Not a Religious . orporation.

According to an opinion just rendered by the Supreme Court of Illincis the Young Men's Christian Association 1s not a religious corporation within the meaning of the law. In Macon county, a man named Hamsher on his death left a will by which most of his property was to be bequeathed to the Young Men's Christian Association of Decatur. Heirs contested the will on the ground that the statutes of Illinois holds that a religious body cannot hold over ten acres of land, In the opinion of the Court the Young Men's Christian Association is not wholly a religious body, but is largely a charitable and benevolent organization, and therefore the law restricting the amount of property to be held by religious corporations does not apply to said association. This is the time the question has ever been tested in the courts. Hibbard's Throat and Lung Balsam or throat and lung troubles this remedy has equal. It is guaa anteed to cure consumption its first stages, and even in advanced stages that disease it relieves coughing and induces ep. You may have a cougn or a cold at any

HIS EXECUTION AT EBENSBURG YES. TERDAY.

The Drop Fell at 1:52 O'Clock, and in Fifteen Minutes the gulation-The Warrant of Execution—The Trial and the Jury-A Detailed Description of His Last Moments and of the Execution-His Burial and His Will.

Wednesday shortly before 2 o'clock Charles Carter, colored, was executed by Sheriff Stineman in the jail yard at Ebensburg, for the murder of Joan Matthews on the 4th of last November.

The murder took place at the house of John Henry Roberts, in Conemaugh borough. Roberts is colored, but has a white wife. Their house was the resort of some people of bad character, among whom was one Mame Dunn, white. 'The trouble is supposed to have resulted from jealousy. In a quarrel Carter shot Matthews with a thirty-eight calibre, double action revolver, wounding him so badly that he died. Carter was arrested in Harresburg and soon landed in jail in Ebensburg. THE JURY AND TRIAL.

The case was tried in December, 1889, the conviction being on the 6th, and the sentence was imposed on the 13th. men chosen to serve as jurors in the trial were John L. Singer, Tobias Blough, Lincoln Roberts, James Benford, J. Blickenderfer, Nelson Fearl, John Kopp, J. A. Shoemaker, John Sharp, James Driscoll, Michael Murray, W. A. B. Little.

The trial consumed only one day, and two hours served for the jury to arrive at a verdict of murder in the first degree. The Court appointed Frank J. O'Connor and Frank P, Martin, Esqs., to defend the accused, he not having any counsel. John Fenlon, Esq., was district attorney, assisted by Chal. L. Dick and Ed. T. McNeelis, Esqrs.

F. A. Shoemaker, Esq., on February 18, 1890, presented the case to the Board of Pardons, but it met with no favorable consideration, and the warrant of execution issued as follows :

Pennsylvania, ss: James A. Beaver.

(Seal)

In the Name and by the Authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, James A. Beaver, Governor of the said Con onwealth, to Jacob C. Stineman, Esquire. High Sheriff of the county of Cambria, or to our successor in office, Sends Greeting :

Whereas, at a Court of Oyer and Terminer and

Whereas, at a Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, held at Ebensburg, in and for the county of Cambria at becember sessions, 1889, a certain Charles Carter was tried upon a certain indictment charging him with the crime of murder, and was, on the sixth day of Decem-ber, A. D 1889, found guilty of murder in the first degree, and was thereupon, to wit, on the thirteenth day of December, A. D, 1889, sen, tenced by the said Court, that he, the said Charles Carter, be taken to the prison whence he came, and thence to the jail yard, and that he came, and thence to the jail yard, and that he there be hanged by the neck until he is dead. Now, therefore, this is to authorize and require you, the said Jacob C. Stineman, High Sheriff of the county of Cambria, as aforesaid or your successor in office, to cause the sentence of the said Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gen-eral Jail Delivery, to be executed upon the said Charles Carter, between the hours of ten A. M-and three r. M., on Wednesday, the ninth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hun-dred and ninety, in the manner directed by the Seventy-Sixth section of the Act of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, approved the thirty-first day of March, A. D., 1860, entitled "An Act to consolidate, revise and amend the or your successor in office, to cause the sentence 'An Act to consolidate, revise and amend the aws of this Commonwealth relating to penal proceedings and pleadings," and for so doing his shall be your sufficient warrant. four or five times." Carter left the town, but was caught in Harrisburgh several days later. He had been arrested for riding on a freight and had written to a friend here, train W. H. Cooper, who informed on him. Constable Josiah Waters went to Harrisburgh and brought Carter here, who after a hearing was committed to jail. The Condemned Man Died of Stran- trial was held at the December term of Court as stated above.

AT THE JAIL. Things moved along without exciting a uch interest until the time of the execution drew near. About 200 tickets of admission were issued by Sheriff Stine man, and most of the holders were present, they being admitted at 1:30 o'clock through the front entrance to the jail and conducted to the yard on the South side of the jail.

