LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Somerset has the mumps; also the bellyache.

Sam Stump is suffering with a severe attack of quinsy.

W. H. Dill is now solicitor and collector for J. T. Shipley.

The Berlin branch railroad was snow-bound, part of last week.

Senator Quay has been re-elected to the United States Senate for six years.

Louis Keim has gone to Elkins, W. Va., to remain there for about a week.

Benjamin Wells was instantly killed in the Ocean mine, near Frostburg, week before last.

Mrs. Dr. Speicher and Mrs. Lizzie Kimmel have been on the sick list, but are both improving.

M. C. Berkeley, we are sorry to say, is in Philadelphia, suffering with a severe case of la grippe.

A campaign lie may be nailed, but caucuses are bolted, says an exchange. Very true indeed.

Will Dill is the latest applicant for the Meyersdale postoffice. It is said that he has a good show to get it.

Ex-President Hayes died at his home, Fremont, Ohio, on Tuesday night. He had neuralgia of the heart.

Henry Yost, of Garrett county Md., and Samuel Yutz, of Greenville, were among our welcome callers this week.

Happy and content is a home with "The Rochester," a lamp with the light of the morning. Catalogues, write Rochester Lamp Co., New York.

Miss Carrie Smith has returned from Allegheny, Pittsburg, Wilmerding and Uniontown, where she had been visiting friends.

During the past few weeks five deaths, caused by diphtheria, occurred in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, of Somerset.

Wednesday morning was the coldest of the season. The thermometer registered from 12 to 26 below zero, according to location.

If you want bargains in boots, shoes and other footwear, now is your time to buy. Read Henry Loeche's announcement on 4th page.

Sam Gipe, of Berlin, called at our den the other day to renew his subscription to THE STAR. Sam is just as pleasant and genial as of yore.

There are a great many children in this vicinity that are afflicted at present with a stomach disorder. They vomit up about everything they eat.

J. R. Lichty, formerly of this county, but now located near Carleton, Neb., is making preparations to erect one of the largest barns in Thayer county.

Read J. N. Wagner's letter in this issue; it will cure the "blues." He writes from Falls City, Neb. Write again, Newt, we are always glad to hear from you.

Word was received here the other day of the death of a 6-year-old son of John E. Gnagay, of Accident, Md. THE STAR extends its sympathy to cousin John and family.

The Salisbury school building has been temporarily repaired, since the first of the schools are again in operation. Next summer the building will be entirely remodeled and enlarged.

The band boys are highly pleased at the way the Hyndman people turned out to take in the musical concert they gave in that town. It is said that the audience was the largest that assembled in the Hyndman opera house for two years.

The scarcity of Sand Spring is a very deplorable thing, judging from the number of idle men to be seen at present. Price's mill is entirely idle, while the bench hands and carving department are all that Friedline can work at present.—Register.

There are lots of things in nearly every store in town that would sell much more rapidly than they do, if the people had any knowledge of them. A few business locals in THE STAR, now and then, would make them go. A drop of printers' ink will make a million think.

Every borough and township should strive to elect their best educated men for school directors, so far as such men are available. As a rule, an uneducated man is not fit for any office, much less for that of school director. There are exceptions, of course, but they are rare.

E. L. Benford, of Glade, this county, has recently been forging checks on the J. C. Orrick & Son Co., of Cumberland. P. J. Cover, of Meyersdale, cashed one of the bogus checks, the amount being $34. He now offers $35 reward for information that will lead to Benford's arrest.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Beachy, of Elk Lick, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Ruderick Chisholm, of Illinois, Miss Ida G. Hicks and Mr. J. J. Folk at the Little Gem dining rooms. Oysters in every style were served with the usual trimmings. They all pronounced the lay-out fine.—Commercial.

We have another interesting communication on file from B. F. Johns, of Chambersburg. It is a continuation of his last letter that appeared in this paper, and will be published next week. Mr. Johns is a very entertaining writer, and THE STAR will at all times be glad to publish his communications.

Unanswered.—"Mamma, if a child should be born on the ocean, to what nation would it belong?" "Why, to the nation to which its father and mother belonged, of course." "Well, I know. But suppose his father and mother were not with him? Supposing he was traveling with his aunt?"—Life.

Twenty-seven car loads of immigrants, in two sections, passed through town at an early hour, Monday morning. They were ticketed through to Kansas. The first section was composed of Germans, and the second, we are informed, was a badly mixed train load of almost all kinds of foreigners.—Meyersdale Register.

Our business men ought to be doing more advertising. It never costs less than a hundred dollars a month, in cold cash, to run THE STAR office. Some of you, perhaps, never think of this. Advertise liberally and keep everlastingly at it. That's the way to bring success, not only to yourselves, but to your home paper as well.

C. E. Berkey, a nephew of our County Superintendent, last week contributed a so-called poem to the Berlin Record, entitled, "An Encomium upon J. M. Berkeley." It is plain to see that the writer will never win fame as a poet. The sentiment of the poem (?) may be all right, but really, the writer should have written prose.

In writing about newspapers, Hon. Joseph J. Stutzman recently made the following truthful assertion: "The number and character of our newspapers is probably the best evidence of the intelligence of the masses. Eight weekly papers in this county are competing for the prize, all worthy, or more than worthy, of the support they are receiving."

