Quite a number of our people attended the big "hop" in Meyersdale, Saturday evening, at the opening of the Mountain Electrical Co.'s works. A good time is reported.

Dick Beachy, of Carleton, Neb., arrived in town yesterday. He is looking as fat and full of life as ever, and his numerous friends here welcome him to this his native town.

G. J. and C. Gnagey, of Garrett county, Md., were in town on Monday. The latter is a Pittsburg street car conductor, and was on his way to the city, after a visit at the old home.

A Western editor met a well-educated farmer recently and said to him that he would like to have something from his pen. The farmer sent him a pig and charged him $9.75 for it.

Harry Sanner and John Clouse, two Confluence young men, have been arrested and bound over for trial at court, on the charge of robbing the Confluence depot, last Thursday night.

The dreaded cholera has at last appeared in New York City. Today's daily papers report five deaths from the dread disease in that city. Every precaution is being taken to prevent its spread.

Rev. H. R. Holsinger has sold his interest in the Brethren Evangelist and will again follow preaching. The church has bought the paper and a man by the name of Harrison will have editorial control of it.

Harry Sheets, the Berlin boy who stole Dr. Brallier's horse, has been acquitted, as no one appeared against him at the time of his hearing. It is said it was out of respect for the lad's parents that no one appeared against him.

Edward Penrod and Robt. Harding, two Somerset young men, were caught in the act of robbing the store of Cook & Beerits, early last Sunday morning. They were captured and at once jailed, where they will await their trial at court.

Sam Kimmel came home from Pittsburg, Monday evening, looking somewhat thin and pale. He has been unwell for some time, but thinks our pure mountain air will soon restore him to his usual health and vigor. So mote it be.

Truman Maust raised 264 bushels of wheat on eight acres of ground, an average of 33 bushels to the acre. Truman is one of our best farmers, and if there is a farmer in this locality that can this year beat this yield of wheat, let him be heard from.

Bro. Smith's "old gal" hasn't materialized to any alarming extent. Water is still scarce and will no doubt remain so for some time to come. Talk is cheap, Mr. Commercial, but it don't supply the Metropolis with the desired amount of Sand Spring.—Register.

Columbus discovered America on the 12th of October, 1492. The 400th anniversary of that event is to be celebrated on the 21st of October, 1892. The change of day in the month is owing to the change from the old style to new style time, which took place in 1582.

The law requires that Canada thistles be cut in time to prevent them from going to seed, and thereby spreading to a greater extent. The constables of the townships are required to see that the thistles are cut and must give notice by printed circulars posted prominently.—Somerset Herald.

From 40 acres J. R. Lichty threshed over 38 bushels of wheat per acre. He says had it all been sowed at the same time and all put in with press drill the average would have been at least 5 bushels more per acre. He sold the same to the Carleton Grain Co. for 55 cents per bushel.—Carleton (Neb.) Reporter.

Messrs. D. H. Vought and D. R. Cramer cut a bee tree on the farm of Freeman Broucher, in Upper Turkeyfoot township, recently, from which they took 180 pounds of honey. They found in the tree three combs 6 feet long, two combs 4 feet long, and several shorter combs. How's that for honey?—Standard.

According to our exchanges several farmers have been swindled by sharpers who propose to leave a piano every six miles, which the farmer is to exhibit and have $100 on each thus sold. The paper he signs turns out to be an agreement to pay $450 for the instrument. Don't sign any agreement with a stranger.—Oakland Republican.

Mrs. W. H. Sarver's little four-months-old child was sitting on its mother's lap, last Monday, when the latter was cutting some dress material with a pair of scissors, and getting its hands in the way, had the little finger of one of them clipped off at the first joint. The mother did not discover what she had done until the child began to scream.—Berlin Record.

We were in error last week in stating that R. C. Fuller was fined on account of his fight with Geo. Walker. We have learned since that no basis for a fine could be found in Fuller's case, he having been in the act of making peace between other persons when Walker assaulted him. He was therefore not fined, and it is with pleasure that we make this correction.

Mr. Frank Cooper and his son Russel, of this place, shot and killed fifty gray squirrels, Friday and Saturday. A number of other parties from town have killed large numbers of squirrels since the season opened last Wednesday. Squirrels, pheasants, partridges, wild turkeys and other game are reported to be unusually abundant this season.—Somerset Herald.