THE SUAFFOLD Stood near the North-west corner of the jail, about ten feet distant from the building. It was a temporary wooden struct ure and was constructed by ex-Sheriff James Myers and Joshua Parrish. It It was about twelve feet square. The platform was eight feet from the ground with the trap doors in the center. They were together three feet square, the trapping being done by a lever. The beam eight feet above the platform, supported by staunch uprights. It was examined by Carter on Saturday and pronounced a good job. A wire drawn across the yard twenty feet away from the scaffold kept the spectators at a distance.

THE NIGHT BEFORE

Carter retired at 2 o'clock and slept soundly until 7:30 when he arose. He ook a light breakfast and spent most of the forenoon with his minister. Rev. E. M. Bowman, of the Ebensburg Presbyterian Church. He seemed penitent for his sins and the minister stated that his penitence was without a doubt sincere. Short ly after noon he and the minister took

DINNER WITH THE SHERIFF.

Eating and talking freely. He then made a round of the jail and bid all the prisoners good bye. Precisely at 12:48 Sheriff Stineman entered the cell-No. 9-and again read the death warrant. There were present, besides the Sheriff and Carter, the minister and the representatives of the press. The Sheriff's voice was sympathetic. The prisoner sat unmoved. It was a touching scene. On the opposite side of the cell from where Carter sat stood a large pot of blooming calla lillies. A light burned on another stand. Everything was neat and orderly. After the reading of the warrant was concluded Carter was again left ALONE WITH HIS MINISTER. The hymn, " Nearer My God to Thee " echoed through the jail building. The effect was mournful indeed. The doomed man bore up better than some on whose ears the sounds fell. About this time the Sheriff's jury composed of F. H. Barker, Web Griffith, B. P. Thompson, John S. Miller, D. P. Parker, A. E. Bender, Samuel Ludwig. Frank W. Gurley, Harry Lloyd, Joseph Browu, A. T. Pindle, George Soulsby met in the Sheriff's office in the jail and were sworn. After the hanging they certified to the execution.

At 1:46 Sheriff Stineman repaired to the cell of the doomed man. The jury stood at the door. Preceeded by two deputies, the Sheriff and the Minister led the prisoner to the jail yard, going out by north door. The jury followed as did the officers present and the press representatives. Carter wore a black slouch hat dark and light mixed coat and vest, and black pantaloons. His step was firm. Only he, the Sheriff and the minister went up on the scaffold. The minister offered a short prayer, after which Carter stepped to the railing and addressed those present as follows :

This is the last time I shall see you on earth I am going to my home in Heaven, there to liv-forever. I hope to meet you all there. I want to say to you that I have no hard feelings

CHARLES M CARTER, Witnesses : H. L. George, F. W. Davis, mark THE IDEAL OF WOMANHOOD.

The Woman's Congress is doing no work more important than that of recon structing the ideal of womanhood. The Sculptor Heart told me. when I was visiting bis studio in Florence, many years ago, that he was investing his life to work into marble a new feminine type, which should "express, unblamed," the twentieth century's womanhood. The Venus de Medici, with its small head and buttonhole eyelids, matched the Greek conception of woman well, he thought ; but America was slowly envolving another and loftier type. His statue, purchased by patriotic women of his native State, Kentucky, adorns the hall at Lexington and shows

SHOWE "A perfect woman, nobly planned To warn, to comfort, and command A creative not too bright or good A creative not too bright or good And yet a spirit still, and bright. With some uning of angelo light."

She is the embodiment of what shall be In an age of force, woman's greatest grace was to cling ; in an age of peace, she does not cling much but is just as tender and sweet as if she did. She has strength and individuality, a gentle seriousness ; there is more of the sisterly, less of the syren more of the duchess, and less of the doll Woman is becoming what God intended her to be-what Christ's Gospel necessitates her being-the companion and counsellor, not the toy and encumbrance of man.

men themselves are growing ! How con siderate and brotherly, how pure in word and deed! The world has never yet known half the amplitude of character The world has never yet and life to which men attain when they and women live in the same world. It doth not yet appear what they shall be,- or we either. With all my heart I believe, as do the best men of the nation, that woman will bless and brighten every place she enters and that she will enter every place on the round earth. Its welcome of her presenc and power will be the final test of any institution's fitness to survive. FRANCES E. WILLARD.

Many people think that gutta percha and India rubber are the same or very similar gums. This, however, is a mistake. India rubber is the solidified sap of a South American tree. It is of a soft, gummy nature ; not tenacious, but very elastic; is easily decomposed by oily substances, and does not stand acids well. Gutta percha which is found only in the East Indies, is obtained from the Gutta tree. It is brownish gum, which solidifies by exposure to the air.
