

HEADLONG FALL OF 25 FEET

P. H. McCaffrey, a waterman, employed at the Reading Iron works, met with a very bad accident Sunday eve, falling headfirst from the top of a boiler to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet. He escaped with a scalp wound and a bad shaking up.

Mr. McCaffrey was working on top of the boiler when in some way he lost his balance. He endeavored to save himself by grasping some timbers but was unable to do so and fell head-first to the ground. A very bad scalp wound was inflicted, in addition to which he was badly stunned by the fall.

Several other employes ran to his assistance. He was unable to arise and seemed to be suffering internal pain. Dr. Shultz was immediately called. Pending his arrival the injured man was placed on a cot and carried out to Northumberland street, where later he was examined by the physician.

It was found that no bones were broken. There was a bad scalp wound, which, although painful, is not regarded as dangerous. The doctor last evening did not think there were internal injuries of a serious nature, although the man seemed to suffer very much from the effect of the shock.

He was removed to his home on Cherry street, where at a later hour he seemed to be resting easily.

Part of Old Canal Sold.

The part of the old Pennsylvania canal between Selingsgrove and Northumberland was last week sold to the Manor Real Estate & Trust company, of Philadelphia, a bank which conducts financial transactions for the Pennsylvania railroad. The price paid was $20,000. The length of the property is 6 1/2 miles and the average width is 30 feet.

DEATH OF MRS. PAUGH

Mrs. Robert Paugh, a most highly esteemed woman of the first ward, died at the home of her son, Robert Paugh, No. 213 Railroad street, at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning following a protracted illness.

The deceased was a widow. A noteworthy circumstance connected with her death was that nine months ago yesterday her husband, Robert Paugh, was consigned to the grave. She was sixty-three years of age and is survived by two sons—Robert and Daniel Paugh of Danville—and two daughters, Mrs. James Jones, of this city and Miss Jennie Paugh, of Philadelphia.

The deceased resided in Danville for forty years and was well known. She was in feeble health from the time of her husband's death. For some days prior to her demise she was very weak. Death, however, came unexpectedly. At 12:30 o'clock she took a glass of milk. Soon afterward she fell into a sleep from which she never awoke.

MRS. CLINTON JENKINS

Mrs. Catherine Elmira Jenkins, widow of Clinton Jenkins, died Tuesday morning at 7:15 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Farnsworth, Valley township, aged 57 years, 10 months and 13 days.

Mrs. Jenkins was a much beloved and widely known woman. She was a member of an old Montour county family, the Herts, and was born near Washingtonville. All her life she resided in this vicinity. Two daughters survive: Mrs. Robert Farnsworth, of Valley township, and Mrs. Frank Miller, of Derry township. She is also survived by two brothers and three sisters: John Herr, of Schuylers; Willis Herr, of California; Mrs. Emanuel Mowrer, of Strawberry Ridge; Mrs. Charles Straus, of Sunbury, and Mrs. Edward Frazier, of Valley township.

The funeral will take place Friday morning, meeting at the Farnsworth home at 10 o'clock. Services will be held at the Washingtonville Lutheran church, of which the deceased had been a member for many years.

Purchased Barber Stand.

John Boettlinger who has for several years been in the employ of George Bedea has purchased the barber business of Joseph Smith on the south side. He will take possession on April 1st.

No Sense of Humor.

"Fog Eye" Smith of northwest Wyoming bore an appalling facade. His style of beauty was a blight. Depending upon his horrific exterior, he was in the habit of trying to awe newcomers. On one occasion, affecting some displeasure at the manner in which a pallid stranger watered his honor, Mr. Smith announced, frowning, that unless he detected immediate amendment he would send the neophyte home in a market basket. "Which I'll see you up a whole lot," said Fog Eye. Half an hour later Mr. Fog Eye was found groping about on the floor under the poker table hunting for his glass eye and muttering to himself. The stranger asked with some evidence of impatience what new line of sentiments Mr. Smith was now harboring. That injured resident, glaring malevolently from beneath the furniture, replied, "Which I sure do hate a man with no sense of humor."—Arzonaut.

