FIVE HOMESTEAD STRIKERS HELD FOR CONSPIRACY.

O'Donnell and Others Have a Hearing On That Charge. The Troops to Remain.

Five of the leading members of the Homestead advisory committee were given a hearing before Alderman McMasters at a hearing before Alderman McMasters at Pittsburg on a charge of conspiracy, and all gave $2.000 bait for court. This charge is a recent one, on which but a few of the many have been ar ested. Secretary Lovejoy of the Carnegic company preferred the charge, as he has all heretofore, against the Homesteader steaders. Those tried were Hugh O'Donnell, George W. Sarver, David Lynch, William T. Rob-erts and William McConegey, the latter being secretary of the advisory board. The

erts and William McConegey, the latter be-ing secretary of the advisory board. The lawyers in the case were John S. Robb, E. Y. Breck and D. F. Patterson for the prose-cution and William Brennen and John F. Cox for the defense. The case opened with an address by At-formey Erennan, who held it was useless to have the hearing because the defendants were not guilty of conspiracy by the law that permits laborers to leave the employ of those who hire them, to join any organiz-tion and adopt and put into effective use resolutions or rules governing the same without subjecting them to indictment for conspiracy by common law. It was dedi-ded to go on with the case, however, and Frank J. Kelly was sworn. He testified that he is a reporter on the Commercial Gazette, and was at Home-stead for that paper on July 2, and before and after that date. He was asked about a resolution printed in the paper relating to the exclusion of men from the Homestead works, and said that Hugh O'Donnell gave him the information, also the resolution for allowing two men to work the pumps in the mill that supplied the hill district with water. Frank B. McQuiston of the Commercial for allowing two men to work the pumps in the mill that supplied the hill district with water. Frank B. McQuiston of the Commercial Gazette was then called. He said he was at Homestead for the Thmes. Regarding the statement published about keeping people out of the mill he said. "I understood that the men would be al-lowed to finish their turns and out at 6 o'clock on the morning of July 1. After this time no one would be allowed to entor the Amalgamated Association. That is, no one except these who were furnished with passes from the advisory committee of the Amalgamated Association. That is, no one except the clerks of the office in the employ of the Carnegies. The guards around the town, as I understood, were divided into two watenes. I was told that each entrance of the same time that they anticipated on al-tempt on the part of anyone to come in. There were men put a teach gate. I went to he gate opposite Mr. Potter's residence and spoke to about 25 men. I asked if anyone was going into the mill and they said: "By --- no one can get in." The next witness was B. A. Wood, assist-ant superintendant of the Homestead mill. He idenified a letter he received from the advisory committee on July 2, which was signed by Hugh O'Donnell. He also iden-tified O'Donnell's handwriting. Contin-ing he said: ""When I went from home at 8 o'clock to Continu-ing he said: "When I went from home at 8 o'clock to go to the office one of the many men who were in front of the gate to the mill says, 'you can't go in there,' and I attempied to push by him, and he put out his hands and pushed me back, and repeated that I could not go in. The clers's were all stopped too. I was stopped again on the Friday fol-lowing that, and the man ordered me out by order of the committee." Edwin O. Christy, a newspaper reporter, identified Hugh O'Donnell's handwriting on the letter to Assistant Superintendent Woods.

the letter to Assistant Superintendent Woods. G. H. Hotchkiss, a Pinkerton detective, was next sworn. He is acting superintendent of the Pinkerton agency and resides in Phil-adelphia. Captain Breck wanted to prove by him that Jack Clifford had said that Hugh O'Donnell was a member of the ad-visory committee, but the opposing attor-neys objected. This closed the testimony. The letter signed "Advisory Committee" was offered in evidence by the commonwealth. The defense produced no witnesses. Attorney Brennan asked that the men be discharged, saying that a conspiracy case had not been made out. He said that things began to savor not of a prosecution, but of a persecu-tion, that the defendants were all under in-dictment for other misdemeanors. and asked the prosecution to withde wand let the de-fendants stand trial on the charges already against them.

Mr. Robb thought the defendants were guilty of conspiracy. He said: "The advis-ory board were the gentlemen who coaxed and urged poor devils, who knew no better, on into a murderous riot, and now they must suffer fortik."

Alderman McMasters held them under $2,000 bail each for court, and their other bail bonds were renewed. THE LAWLESS ELEMENT CONTINUES TO BOB AND BEAT MEX. Homestead had some very exciting inci-dents Frida, and the lawless element there seems to be getting desperate. When John Weaver, a non-union man, started to move his family and effects into one of the company houses in the mill yard, they and the deputies were surrounded by a shouting crowd, principally women, yelling "scab," etc. A boisterous Slav was arrested. One man drew a revolver to shoot one of the deputies. Colonel Gray says women will be prosecuted for inciting riot. They have become very troublesome. A.French cook, bound for the mill, was taken by some men at the Salt Works sta-tion, where he got off, led down the track, the men saying they would take him to the mill, and brutally robbed and beaten. Wedneeday night, Patrick Morgan, a non-union heater, whi² in toxicated fell into the hands of a number of men representing themselves to be deputies, who escorted him to the woods in the rear of Homestead, and, after robbing him of $25 in cash, his hat and shoes, beat him until he was insen-sible.

and George Sarver, who are among those charged with riot and conspiracy, or both, by the Carnegie officials, came to Pittsburg and entered bail before. Aldermas McMast-ers, and Harry Naughton was brought from Homestead and lodged in jail. This makes 10 arrests on these charges and Secretary Lovejoy said that over 100 warants had been issued. O'Donnell entered bail in $2,000 on the riot charge for trial at court and in $1,000 for hearing before Alderman McMasters on Thursday, Burgess McLackie and Thomas J. Crawford came to Pittsburg to offer bail for James Gitsen, who was committed to jail on Monday. The actual arrival of Asiatic cholera at the port of New, York has brought to the front the question of suspending immigration to this country altogether during the preva-lence of cholera in the Eastern hemisphere. It is admitted that such a measure would only be justified by the most pressing dan-ger, but this danger, in the opinion of some high officials, is at hand. Government offi-cers are ranaacking records and reading up on former scourges. Another doctor reports that the ordinary means of disposing of the dead have been found inadequate. Furniture vans have been pressed into service to carry the bodies to the place of interment. He says the whole ystem is confused and everything goes along in a haphazard fashion. So great has grown the demand for hospital service that it is proposed to fit up the schools and gynansiums as hespitals. Describing his visit to Old Hamburg hospital, he says he found affairs there in a far more horrible condition than at the Eppendorf hospital. In the dirty, neglected passages he saw bundles of clothing lying on the floor awat-ing disinfecton. Among these packages lay a large number of the bodies of those who had died from cholera. These bodies showed the carelessness with which they were handled, for they Jay in every con-ceivable way, just as they had been dropped by the hospital attendants.  NEW YORK AUTHORITIES IGNORE THE PRESI-DET'S QUARANTINE ORDER.
 A clash of authority arose between the federal government and the New York State-authorities as represented by Dr. Jonkins.
 The recent order of President Harrison for-bids any vessel carrying immigrants to en-ter port until after 20 days' quarantine. Dr. Jenkins said he would use his direction nboat keeping a vessel in quarantine for 20 days or less. If he saw fit he would quarantine a vessel more than 20 days or less. He claim-ei that he had full authority, and that the President's order could not affect him or
