When with some soap a salesman bold
Comes in your place to thern unfold
His samples, and proceeds to say:
"This cranks, sir, in every way
The IVORY; 'tis made in fact
By the same formula exact;
'Tis just as white, indeed the man
Who makes this soap by perfect plan,
Has made the Ivory o'er and o'er
For Procter & Gamble heretofore.
Besides, this soap brings to the til
More profit than the Ivory will."

He means to use by such a game,
Your reputation and good name
A fraud or counterfeit to sell
Of what is known and proven well.

This means his soap will never go
On its own merits fast or slow;
And you, like him, the truth must toss,
Clean overboard, or sell it less.
It means still more, that throughout the
The Ivory Soap's in great demand.
For none clean with imitations frail
An article that has no sale,
And who for counterfeit will pay
The price of genuine goods to-day?
Then whence can the advantage flow
Or how can you "more profit" know?

Reply to all who do intend
To use you this to gain their end:
"When you for your own soap create,
Upon its worth demand as great
As Ivory Soap this day can claim,
I'll buy, should trade require the same;
But have no time, I tell you true,
To introduce your soap for you.
And customers perhaps offend
With goods I fear to recommend."

Don't buy the soap that salesmen say,
"Is like the Ivory every way,"
For grocers can this tale unfold
Of every hundred cakes they sold
On seventy-five a loss they bear,
Or else it ne'er had left their store.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT.

[illegible]

HOW IT WORKED.

"Good morning, Jack! why I haven't seen you for a month past. What in the world is the matter with you? You seem to have renewed your youth."

"Well Phil, I have. Don't you remember the last time I saw you, how miserable I was? Sick and blue, and in that sort of mood a man gets sometimes when he feels the one noble thing in life is to go straight to the devil."

"Not so bad as that, I hope; at all events you didn't go that way, you are looking far too happy and hearty."

"Thank goodness, no—or rather, thank Vinegar Bitters. Do you remember that day I saw you last, when you recommended that remedy to me so persistently, and I was too [illegible] and half convinced."

I remember it perfectly, and you needn't say another word upon the subject; your looks tell me that you took the medicine."

"So do'nt of it; everybody remarks upon my 'improved' looks and temper but I must really tell you all about it. I got the old style, as you recommended, and didn't mind the bitter taste at all. I finished the bottle in about two weeks, and was greatly improved, so much so that I determined to change off and try the new style.

"Well, 'you did' you like it?"

"You told me your wife preferred the new style, 'before;' well, I must say I agree with her. I like the old style very much, but the new is finer, smoother, more expensive preparation."

"I believe it is; in fact, I have heard so, and I wonder the McDonald Drug Company sell it 'at the same price they do the old style, because it is really a very costly preparation."

"Well, that doesn't concern us. Who was it said that people fancied themselves 'pious' sometimes when they were only 'bilious?' No matter! I was only going to say that I believe people often seem 'worked' when it is only their liver, or their stomach, or some other confounderous organ of the body so out of order they couldn't be good if they tried."

"And it all the miserable dyspeptic, and victims of biliousness, headache and the thousand and one ills that flesh is heir to would only take Vinegar Bitters, what a happy world this would be."

"I should recommend the new style."

"I never go back on the old style."

"Well, they suit my money and take their choice, for both kinds work admirably."
