and a crew of cutters and riders and pushed over the hump. Each car will be marked, and when it is cut loose the incline from the hump will cause it to run down grade. An operator in the yard tower, noticing the destination of the car from the mark, may, by pushing a button, turn the right switch by means of pneumatic pressure and send the car to the train where it is desired. The system is the most modern known and will include new wrinkles in the classification of cars.

That the new yard will be a boon to Northumberland is certain. The people are of opinion that the town will spring into a city. It is not known for a certainty whether the shops will be moved from Sunbury to the site of the new yards.

It is understood that a number of industrial plants are figuring on establishing at Sunbury when the removal of the yards across the Susquehanna is made. At the present time the railroad occupies a section that has grown rapidly and the "shuffling" of cars across the city streets will lessen the danger that now lurks in that vicinity for the pedestrian. The daily average for the movement of cars at Sunbury in 1907 totaled 2790.

Cars on Hour Schedule.
On Friday, April 1st the Columbia Power, Light & Railways company will restore its hour schedule between Danville and Bloomsburg. The company announced several trips on January 24th and on Friday these trips will again be resumed daily, and cars will leave Danville for Bloomsburg every hour from 6 a. m. to 11 p. m.

Patriotism is an inner fire, not an outer badge.

PUZZLER FOR VETERINARIANS

Veterinarians of this section are discussing a very curious case that developed under the observation of Dr. J. O. Reed, of this city, which is simply one in which a fracture in a horse's leg occurred, without the usually attendant dislocation or other evidences that make the existence of a fracture plain.

Eight weeks ago a horse belonging to William Manser of Lewisburg and employed in a lumber team on the Moser tract, Liberty township, this county, was kicked by another horse. The animal at once developed a lameness, but beyond this did not show any indications of serious injury. The horse was kicked on the left hind leg between the hock and the stifle joint. At that spot there was a slight abrasion and no swelling, whatever. The case proved very stubborn, however, a peculiarity being that while on one day the horse would refuse to put the foot of the injured leg on the ground, the next day he would walk on it.

Dr. Reed inclined to the opinion that the bone was fractured, although the absence of dislocation was hard to account for. He finally called in consultation with him Dr. Althouse, of Johnstown, an agent of the State Live Stock Sanitary board, who shared in the belief that a fracture of the bone was at the bottom of the trouble. The case was so remarkable, however, that the usual procedure was not followed. The horse was permitted to live with the hope that the experts might prove to be mistaken and that the leg would recover.

The inevitable occurred, however; just seven weeks after the horse was kicked dislocation took place, showing that during that long interval the horse had been walking on a broken leg. At this juncture, of course, the horse was shot.

In discussing the matter Monday Dr. Reed explained that such cases are very rare, indeed. The bone, although fractured when the horse was kicked, was held in position by the connective tissue investing the bone, which at that part of the horse's leg is very firm and strong.

HOME BURNED IN ANTHONY

The home of Harry Reynolds, a mile north of Exchange, in Anthony township, burned Monday afternoon, leaving Mr. Reynolds, his wife and a family of six children homeless.

Mr. Reynolds, who is a poor, but hard working and thrifty farmer, was away from home, employed on a farm some distance away. His wife and children were spending the day at the home of a neighbor, within sight of their own home.

About three o'clock smoke was seen ascending from the Reynolds house. By the time people had arrived to fight the flames the home was doomed. Nothing but a few chairs were saved. The fire started, it is thought, in a flue. Mr. Reynolds carried but little insurance.

WEDDED LAST NIGHT

Miss Mary E. Krum and William G. Reese were united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock last night at the parsonage of the First Baptist church by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Irey.

The contracting parties are both well known and popular in this city and vicinity where they have a large circle of friends who wish them happiness. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Krum, Cooper township. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reese, Front street, and has for a number of years been employed as clerk at Roger's shoe store. Both are prominent in church circles. Mr. Reese is superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school and Mrs. Reese primary teacher in the Pine Street Lutheran Sunday school.

The newly wedded couple will reside in their newly furnished home at No. 615 East Front street.

LARGE AUDIENCE

The Rev. Dr. Koelne was greeted by another large and interested audience at Mahoning Presbyterian church last night. The subject of his lecture was "Immortality."

Like the lectures that preceded it, it was a marvel of oratory, a wonderful message that appealed to the heart and intellect of every thinking man. Deep was the subject the language employed was simple enough for a child to understand, although characterized with all the force of eloquence and conviction for which the speaker is famous. Each succeeding lecture seems as great as the one preceding and Dr. Koelne is making an impression in Danville that time will never destroy. The subject of tonight's lecture will be "Agnosticism."

The sympathetic strike would have been stronger if it had never begun.

