THE CARD: Hack leaves Salisbury every day, except Sunday, at 8:00 A. M.
Leaves Meyersdale every day, except Sunday, at 1:30 P. M.
Passengers should always secure their passage the evening before they intend to go away, so that the Conductor will provide ample accommodations for all.
Extra trips made to all points when requested. Baggage and parcel carrying a specialty. First-class accommodations in every respect. The hack line affords the only convenient means to travel to and from Salisbury.
JOHN COLEMAN, Proprietor.
JOHN SCHEMME, Conductor.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Oysters will soon be ripe, thank God. The hum of the thrasher is heard in the land.
Rev. Baumgardner has returned home from abroad.
Mrs. John J. Livengood is quite ill, but is now improving.
H. R. Shaff orders THE STAR sent to his address at Glade, Pa.
The katadids are having their innings now, as are also the crickets.
Miss Edith Lichter is being visited by a Miss Williams, a friend of hers.
Mrs. M. C. Berkley was quite sick during the week, but is again better.
There are daily crusades of our people against Greenville blackberry patches.
Read Wm. Perry's new "ad" in this issue. Billy never runs out of bargains.
R. Jeffery says the Grand lodge, K. of P., was a big affair, last week, at Pittsburg.
Rev. Enlow and D. L. Stanton, of Grantsville, were seen on our streets this week.
The next session of the Grand lodge, K. of P., of Pennsylvania, will be held at Sunbury.
Genial Jesse Slick, of Garrett county, Md., was seen on our streets, Monday morning.
All about the Tennessee miners' war and the big strike at Buffalo, on our inside pages.
There will be excursion trains from this place for both the Lutheran and Reformed reunions.
There will be some more races at Rockwood on Saturday. Samuel Buckman is at the head of the affair.
Chas. Wegman and Miss Lillie Kurtz, both of Grantsville, were guests at the Valley house, last Sunday.
Quite a number of our young people took in the Hyndman camp-meeting and Cumberland, Sunday last.
Mr. Ashby, of near Oakland, bought the Samuel Beachy property, in Grantsville, last week, at the sale.
A. L. Gnagey, John Getty and Henry Wagner, all of Grantsville, were, seen on our streets, Saturday last.
The personal property of Adam Baker, deceased, will be sold at public sale, Tuesday, Sept. 6th. See bills.
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Meyer, of Dunbar, Pa., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jeffery during the past week.
Mrs. A. Greenwalt, a former resident of this town, but now of Reading, Pa., is visiting friends here at present.
The Reformed reunion will be held at Rockwood, Sept. 2nd. It promises to be a large and most enjoyable gathering.
Services in the Lutheran church, Sunday evening. The pastor will talk about one thing during all the time allowed him.
The Lutherans of Grantsville are remodeling their church. The brethren of the Reformed church will soon do likewise.
Miss Lizzie Tedrow started for Plymouth, Ind., yesterday, where she expects to remain several months with an aunt of hers.
Mrs. C. Cochran, Jacob Schmale, Henry McKennie and Archie Cochran are late additions to our Elk Lick subscription list.
The Meyersdale fire company got there in fine style at the Froeburg picnic. Meyersdale has a right to feel proud of her fire ladders.
On Sunday afternoon Rev. J. M. Pascoe, went to Flog Hill mines and administered the rite of baptism to nine infants.—Meyersdale Register.
Rev. Albert Homrighaus, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, Washington, D. C., visited C. R. Haselbarth and family several days this week.
There was a Chatolic picnic at Grantsville, last Saturday, which was largely attended. Those from here who took it in report a splendid time.
All the flies in Berlin are said to be on the Record, and it is a plain case that the report is true. They furnish all the periods for the calamity paper.
Joseph Lepley, one of Salisbury's pioneer foundmen, was in town last week renewing old acquaintances. He now resides at Parkersburg, W. Va.
The various Castles of the Ancient Order Knights of the Mystic Chain, of Somerset county, will hold a picnic and reunion at Stoyestown on September 8.
STRAYED! A Bronze turkey hen with nine young ones. Owner can get same by calling on C. J. Burkholder and paying 40 cents for this advertisement.

The Meyersdale school board contest has been decided by the court in favor of the contestants. My! but there are lots of mad men in Meyersdale about now.
Mr. Porter, the dwarf, was in town this week and attracted considerable attention. He is about 50 years old, something like 4 feet tall and weighs 65 pounds.
