

LOCAL ITEMS.

As cheerless as midnight on a Harrisburg curbstome is the latest comparison.

Harrisburg's curbstones are not reported upon favorably as a place for nocturnal recuperation.

A number of Hungarians arrived from the west last night to take up their abode in this city.

The foundation wall for a new brick block for the Swank Hardware Company is well under way.

A beautiful monument was erected yesterday in Grand View, to the memory of George Raab and family, by C. Keim.

When the Cambria county delegates voted for Delamater the hall was filled with hisses.

There will be a special joint meeting of Councils this evening to arrive at, if possible, some plan for the betterment of the state of the rivers.

The editor of the DEMOCRAT acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to attend the annual commencement at the Indiana Normal School next week.

OBITUARY.

Harry Parke.

The subject of this sketch died at his residence on Levegood street yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

The deceased was born in Johnstown in November, 1866, and was a son of the late John Parke, owner of Parke's Opera House and much other property about the city.

He was married to Miss Mary Kost, and to them two children were born, one of whom survives.

Harry Parke was, until his death, the only surviving member of his father's family.

In the flood his mother, his brother William, his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Rainey, and a nephew were lost.

Not a brick was left of the homestead, the large brick residence that stood on the corner of Bedford and Levegood streets.

The deceased was a member of several orders, among which were the Knights of Pythias, the Mystic Chain, and the Royal Arcanum.

The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when interment will be made in Grand View.

MRS. EMMA BUSH.

Mrs. Emma Bush, whose death from cancer took place yesterday morning at 3 o'clock, at her home, No. 117 Chestnut street, First ward, was born in Gloucestershire, England, August 22, 1839.

Her maiden name was Walker. She was married in 1852 to Joseph Bush, and came to this country with him in 1857.

The next year they came to Johnstown from Schuylkill, where they had first located.

Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Bush, of whom only four survive, viz.: Mrs. David L. Reese, Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. W. S. Caples, and Mrs. S. J. Brown, all of this city.

Mrs. Bush had long been a consistent and devoted member of the Methodist Church of this city. At the time of the writing of this article the funeral arrangements had not been completed.

Honor Men at St. Francis'.

The commencement exercises at St. Francis' College, Loreto, took place in the new college hall Wednesday afternoon in the presence of a large number of friends of the students.

Gold medals were awarded to the young men in the senior department: Joseph Garvey, Altoona, Pa., good conduct; Edmund Tierney, Philadelphia, mathematics; in the junior department, Richard McGarrigle, Germantown, for good conduct; Felix Gollan, Phoenixville, for music.

Commencement diplomas were conferred on the following: Alphonsus O'Shea, Bowling Green, Ky.; Peter McKenna, Dubois, Pa.; Edmund Tierney and John Norris, Philadelphia, and Joseph Perry and John Sullivan, Altoona, Pa. At the close of the exercises Thomas Greevy, of Altoona, delivered an address to the students, which was well timed and replete with wholesome advice.

Kicked by a Horse.

Comer Bros. the installment men on Franklin street, have as part of their outfit a fancy delivery wagon and a very spirited horse to draw it.

While delivering goods on Bedford street yesterday a boy by the name of Stutzman went up to the horse and laid his hand on him.

The horse resented the familiarity by kicking the young man on the leg, tearing his pantaloons and producing a very painful wound, which the doctor who dressed it says may prove quite serious.

After the accident Mr. Comer, who was driving the horse, started for the store, and the horse, having got a start at kicking, kept it up all the way to the store, and it was with much difficulty and the assistance of several parties that the horse was detached from the wagon.

Upon examination it was found that the horse was suffering from galled shoulders, which accounted for his exhibition of viciousness.

Sporting Men Attention.

Five wing-shots of this city are anxious to meet a like number from Altoona. They are prepared to try their skill with any of the sporting fraternity in the adjoining counties, and are willing to make stakes large enough to make it interesting. They will shoot for money and not wind.