A Man of Straw.

Many years ago in England men could easily be found to give any evidence upon oath that might be required, and some of these persons walked openly in Westminster hall with a straw in one of their shoes to signify they wanted employment as witnesses. This was the origin of the saying, "He is a man of straw." But the custom has high antiquity. A writer in the Quarterly Review says that such were common in Greece.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. CONNELLY

Mrs. James Connelly, a widely known and esteemed woman, died very suddenly at her home, North Mill street, about one o'clock Saturday afternoon, death being due to a hemorrhage of the lungs.

Although not a robust person Mrs. Connelly was always able to be about. She not only took an active part in household affairs, but was a busy factor in the community, assisting in church work and looking after the sick.

On Saturday morning she was in her usual health. She spent the forenoon with others in St. Joseph's church preparing for the Easter services. She took dinner with her family and after the meal she left the house to return to the church. She had not proceeded far before she became ill and was forced to return. She was seized with a violent hemorrhage and was barely able to reach home. Seated in a chair she expired a few minutes after reaching the house. Her sudden death proved a very great shock to her family and friends.

The deceased is survived by her husband and one son, Mark Connelly; also by three brothers, Augustus, Frank and William H. Treas.

Without License for Thirty Years.

From the time the "Half Way" house between Northumberland and Danville was abandoned about thirty years ago, until the present, when the Northumberland county court gave permission to open a liquor establishment near the new yard above Northumberland, Point township has been without a licensed place.

ALARM OF FIRE

An alarm of fire about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning caused a ripple of excitement about town. The fire was located at the Reading Iron works. It was only a small blaze caused by a spark from one of the furnaces lodging among the timbers of the roof.

When discovered the blaze was rapidly spreading, but the mill has excellent facilities for fighting fire and the employes have been well drilled, so that in an incredibly short period of time the mill hose was brought in to play and a stream of water turned upon the fire. In less than five minutes from the time it was discovered the blaze was extinguished.

When the fire was discovered the whistle at the mill was sounded and this in turn was followed by the fire bells. The Continental and the Friendship Fire companies responded, but each learned that its services were not needed before it reached the mill.

NEW QUARTERS

The Danville Whist Club is preparing to remove from its present quarters on East Market street to the third story of the building occupied by W. J. Baldy, Esq., Mill street, where three rooms will be occupied. Electric light and all the conveniences will be installed. The rooms will be very handsomely fitted up, the floors being covered with new carpets.

The Danville Whist Club was organized one year ago. It has twenty-five members, among whom are some of our best known and popular young men.

LAW GOVERNING MOTOR VEHICLES

Under the present law if the borough authorities desire to fix the speed limit for automobiles at less than twenty-four miles an hour it will be necessary for them to erect signs at each end of the streets traversed by motor vehicles; if this is done the speed limit dare not exceed twelve miles an hour.

The act relating to motor-vehicles approved by Governor Stuart on April 27, 1909, provides: "that no person shall drive a motor-vehicle at a rate of speed exceeding one mile in two and one-half minutes; provided, that the local authorities having charge of any of the highways may, in dangerous, congested, or built-up portions, place signs marked 'Danger: run slow,' and at these places the speed limit shall not exceed the rate of a mile in five minutes, the said signs to be plainly legible and the letters to be not less than five inches in height."

The above would imply that unless signs as above described are erected automobiles may run at any speed up to the rate of one mile in two and one-half minutes. At the same time, the act provides "that no person shall operate a motor-vehicle on the public highways recklessly or at a rate of speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the width, traffic and use of the highway, or so as to endanger property or the life or limb of any person.

The provision relating to the passing of street cars should be strictly enforced in Danville, where owing to the relatively narrow street several accidents have occurred in the past. The new act provides:

"When a motor-vehicle meets or overtakes a street passenger car which has stopped for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers, the motor-vehicle shall not pass said car on the side on which the passengers get on or off until the car has started and any passengers who have alighted shall have gotten safely to the side of the road."

