THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS

DAILY, SUNDAY, WEEKLY. FAMILY PAPER Which Is Clean, Unsensational And Just The Paner American Home.

The Passs has the best possible organization ascure news from the most important sources and with nearly 400 correspondents in Pennsylsnia, New Jersey and Delaware, the State ascard-home, news is covered with a routing arefuluess and attention to detail not even by the West, who keep the paper more than abreast with aventa.

The columns of the Sunday Parss are enriched by contributions from those whose names are written algal in our lists of great authors, novelists, seasylsts, as well as from men of high rank in life. The best authors know that their best authoneses are the readers of the Dally, Sunday, and Westry Piezs.

In politics The Parss knows no other master than the people and the past year has seen, as has been seen before, the marked fact that it is abbervient to no political boss. It has no political smittions to foster, but jooks after the interests of its readers, and delivers itself upon the issues of the day in a manner both frank and fearless, letting the facts speak for themselves and evading no issues but meeting them all one the basis of fair play to all men at all times. Its pages know no distinctions and the rights of one class over another are neither recognized nor supported.

As to the little controversy between us, so far as I am concerned it will not be allowed to interfere with the feeling of good will which I personally entertain for you, though the charge brought against me through your columns hasn't an atom of truth to rest on. SOME PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY. A little practical Christianity was in-ulged in by a good many of our people, vesterday. It came about in this way Archie Hamilton, who has long been a itizen of this town, moved to West Salcitizen of this town, moved to West Sal-isbury, and being a very poor man, he moved his household goods himself, as best he could, carrying some of them and wheeling some through the deep snow on a wheelbarrow. He worked hard all day and made many trips through the snow, but the goods, who are more forest-him. but the people who are more favorably situated in life than Archie could see the great patent agency firm of Munn & Co., New York, is the most practically useful publication of its kind in the country. Indeed, it occupies a field distinctively its own. Not alone for the machinist, manufacturer, or scientist, but it is a some ofher laboring men that some money of the machinist, manufacturer, or scientist, but it is a some ofher laboring men that some money of the more favorably situated in life than Archie could see nothing in his hard lot other than some thing to laugh about. At last, however, a pitying eye fell upon him, and Sam Stump, a laboring man, suggested to some ofher laboring men that some money send with The Star for $3.50 per year.

It is the standard authority on scientific and mechanical subjects. It is placed at a very low rate of subscription. $8 per annum, which places it within the reach of collection all hollow. It was only a short time until money enough was raised to IF Salisbury gets that much talked of but numerous other articles of wearing apparel as well. Archie was soon togged up from head to foot, and a more grateful man you never saw.

Now there is food for reflection in all this, for when some poor fellow mortal is in need, who are the first and most willing men to help him? The laboring

"I read the last issue of the Reporter through, even to the tirade against Pete Livengood. Now I do not pretend to say that Pete was infallible, or that he has no faults, but I do think he got out a good paper and think also that his going back to his native home and starting a paper among his old friends who knew him is evidence enough to show that he was not so utterly deprayed. Of course I do not say this to indicate that I am going to fight Pete's battles for him, for I think him perfectly able to take care of himself."

"In it." So will all other people who are charitable and ever ready to help a fet low mortal who is in need of help. Remember that giving to the poor is lending unto the Lord, and when a fellow lends the sweet pains run all over a man's anatomy more freely and pleasantly than even "mountain dew" or bard cider are able to do.

There is nothing reasonable under the sun that any man wants to know that cannot be found in the columns of THE PITTEBURGH DAILY TIMES, which we will