Wedding Bells.

The marriage of Mr. Charles G. Lynch to Miss Nannie Greenwood, an estimable young lady, was solemnized last evening by Rev. W. A. Shipman, pastor of the Lutheran Church.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lynch, on Market street, where the reception followed.

After the usual congratulations, and a couple of hours spent in pleasant converse, the guests were invited to the dining room, where all partook heartily of the elegant refreshments prepared for the occasion.

The presents comprise many useful and beautiful articles, the reporter being able to obtain only the following list: A fine tea set, from the groom's parents; a silver set, from Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fockler; Master Ernest Fockler, silver salt stands; Mr. and Mrs. James James, chamber set; Mr. and Mrs. John Brazil, card receiver; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Lucas, one rocker; Mrs. Storm, counterpane; Mrs. Wolp, tidy; Mrs. Campbell, table cover; Mrs. Johns, two pairs towels; Mrs. Chriselm, of Harrisburg, pair of towels; L. D. Woodruff, one rocker; Mr. and Mrs. Pinder, two table covers; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Walters, one large crayon; Mr. and Mrs. John Layton, pair of towels; Mrs. Lavelly, towels and napkins.

THE COLORED VOTE.

Senator H. P. Derritt Tells the Occupants of a P. R. R. Car Where it Will be.

One of the two out-and-out Delamater spectators at Harrisburg from Johnstown was our well proportioned and genial colored barber, "Senator" H. P. Derritt. Nope cheered louder than he when the Crawford Senator was nominated. With unbounded satisfaction and tired of body he sought the returning train. As a companion in the seat he had Alderman Harris. The Senator was in a sound sleep when the train arrived in this city at 3:30 yesterday morning and consequently did not heed the conductor's "Johnstown."

But Alderman Harris did and left the car without waking his sleeping companion. The Senator slept on as the train moved out of the city, and the conductor failed to recognize his colored passenger as the holder of a Johnstown ticket until Greensburg was reached. There the ticket collector made effort to arouse the slumberer, who on waking exclaimed: "The colored vote solid for Delamater." It was some time before he realized where he was. Then he got off and on the first east bound train returned to Johnstown.

A New York Panel Thief Arrested in Boston.

BOSTON, June 26.—Clark Parker, a notorious thief with a lot of other names, such as William Stetson, William C. Cook, English Bill, and Bill the Brute, is a man of whom Chief Inspector Byrnes once said: "He never eats his breakfast without first stealing the price of it." He came here from New York about two weeks ago with a female accomplice, who is a well-known panel worker of that city, and they took rooms and did a lively business. The woman would entice men to enter her apartments, and Parker would go through their clothes and usually take about one-third the cash. All went well until night before last they ran across a New Yorker, who didn't propose to be robbed of $90 in that manner. His name is James H. McDonnell, and when he met the woman he had in his possession $360. When he left No. 6 Boylston place he had only $265. Mr. McDonnell went around to Station 4 and reported his loss just as soon as he discovered it. The police grabbed Parker, but the woman had skipped.

DEMOCRATS, BEWARE!

A Correspondent Who Thinks a Dark Scheme is Being Worked.

The return judges of the Democratic primary election held on June 9th, met in Ebsensburg on Monday, June 11th. The new committee elected five gentlemen as delegates to represent the Democracy of this county at the State Democratic Convention which is to convene at Scranton, on July 2d. These delegates were instructed by a large majority of the Return Judges, or rather County Committeemen, to vote for ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison for Governor. Of course if this Committee had the right to elect the delegates it had the right to instruct them; and in instructing them for Governor Pattison they were fairly and honestly representing the wishes of a large majority of the Democratic voters of the county.

I am told that certain persons in the interest of some tricky politicians are trying to have those instructions annulled, and have the delegates disobey the instructions. It is said that certain members of the Committee are being "persuaded," and "seen," and bulldozed into signing some kind of a paper that they on taking a second thought are willing to rescind their former action. There is a report afloat that some politicians about Johnstown promised Cambria county to Wallace some time before the convention.

