TOPICS And COMMENT.

The silver question with the tramp—How can I get a dime?

The French are living up to their reputation of being the most mercurial people on earth.

It begins to look as though Uncle Sam might have to choose between making love to Miss Canada and thrashing her.

CHAMPION JIM CORBETT is demonstrating anew the difficulty a man has in being a gentleman and a prize-fighter at one and the same time.

THERE is one kind of speculation in which the pauper and the millionaire are on the same footing—guessing at Mr. Cleveland's cabinet.

At last some use has been found for the cheap watches that never keep time. A jealous lover used one of them to fracture his sweetheart's skull.

ONE detective has found out something; he was an Irishman and he kicked a dynamite bomb. A big funeral was given the portions of him that were found.

BRIBERY is as much at home in Germany as in France, or in the United States. Human nature is the same everywhere, and it is very full of weak spots.

THOSE Idaho diamond fields may be all right, but what has been made public about them carries earmarks that are suspiciously like our old friend, the real estate boom.

THE articles in the newspapers about the "chosen seven" do not refer to Mr. Cleveland's cabinet, but to an eccentric religious sect which has been started in Michigan.

THE man who spends all of his time bemoaning the departure of the "good old times" and failing to appreciate the good of the present time, cannot be called a wise man.

If more parents would remember that a good cook adds more happiness to a home than a poor musician, there would be a large falling-off in the business of divorce lawyers.

THE egg-throwing fever broke out among the students of the Washington State Agricultural College, the other day. None of them died, but some of them had a smashing time.

A TERRIBLE warning to those who use alcohol externally was given by a New York man, the other day. While rubbing himself with alcohol he caught fire and was awfully burned.

"WHISKY is very tight" says the heading of an article in an exchange, on the corner in whisky. Well, even a worm will sometimes turn; whisky has long been making men "tight."

CAPT. F. C. CRUGAN, U. S. A., commandant at Fort Schuyler, N. Y., is charged with having driven his soldiers to death. Humph! isn't that one of the things for which a private soldier enlists?

THERE is too much snobbery in this country. Why should detectives watch over the President-elect? This is not Russia, and Russian methods should not be countenanced by people of common sense.

PRIZE FIGHTER MURPHY is not the Murphy whom Senator Hill would like to see as the next Senator from New York. Hill's Murphy is a wealthy gentleman who made his money purveying liquid refreshments of the intoxicating kind.

SENATOR VEST says Indian Commissioner Morgan is a "narrow-minded big ot," and Commissioner Morgan says that Vest's ideas are "ignorant, superficial, impudent, pretentious, and altogether valueless." Can it be possible that they are both right?

THE delapidated condition of Abraham Lincoln's monument is a disgrace to the state of Illinois and to this great nation. The resting place of the great immortal Lincoln should be honored by a monument in comparison to which the monument of Washington would be utterly insignificant. Kind-hearted, plain and lowly Lincoln was as high above proud and aristocratic Washington as heaven is above earth.

In Buffalo a woman runs a street cleaning bureau; in Kansas City a woman is in the fire department; at Vassar a woman combs hair at twenty-five cents per head; a Louisville lady makes special shopping trips to Paris, another in New Hampshire is president of a street railway company, while Chicago has a woman embalmer. And still they go on, taking up lines of business which a quarter of a century ago were labeled "hands off" by the sterner sex.—New York Telegram.

My advice to the girls and women with whose educational progress I have in any respect been identified has always been to keep out of debt, to dress plainly to be careful in their behavior toward men, and as careful in their behavior toward women; to be respectful to their employers and to be truthful; I have not scrupled to say to them that in my experience the most refined women have been those whose tastes in matters of dress have been most quiet and plain, and that the working girl should above all things avoid extravagance in dress. I have found that girls and women are apt to run into debt for clothes, and whenever such cases have come to my knowledge I have proffered my assistance toward restoring their credit upon the express stipulation that they should never again put a chain of that sort about their necks.—George W. Childs in Ladies' Home Journal.

THE closer the popular vote cast in the recent Presidential election is analyzed the smaller the Democratic victory appears. The attempt to make a landslide out of it was abandoned as soon as it became evident that the Cleveland electors received only 29,000 votes more than were cast for the Cleveland electors of 1888, and that they are in a minority of nearly 1,000,000 on the popular vote. In the Northern States the Republican plurality reaches several hundred thousand, and what plurality Cleveland has gained wholly in the solid South. It is only necessary to point to Mississippi where there are at least 100,000 Republican votes and only 1000 were cast, to Florida where there are 20,000 Republican votes and none were cast, and to Alabama where there are over 100,000 Republican votes and only 9000 were cast, to show just how valuable Mr. Cleveland's alleged plurality is. The farther the Democrats get away from the election the less satisfied they will be with it.—Philadelphia Press.

GOVERNOR FLOWER, of New York, has kept his word and reappointed Isaac H. Maynard to the vacancy on the bench of the Court of Appeals, the highest Court in the state of New York. He has taken this step in defiance of public opinion and of the expressed disapproval of the Bar Association of New York City. No more scandalous act was ever performed by a state Executive. Governor Flower knows that this Maynard is a thief, that he committed an acknowledged crime, and yet, because this crime was done to aid the Democratic party, the bench of the highest court in New York is to be befouled with the presence of the criminal. Such an act as placing a scoundrel on a judicial bench ought, it would seem, to condemn any Governor and any party in public estimation, but as the same facts were below the people last year, and they endorsed the Democracy at the elections, the Democratic leaders evidently believe they can do as they choose. There appears to be nothing to prevent them just now.—Philadelphia Press.

In these days when reverses in fortune are happenings of so frequent occurrence, the daughters of even very well-to-do parents should be taught the necessity of at least knowing one thing well. The girl who graduates from the fashionable school and regards her education finished knows—what? A smattering of music, a little French, not enough, however, to sustain a very lengthy conversation with a real Frenchman; she may be able to paint a bunch of pansies or a cross-eyed kitten; she may know how to warble forth two or three songs that she has been coached in for years, or she could perhaps solve a problem in geometry or algebra if it were not too difficult.

Of course all this is quite sufficient if she never is called upon to be more than a social butterfly, but suppose the time comes when she must do something to help support the family. Which branch of all the studies she has "finished" does she know completely enough to now turn to good service? The bitter answer would be, not one, and she would be obliged to accept some position that paid but a pittance simply because when she had the opportunity she had not learned one thing thoroughly.

Girls, let it be your aim to master at least one subject. If you have a taste for music, study it so that your proficiency can be turned to profit; if it be cooking, painting, sewing, any language or science, do not dip into it today and out of it tomorrow. Perfect yourself in something, and then when necessity calls upon you to turn your talent to account you will have something on which you can rely.—Philadelphia Times.

Republicans, Attention! There will be a caucus held in the school house, at West Salisbury, on Saturday, Jan. 28th, 1893, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for the several township offices. We earnestly solicit the attendance of all Republicans.

By ORDER OF COMMITTEEMAN, JOHN P. VOGEL.
