CHERRY PICKER BADLY INJURED

Charles Kelley, of this city, while picking cherries on the farm of W. J. Croley, near Mooresburg, Tuesday met with a fall in which he sustained serious injury, that will confine him to the house for some time.

Kelley, accompanied by Isaac Switzer, went out to Mr. Croley's farm Tuesday morning. Standing on a long ladder they were engaged in picking cherries from near the top of the tree. The combined weight of the two men overtaxed the ladder and it snapped in two, precipitating the cherry pickers to the ground, a distance of nearly twenty feet.

Kelley fell upon Switzer injuring the latter painfully about the ribs and at the same time receiving the brunt of his weight upon his right heel, fracturing one or more of the small bones.

FREE ANTITOXIN FOR THE POOR

It is quite well understood at the present day that antitoxin as a substance capable of counteracting the poisonous effects of pathogenic bacteria is as efficacious in the treatment of lockjaw or tetanus as it is in diphtheria. By its use the number of fatalities in cases of tetanus resulting from Fourth of July accidents each year has been materially reduced. The only obstacle in the way of its general use has been its cost, which made it impossible for poor people to procure it.

In order that the substance may be available in every case the State department of health this year has provided for the distribution of antitoxin free of cost among the poor. The requirements of the department in the premises are fully explained in the following letter from Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, to Dr. George A. Stock, County Medical Inspector, of this city:

Dear Doctor:—I have this day appointed Mr. W. E. Gosh distributor of tetanus antitoxin for the indigent at Danville, your county.

It can be secured upon application and receipt by physicians in precisely the same manner as diphtheria antitoxin is now distributed and used by physicians throughout the State upon the indigent.

Physicians will be expected to receipt for same before securing it and send reports to the department as promptly as possible following the use of the same.

Yours very truly, SAMUEL G. DIXON.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR MOLESKI

Sentence of death was passed on Jo Moleski by Judge Savage at Sunbury Monday morning. The prisoner was brought into the Judges' chamber and stood in front of the judge's desk his hands behind his back whirling his cap. While listening to the words of the court his eyes roved to the open land which he will never see again.

From time to time he looked the judge in the eye without flinching. The court said to him: "I have been looking over the evidence in the past couple of weeks and I am sure you had a fair trial. The crime of which you were found guilty by the jury was a brutal one, and committed for a few dollars. It was in keeping with your past conduct. Have you anything to say?"

"No," said Moleski, "I have nothing to say."

"There is but one thing for me to do, and that is to pass sentence on you. I do so with reluctance because it is an unpleasant duty of this office. The sentence of the court is that you be taken to prison and thence to the place of execution, there to be hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may God have mercy on your soul."

Not once did the prisoner flinch during the ordeal. The sheriff rose and took him by the arm and led him to his office across the hall. Moleski sat in a chair there, leaning back until the sheriff was ready to take him back to the county prison. He will never leave the county jail alive.

Moleski was found guilty of murder last December. His counsel made a motion for a new trial. After numerous delays the arguments were made. The court did not render his decision until yesterday, when the plea for a new trial was refused and the prisoner sentenced.

The murder was committed last fall on a highway near Mt. Carmel, when a miner was shot down from ambush. Moleski was identified by the miner's companion as the man who fired the shot.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed by Danville Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Danville endorsement. Read the statements of Danville citizens. And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it: H. B. Foust, Front and Mill streets, Danville, Pa., says: "The use of a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills convinced me that this remedy is one of merit. I was bothered off and on for a long time by pains in my back, especially severe when I stooped, or brought any strain on the muscles of my loins. At night when I lay down I also suffered from backache. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Hunt's Drug Store, entirely relieved me in a short time and consequently I have no hesitation in recommending them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Mayor William A. Magee, of Pittsburg, is entering on what promises to be a long legal fight to obtain better traction service. He will invoke the powers of the State to make void the charters of important companies of the Pittsburg Railway company and will seek to execute the police powers of the city to regulate traction operation, a power which he has always maintained the city possesses. Recently he had introduced in councils an ordinance to revoke franchises granted two generations ago and a resolution was introduced authorizing the mayor and city solicitor to appeal to the attorney general for quo warranto proceedings against certain companies, which are said to have violated the terms of their franchises. The councils are said to sustain the mayor.