Archie Cochran, who for some time resided at Bloomington, Md., has again brought his family back to this town. Glad to get Archie back; he is a good citizen.
Down at the Boynton sawmill they recently sawed 5,092 feet of stock lumber, consisting of 2x8, 2x6 and larch boards, in two hours. What mill in this vicinity can beat that?
If the sons of men don't soon quit asking us whether it is hot enough for us, some of them will learn that man was not only made to mourn, but to groan, bleed and die as well.
The Meyersdale Register thinks J. M. Hay ought to become a resident of Meyersdale. THE STAR would rather see him locate in Salisbury, which is a much prettier and better town.
Mrs. Liston, of Braddock, Pa., and Miss Grotfely, of Accident, Md., were the guests of Dr. Speicher and family during the week. The former is Mrs. Speicher's sister, the latter her niece.
Miss Annie Lichty started yesterday for Carleton, Neb., where she expects to remain for some time with her brother, Ross. She was accompanied as far as Cumberland by her brother, the doctor.
The Berlin calamity paper of last week reminds one of the wine of a whipped puppy. We feel sorry for the poor old calamity sheet, but then it ought to know better than to monkey with a newspaper.
Tell your friends that Stewart's headache powders are a positive cure, a harmless remedy, containing soda and charcoal, unlike any other. Only 10 and 25 cents a box. Ask J. L. Barchus about them.
A lunatic by the name of Miller, of Greenville, spent Tuesday night in the borough bastille. He escaped from his home and was found in a box car at the depot. This same man was once in the asylum.
While out berry-picking, recently, Lenious Deterich's hired man and hired girl got lost in the mountains. The hired man got home about 8 o'clock in the morning and the girl arrived shortly after daylight.
Mrs. S. Statler, of Schellsburg, Pa., and Mr. E. F. Tompson, manager of the Union Exchange, of Pittsburg, were the guests of M. F. Smith and family during the past week. Mr. Tompson is Mrs. Smith's brother.
The Mineral City cornet band and the choir of the First Lutheran church, of Jonnstown, will furnish the music for the Lutheran reunion, at Friedena, Sept. 1st. This Reunion promises to be a very enjoyable affair.
The Reformed church was very gayly decorated last Sunday, when Harvest Home services were held. The services are highly spoken of. The Reforms have church decoration down to a fine art upon such occasions.
Don't forget the Catholic picnic, on Saturday, in the K. of L. grove. You will have a dandy, good time, if you attend this picnic, as the Catholics always treat their patrons very courteously and spare no pains to give them a good time.
Quite a number of people from this place attended the big picnic, at Frostburg, Saturday last. All report a big time. Our band, however, did no go, owing to the fact that some of the boys had work and could not get away.
Harvey Heinbaugh, who used to attend normal school in this town, but who is now running a wholesale liquor store in Cumberland, Md., was here on business this week. Harvey has got to be quite a giant; he tips the beam at 230 pounds.
Miss Emma Livengood was unable to act as organist, last Sunday, in the Lutheran church, on account of a sore finger. We hope that she has fully recovered from all inconvenience from the offending digit. Mrs. Dr. Speicher, however, makes a good substitute for Miss Livengood.
It seems that nearly all the boys in this town fine of Democratic parents are turning out to be Republicans. One of E Statler's young sons got very cross the other day when we called him a Democrat. He said he wouldn't belong to that party for anything. J. C. Ballet's young son also dons a Harrison cap.
Last week one day Mr. Milton Miller tested his steam carriage for the first time. The test was fairly satisfactory, and only some slight modifications are needed to make it a success. These will be made at the inventor's leisure. The carriage including the engine, is the handiwork of Mr. Miller.—Meyersdale Register.
We had the pleasure on Monday of making the acquaintance of Rev. John E. Bushnell, A. M., Professor of Philosophy and Catechetics, of Kee Mar College, Hagerstown, Md. Mr. Bushnell was here in the interests of the said college, which is an institution for the higher education of young women and girls. The college has a high reputation.
Our school board is being censured for not giving us a longer school term. It does seem that we ought to have a longer term, but what we need worse is more room for our schools. The children are all huddled up too much. We ought to annex West Salisbury, put up a mammoth school building on the Stutzman addition and sell the old school houses.