Now, Mr. Editor, who owns the Cambria county Democracy? Not any set of politicians, by a jugful. If any of those gentlemen elected delegates to the Scranton Convention have any political aspirations, they'd better not batter out their brains by going against their instructions, fairly and publicly given. We want no bossism here, nor no set of men to give the county away.

[We think our correspondent has been imposed on. We doubt very much that any effort will be made to thwart the will of the Democracy of the county, so decidedly expressed at the meeting of the committee. The delegates elected are honorable gentlemen and Democrats, and will carry out their instructions. Cambria county has decided for Pattison and Pattison will get the votes. There is no going behind the action of the committee, and any underhanded political scheme now resorted to, having for its object the disobeying of the instructions, would only result to the discomfiture and political bankruptcy of those engaged in it.—Ed. DEMOCRAT.]

A Guilt Edged Report

Pittsburgh Leader.

It is said the report of the State Flood Commission will shortly be issued, and promises to be an elaborate and voluminous affair. The Relief Committee members are waiting to know what money is to pay for the issuing of this guilt edged report. They say if it is from the relief fund that money is being perverted from the purpose for which it was intended, and that it should not be allowed. One committeeman said: "This book is being printed solely for the glorification of Governor Beaver and members of the commission. There have been plenty histories of the flood written, and what can this historian of theirs do but compile a history from the ones that have been published. Mr. Beale's book is all right except in the eyes of Beaver and the commission. It does not give enough space patting them on the back. What a howl would have gone forth if the Pittsburgh Relief Committee had spent hundreds of dollars in getting out an elaborate history of what it had accomplished. If the commission uses relief money to get out this mammoth almanac, its action will be little less than criminal."

IOWA'S HOT WAVE.

The Mercury Above 100 Degrees—Many Cases of Sunstroke.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 26.—The mercury has reached above 100 degrees on each of the past four days in Des Moines, and reports of excessively high temperature come from all parts of the State. Two laborers were also overcome. One of them will recover and the other is in a critical condition. The heat at Davenport has been terrific for the last three days, the nights being as stifling as the days. The thermometer registered from 116 to 120 degrees yesterday. A Davenport dispatch says: The heat yesterday exceeds anything recorded in Iowa since the Signal Service was established, reaching 97 degrees. Street work and much work in factories, mills and lumber yards was suspended. Several men were overcome by the heat. A Bellevue dispatch says: Owing to the extreme hot weather business was entirely suspended yesterday. The mercury stood 102 in the shade.

Death of Mr. John Champeno.

Mr. John Champeno died at his residence, No. 77 Second street, Wednesday morning at 1 o'clock. His death was the result of injuries received a few days ago at Blast Furnace No. 6, an account of which has been published in the DEMOCRAT. Mr. Champeno was one of the oldest furnacemen in this city. He was born in Blair county, April 23, 1824. He served as a private in the Mexican war, and upon returning he resumed his work at Allegheny forge. He came to Johnstown in 1853, and first was employed at Rhey's Furnace, but soon entered the service of the Cambria Iron Company. He enlisted in the army during the late war. After returning from the army he continued to work at the furnaces, where he soon became keeper and later night foreman, at which he was occupied at the time of the accident. The deceased was married prior to coming to Johnstown to a Miss Spade. Nine of their eleven children survive as follows: Louise, wife of Michael Quirk, of Bradnock; George W. of Homestead; Henry, of this city; Lizzie, wife of George Gore of this city; William, of Morrellville; Edward, of Bradnock; Harriet, Jennie and Maggie, unmarried and at home. The deceased was a member of the Ancient Order of the Knights of the Mystic Chain, and of the Cambria Mutual Relief Association. The funeral will take place to-day at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. H. L.