COMMENCEMENT FRIDAY, MAY 27

The annual commencement of the Danville high school this year will be held on the afternoon and evening of Friday, May 27th, the last day of the school term. The grammar school commencement will be held on Thursday, May 26th.

Action to the above effect was taken at a regular meeting of the school board Monday eve, on the recommendation of Borough Superintendent Dieffenbacher, who explained that it was necessary to fix a date for commencement in order that the committee might proceed to engage a speaker and perfect other arrangements.

On behalf of the grammar school teachers the borough superintendent asked that the grammar schools of the borough this year be consolidated and permitted to hold commencement exercises jointly in the high school auditorium. On motion the request was granted and the date fixed as above stated.

Borough Superintendent Dieffenbacher also recommended that the annual musicale this year be held in each of the wards instead of in the high school auditorium as has been customary in the past. The matter was duly discussed, after which it was ordered that Mr. Dieffenbacher's recommendation be adopted.

Robert Nice and Raymond Pierce, a committee from the senior class of the high school, appeared before the board, asking that the class be permitted, as last year, to assume charge of commencement, taking care of the proceeds, paying bills, etc. On motion the request of the committee was granted. The board according to custom donated the graduating class ten dollars.

On motion it was ordered that the insurance on the school building of the first ward "be renewed in the same companies."

On motion it was ordered that the officers of the school board sign the applications of Misses Verna Reed and Laura Mann for permanent certificates, each having complied with all the requirements of the law.

The following members of the board were present: Sechler, Orth, Swarts, Shultz, Pursel, Fischer, Gibson, Heiss, Cole, Sidler and Redding.
Two bills were approved for payment as follows:
George R. Sechler $45
American Book Co $1.68

BE PREPARED TO ANSWER

On April 15, the census enumerators will begin their work.

Of the thirty-two questions to be asked there are some that the average person will be unprepared to answer off-hand. To the end, therefore, that the enumerator be not unnecessarily delayed in his work all persons should take advantage of the intervening period to familiarize themselves with facts so that they may be prepared to answer promptly.

Among the questions will be the following:

How long have you been married to the present wife. Place of birth of persons enumerated? Place of birth of person's father and mother?

By the place of birth is meant the State or county, not the town or city.

The year of immigration to the United States is a question that many will not be prepared to answer without first looking the matter up. It applies to all persons born outside of the United States.

The law compels people to answer all the questions correctly, to the best of their knowledge, whether applying to themselves, the families to which they belong and the farm or farms to which they or their families are the occupants. Any person over twenty-one years who shall refuse or wilfully neglect to answer or shall give answers that are false shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars.

All information given to the enumerators must be kept secret by them. The penalty for violating this rule is a fine of $1000 or imprisonment for two years or both.

CENTRAL EXAMINATIONS

County Superintendent C. W. Derr announces that the central examinations for eighth grade pupils will be held at the following points throughout the county on Saturday, April 2nd:
Anthony township—Cross Roads School.
West Hemlock township—Styer's School.
Derry township—Strawberry Ridge.
Limestone township—California.
Liberty township—Oak Grove.
Valley township—Kaseville.
Mahoning township—East Danville.

Landsford has a cure for tramps. It will arrest every hobo that appears on the scene and put him to work on the streets.

WILL READJUST RURAL ROUTES

The post office department has decided to readjust the rural free delivery routes of Montour county. To enable it to proceed intelligently it has asked the post master to supply it with a map of Montour county.

In an endeavor to comply the post master has discovered that there is no such thing as a map of Montour county—at least, modern and in convenient form—extant. The best that could be obtained is a map of Columbia and Montour Counties combined published by Cummings, in 1860. The map—borrowed from W. E. Kase—is a most interesting relic.

As revealing how important this end of the big domain comprising the two counties was considered at that day it might be stated that among the pictorial features of the map Danville is given more prominence than all the other towns of the two counties combined.

Fifty years ago the Danville hotel—kept by John Deen, Jr.—seemed to have the call and it is the most conspicuous feature. The Mahoning Presbyterian and St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal churches were pointed to with pride and they appear on the old map substantially as they strike the eye today or did until within a few years past. D. C. Hartman was a factor in those days and his planing mill as well as his residence appear among the illustrations. The Rail road house kept by P. A. Foust is also shown. The old court house at Danville along with the court house at Bloomsburg, both simple and primitive structures, appear at the top of the map.

Whether the old map as it shows Montour county will be of any service to the post office department admits of some doubt. Many changes have occurred during fifty years. Farms have been divided and sub-divided; old roads have been vacated and new ones laid out. But little more than the ancient landmarks remain.

A map of Montour county thoroughly up to date is very much in demand. One almost constantly hears inquiry for one. If some enterprising person were to bring out such a map there is no doubt but that he would reap a good pecuniary reward.

