THE IMPROVED ROASTER & BAKER

Possesses all the fine points of all other pans and then steps far ahead of them in quality of material, simplicity of construction, durability, and the thorough manner in which it does its work. It is one of the greatest labor-saving utensils ever placed in the kitchen.
As a baker of bread, beans, potatoes or fish, it has no equal. It does its own basting and retains all the strength and flavor of the meat.

We want an agent in every county in the United States, and will pay liberal commissions.

For the Consideration of Our Catholic Friends and Some of the Members of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

It pains us to observe the bitterness that occasionally crops out in this vicinity between some of the Catholics and some of the members of the Jr. O. U. A. M.
This is not as it should be, and we believe it is all due to misunderstandings.

To show that there is no occasion for hatred between the Catholics and the Jr.
O. U. A. M., we publish herewith a letter from a Jr. O. U. A. M. State Organizer, which was written to the editor of the Lonaconing Review, in which paper it appeared some time ago. We trust that the said letter will do all parties concerned some good, especially those of the Juniors who are always stopping over at the mouth and doing all they can to annoy the Catholics, as well as those of the Catholics who are always doing all they can to insult and abuse the Jr.
O. U. A. M. While it is true that all sects and societies have different views upon certain questions, it should also be remembered that all of us have equal rights to believe as we please and to perpetuate the doctrines we believe in. But there is no reason why we should abuse each other concerning our beliefs. Following is the letter referred to; read it and profit by it:

EDITOR REVIEW.—By request of a number of our order and some of your business men of the towns along George's Creek, I address you in regard to what our order is, with a short declaration of its principles.

First, our qualifications for membership are as follows: Any white male person born in the United States of North America, its territories, or under the protection of its flag, who shall have attained the age of sixteen years, who is of good moral character, a believer in the existence of a Supreme Being as the Creator and Preserver of the Universe, in favor of free education, opposed to any union of church and state, shall be eligible to membership.

Our general laws of the order provide that subjects of a sectarian or partisan character shall not be introduced into any meeting of the order, nor shall any member make use of any doctrines of church or refer to sect or use any political power in a meeting of this order. Now it is certainly plain to any of the readers of your paper that we do not debar any church nor creed from joining our order. We are a patriotic organization and intend to protect our free and public institutions of America.

Any person who is between the age of 16 and 50, has a good moral character, and born in America can join us. We oppose no church, we allow every denomination, both Catholics and Protestants to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience. Our ritual gives every member the privilege of answering this question in the anti room before taking the obligation.

There is no reason why a member of the Catholic church should not become a member of the Jr. O. U. A. M. Many people who are good Catholics and are trying to serve God to the best of their ability, think we are opposed to their sectarian schools. This I deny. We are opposed to any sectarian school, no difference what church has it. We are not so particularly opposed to the church having her school as long as our government is not constantly appropriating funds to support them. We believe, the public funds should be appropriated only to public institutions.

There must be no sectarianism, whether political or religious, in our public schools. Now any member of the Catholic faith who believes in our public schools and the reading of the Holy Bible therein, is eligible to membership in any country of the Jr. O. U. A. M. on the continent of America. We say no union of church or state! No interference with religious liberty! No public moneys for sectarian schools or asylums! To all who come to us we say: Respect our free institutions and we will respect you; but if you touch those you become our enemies, and must be treated as such.
This is the only point that any church could object to in our principles. I know that there are a number of our members who make cranks of themselves and oppose a man on account of his religion, but this is wrong, and should be prohibited in every council. Now to the members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. let me say to you that you must not attack any man's religion. We are American citizens, must play in the defense and as long as the people, the churches, and the sectarian institutions let us alone, is our duty to let them alone.

My experience as State Organizer of Maryland is this, that in one-half of this and other states where our order exists, I find members in our order who are members of the Catholic church. I have had the pleasure of addressing councils in their executive session, and I have addressed large public audiences, where I have been appealed to not to hurt the feelings of the Catholic members.
Those were members who were of the opinion that a member of the order had to abuse or attack the church. This is wrong. A man who cannot speak of the true principles of the Jr. O. U. A. M. without abusing any member of a church, because he does not think as he does, is not fit to be a member, much less a public speaker from the order's principles.

While visiting Howard Council, No. 26, at Ellicott City, and after a pleasant council meeting, I was invited home with one of its best members, and after we arrived at his home and in conversation I learned that he was a member of the Catholic faith. There I learned that he was in favor of free institutions and was paying a large amount of taxes to our government and its institutions, yet he had his amount to pay out to their sectarian school also, and this was his business and not ours. I hope that as much as possible the heads of councils throughout the country will do all they can to prevent this opposition to this particular church. Inform your membership and especially those who are young and under the impression that we as an organization are banded together for the purpose of opposing any church, that they are wrong, and all we want any man to do after we receive him as a member is to practice our objects which are in the hands of every member, and allow everybody to worship God as he thinks best. But in every instance be certain to always be ready to allow every man his own opinion, and at all times keep our secrets within our membership, and not be giving away the doings of your council meetings, how you give the grip, and what the pass words are, because if this is not our own, then every man is a member without taking that solemn obligation we have to take in our council chamber.
Hoping this may prove to be a benefit to our membership and to those who are under the impression that we are banded together to oppose any church, may now see the error of their ways and repent.
I am fraternally yours,

JAMES A. MULLIE,
National Representative and State Organizer of Maryland.

EDITORIAL REMARKS.

THERE are not half so many innocent men in prison as there are guilty men outside of prison.