The safety of pedestrians on Mill street, especially, requires that the section of the act relating to the operation of signals be rigidly enforced. Every operator is required to sound his horn or signal device when approaching a street or road crossing, when overtaking another vehicle or any person walking upon the public highway or a horse or other animal of draft or burden being led, ridden or driven thereon. When signaled to do so by the driver of a horse or other animal the operator shall stop the motor-vehicle and, if circumstances require it, shall stop his engine until the danger is avoided.

No person when intoxicated shall operate a motor-vehicle and any person guilty of doing so shall be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than three hundred dollars or imprisonment, not exceeding one year or both. In addition the license of any person guilty of a violation of this section may be suspended for six months.

A Timely Protection.

Everyone knows the after effects of La Grippe are often more dangerous than the disease. So often it leads to pneumonia, which a weakened heart action makes fatal. LaGrippe coughs that strain and weaken the system yield quickly to the healing and strengthening qualities of Foley's Honey and Tar. For sale by Pauls & Co.

CIRCUS BILLS

The first circus bills of the season went up in Danville Tuesday, announcing the appearance of the Forepaugh and Sells circus at Sunbury on May 20th, almost two months ahead.

This move is a strategic one on the part of the Forepaugh and Sells management. They have covered all available space in Sunbury and surrounding country, so that there will be no room for the advance men of Buffalo Bill's show, which appears at Sunbury on May 25th, to placard their announcements.

BUILDERS HEARD FROM

The three new county bridges, respectively at Cotner's, Sechler's and at Maust's, contracted for last year but not erected, will be built during the next few weeks. The iron work was shipped on March 24th.

The contract called for the completion of the bridges last fall, but owing to unforeseen delays the builders were unable to get out the material before winter set in.

The county commissioners Tuesday received word from the Nelson-Merydith company, which holds the contract, explaining that the material has been shipped; also that a man representing the company and having charge of the work will arrive here in the course of a week or ten days when all three bridges will be erected as quickly as possible.

With the completion of the three above-mentioned structures Montour county will be pretty well fixed in the matter of bridges. So far as determining at present no new ones will be needed this year.

Embarrassing.

"Paw, I want to know what you think of the fourth dimension is."
"It's a figure of speech, Tommy, employed to express the idea of the size to which a man feels himself shrinking when the pastor of his church happens to catch him in the act of making a quick sidestep into a saloon."—Chicago Tribune.

Human nature is so constituted that all see and judge better in the affairs of other men than in their own.—Terence.

BASE BALL

The schedule committee of the Susquehanna league will meet on Thursday to arrange a two-game-a-week schedule for trial during the first month, according to the action of the last meeting of the board of managers at Berwick. The managers will meet again at Berwick next Sunday to make final arrangements for the opening of the season on May 7th.

SHICKSHINNY WILL MAKE NOISE

From Shickshinny, comes the word that their aggregation will make it very interesting this season for the other teams in the league.

For instance: The athletic association there recently purchased a ball field, enclosed it and made other improvements, all of which have been paid for, with a tidy sum left over in the treasury to start the season with.

Manager Colley has on his reserve list from last year: Harrod, Williams, Butz, Cawley, Skelton, Booth, Burns, Laird and Mitchell. Among the new men signed are: Leonard Reader, of Wilkes-Barre, and James McDonough, of Scranton, infielders; James J. Moran, of Scranton, catcher; Coil Ferguson and John Knox, of Scranton, pitchers and Frank Dooley, of Dunmore, an outfielder.

The officers of the Shickshinny Athletic association this year are: C. W. Tressler, president; Leo Keller, vice president; B. W. Brobst, secretary; Arch Henshall, treasurer; A. R. Colley, manager; Joseph E. Hughes, assistant manager.

BLOOM GETTING BUSY.

Base ball, and good base ball at that, and on a first class ground, is assured for Bloomsburg this season.

