The world-wide reputation of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the natural result of its surpassing value as a blood medicine. Nothing, in the whole pharmacopæa, effects more astonishing results, in scrofula, rheumatism, general debility, and all forms of blood disease, than this remedy.

The common lot is one of sorrow say—at least—the pessimists, they who look at the worst side. Certainly what would otherwise be a bright existence, is often shadowed by some all-ment that overinangs it like a pail, obscuring perpetually the radiance that else would light the path. Such an allinent, and a very common one, is nervousness, or in other words, weakness of the nervous system, a condition only irremediable where inellicent or improper means are taken to relieve it. The concurrent experience of nervous people who have persivently used Hostetter's stomach Bitters is, that it conquers entirely super-sensitiveness of the nerves, as well as diseases—so called—which are invited and sustained by their chronic weakness. As the nerves gain stamina from the great tonic the trouble disappears. Use the Bitters for malaria, rheumatism, biliousness and kidney troubles.
