AS GOOD AS GOLD.

Senator Jones' Strong Plea for the Precious Silver.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Senate resumed consideration of the Silver bill, and Mr. Jones of Nevada, continued the speech begun by him yesterday.

Fears had been expressed, he said, lest gold should leave the country by reason of restoring to silver its full monetary power. Such would not be the case. For every gold dollar that left there would be a silver dollar in circulation.

If, however, gold could be kept only on condition that equality and justice should be destroyed who doubted that it should go. Gold, by leason of its greater value, notwithstanding all the legislation in its favor, could never become the common money medium of the world. A gold coin that would represent an average day's labor would be too small for convenienthandling. Silver was the money metal best suited to the mass of the people and to the variety and character of transactions constituting the interchanges of daily life. The supplies of both metals in existence, if united, by law, in the full money function, would have a steadiness of value which could not be attained by either separately. No amount of current production that could be expected from the mines could effect any appreciable reduction in their valuetheir being a combined stock of over $8,000,000,000 on hand. Were there any conceivable necessity for the demonetization of either metal, why (he asked) de-monetize that which promised the greater and more steady yield? If for any reason society should decide that any one of them should be discarded, should it not rather be that one which promised the smaller future yield than that which promised the larger? It was absolutely vital to the welfare of society that both silver and gold should be in full and unimited use as money, and equally invested with the power of legal tender.

By the remonetization of silver money will cease to be the object of commerce, and will again become its beneficent in strument. Activity will replace stagnation, movement will supplant inertia, courage will banish fear, confidence will dispel doubt, hope will supersede despair.
The lifting up of silver to its rightful plane by the side of gold will set in motion all the latent energies of the people. It will banish involuntary idleness by putting every willing man to work. It will revive business and reanimate the heart and hope of the masses. Capital, no longer fearing a fall in prices, will turn into productive avenues. The hoards of money lying idle in the bank vaults will come out to bless and enrich alike their owners and the community at large, while the millions of dollars now invested at low interest in gold-edged securities will seek more profitable investment in the busy field of industry, where they will be utilized in the payment of wages and the consequent dissemination of comfort and happiness among the people.

"ORIGINAL PACKAGE" LIQUOR HOUSES

Being Opened All Over the States of Iowa and Kansas-Whisky Sold at Leavenworth in Gill Bottles at Ten Cents Each. Торека, Kan., May 14.—Two ' nal package" liquor houses yesterday commenced business here, and many others will soon be in line. The Prohibitionists will make no effort to stop them until national legislation is secured, All of the cold water agitation will be on that line. Beer in quart bottles and whisky in half pint flasks are regarded as original packages.

A Leavenworth, Kan., telegram says: Cold water men are excited. They must begin their battle over again. Leavenworth will soon be dotted with "original package" establishments. Whisky is being sold in gill bottles at ten cents.

An Atchison, Kas., telegram says:

The "original package" decision will not cut much of a figure in Atchison. No matter what the final interpretation of the decision may be, it cannot possibly increase the amount of intoxicating liquor annually consumed in the city. Immediately after the open saloons were closed four years ago under the prohibitory law, the joints sprung into existence, and an average forty of them have been running full blast ever since. They are under police surveillance the same as gambling

A Des Moines, Iowa, telegram says: "Original package" houses are already opened in the cities and towns of Iowa. The State authorities are afraid to meddle with the new industry. It will play a prominent part in the future politics of the State.

Where to Stop.

Vandever, of Chester county, a well known and experienced hotel proprietor. It will be a convenient and delightful place to stop at when visiting Philadelphia. It is opposite the Academy of Fine Arts, one square from the Broad street station P. R. R., onehalf square from the Masonic Temple. one-half square from the new City Hall, and near all the leading places of amusement. The proprietor, Mr. Vandever, is a pleasant gentleman and will make it comfortable for those who make the Columbia their home while in the city. The terms are $2 a day.

A TUSSLE WITH A BURGLAR. Sixteen Shots Exchanged Before the Fellow Is Overpowered.