FIGHT DEATH CARRYING FLY

It has been proved that flies are the most deadly transmitters of disease known to science; that half the deaths of babies less than 2 years old are traceable to summer complaint spread by flies, and that typhoid fever and other germs are disseminated by these house pests.

The question of how to get rid of flies is uppermost in the minds of housekeepers, who are responsible for the family health.

Scientists advise every method of extermination that can be used and every preventive measure to keep the premises clean and free from their contaminating entrance.

The best method of killing flies is to utilize the vapor from carbolic acid. The acid, which is a poison, and should not be left where children can reach it, should be dropped on a heated shovel or other smooth surface. The vapor from twenty drops will suffice to rid a room of flies.

A cheap and reliable fly poison, not dangerous to human life, is bichromate of potash in solution. Dissolve one dram, which can be bought at the drug store, in two ounces of water and add a little sugar. Set this solution in shallow dishes on window sills or where flies are thickest.

Persons who object to killing flies with poison because they are likely to fall into food should perform the operation at night after all the cooking is done and the eatables have been covered up and put away. The flies can then be swept up the next morning.

Fly paper, fly traps and liquid poisons are all effective, but scientists consider one of the cheapest and best remedies is a solution of formalin or formaldehyde in water. A spoonful of this in a quart of a pint of water left uncovered in a room will destroy all the flies. Another method is to burn pyrethrum powder, which stupefies the pests and brings them to the floor where they may be swept up.

The surest way to keep flies out of the house is to screen every door and window, to remove every vestige of refuse after meals, to keep garbage cans closely covered and sprinkled with lime or kerosene and to use disinfectants freely about drains and sinks.

The fly carries bacteria and germs from filth and refuse and distributes them upon food. It is therefore essential to screen all eatables, especially those which are eaten raw, away from the range of the fly. Milk is an ideal cultural material for germs carried on the fly's body; therefore the best method to protect the baby from disease is to keep its milk free from flies.

ALL ACCEPT AS FINAL MURPHY'S OPINION ON FIGHTERS' CONDITION

Of all the fight experts who are at Reno covering the Johnson-Jeffries fight, none has attracted as much attention as Mike Murphy, the world-famous trainer of athletes.

He is there for the Philadelphia North American, and when he pronounced James J. Jeffries in fit condition to give a battle to his huge colored antagonist, the opinion was flashed all over the country and quoted by all writers, because it is known that in the matter of physical condition his word is final.

Mr. Murphy, who is athletic director at the University of Pennsylvania, who trained the team that won the last intercollegiate meet and also prepared the American athletes for the Olympic games in England, is said to know more about the human body, athletically considered than any man in the world, and his reputation for honesty is as great as his ability.

Murphy's training articles will appear daily in The North American, including Sunday and Monday morning. On Tuesday morning will appear his comment on the fight.

Mrs. Joseph Divel, Lower Mulberry street, returned last evening after a three weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Philadelphia and Camden.

AUTO ACCIDENT NEAR PAXINOS

While traveling in an automobile early Monday morning on their way from Shamokin to Sunbury, Solomon Martz and Wesley Youcm, of Shamokin, and Thomas Rasbridge and Harold Thomas, of Milton, met with an accident in which they crashed through a fence and fell over a twenty-foot embankment, landing with the machine on top of them, at a point near Paxinos. As a result, Youcm is at the Miners' hospital, at Ashland, suffering from a broken collar bone and internal injuries and will probably die; while the others received severe injuries.

The party left Shamokin about 3 o'clock Monday morning, in a car owned by Martz's father, who conducts a garage at that place. About 4 o'clock they reached a point near Paxinos, where the road crosses the Pennsylvania railroad tracks. Here they were met by a rig and as Driver Martz turned the machine toward the right, he lost control of it. The big auto crashed through the guard rail and fell over a twenty-foot embankment, landing on the railroad tracks below. All of the occupants were buried beneath the car.