SEVENTY-EIGHT DEGREES

The phenomenal weather conditions prevailing will be remembered chiefly because of the discomfort they inflict.

As March draws to a close it seems that each succeeding day brings more unseasonable weather. During yesterday afternoon mercury rose to 78 degrees in the shade. A dead calm prevailed and winter underclothing was a positive burden. Houses warmed were uncomfortable and yet the season has not yet arrived when fires may be dispensed with.

Worst of all, however, was the dust, which lay thick on the streets of town as well as the country highways. From the dust, unless it rains, there seems to be no relief, as following custom the street sprinkler will not be placed into commission until the date arrives when spring is regarded as here to stay.

To add to the oppressive conditions yesterday the atmosphere was filled with a dense smoke, due no doubt to distant forest fires. Objects half a mile away were rendered almost invisible.

Last night there were indications of showers. Almost any change would be welcome.

A HORRIBLE DEATH

John G. Yocum, a well-known resident of White Deer township, Union county, residing near New Columbia, met with a horrible death Wednesday morning at his saw and stove mill.

While operating a machine a board caught him in such a manner as to throw him against the rapidly revolving circular saw. It caught him just below the breast and almost cut him in two.

Notwithstanding this horrible injury he lived for an hour after the accident.

Mr. Yocum was about forty-five years of age and was a most prominent and influential citizen in his locality and was prosperous in business. He is survived by his widow and two sons.

ADJUDGED INSANE

An inquisition was held at the court house yesterday morning at 10 o'clock before Hon. L. W. Welliver, one of the judges of the court of common pleas, in pursuance of an order of court to inquire concerning the lunacy of Agnes Lynn upon the oath and affirmations of John Mong, Robert Farley, John Hixson, John Mitchell, D. C. Jones and D. C. Williams, impaneled from among the jurors attending court this month.

The jury found that the said Agnes Lynn was at the time of taking the inquisition a lunatic without lucid intervals and by reason of said lunacy is incapable of managing her estate.

EDWARD EARNEST CAUSE OF COURT

Edward Earnest, a well known half-witted character, was the cause of a half day's session of court at Bloomsburg Tuesday. The matter at issue was whether Edward should be fed, clothed and housed by West Hemlock township, this county, or by Madison township, Columbia county. It was a hearing on an appeal from an order of removal of Earnest from Madison to West Hemlock, which was allowed by "Squire Clem R. Weiss, after Earnest had been committed, June 15, 1909, and brought to the hospital for the insane here, where he is now incarcerated. After the hearing the court took the matter under advisement for a future decision.

W. C. Johnston and Fred Ikeler, of Bloomsburg, represented Madison township, and W. Kase West, of this place, was the attorney for the West Hemlock poor district.

The witnesses brought by Madison township testified that Edward was born in West Hemlock township, and lived there more or less all his life, where he was employed as a farm hand.

On the other hand it was shown that in 1896-97 and 1898, and at various times since that he has been employed in Madison township. It was the evident attempt of West Hemlock to prove that Edward had gained a residence in Madison, and vice versa. The witnesses called were: Peter S. Brugler, Mrs. Alice Wilson, Mrs. Elijah Cromley, D. A. Shultz, T. J. Betz, Arthur Reichart, Mrs. Margaret Betz and a number of others.

From a legal standpoint the case was hard fought and there were a number of tilts between counsel about the admission of evidence.

PERSONALS.....

Messrs. Lew McCarty and Luther Young, of Catawissa, circulated among friends in Danville yesterday.

M. Yonutz, of Buffalo Valley, is spending a few days with his niece, Mrs. Mary Yordy, of this city.

Mrs. Martha Campbell, of Rushtown, was a Danville visitor yesterday.

Miss Mary Monahan has returned to her home in this city after a visit with relatives in Sunbury.

Mrs. Mary Shipps, of Sunbury, is visiting friends in Danville.

Mrs. Ella Kirk Lawrence, of Erie, arrived last evening for a visit with her brother, Rev. J. Wollaston Kirk, at the Presbyterian parsonage, East Mahoning street.

Mrs. Walter Savidge, of Riverside, returned last evening after a visit with friends in Sunbury.

Rev. J. M. Francis, of Sunbury, spent yesterday with Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Musselman, Pine street.

Mrs. J. M. Lyons, of Sunbury, and sister, Mrs. Maria Brennan, of Philadelphia, visited friends in this city yesterday.

Elias Maier returned yesterday after a few days' sojourn at Atlantic City. He was accompanied by his brother, Eleaser who will spend several days in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Owen, East Market street, returned yesterday after a few days' stay at Atlantic City.

A Popular Church.