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Charles, alias Reddy Beasley, a desperate character and associate of thieves, Policeman Iseminger nd Watchman Hanley, colored, ex-Changed sixteen shots early yesterday morning with the result that Beasley was safely lodged in jail. Watchman Hanley was passing Twelfth street and Snyder avenue with his dog. He heard a noise in the yard of Fernand Martini, a saloon keeper, and crossing there, overheard one man caution another to keep quiet. The dog rushed beneath the house only to speedily come out with a yelp caused by a kick. In an instant the gate was thrown open and Beasley and a companion rushed out and up the street to an alley, which they entered and scaled a fence.

By this time Policeman Iseminger appeared on the scene. Iseminger started toward the upper end of the alley with revolver drawn, when Beasley dashed out. Both officers started in pursuit. The desperado turned and discharged two shots at the policemen, who promptly returned the fire. Hanley tried to head off the man, when the latter shot at him. The watchman responded in like manner, and this was followed by a fusillade of shots. The chase continued to Cantrell street. where Beasley entered a house in course of construction.

In an instant the officers were at his heels. He again drew his revolver, but it failed to discharge. Through the house and out to an open lot fled the fugitive, but he was not fleet enough for Hanley, and in an instant he fell beneath a club blow on the head.

Beasley was up in an instant and grap pled with Hanley, but was soon overpowered with the assistance of Iseminger. On the ground was found a revolver which contained a single bullet. Beasley's companion made good his escape, After the prisoner had been locked up, the officers returned to Martini's saloon and discovered that the kitchen door had been jimmied open. A small jimmy and some wooden wedges were lying in the yard. The prisoner said that he came from Scranton about a year ago. He was committed for burglary and held in $2,000 bail for assault and battery with intent to kill. Beasley is credited with having been a brave soldier during the war, and he wears a Grand Army badge. As "Reddy" Beasley, house breaker, he has been known to the police for almost a quarter of a cen tury, but, strange to say, there is not a single conviction recorded against him. Twenty years ago he, Mattie Dunn, and another criminal were arrested for house robbery, but they escaped by cutting their way out of a police van on the way

Ran Into an Iceberg.

QUEBEC, May 14.—The Allan Line steamship Parisian, which arrived here yesterday from Liverpool, narrowly escaped disaster off the banks of Newfound-

A heavy fog prevailed and the steamer was running cautiously at the rate of six miles an hour. The lookout sighted a huge iceberg about forty yards ahead. The engines were immediately reversed, but the steamer ran onto a portion of it at a distance of about 12 feet.

For a time the huge ship shivered from the shock, and great excitement prevailed on board, a panic being prevented only by the self-possession of the officers. The vessel lay on her broadside for a full minute, and Capt. Ritchie ordered all hands on deck, and the crew to stand by the The vessel, however, soon settled back into clear water uninjured. Had the vessel been running at a greater speed nothing could have saved her from complete wreck and great loss of life.

The McKeesport Postoffice Again.
WASHINGTON, May 14—Once more a controversy has started over the McKeesport postoffice, growing out of the confusion in the names at the time Edwin Soles was nominated, the nomination being subsequently withdrawn and the nomination of Elmer M. Soles made. correction was made without any official explanation being furnished, and this has been seized as a pretext upon which to file objections to confirmation. These protests come from McKeesport, but have ot been considered by the Senate Com mittee, as it has not yet held a meeting and the details are not disclosed. The nomination of Elmer M. Soles will be confirmed because the Postmaster General intends to make good his promise that any man Congressman Ray named, except Thompson, should be postmaster The present kick is annoying, bec consequential.

Attempted Suicide at Gallitzin.

Joseph Daugherty, a watchman by occupation, while crazy with drink on Tues day evening attempted to commit suicide. Daugherty had been on a prolonged spree. He lives in a newly-built house, and, fastening a rope over one of the rafters, made a noose, placed it about his neck, and made a determined effort to swing himself into eternity. His wife discovered him in time and cut him down with a table knife. She then summoned an offi

Gallitzin's New Water Works.

On Thursday last work was begun on the new reservoir to be built by the borough of Gallttzin. The contractor is Mr. D. Wylie, of Altoona. The reservoir will have a capacity of 500,000 gallons and the water will be pumped into it from wells, three in number, located near it. These wells have a depth of 184 feet and the water is of a fine quality. Mr. Wylie has the contract for not only building the reservoir but also for putting down the There will be no time lost in push ing the work to completion so as to give the people of the mountain top town pure water as soon as possible.