All of the men were severely hurt, but Youcm received the worst injuries. He was quickly hurried to Ashland, while the others were taken back to Shamokin. His injuries are as follows: Martz, severe cuts and bruises about the body; Thomas, both legs badly sprained, and Rasbridge, left knee out of joint and a gash three inches in length in the calf of the left leg. The machine was completely demolished.

W. Smith, who has been playing first base for the Bloomsburg Normal team, will join Alden this week. He is rated as a good man.

Manager Turner of Alden has secured almost a new team during the past few days and claims now to have a very strong line-up. He said yesterday over the phone that he expected to take at least one of the games from Danville this week.

He who started the week well has a pleasant advantage.

"REST AWHILE" AT CHULASKEY

The fine bungalow being erected on the cinder tip at Chulaskey by W. L. McClure, cashier of the First National bank, is approaching completion and will be ready for occupancy in a few days. It is an exceedingly commodious and well built affair standing on a plot adjoining the one occupied by M. G. Youngman's summer residence.

The tip, on which no slag has been dumped for some twenty-five years, is not a bare expanse of cinder as some might imagine, but is carpeted with vegetation and contains even trees, that have grown up from seed deposited there. Owing to its elevated position, it not only commands an unobstructed view of the river and the landscape beyond it, but it has the benefit of cool refreshing breeze, which is never absent even on the warmest days.

Mr. McClure's bungalow is some sixty feet long by twenty-five feet wide, containing besides sitting room and kitchen five bed chambers each ten feet square. There is also a bath room, a store room and an abundance of closets. Along one side and one end of the bungalow extends a wide veranda commanding a view of the river and the road leading to Danville. The sitting room windows command an excellent view westward.

The best of water is obtained from a well sunk beside the cinder tip and at which a gasoline engine will be installed to raise the water into a tank where it will be available or general household purposes. The bungalow is substantially built, finished on the inside with yellow pine. The contract is in the hands of John A. Mowrey.

Mr. McClure has named his summer home "Rest Awhile."

He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late." For sale by Paules & Co.'s Pharmacy.

COLD STORAGE EGGS

A Newark special says: Forty-five million eggs have been shipped into this city since April first and placed in cold storage by the warehouse men, to remain there until the high prices of last winter are duplicated. The eggs come mostly from Indiana, Michigan and Ohio. They were purchased at an average price of from twenty-three and one-half to twenty-four cents a dozen. Two cents a dozen is added to cover insurance, storage costs, etc., which brings the total cost up to about twenty-six cents a dozen. If the eggs can be retailed in New York next winter at forty-five cents a dozen—which they fetched last winter—there will be a profit of nineteen cents a dozen, or a total of something over $700,000.

Glad to Recommend Them.

Mr. E. Weakley, Kokomo, Ind., says: "After taking Foley's Kidney Pills, the severe headache left me, my kidneys became stronger, the secretions natural and my bladder no longer pained me. I am glad to recommend Foley's Kidney Pills." In a yellow package. For sale by Paules & Co.'s Pharmacy.

Alcohol to Children

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely. Children do not need stimulating." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. Follow his advice. He knows. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass. The first great rule of health—"Daily movement of the bowels." Ask your doctor if this is not so. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. Sold for nearly sixty years.

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

RATTLER CHASED FARMER UP TREE

Paul Hummel, son of Emanuel Hummel of Roaring Creek, had a thrilling experience with a mammoth rattle snake Saturday afternoon and to avoid being bitten was compelled to climb a high hickory tree and remain there several hours while the snake did guard duty at the foot.

The young man was working with a scythe in a field when he heard the ominous rattle of the deadly snake. Turning he saw close to him the largest rattler he had ever encountered. The reptile was coiled and an instant later shot through space toward young Hummel. With a cry the young man turned and ran, shinning up a giant hickory. The snake followed him to the first branch when it fell to the ground. Time and again the snake attempted to crawl the tree but the weight of its body on each occasion caused it to drop back.

Finally, after waiting several hours, the reptile glided off into an oats field and after a continued wait Hummel came down from his perch and never stopped running until he reached home. Young Hummel claims the snake was ten feet in length.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube.
