AS RESULT OF AMENDMENTS

HALDERMAN'S APPEAL

A remarkable letter has been received by Judge Evans from Elmer Halderman, the Danville boy, who was recently convicted of safe blowing in the Columbia county court at Bloomsburg, and who was sentenced to not less than 15 years in the Eastern penitentiary.

In the letter Halderman makes a plea for mercy and a lessening of the terms of certain public officers in the cities, boroughs and townships as a result of the amendments made to the State Constitution at the last election. Borough Solicitor Edward S. Gearhart has addressed a communication to the borough council warning it of grave risks and dangers and explaining what course may be safely pursued.

Mr. Gearhart states that it is conceded that the terms of all councilmen elected in 1908 for three years are extended until the first Monday of December, 1911, and their successors will be elected at the November election of 1911 and shall serve for four years. The terms of all councilmen elected in 1909 shall be extended to the first Monday of December 1913.

But the grave question seems to be, when shall the council elected in November, 1911, be organized? When are the president, secretary and other officials of the council and borough whose terms expire under the present law on the first Monday of March, 1911, to be elected? Who is to thus serve between the first Monday in March, 1911, and the first Monday in December, 1911? Or, should the legislature fix a still later time for the reorganization of council than the first Monday of December, 1911, who is to thus serve from the first Monday in March, 1911, until such later time?

These are practical questions, Mr. Gearhart says, that either remedial legislation or the courts must determine. In the absence of action of some sort from either one of the above sources the borough solicitor advises that the only safe course for council to pursue would be for its entire membership to convene in regular session on the first Monday of March, 1911, the same as formerly, and re-elect all of its present officials whose terms would expire at that time to continue to serve in their respective capacities until the regular organization of the next council on the first Monday of December, 1911, or until such time after that as the next legislature or the court must designate.

Governed by some irresistible impulse, I done wrong, for which I am doubly sorry and would give any thing if I had but the power to undo it. I beg of you, sir, to reduce my sentence and let me have something to live and hope for.

Think, think, sir, of what it will mean to mother when she is told that she may not live to see her son again.

Begging you once more to reconsider my sentence and assuring you of an immediate reformation, I have the honor to be, sir, your most humble servant.

Elmer Halderman,
Eastern State Penitentiary, Philadelphia.