THE STAR is the best advertising medium in this part of the county, as it reaches a great many people that are not reached by any other Somerset county paper. From Meyersdale southward it has at least ten times the circulation of any other Somerset county paper. Its list is composed, too, of actual subscribers, persons who have ordered the paper sent to them; not "deadheads."

"Young man," said a stern parent, with the accent on the young, "do you intend to stay here all night holding my daughter's hand and looking her in the eyes like a sick calf?" "No, sir." "What do you intend to do, then?" "Well, I had thought that when you did us the kindness to retire I would put my arms around her waist, and if she did not resist too forcibly I might risk a kiss."—Ex.

The bunco people have put in an appearance at or near Hyndman, and tried to fleece Mr. Wm. Colvin, of near Schellsburg. The game was practically the same as that attempted on Mr. Hiram P. Walker, of near Garrett, last week, and the buncoers are undoubtedly the same individuals. Everyone will do well to keep a sharp lookout for the man with three cards and a fake story about being fleeced himself.—Register.

A statement made at the Treasury Department shows that there have been filed 6,768 applications for licenses of sugar producers during the fiscal year 1893 under the law paying a bounty for its productions. They were made up as follows: Cane sugar, 649; beet, 6; sorghum, 2, and maple, 6,106. Last year the applications aggregated 4,980. The increase in the number of applications is in those for producing maple sugar.

A Pittsburg man writes to THE STAR as follows: "I frequently get to see your bright, newsy paper, and judging from the number of advertisements you carry, I naturally take Salisbury to be a very progressive town, one made up of live and enterprising people. However, I see no baker's advertisement in your paper, and the object of this letter is to inquire what kind of an opening there is in your town for a first-class bakery. Please let me hear from you."

A few days ago we formed the acquaintance of Rufus Beachy, the veterinary surgeon of near Salisbury, and were shown his office and drug supplies, also his library treating on all ailments known to the domestic animals; his surgical instruments comprise every instrument needed in his wide practice and are worth about five hundred dollars. Mr. Beachy has saved the life of a good many useful horses in his practice.—Berkley Correspondent to Commercial.

The Meyersdale Commercial calls the Hyndman Bulletin's attention to the fact that Hyndman was recently referred to in a late Associated Press item as "a small settlement on the B. & O. railroad." That's pretty tough on Hyndman, but we are just in receipt of a late B. & O. map on which Hyndman, Salisbury, Berlin, Somerset and Confluence are prominently marked, but the little Hamlets of Meyersdale, Sand Patch, Williams Station and other obscure villages of that class do not appear thereon.

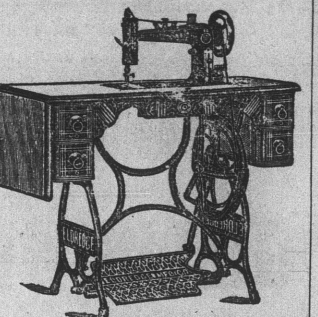

Some one entered our sanctum during our absence and helped himself to a large supply of high-priced smoking tobacco, which the editor had bought for the express purpose of leading his peace pipe. By the Great Horn Spoon! if we find out who did this knavish act there will be whipping and whaling and snatching-out of teeth. Just a few weeks ago a cow devoured part of our suerkroot crop, and now to have our Lone Jack smoking tobacco stolen, is more than we can stand. Verily, afflictions do not come singly.

County Superintendent Berkey has entered into an arrangement with Superintendent Leech, of Cambria county, whereby they will secure the services of John B. DeMott, of DuPaw University, Greencastle, Indiana. His lectures on science and general talks are very instructive, as he carries over $5,000 worth of apparatus with him. DeMott is a high priced man, and for this reason his services have been engaged jointly by the two Superintendents. The institute will be held the week beginning November 28.—Somerset Herald.

The borough schools open on Monday next, and as usual, there will be many people who will not send their children to school, on account of part of the school building not being fit to have pupils housed in it. Every child of school age should be in school, but nevertheless a healthy ignoramus is better than an educated invalid, and unless we erect a better school building soon, one with room enough in it for the pupils, lots of our brightest boys and girls are going to become invalids or else grow up in ignorance. We need at least two more schools in this town, and we need them badly.