At the annual congregational meeting of the Zion Lutheran church at Sunbury on Wednesday evening, Rev. J. M. Francis, the pastor, reported that he had received into church membership during the past year 256 persons, baptized 82 children, conducted 43 funerals and married just 50 couples—a pretty good record for one year. The Zion Lutheran has one of the largest Sunday schools in the State with an enrollment of 1193, which does not include the home department of the cradle roll. There is an average attendance every Sunday of between eight and nine hundred. The contributions to the church from all sources during the year amounted to a trifling over $11,000.

Injured at Elysburg.

Sara, the six-year-old daughter of N. G. Adams, the proprietor of the general store at Bear Gap, was the victim of a painful accident at the home of her grandfather, Obadiah Yocum, near Elysburg, early Monday morning. Owing to diphtheria in the Adams family, the child has been visiting her grandparents for several weeks. She was seated on a wagon that morning when she lost her balance and fell to the ground, sustaining a compound fracture of the right arm and serious internal injuries. Dr. Allison, of Elysburg, reduced the fracture.

Many a "good fellow" is a deadly enemy to himself.

MOVING TIME HAS ARRIVED

Probably about the usual number of our townpeople are changing residences this spring. Moving vans, heavily loaded with furniture, began to make their appearance on the streets Tuesday. Still a larger number of "fittings" took place yesterday. It will not be until tomorrow probably that moving will be in full swing, although a great many families will change residences today.

It is impossible to give a full list of all who have or will move this spring. The following changes have been noted:

W. Fred Jacobs moves from the Jacobs building, Mill street, to the residence of his late parents, West Market street; John Jacobs moves from the "upper store," Mill street, to the rooms vacated by W. Fred Jacobs. The residence vacated by John Jacobs will be occupied by Walter Bowen, an employe of the firm, who moves from Bloom street.

V. V. Haidacker, who occupied the Mauger dwelling, East Front street, has moved into the residence of Charles Jameson, West Mahoning street. W. H. Mauger will move from the Kase residence, West Market street, to his own dwelling vacated by Mr. Haidacker. Harry Deaner will occupy the rooms in the Kase residence.

William Linker, the well-known shipper at the Stove works moves into one of the new houses built by George D. Edmondson, East Market street. William Turner, West Mahoning street, will occupy the residence vacated by Mr. Linker. The residence vacated by Mr. Turner will be occupied by Lewis Gernet, who moves from East Mahoning street.

Peter Dietrich will occupy his residence on Upper Mulberry street adjoining Memorial Park, where he expects to install a merry-go-round and sell soft drinks. Jacob Gass, who occupies the property, expects to move into a dwelling on Upper Mulberry street.

John Rounsley moves from Bloom street to Ferry street; Harry Heffer, from Ash street to the Amesbury property at the foot of Pine street. B. H. Potter, Western Union Telegraph operator, has moved from Pine Street to a dwelling owned by Lewis Byerly on Walnut street.

Mrs. John Hartline will remove to Kingston. Her dwelling on Cherry street will be occupied by Calvin Egger, who moves from Ash street. Fred Smith moves from Lower Mulberry street to Charles Ware's dwelling on Pine street. Michael McHale, Centre street, removes to St. Joseph's cemetery. The family of Jesse Wyant, Front street, in the future will reside in Sunbury where Jesse is employed. C. C. Moyer, will move from Penn street to Pine street. David Henry, insurance agent, will take up his residence on Cherry street, April 1st.

Mrs. Elizabeth Herr will move from Cherry street to Mowrey street.

Policeman John Grier Voris, recently of Ferry street, has moved into his own residence on Church street. William Fausnaught has moved from the S. R. Kreegar building, corner of Mill and West Mahoning streets, to Church street. Jonas Sassaman has removed from the Bennett farm to the Marks dwelling, East Front street, vacated by Joseph Preston.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY

Thomas Henry Bennetts, whose death occurred at Auburn, N. Y., Sunday, was consigned to the grave in Odd Fellows' cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place from the residence of John Bennetts, brother of the deceased, Bloom street, at 2 o'clock and proceeded to the cemetery by trolley.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Joseph E. Guy, pastor of Shiloh Reformed church. The pall bearers were: D. N. Dieffenbacher, Alfred Fry, D. R. Williams, William Steinmiller, A. H. Grone and B. W. Musselman.

High School Pupils Wed.
Miss Jennie Eddy, aged sixteen years, and Howard Hobbs, aged 18 years, both members of the graduating class at the Nesquehock High School and well known young people of that place were quietly wedded Saturday night at eight o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage by Rev. John Horning.

Funeral This Afternoon.
The funeral of Mrs. Robert Paugh, whose death occurred Tuesday, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Robert Paugh, son of the deceased, No. 213 Railroad street. Interment will be made in Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Out Again.
Baldy Smith, who is convalescent after an attack of pneumonia, was able to appear on the street for the first yesterday.
