BEATTY'S PIANOS AND ORGANS,
Hon. Daniel F. Beatty, the great Organ and Plano manufacturer, is building and shipping more Organs and Planos than ever. In 1870 Mr.
Beatty left home a penniless plow-boy, and by his indomitable will he has worked his way up so as to sell so far, nearly 100,000 of Beatty's Organs and Planos since 1870. Nothing seems to dishearten him; obstacles laid in his way, that would have wrecked any ordinary man forever,
he turns to an advertisement and comes out of it brighter than ever. His instruments, as is well known, are very popular and are to be found in all parts of the world. We are informed that during the next ten years he intends to sell 200 000 more of his make, that means a business of $20,00,000 if we average them at $100 each.
It is already the largest business of the kind in existence—Send to Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jerrey, for Catalogue.

THE COUNTY CAPITAL.

The past week has been a sensational ne in the history of Somerset county, and the town was filled with visitors here on business and out of curiosity.

On the 25 ult. the case of the commonwealth vs. Florence Fuhrer was taken up. Charge, murder. It was very stubbornly contested all through and the sur mises of the spectators as to the verdict were many. On the 27 ult. the jury re-turned a verdict of voluntary man-staughter. Counsel for the defense have since filed a motion for a new trial.

The defendant in this case is a man of fine presence and more than ordinary intelligence. His demeanor on the witness stand was such as to carry conviction of is truthfulness and made him many friends. There was much dissatisfaction expressed at the verdict, and we think a verdict of acquittal would have given general satisfaction. Clearly anshoot at the crisis or stand and be struck furious assailant.

Another Man Heard From Who is in Favor of Naming Our Town New Salisbury, Mr. Editor.—Will you allow a reader econd the suggestion made by Mr. J. C. Lowry regarding the name of our old town? The complication of the railroad station, postoffice and the borough hav ing different names has long confused not and one that would satisfy all persons concerned. I sincerely hope, Mr. Editor, you appreciate the benefit you would do the community to agitate this matter until it is settled. Wishing you success in it, I am not unmindful of the objections some will make, no matter what name should be suggested, but don't roll up your sleeves and go at it with an idea you can please Strike to accomplish the pur-

I enlisted Sept. 16th, 1861, for thre years. My first experience in a battle was at Yorktown, April 5th, 1862, along Warwick creek, near Lee's Mills. Up to this time we were engaged in drilling and doing picket duty; but now the stern re-alities of war had begun, and in a most Thursday was the day to fish, but I abrupt manner, too. On the evening of think there were more fishers than fish.

April 4th my regiment was marched out There are some dogs in this neighbor- to within about 1000 yards of the Rebel fortifications, where we stacked arm and went to work fortifying our position. We worked faithfully all night, with pick and shovel, and at daybreak the Rebels opened their hig guns on us. That was the first time I ever saw or heard a shell and I thought the day of Judgment had come, the way the limbs of trees fell and the deadly missiles flew. That was the boy that arrived lately.

The widow of Joel Miller, Sr., is at He was shot almost in two, his heart hanging out at one side. I was so horribated in the sight that I wished I was at of keeping the sheep away from that big first time I saw a man killed, and I never home, up on the garret, behind the chimney, and had it not been for the dishono I believe I would have deserted. I soon got used to seeing men killed, however house in the near future. Some more of our farmers ought to make a speciality of raising poultry.

I noticed several mistakes in my last sands of their dead and wounded on the week's tenue which I make a process of their dead and wounded on the field. It was at this battle that Hancock and the corrections are as follows:

foot cavalry," as we were called.

As before stated, we encountered the Rebels at Williamsburg, with a strong line of forts and rifle pits, Fort Magrader the principal defense, and commanding the Williamsburg road. Our division arrived in front and in sight of this fort at sunset, lying on our arms that night. Next morning (the 5th of May) Gen. Hancock, commanding our brigade, was o and took up our position on the right of fort Magruder, in a corn field. It had rained the previous day and night, and was still raining, so you can form some idea of what kind of a place we had to lie down in. We were scarcely formed in line when the "Johnnies" opened fire on us from the fort with shot and shell. We remained there until 4 P. M., and during all this time we could hear the rattle of musketry and the booming of cannon on our left, where Gen. Beck wa engaging the enemy on the left of the Williamsburg road, where he broke through their lines, causing somewhat of a panic, whereupon Joe Johnson, then in command of the Rebel forces, in order to regain his lost position in the center, formed a storming party to turn our right flank. Hancock seeing their movements.

Agent for Somerset Co. flank. Hancock seeing their movements ordered a retreat. We demurred, bu had to obey. We were all anxious to have a fair, open fight, and now to retreat seemed to us to be cowardly; but Hancock knew his business, and when he came dashing along the line, giving instructions to the field officers of each regiment, our old Colonel drew his revolve others are plowing corn.

When our old fighting Colonel saw the Rebels coming, he said, '49th, this is glory for me; do honor'to the old Keystone state, and when you fire, aim low; and remember you squaddrill." They came in one line of battle, streching across the entire field in front of us, and when within 300 yards of us the order was given to fire at will. The engagement lasted 20 minutes, and when the smoke cleared away the Rebeis were the smoke cleared away the Rebeis were gone, except the dead, wounded and prisoners. Their loss was very heavy, while ours was very light.

That night I was put out on picket and remained on post all night without being relieved. It was a long, dreary night to me. I had not a dry thread on me and the night was cold and chilly. Next morning the Rebeis were gone and we were at liberty to make fire and dry and drains and instruction was engaged. I saw a sight there that I battle field. There was but one place along the line where the dead lay in greater numbers than in our front. and that was where Gen. Kearney's division was engaged. I saw a sight there that I transfixed by each others bayonets, and neither one of them had entirely fallen to the ground, their guns being lock 2 leaving them in a half lying and half kneeling position, with eyes open, staring each other in the face, stiff and cold in death. We remained there a few days, after which we took up our line of march for Richmond.
