

THE EARTH DISAPPEARED.

Part of a Pennsylvania Town Drops Into a Mine.

A disastrous cave-in of the earth's surface occurred on Friday afternoon in the town of Plains, near Wilkesbarre. The affected parts covered an area of 130 square yards and is situated in the slope of a hill. The beautiful Catholic church of the Sacred Heart stands right in the middle of the cave-in portion. Adjoining it is the residence of the pastor, Father Phillips; to the south is another building, the home of the sisters of charity; on the opposite side are the residences of Henry Masters and Evan Evans. About four o'clock the crash came. At first the earth seemed to sink gradually and then there was a collapse. A report rent the air, which was heard for miles. People ran out of their houses, thinking it was an earthquake.

Father Phillips was in the library when the report came. He was thrown from his chair and the bookcase toppled over on him. He was slightly injured. When the priest recovered from his fright he found that the front portion of his residence was ten feet in the ground and liable to drop into the mine at any moment. He rushed up stairs to his mother's room only to find that the old lady had been thrown out of her bed. She is an invalid. It was with difficulty that she was taken out of the house. Dishes were thrown off the tables and the plastering on all the rooms was knocked off. The house is a complete wreck. Loss, $10,000.

Some plumbers were at work in the church when the cave-in took place. Their first intimation of danger was the falling of the plaster in huge blocks. George Keller was struck by a falling beam from the belfry and seriously hurt. The church is past repair. The front part is down nine feet.

James Keyes' family had a narrow escape with their lives. The cellar dropped into the mine 350 feet, leaving nothing except the house standing, and one side foundation wall. Mrs. Keyes had just come out of the cellar. Lizzie Keyes was thrown against the stove and badly burned.

The earth in the main road went down about fifteen feet. There is great excitement in the neighborhood. The loss to property will reach $100,000, the Catholic Church congregation losing $50,000 of this amount. Inmates of the wrecked houses were given shelter elsewhere at night. The cave-in was caused by taking too much coal from under the earth's surface.

It Makes All the Difference in the World. If the lead had been some poor devil the office would have taken him to the lock-up, but as a certain person was led on Saturday from the scene of a row that he created, and left go a square or two away.

Great Enthusiasm. Is there where you are? Is the remark heard every five minutes in the day as one by one our friends and patrons greet us at our door, and to see you on Main street again. The flood of orders did not discourage the Economy, for our place looks better than ever—what a neat and light store you have—how is clothing, and we are selling our wares cheaper than ever, we have not the largest store in the city, but our expenses are about the smallest, and as we are willing to sell close, it will pay you to come to us.
