

October Fields. In ceaseless quaver of the cricket's trill...

ALL THE FAMILY LAWYERS.

A Milwaukee special says: An entire family of lawyers. That is what the Pier family—father, mother and three daughters—are to be.

Mrs. Pier and her daughter, Katie H. Pier, graduated from the law department of the State University in 1887, and were two of the only four women lawyers who have thus far taken the law course at the State University, the other two being Mrs. La Follette, the wife of Congressman La Follette, of Madison, who graduated in 1855, and Miss Jessie Hutchinson, of Richland Center, Wis., who graduated last year.

The death-dealing electric wires are known in New York as "live wires." The man who inadvertently lays hold of them is not, however, known thereafter as a live man.

It was Miss Pier who attracted such interest in the Supreme Court last week, from the fact that she was the first woman lawyer who ever appeared before the supreme tribunal of the State. She appeared but as a young girl among the cortege of old lawyers present.

Miss Pier stated her case unhesitatingly, and frequently turned to and cited authorities, showing an acquaintance with law and a degree of self-possession. At the conclusion of her address she was cordially congratulated for the successful impression she had made, and among themselves the lawyers were unanimous of the opinion that she made an exceedingly strong and convincing argument.

It was a trying ordeal for a lady so young as Miss Pier is but twenty years of age. She has a strikingly handsome and intelligent face, and is possessed of a wealth of black hair which, in a single coil, almost trails the floor. Like exceptional young women of to-day, she wears no bangs, but combs her hair back. Miss Pier is a native of Fond du Lac, Wis., and a graduate of the Fond du Lac High School. In 1886, at the same time as her mother, she entered the law department of the State University, and by taking a double course in 1887, obtained her degree, entitling her to practice in all the State Courts. For ten months she held a position in the legal department of the Wisconsin Central Railway, retiring April 1st to associate herself with her mother.

"Yes, I like the profession," said Miss Pier to-day, "and also the science of medicine, which I have studied, too, for some years. While, of course, the two are in no way identical, still I think it well for a lawyer to be more or less familiar with medicine, as it is often useful, particularly in the taking of such expert testimony as is likely to be offered in the Cronin case."

Miss Pier's two sisters, who have just entered the State University for a course in the law department, are Carrie H., aged eighteen, and Harriet H., aged seventeen.

G. A. R. Memorial Services. Department Commander Thomas J. Stewart will, by request, deliver a memorial address before the comrades of Emory Fisher Post, No. 30, of Johnstown, in respect to the comrades who lost their lives by the recent flood. The time was set for the latter part of this month, but as Comrade Stewart can not be present at that time it has been postponed until some day next month. The Commanders' staff, including Assistant Adjutant General McCormick, Assistant Quartermaster General Williams, Chaplain Savers and other distinguished comrades will be present, and will take part in the exercises.

Locked It Up. Charles F. Fisher and W. H. Norway, had an attachment issued against W. A. Zundell, who keeps a restaurant in a basement, on Franklin street. Constable Miller locked up the restaurant. Afterwards W. H. Norway the former owner of the place and who still claims proprietorship broke the lock. When the constable returned to make the levy, he was ejected by Norway. The case was on trial before Justice A. N. Hart, and J. B. O'Connor, counsel for Norway, raised the point that no bond had been filed, and asked that the defendant be discharged. The Justice decided his point well taken and dismissed the case.