We are informed that a staunch Democrat of Elk Lick recently got a pension and turned Republican. He is reported to have said that he will help the party that has helped him—that if Cleveland had been President his pension would likely have been added to the hundreds of pensions voted by that noted substitute hiker. The man takes the right view of it.
The Berlin marble works is having some fine job work done at this office, this week. As soon as you die, go to Berlin and order yourself a fine monument or set of tomb stones. This works turns out the best marble and granite work in the country, and at the most reasonable prices. Somerset county has reason to be proud of the Berlin marble works.
I. D. Leydig feels sure of a sweeping Republican victory, this fall, and he undoubtedly has good ground for his belief. He says while coming to town, the other day, he was sitting in his buggy, thinking of Ben Harrison, and while he was thus absorbed in thought he saw three racoons cross the road in front of him. This, Mr. Leydig thinks, is a sure omen of Republican victory, and it undoubtedly is.
An effort is being made to organize a lodge of Knights of Pythias in Somerset. A charter application is now in the hands of a member of the order and it is thought the lodge will be organized within a month. Meyersdale, Addison and Salisbury have flourishing lodges of this growing order. The Knights of Pythias ranks third among secret societies in point of numbers in the United States, the Masons and Odd Fellows leading them.—Standard.
Not long ago Milt Beachy stopped to get a drink at the big spring at the Findlay limestone quarry, and he found that a man is in danger of snakes, even if he drinks nothing but water. While stooping over to get a drink at the aforesaid spring, a huge snake of some kind sprang viciously at him and caught his arm. The bite drew no blood, but it left a mark on his arm. No had effect followed, however, but Milt has no use for snakes ever since.
W. A. Winter, a young man residing at Wellersburg, died Wednesday of last week at his home in that place of typhoid fever after a long illness. He was a member of Osage Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Missouri, and during his long illness he was taken care of by the Knights of Cumberland, Md. He was buried at Wellersburg on Thursday, his funeral being conducted by a committee of Knights of Pythias from Cumberland.—Somerset Standard.
The central Democratic Society of Somerset elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Charles H. Fisher; Vice President, Hon. W. J. Baer and Val Hay, Esq.; Secretary, Major J. B. Trethewell; Treasurer, A. L. G. Hay. The following Executive Committee was appointed: H. L. Baer, Esq., Somerset; Peter S. Hay, Elk Lick; Dr. P. P. Ritter, Meyersdale; F. B. Collins, Berlin; W. L. Weakland, Confluence; A. S. Levy, Urins, and J. O. Rauch, Jenner.
I. D. Leydig, wife and young son, of Glencoe, visited friends in Salisbury this week. They came overland, in a buggy, and had the misfortune of having a wreck, the horse falling down and breaking the shafts of the vehicle. Mr. Leydig accordingly acted as horse himself, part of the way, and pulled the buggy to a farm house, where he left it and procured another one. Mr. L. says the weather is very dry down about Glencoe, but thinks their crop of buckwheat cakes will be all right, if they get rain soon.
Daniel Karns, of Meyersdale, met with quite a serious accident on Tuesday while driving along the road leading to the Findlay bridge, east of Salisbury. The traces became detached from the single-tree of his vehicle, which caused the shafts to drop down and frighten the horse, causing a run-away. Mr. Karns was violently thrown out against a sapling and considerably bruised up. He was brought to town by Richard Grotfely and Dr. Lichty was called. He recovered sufficiently to return to his home in the evening.
The 10th Annual Convention of the Somerset County Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at Salisbury on Thursday and Friday, September 1st and 2nd. The sessions of the convention will be held in the Lutheran church. Rev. Anna H. Shaw, D. D., of Boston, and Mrs. Mair, of Allegheny City, Pa., noted workers in the Temperance cause, will be present and take an important part in the public exercises. Special excursion rates on the railroads. A large attendance is looked for. The program will be of great interest and highly entertaining.
A man who was born when he was quite young and lived to a ripe old age, once said: "A patch on the clothes is no shame." This man was a great philosopher and made this remark before the monkey evolved, or perhaps degenerated to the dude stage, but the truth of the remark remains unchanged to this day. This great philosopher died many years ago, and has been dead ever since, but his words still live. It is always well to remember that clothes do not make the man, but that man makes the clothes and that intelligence and good character cover up a multitude of patches.

The Slicer House sidewalk is admired by everyone who sees it. Mr. Broadstock furnished the flagstones and put them down, and the work is a tribute to his skill.—Register.