For the past week a committee has been selling stock in the new athletic association, and sufficient money has been raised to assure success to the plans. The stock is being sold at $5 per share and no more than five shares are sold to any one person. A meeting for organization will be held Wednesday evening, when a board of directors, a manager and assistants will be chosen.

In the athletic park, which council recently granted permission to fence, Bloomsburg will have a ball park that will compare favorably with any in this section. The ground occupies a whole block, from Centre to Iron streets, between 7th and 8th, opposite to the Columbia county jail. On this ground back in the late 80s and early 90s occurred some of the famous old time base ball battles between Danville and Bloomsburg.

The ground will be fixed up in first class shape, fenced and a grand stand erected to seat 1,000 people.

NESCOPECK IS READY

Nescopeck Athletic association has one of the best propositions of any town in the league. Burgess W. F. Williams who provided the field and built the fence and grandstand rents it complete for $100 per year and is besides a liberal financial contributor. This year the association starts off new with 40 members who own each a share of stock of par value $10. With the $400 working capital Nescopeck expects to start out with one of the best teams in the league. Manager Spain is after one more player but can go into the field at any time with a line-up that will make the best of them take notice.

SHIPE IN TRI-STATE

Ross Shipe, Nescopeck's star twirler and incidentally one of the best pitchers of the Susquehanna league has produced, leaves April 4th for Albright College, near Myerstown, Pa., where he will start training for the coming base ball season. He will play with Albright college until after the opening of the Tri-State league when he will join Harrisburg, with which team he has signed. That Shipe will make good are the wishes of his friends who are confident he possesses the ability.

COVELESKIE HAS RHEUMATISM

Frank Coveleskie a member of Danville's pitching staff last season, has been suffering for some weeks with a severe attack of rheumatism, which has settled in his hands and feet. "Pinkie" had signed for a try out with the Johnstown Tri-State team but it is doubtful if he will be able to show up when that team starts practice.

NANTICOKE FENCE SWEEP AWAY

The recent flood carried away part of the fence at Edgewater Park the Nanticoke club's playing ground. The damage will require $200 or $300 to repair. Fortunately the playing ground was not injured.

LISTEN TO THIS!

The Shickshinny team will blossom out in new suits this season. The suits will be cream colored with maroon trimmings. This indicates of course that we are the cream of the season and that we will trim everything that comes up against us.—Mountain Echo.

Getting Ready for Dry Territory.

"I am drinking four quarts of water a day."
"For your health?"
"No."
"Because you like it?"
"Not exactly. Just in training for my trip south."

35 YEARS IN ONE LODGE ROOM

Goodrich Post No. 23, G. A. R., is moving from the rooms in the second story of the Krebs building to the third story of the Gross building, nearly opposite on Mill street. The veterans in their new quarters will be obliged to climb one story higher but they console themselves with the reflection that they will have more commodious quarters and will profit by the change in other ways.

What interests the moving with especial interest is the fact that the post occupied its quarters in the Krebs building for the long period of thirty-five years. The sole objection to the building seemed to be that the rooms were too small.

The post enters the Gross building under a five-years' lease. It has the entire third floor embracing the whole building, one-half of which, on the ground floor, is occupied by Lore's jewelry store. Water and gas have been installed in the third story. The walls are being repaired and the woodwork repainted. Besides, carpenters are at work making such changes as are necessary to accommodate the post.

The third story lends itself admirably to the arrangement. Besides a very large, light and airy lodge room, there are ante rooms, reception rooms, a store room, commodious kitchen with pantry, toilet room, lockers, &c.

The post has sub-let its rooms to several other organizations, including the P. O. S. of A., O. U. A. M., Sons of Veterans, Iron Moulders' Union, &c. It was explained yesterday that the rooms will be occupied every night in the week.

FIRST OATS SOWED

County Commissioner John Coleman, who owns a fine farm in Liberty township, sowed two acres of oats last week. So far as can be determined he is the first in the county to do any planting this spring. He began ploughing nearly three weeks ago.