J. J. Miller, Esq., who for several months has been over the briny deep on a tour of Europe, returned to his home in Pittsburg on Monday. He was fortunate in taking passage on the English steamer New York on the return trip, and thus he escaped the long quarantine in the New York bay, which is imposed upon all vessels from Hamburg, Germany. Hicks Nominated.

At the Republican Congressional conference, held at Bedford, J. D. Hicks was nominated, Tuesday afternoon. It is believed by some that the nomination was made too late for filing the certificate and that a nomination at this stage is not worth much. However, the Somerset Herald says that eminent lawyers give it as their opinion that the certificate of nomination can be filed at the State department and still come under the requirements of the Baker ballot law, providing that the matter is attended to no later than Wednesday evening of this week.

The nomination of Mr. Hicks seems to give general satisfaction to the Republicans in this part of the county. It seems but just that Blair county should have the nominee, as it casts a larger Republican vote than any other county in the district. There seems to be a general feeling here that Somerset has had none enough for a while, and that Mr. Hicks is an excellent man is generally conceded. Hurrah for the nominee!

The Democratic Central Society.

At the last meeting of the above named society, the President of the same, Chas. H. Fisher, and the Treasurer, A. L. G. Hay, were elected delegates to the Annual meeting of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, to be held in New York, Oct. 4th and 5th.

This gathering of prominent Democratic leaders is expected by "our friends, the enemy," to be the greatest political demonstration of this Presidential campaign, and the largest Democratic convocation that has yet assembled.

The Annual State meeting of Democratic societies of Pennsylvania meets in Scranton, on the 20th. To this meeting the society has elected as delegates the following named well-known and prominent Democrats: F. B. Collins, Berlin; Henry Rauch, Jenner; C. W. Walker, Somerset; Norman D. Hay, Summit Mills; L. W. Weakland, Confluence; W. C. Kirtz, Berlin; C. G. McCauliff, Davidsville.

As the Central Democratic Society has a good many members in this part of the county, we have no doubt that this item will interest them.

COLUMBUS DAY.

Governor Pattison's Recommendation to the People of the State.

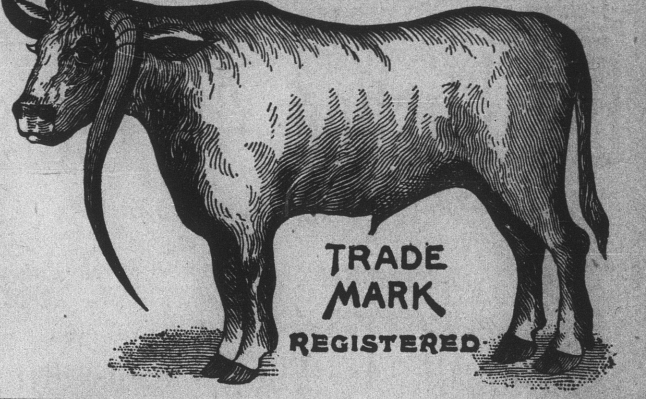

Governor Pattison has issued the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, In accordance with the joint resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, the President of the United States, by proclamation, has appointed Friday, October the 21st, 1892, the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, as a general holiday for the people of the United States,

AND, WHEREAS, The President has recommended that the people on that day, as far as possible, cease from toil, and devote themselves to such exercises as may best express honor to the discoverer, and their appreciation of the great achievements of the four completed centuries of American life.

AND, WHEREAS, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a special interest in this anniversary by reason of the magnificent progress made by the people of the state during the centuries since the discovery,
Now, therefore, I, R. E. Pattison, Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, do recommend Friday, the 21st day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, as a general holiday. On that day in the school house, in the church, and other places of assembly of the people, let there be appropriate services, teaching loyalty to our country and gratitude for the divine benediction which has so abundantly blessed our people.

An editor of a newspaper in one of the Western States, called the Rocky Mountain Cyclone, opened the first article of its first number as follows: "We begin the publication of the Rocky Mountain Cyclone with some phew difficulties in the way.