When are we going to have that sham election to try the new voting system? We should try the new plan before we have to vote for "keeps." There is nothing like being posted.
Lije Livengood's sugar bounty this year amounted to over $200. Lije says it is the easiest made money he ever got hold of. Confidentially, now, where would his bounty be if it wasn't for the Republican party? Think over this.
A woman could never dress better and cheaper than in this year, says the Somerset Democrat. The Democrat must have forgotten that we still have the McKinley tariff, which was, according to Democratic predictions, going to make all kinds of merchandise so costly.
If Perry Wahl does not want to be gathered up from the pavement, one of these days, with a blotting pad, he had better be more careful of his remarks. The other evening while we were burning some waste paper in the street, he passed by, and with a regal glance at us, muttered something like this: "That's right, sonny, have your Republican bon fires now, for after the election yer won't be in it." The next time this big, slab-sided heavy-weight makes use of such talk there will be "a sound of revelry by night" that will shake the whole Democratic party front whereas to amen. Gee whizz!—S—S—S!!!
As predicted, the Rockwood races were very largely attended and great interest manifested by all present. S. Buckman, President of the Rockwood Racing Association, was there in all his glory. His iron-gray steed figured admirably, but failed to hold the winning hand. The County-seat sporting fraternity was well represented. The Lavanville horse, owned by William Taysman won in the pacing class. A horse owned by John Hannah won in the trotting class, and a pony owned by William Deeter, of Rockwood, was awarded highest honors in the running class.—Rockwood Correspondent to Register.

GEO. K. WALKER, Salisbury, Pa.
We notice in a western exchange an article setting forth that the Republican and Democratic parties have outlived their usefulness and that thinking voters should vote the People's party ticket. The article sets forth that the two old parties are dominated by corrupt and self-seeking politicians, who have only in view the emoluments of office and are insensible to the exigencies of the day. The writer further states that the People's party is composed of dissatisfied farmers, who have borne the yoke of oppression as long as human nature can endure; of trade unionists, who represent the most advanced thought in political economy; of socialists or nationalists and all manner of progressive thinkers; the bones, sinew and brains of the American nation.
Now, all this would be startling, if true, but it is not true. We know a great deal about the People's party, having lived in the west, where it is the strongest, and our observation revealed the fact that the thinking, industrious and most intelligent farmers could not be found in the new party. On the other hand, we noticed that the lazy, ignorant class who spend most of their time at the village groceries, whittling merchandise boxes, were in almost every instance members of the People's party. It is also plain to any observing man that the leaders of the new party are political soreheads and constitute, in the main, the most corrupt political outcasts that ever disgraced the ranks of the two old parties—men who clung to the two old parties as long as they held fat offices therein, but outloose from them as soon as the people had enough of them and relegated them to the rear. They now want to pose as great political reformers and by that means again get into office. For example, we will take C. H. Van Wyck, the ex-United States Senator and triple millionaire of Nebraska. This man was the staunchest Republican in the state as long as the Republicans kept him in office, but when at last he was defeated he at once perceived that it was all wrong to be a Republican and he then began his career as a so-called reformer. He is now the People's party candidate for Governor of Nebraska. Think of it, a man worth several millions of dollars, who owns section after section of land in the west, which is held at high prices and kept out of the reach of actual settlers—think of such a man expecting to be elected Governor of Nebraska by the votes of oppressed farmers and laborers! The People's party is not the poor man's party. It is the party of political tricksters, idle dreamers and ignorant dupes. Mr. Van Wyck in a recent speech likened the People's party to the Republican party at time of its birth, and the leaders of this new party to the leaders of the Republican party at that time. But alas, what a contrast! The Republican party at the time of its birth had men like the immortal Lincoln, John C. Fremont and many other acknowledged great and pure men. The People's party has Calamity Weaver, Crazy Horse Van Wyck, Sockless Simpson and a horde of other equally corrupt and professional office-seekers. The comparison is about the same as a comparison of Jesus Christ and Judas Iscariot would be. If the People's party will move on to victory, manned by such corruptionists as it now is, this great Republic, like ancient Rome, is doomed. When you go to the polls to vote, this fall, vote the Republican ticket, which is the nearest right. But if you can't vote the Republican ticket, do the next best thing by voting the Prohibition ticket. The People's party is a delusion and a snare.