As a prop of the above, Associate Judge Frank G. Blee Saturday stated that the spring of 1869 resembled the present one. Weather in all respects like that of this spring continued all through March, lasting until April 10th. On April 17th a heavy snow fell, which at some places reached a depth of three feet. The weather was bad and wintry until sometime in May.

Nearly all the ploughing was done and much oats was sowed in March. The oats crop, however, Judge Blee says, was nearly a total failure.

The present season may not be a parallel, as it is not clear that the spring of 1869 was preceded by a winter as rigorous and uniformly cold as the one just past.

Worth a Dollar a Drop.

Fred Patchen, Manlius, N. Y., writes:—"For a long time I was afflicted with kidney trouble which caused an almost constant pain in my back and inflammation in my bladder. Other remedies did not even relieve me, but two fifty cent bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy completely cured me and I have not had any symptoms of kidney trouble for over two years." For sale by Pauls & Co.

One of the First.

In the matter of straw hats A. M. Peters undoubtedly merits the distinction of being one of the pioneers in Danville this season. He made his appearance on his ice wagon Saturday morning under a covering of straw, carried over from last summer. A straw hat on March 26th is out enough in itself, but when displayed in connection with an ice wagon the effect is accentuated considerably. Truly, it is a marvelous season.

HOUSE BOAT LAUNCHED

Druggist O. M. Leniger Tuesday launched his house boat, which was hauled up onto the river bank when the stream closed with ice, last fall. The snug little craft will receive a thorough renovation, including some new paint, after which it will go into commission for the season.

The house boat, which is elegantly appointed and is propelled by a gasoline engine, represents a new departure in summer outings, conceived by Mr. Leniger. The unalloyed pleasure derived from the trips up and down the river last year has convinced the druggist that he has the right idea.

The low water during the last half of the summer interfered somewhat with the pleasure, it is true. Fearing similar conditions may prevail this summer, Mr. Leniger will start early.

It will be only a few days until he will be prepared to make his initial trip. He will be sure of several months of delightful weather with the river at about the proper stage. Several long trips are contemplated.

Good health is impossible when there is any derangement of the digestive organs. Foley's Orino Laxative is a natural remedy for stomach, liver and bowel troubles. It aids digestion, stimulates the liver, and cures habitual constipation. For sale by Pauls & Co.

Woman's Benevolent Society Meeting.

The Woman's Benevolent society will hold a meeting in their room at the Thomas Beaver free library this morning at 10 o'clock. The meeting is important and a full attendance is requested as it is desired to wind up the affairs of the winter.

NONAGENARIAN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Henry C. Snyder, one of Montour county's oldest and most honored citizens, died at his home, Washingtonville, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon following several months' illness.

The deceased was in his 90th year. He was widely known throughout this section. Early in life he ran the flouring mills now operated by the Kelly brothers. About thirty years ago he retired, removing to Washingtonville, where he resided until his death. He was formerly justice of the peace, serving two terms. He was an Odd Fellow and was prominent in local affairs. He was a man of sterling integrity and of splendid principles. He was an advocate of temperance, of clean and impartial administration of the laws. He was a man who had the courage of his convictions and there was never any doubt as to where he stood on all questions that affected the public good.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, George of Muncy; Clinton, of Kansas; also three daughters, Mrs. David Deishler, of Harrisburg; Mrs. Sadie Lichtenelder, of Trenton, N. J.; and Mrs. Jacob Martz of Washingtonville.

Coughs That Hang on.

Coughs that start in the fall and hang on until spring are sure trouble breeders unless checked and cured. Bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption are the direct result. Foley's Honey and Tar cures the cough, stops the hard breathing and heals and soothes the inflamed air passages. Refuse substitutes. For sale by Pauls & Co.

Women For Enumerators.

That Uncle Sam is not a woman hater and believes in giving the gentle sex a chance in the handling of the vast amount of work connected with the taking of the coming census is shown by the fact that six women are included in the list of enumerators for this district. Three are from Northumberland county. Northumberland is one of the places to receive this distinction, Miss Eleanor Weaver receiving the appointment for the Third ward. The other appointees are Miss Vera Cardell, of Ralpho township, and Mrs. Susanna Heffelfinger, of Washington township.

