BEATTY'S PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Hon. Daniel F. Beatty, the great Organ and Piano manufacturer, is building and shipping more Organs and Pianos than ever. In 1870 Mr. Beatty left home a penniless poor boy, and by his indomitable will he has worked his way up so as to sell to day nearly 100,000 of Beatty's Organs and Pianos since 1870. Nothing seems to dishearten him; obstacles laid in his way, that would have wrecked any ordinary man forever, he turns to an advertisement and comes out of it brighter than ever. His instruments, as is well known, are very popular and are to be found in all parts of the world. We are informed that during the next ten years he intends to sell 200,000 more of his make, that means a business of $20,000,000 if we average them at $100 each. It is already the largest business of the kind in existence—Send to Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jersey, for Catalogue.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Southampton.

Abraham Shoemaker, from Meyersdale, is at present visiting his brother, Baley, and relatives, in this vicinity.

Dan Evans is again running his steam sawmill to its utmost capacity.

Nelson Bittner, our enterprising distiller, has built a large ware room. He contemplates putting up a machine to chop his own rye.

A magdalen is making the rounds in this section of country in the way of legendarism and ventriloquism. He gave the people an entertainment last Thursday evening. It was instructive as well as amusing.

Presiding Elder Dömer, of the Evangelical church, preached an excellent sermon near Pleasant Union, where they are holding a bush meeting at present. This sermon was preached on the 7th inst., from the 95th Psalm, part of the 5th verses: "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

Two ladies, while out buggy-riding between the place of the bush meeting and Pleasant Union, had a run-away and the result was, the two ladies were thrown out in the road, but no one hurt.
PRIMA DONNA.

Aug. 8, 1892.

Grantsville, Md.

Farmers are busy cutting oats, plowing for wheat, etc.

Early apples and pears were ripe on the 25th ult, and early peaches were ripe on the 1st inst. Old Garrett "gets there just the same."

Chas. Wegman went to Oakland, on Monday. John E. Gnagay, wife and several smaller members of the family, visited relatives in this city last week. Mr. Gnagay is one of Accident's most prominent citizens, is engaged in mercantile business, and is postmaster of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Lep. Augustine, of near the little hamlet of Keyser, this county, visited relatives here last Sunday.

The Republican primary was held, here, last Saturday. Delegates were elected to represent this district in the County convention, at Oakland, where three delegates are to be selected to represent this county at the Congressional convention, to be held at Cumberland, August 10th. The primary was organized by electing Chas. Wegman President and C. J. Otto Secretary. The following delegates were chosen: C. J. Otto, Samuel Baker, J. E. and A. L. Gnagay, and H. Bittinger.

Dr. Bruce Lichty is justly proud of his blooded, Kentucky horse, "Dandy," as he "gets there" in short order.

The Farmer's hotel, recently opened to the public, by James E. Gnagay, and formerly known as the Mellinger house, had a crew of telegraph line repairmen as lodgers, over Sunday. This place is now well supplied with good hotels.

The lock-up had a lodger last Saturday night, whose interior had too much spirit juice, the vapors of which ascended into the cranium, which placed the intellectual faculties in an "at-random" condition, causing the victim to be "somewhat indisposed," as the veteran lexicographer, Sam. Folk, would term it.

E. J. Miller is repairing the interior of the Lutheran church building. We understand the outside is to have a fresh coat of paint, which will certainly improve its appearance very much.

Harvest Home services were held in the German Reformed church, by the pastor, Mr. Evans, last Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated with the various cereal products, fruits, garden products, flowers, etc., emblematic of the occasion. The pastor preached a very interesting sermon, and included in his address to the Sunday school some remarks on the importance of giving of the best as aims, and of the selfishness of putting that into the Lord's treasury, which could not be used for other purposes. The remarks were well appreciated and did not come amiss.
SATZLEER.

August 9th, 1892.

West Salisbury.

Wilson Martin is not able to work at present, on account of a fall of slate falling on him, one day last week, in the Cochrane mines. He thinks he will be able to go to work in a few days.

Edgar Showalter has now embarked in the canvassing business and is meeting with good success. He is taking orders for memorial pictures.

The feature of the evening, on Saturday, was a foot race which was not on the bills. The participants started at West Salisbury, passed the picnic grounds like a whirlwind and never stopped until they reached East Salisbury. Sam, we are told, won the race.