But Tom Reed does not throw up his bat when Republicans talk about the certainty of McKinley in 1896.

The man who "never had a doubt" is now having his innings. Wonder if this chap was not one of the plagues of Egypt?

SOME fine journalistic hair-splitting is being exhibited on the editorial page of the New York Herald, which opposes Harrison and supports Reid, who was its own candidate for vice.

ALTHOUGH composed entirely of native Ohioans the Republican ticket has by no means exhausted the Ohio presidential timber. She can furnish all the parties without materially depleting the stock on hand.

A LAW that would keep office-holders and Congressmen away from nominating conventions of all sorts would be a long step in the right direction, and for that very reason there isn't much probability of its being enacted.

HON. A. G. PORTER, U. S. Minister to Italy, is a rare official; he believes, or at least he says he does, that it would be wrong for him to become a candidate for nomination for Governor of Indiana while holding his present position.

E. Stetler recently purchased the Samuel Glotfelty land on the west side of Grant street, opposite the residences of John Rees and S. R. McKinley. Consideration, $1,115. This is one of the finest building sites in town, and Mr. Stetler always knows a good thing when he sees it.

THE pilot of W. K. Vanderbilt's steam yacht appears to have about the same feelings towards the public as that expressed upon a notable occasion by the late William H. Vanderbilt. After killing two people he did not even stop his yacht to see if their bodies might be picked up.

LONDONERS thought they had struck something entirely original when they got up a donkey show. Donkey shows have become so common in this country that they no longer excite comment.
Wherever two or three professional politicians are gathered together there also is a donkey show.

If it be true that the brother of the gentleman who is at present Governor of Massachusetts and who is believed not to be averse to being "called up higher," always privately addresses him as "Governor" and is always in return addressed by him as "Colonel," somebody ought to kindly steer the fool-killer in that direction.

THERE is sense in the proposition to have women drug clerks, although it might interfere with the sale of whisky by the drink by drug stores. A polite woman would be a decided improvement upon the overdressed batch of masculin-conceit one meets all too often behind the counters of drug stores. It is a light business, and, barring the long hours, is peculiarly adapted to the ways and capacities of women.

THE Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia has just delivered a locomotive to a railroad company in Sweden.
Bids were invited from Swedish, English and American builders, and the contract was awarded to this American firm, which agreed to deliver the locomotive in ten weeks, while the British wanted a year's time. In a contest between the United States and Great Britain the latter country does not get a place.

THE Democratic House cut the pension appropriations down to the lowest notch, not leaving sufficient to pay the pensioners at present on the pay role. The Republican Senate very promptly put the figures up sufficient to cover those on the roll and leave a margin for estimated increase, but the sum is not yet up to the estimates of the department. There ought not to be any quibbling over this important subject. The money is there and it could not be devoted to a better purpose. The Senate should amend the bill so as to bring the sum appropriated up to the departmental estimate.—Somerset Herald.

WHAT effect would it have on American commerce if England should adopt a Protective Tariff?

That would depend entirely on the articles or classes of articles upon which England would levy Protective duties.
If, for instance, she would levy such duties upon our farm products she might do us some harm. But it is highly improbable, in fact quite impossible, that England would do this. Fifty years of persistent Free-Trade have so nearly ruined British agriculture that a duty levied on foreign farm products would be little more than a revenue duty.
There is scarcely any home industry to protect, and revive English farming would take so much time that her artisans and mechanics would starve in the interim. Lord Salisbury recognized this in his speech denouncing the British Free-Trade policy when he said:

"What we want the United States to furnish us with mostly are articles of food essential to the feeding of the people and the raw materials necessary to our manufactures, and we cannot exclude one or the other without serious injury to ourselves. Now, I am not the least prepared, for the sake of wounding other nations, to inflict any serious or dangerous wounds upon ourselves. We must confine ourselves, at least for the present, to those subjects on which we should not suffer very much whether the importation continued or diminished."

It is to be seen from this statement of the British premier that nothing is further from his mind than the idea of excluding the products of American agriculture. As for the other things on which Great Britain could levy retaliatory duties, she could not injure her commerce to any great extent. England buys nothing from us to-day which she does not absolutely need, and she will continue to buy the things which she finds necessary in the future, Tariff or no Tariff.
On the whole we can look forward to the adoption of Protection by Great Britain with a great deal of serenity, feeling pride in it more than anything else, as a triumph of American Protectionist doctrine. We should remember, too, that only because of our Protective system do we need to feel so little anxiety at the prospect of an English Tariff; for that system has given us a home market to which no foreign market can be compared in importance. Continue that system and we will so extend our home market, that in a very short time the American farmer will not need to export any of his surplus, since all of it will be consumed by our own people. When that time comes our farmers can snap their fingers at England or any other country, whether they adopt a Tariff or not.

Grassy Run Picnic.
Local assembly No. 10,859, K. of L., will have a grand picnic, July 4th, in Fairview Grove, Grassy Run, Pa. This picnic will be the best 4th of July picnic in all this neck of the woods. Everybody is cordially invited to take part in the enjoyment, and THE STAR will vouch for it that all who attend will meet with excellent treatment and have a royal good time.

Virginia may be the mother of Presidents and Kentucky of Speakers of the House, but New York is decidedly and emphatically the mother of Vice Presidents. Eight New Yorkers—Aaron Burr, George Clinton, Daniel D. Tompkins, Martin Van Buren, Millard Fillmore, William A. Wheeler, Chester A. Arthur, and Levi P. Morton are all on the roll already. Whitelaw Reid will make the ninth.