A Night Alarm.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. Foley's Honey and Tar has saved many little lives and is the only safe preparation for children as it contains no opiates. For sale by Pauls & Co.

DELIGHTFUL EASTER

The climatic conditions, which have made the present spring a marvel still continue with no signs of a marked change. With such ideal weather as Sunday Easter naturally took on a charm that the day does not always possess.

The churches were well attended. Indeed, seldom has such an outpouring of the people to the several houses of worship been observed on Easter. The services, appropriate to the resurrection of our Saviour, were very impressive, the music especially being a beautiful feature. As a rule the church auditoriums were elaborately decorated with flowers.

During the afternoon, especially after the hour of Sunday school, a large number of people turned out for a stroll and the sidewalks on many of the streets presented an attractive and animated appearance.

A Pleasant Surprise.

A pleasant surprise party gathered at the home of Jesse G. Bogart, R. F. D. No. 1, on Monday night, in honor of Mr. Bogart's birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Billmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Billmeyer, Charles Gerring, Mrs. Hannah Gerring, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. John Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. James Deiterick, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Billmeyer, Mr. and Mrs. William St. Clair, Mr. and Mrs. William Steiner, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Reichard, Mr. and Mrs. George Reichard, Mr. and Mrs. J. ## New Tents For American Army.

A new tent, known as the "pyramidal" tent, has been adopted for the use of the regular United States army, the issue of which will commence when the available supply of conical tents shall have become exhausted. It is estimated that the present supply of conical tents is sufficient to meet the demands for a period of eight to ten months.

CHILD DIES AS RESULT OF BURNS

The home of Charles Knorr near the old fair ground was the scene of a shocking accident Saturday afternoon when the clothing of an eighteen-month-old child took fire and the little one was so badly burned that death ensued eight hours later.

Mrs. Knorr had been burning some rubbish. She thought the fire was extinguished, but it appears that some live coals remained. The child was playing near and, it appears, fell upon the fire. When the plight of the little one was discovered its clothing was a mass of flames.

Before the fire could be extinguished only a few shreds of clothing remained upon the child and the flesh over the greater part of the body was burned raw. Dr. Pauls was called, who did all that he could for the little sufferer, although he realized that the burns were fatal. The child lingered until about 10 o'clock Saturday night when death came to its relief.

The child's name was Albert Henry Knorr. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence. Interment will be made at Lazarus church near Grovania.

The Spring Term of the State Normal School, Bloomsburg, Pa., will open Tuesday, March 28th, 1910. It will continue four weeks. Rooms on two floors of North Hall have been opened for occupancy by girls. The course of study occupies three years. Students are admitted to advanced standing at any time. Graduates having taught two years receive salaries of not less than $50 per month as teachers. Physical Training receives special attention in a good gymnasium, and on a fine athletic field. The Model School, library and laboratories are under the direction of specialists.

"The Final Settlement."

A comedy drama by L. B. Parker, "The Final Settlement," will be the attraction at the opera house Saturday afternoon and evening. The play presents a realistic picture of American social life, is somewhat melodramatic and is one of the big successes of the present season. It depicts the rise of a brilliant and ambitious young workman from the ranks of labor to a position as president of a big iron trust. This sudden elevation bewilders his wife, who clings to her old fashioned ideals of husband, child and home. The man's ruin, and the faithfulness of the wife in the time of need, are told in a powerful manner by the dramatist.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed by Danville Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Danville endorsement. Read the statements of Danville citizens.

And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it: H. B. Foust, Front and Mill Sts., Danville, Pa., says: "The use of a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills convinced me that this remedy is one of merit. I was bothered off and on for a long time by pains in my back, especially severe when I stooped or brought any strain on the muscles of my loins. At night when I lay down I also suffered from backache. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Hunt's Drug Store, entirely relieved me in a short time and consequently I have no hesitation in recommending them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
