BEATTY'S PIANOS AND ORGANS.
Hon. Daniel F. Beatty, the great Organ and Piano manufacturer, is building and shipping more Organs and Pianos than ever. In 1870 Mr. Beatty left a penniless plow-boy, and by his indomitable will he has worked his way up so to sell so far, nearly 100,000 of Beatty's Organs and Pianos since 1870. Nothing seems to dishearten him; obstacles laid in his way, that would have wrecked any ordinary man forever, he turns to an advertisement and comes out of it brighter than ever. His instruments, as is well known, are very popular and are to be found in all parts of the world. We are informed that during the next ten years he intends to sell 200,000 more of his make, that means a business of $200,000,000 if we average them at $100 each. It is already the largest business of the kind in existence—Send to Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jersey, for Catalogue.

Cabinet Photo. Envelopes for sale at THE STAR office—just the thing you want to send pictures away in.

The Blanks We Keep.

THE STAR keeps constantly on hand all kinds of blanks, such as Notes, Receipts, Probate Blanks, Criminal Warrants, Summons Blanks, Notices of Claims Due, Subpoenas, Commitments, Bonds, Mortgages, Deeds, Leases, etc., etc. All these goods are put up in neat and convenient form and sold dirt cheap. Call and inspect our stock when in need of such goods.

Old papers for sale at this office at 25 cents a hundred or 5 cents per dozen. They make good wrapping paper, also good cartridge paper for the miners. They are also good to put under carpet, on pantry shelves, etc.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Letter From Jennie Wagner.
NEW YORK, Oct. 25, 1892.
Through the kindness of the editor, in giving me space in THE STAR, as a medium of communication, would say that I hereby express my sincere thanks to the dear friends in Salisbury and vicinity for their kind solicitude in behalf of my helpless condition, and also for their benevolence and charity shown me.
I had a nice trip coming to New York and enjoyed it very much. The Polyclinic hospital is a very good one, but it is lonesome for me, although that does not amount to much, as the thought of my being able to be out again dispels in a measure my loneliness.
Dr. Gibney has not begun treatment yet, so I cannot report any progress.
With a full appreciation of your kindness, I remain yours truly,
BENJAMIN WAGNER.

Teachers' Institute.

The Salisbury and Elk Lick teachers' institute will be held in Salisbury, Nov. 12th. Following is the program:
1. Inaugural address by the President.
2. Song by Institute.
3. Recitation—Miss Lizzie Livengood.
4. "Music in our schools"—opened by H. G. Lepley.
5. "How shall we teach Geography?"—Milton Phillips; followed by D. H. Bender and A. L. Maust.
6. "What shall be the aim of 'Busy Work'?"—Misses Annie McKinley, Edith Lichliter and Ida Beachy.
7. "How can we interest our pupils in History?"—F. J. Blake, M. H. Pike and W. W. Nicholson.
8. "What preparation should a teacher make for his work?"—A. A. Streng, Harvey Boas.
There will be two sessions; the first opening at ten o'clock a. m. and the second at 1:30 p. m. Citizens and Directors are cordially invited to attend.

THE COMMITTEE.

For lame back there is nothing better than to saturate a flannel cloth with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the affected parts. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. The same treatment will cure rheumatism. For sale by Copland, the druggist, Meyersdale, Pa.

To the Newspaper Publishers of Somerset County.

THE STAR has long been of the opinion that the newspaper men of Somerset County should get together and organize for their own benefit and protection. There are many good reasons why such organization should be effected, and we see no good reason for not taking immediate steps in that direction. We present this suggestion to our fellow publishers, hoping to hear from them in regard to this important matter, and for their thoughtful consideration we also present the following sensible article taken from Newspaperdom, a most excellent trade journal published in New York:

ADVANTAGES OF ORGANIZATION.

The only way to check the abuses and exterminate the evils that at present exist in the business of publishing newspapers, and make it as profitable as other callings requiring the same amount of capital, talent, and application, is by organization. The need of it has never been so pressing. By mutual agreement alone can the ruinous price-cutting, the foolish competition, and the absurd demands of advertisers—that tend to impoverish publishers—be checked. This is an era of business organization. Are newspaper publishers to be the last to fall in line? While it is not prices alone that need to be fixed, it can be confidently asserted that no expenditure on the part of the public brings such liberal returns as that which goes into the newspaper office.

A multitude of advantages would come from organization. At present, methods of business are as diverse as the poles. One publisher makes a charge for inserting birth, marriage, or death notices; his neighbor may be glad to publish them for nothing. Another charges advertisements as often as the advertiser requires, while a competitor stipulates to accept his ad. in his daily paper, but once a week. Concise rules as to the time before publication copy for changes must be sent in; others take them up to the hour of going to press. A multitude continue to publish "readers" without a distinguishing mark, despite Editor Dana's injunction against "selling under false color."

Then there is the question of the relative prices for local and foreign advertising. There should be some uniformity about all these and other matters of vital interest to publishers. The way to secure it is by organization. The question of libel is an important one. Publishers of newspapers do not commit crimes intentionally, but they are often mistaken or dragged into court because their libel laws are not well defined. Concerted action among publishers would remedy this. Again, it is a disputable question whether some of the various circulation and advertising schemes recently adopted are for the best interests of journalism. Honest competition is useful and inspiring; it never will and never should be obliterated. But the legitimate use of incentives. The time is ripe for defining them. Newspaper publishers should drop their routine work, get together outside their offices, and set about systematically to remove or correct whatever is a menace to their best interests in this respect. By united effort alone, can present evils be made right, and safeguards be provided for the future.

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but unmistakable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the croup. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her one more. By this time she had to cough up the gathering in her throat. Then she went to sleep and slept good for fifteen minutes. Then she got up and vomited; then she went back to bed and slept good for the remainder of the night. She got the croup the second night and I gave her the same remedy with the same good results. I write this because I thought there might be some one in the same need and not know the true merit of this wonderful medicine."

Qualification of Voters.

All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States wherein they reside.

Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections:
He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.
He shall have resided in the state one year (or if previously having been a qualified elector or native-born citizen, as heretofore required by law) in this state, and in the county where he is to vote, for at least six months, immediately preceding the election.

He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election. A minor becomes of age on the day prior to the twenty-first anniversary of his birth.
If twenty-two years of age, or upwards, he shall have paid, within two years, a state or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

If the name of the voter is not upon the registry he cannot vote unless he makes proof of his right to vote, as heretofore required by law.
The law relating to right of challenge and to proof of right to vote remains as heretofore. Challenge should be made before the person offering to vote receives his ballot, but may be made at any time before he casts it.

Naturalization certificates issued by the court must be produced to the board and are conclusive if genuine.
The voter is disqualified if he has agreed to receive or receives any valuable consideration for his vote; or has a wage or bet pending on the election; or has been convicted of a willful violation of the election laws, or has promised to give any voter a valuable consideration for voting or withholding his vote.

GREAT BIBLE COMPETITION.

Thousands of Dollars in Rewards for Bible Readers.

THE LADIES HOME MAGAZINE presents its great Fall Competition to the public of America.