A. H. Shumaker spent Saturday and Sunday with parents and friends, at Berkleys.
Aug. 10th, 1892.

Mr. John Carpenter, of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for diarrhoea and severe cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides its other good qualities it is pleasant to take." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Copland, the druggist, Meyersdale, Pa.

State Line.

Weather warm and dry. We need a good rain. S. S. Miller is scooping for a fish pond. Henry Miller is adding about 4 feet to the height of his house and putting a new roof on.

People are busy cutting oats.
Roasting ears are now in prime.
The new road that C. T. Lee has superintended is the best and nicest between Salisbury and Grantsville. Mr. Lee also put a water trough in front of his house for the public. C. is a hustler and knows how to do things right.
JANUS.

Aug. 10th, 1892.

During the epidemic of flux in this county, in 1888, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the remedy. I have been selling patent medicines for the past ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of diarrhoea and flux than any other medicine I have ever handled.—J. H. BENHAM, Druggist, Golconda, Pope Co., Ill.

Over five hundred bottles of this Remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic referred to. It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases. Dozens of persons there will certify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this remedy has been equally successful. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Copland, the druggist, Meyersdale, Pa.

A Gala Day in the Forest.

It was on Thursday, Aug. 4, that a company consisting of Misses Emma Johnson, of Uniontown, Mary Keim, Carrie Smith, Alice Smith, Ida Beachy, Lucy Beachy, Alice Beal, Olive Livengood, of Salisbury, and Messrs. Ellet Smith, of Allegheny, S. McClure, of McKeesport, Rev. Kribbs, Ed Haselbarth, Jno. Beachy, Jno. Barchus, Harvey Keim and C. E. Dickey, of Salisbury, visited Peck's Spring.

Promptly at 8 o'clock A. M. the procession began to move slowly, but not silently, toward the hallowed spot in the mountains. At about 11 o'clock the company arrived at the home of Mr. Hoffmyer, who cheerfully opened his stables for the comfort of the horses.

After the horses were cared for, naturally, a short debate followed. Question: "Resolved that we eat here."

Of course the gentlemen affirmed, but lost. The command to shoulder goods was promptly obeyed and soon all were seen measuring the distance by single paces. After walking perhaps a mile over a smooth road, we turned abruptly into the forest. All signs of habitation vanished, and we were left at the mercy of all manner of wild beasts and venomous reptiles. At first there was profound silence, not even the chirp of a bird could be heard. But alas! we were not compelled to take our journey alone. Our voices echoed and re-echoed through the dense hemlocks and were answered only by the bewailing cries of thousands of hungry mosquitos. They were company, however, and made it quite interesting before the journey was completed.

Quite a number betrayed their aesthetic culture by going off into raptures over the scenery that was exhibited along the way. The climax, however was reached when the spring was discovered. A feeling of admiration went through the entire company as they beheld the large body of pure, clear, sparkling water before them; and far was it from producing a different effect when they cooled their parched tongues with the same. Only a few minutes were spent in this kind of foolishness. The gentlemen had not forgotten the heavy burdens that occupied their attention during the walk and were desirous of putting them to useful service. The ladies comprehended, and in a short time the entire company sat around a table not made with hands and smiled a smile that was indicative of general satisfaction. This effort clearly demonstrated that "Life without woman would be a failure."

To say the dinner was enjoyed, would be expressing it very mildly. The balance of the day was spent in shooting mark, shooting snakes, exploring, fishing, etc. This spring is about 60 feet in diameter and to us seemed bottomless. It has an underground outlet and is as clear as crystal. It is located about eleven miles from Salisbury and easily reached. Why not go often?

Well, we left this spring, but not until we again paid our respects to the basket. Five o'clock found us again at Mr. Hoffmyer's. He opened wide the doors of his parlors and for quite a while all were highly entertained by Mr. McClure, who operated upon the organ. By this time the penetrating rays of "Old Sol" ceased effecting us and we resumed our journey towards home, which we reached by 9 o'clock. All express themselves as enjoying the trip very much.

Who will be the next?

ONE OF THEM.

As a general liniment for sprains and bruises or for rheumatism, lame back, deep seated or muscular pains, Chamberlain's Pain Balm is unrivaled. For sale by Copland, the druggist, Meyersdale, Pa.