It is currently reported that John Yutz, a young man and single, became exhausted while out last Sunday night, went to a steam saw mill near by, crawled onto the boiler to keep warm, and fell asleep; when found it was discovered that both his legs were frozen clear above the knees, and that amputation of a part of his lower extremities might become necessary.—Berlin Record.

R. M. Beachy, the popular veterinary surgeon, puts up a most excellent horse powder. Last week we struck off a lot of advertising cards for him, which will be distributed throughout the county, at various places where his medicine will be placed on sale. Mr. Beachy is one of the men who realize the fact that it pays to invest in printers' ink, especially when it is used to advertise honest goods.

Advertising is like sowing seed. You have to plant it some time before the results become apparent, but it will spring up some day and the person who places his confidence in it will some day reap a bountiful harvest. Too many people who begin to advertise expect their seed to spring up while they are standing looking at it. You may be able to see a little of its benefit in a short time, but at the end of the season you will be surprised.—Ex.

At the first quarterly meeting of the Somerset County Farmer's Alliance held at Berlin, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, B. F. Snyder, of Kingwood; Vice President, Alex. Nicola, of Draketown; Secretary, F. Saylor, of Somerset; Treasurer, Jonas McClintock, of Walker's Mills; Lecturer, Rev. J. C. Cunningham, of Ursina. The next quarterly meeting will be held at Rockwood, the first Saturday in April.

The Pennsylvania commissioners of fisheries are now prepared to receive applications for brook trout fry. Applications should be sent to the following commissioners: Henry C. Ford, 1823 Vine street, Philadelphia; W. L. Powell, Harrisburg; S. B. Stilwell, Scranton; H. C. Demuth, Lancaster; Louis Streaber, Erie; G. H. Welshons, Pittsburg. One can of trout fry containing 1,500 fish will be sent free to the nearest railroad station of each applicant.

Dr. U. S. Musser was arrested and brought before Justice A. Heffley, on Wednesday evening, charged with assaulting Dr. G. W. Earnest and his father-in-law, S. S. Shaffer, and threatening to kill his wife. The information was made by S. S. Shaffer. The doctor was required to give bail in the sum of $300 for his appearance at court, or be committed to jail. Nothing has been done since, so far as we can learn, and thus the matter rests.—Berlin Record.

On Wednesday night there was a sound of revelry in the stable over at Tub Mill mine, caused by a mule getting loose and showing what he could do in the line of kicking. He had a kicking contest with a large horse, and after the smoke of battle had cleared away, it was discovered that the mule came out second best. The horse is all "O. K." but the mule—oh! where is he? Well, he has "kicked the bucket" and there is now one fool of a mule less in the world.

The latest postoffice ruling is that the writer has the right to reclaim and regain possession of a letter, providing he can prove to the satisfaction of the postmaster at the office from which it was sent that he was the writer of it. Even after the letter has arrived at its destination, and before it is delivered to the person to whom it is addressed, it may be recalled by the writer by telegram through the mailing office. The reason assigned is that the United States is only the agent of the writer while the letter is in transit.—Ex.

A note on Sunday is void. A note obtained by fraud, or even from one intoxicated, cannot be collected. If a note he stolen it does not release the maker—he must pay it. An endorser of a note is exempt from liability, if not served with notice of its dishonor within twenty-four hours of its non payment. A note by a minor is void. Notes bear interest only when so stated. Principals are responsible for their agents. Each individual in partnership is responsible for the debts of the firm. Ignorance of the law excuses no one. It is a fraud to conceal a fraud. The law compels no one to do impossibilities.—Ex.

The dwelling house occupied by Irwin Shumaker and family, near Berkeley, was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday afternoon of last week, during the prevalence of the blizzard. The cause of the fire is unknown. All the household goods belonging to Mr. Shumaker were destroyed, and the two children had their arms and hands seriously frost-bitten, as the result of the exposure, and have suffered greatly. The dwelling formerly belonged to Mrs. Theresa Rhoads, and a short time ago was sold to A. L. G. Hay, Esq., at an assignee's sale. The building was insured, but, we understand, that payment of the insurance will be refused because the policy had not been transferred to the new owner.—Somerset Democrat.

An exchange, that is religiously inclined, says, men are prone to evil as the sparks are prone to fly upwards, but the chance of repentance is extended to every one and it is glad to record the repentance of a subscriber who had been taking the paper for many years without paying for it. The subscriber was out in the woods when a great rain came, and to get out of the wet he crawled into a hollow log. The rain swelled the log and held the delinquent so tightly that he became alarmed and began to think of all the evil things he had done, and among the list was the great wrong of not paying his paper. The thought made him repent and he felt so little and shrunken that he was able to creep from the log. He hastened to pay his paper and has felt better ever since.

Some time ago THE STAR sent a petition to court signed by nearly 200 good men of Salisbury and Elk Lick, the said petition asking that the Court Proclamation and other official court notices be published in THE STAR. For some reason the petition was not granted, which shows just how contemptibly small some petty officers can act. From the fact that the said notices are published in Somerset, Meyersdale and Berlin, it looks very unfair that Salisbury should be ignored. Although Elk Lick pays more tax than any other township in the county, it seems that everything her people ask of the court or the county for is refused them. But there is consolation in knowing that "every dog has his day," and we believe that the day will come when the Dog Star, as the Somerset Vedette is pleased to call this paper, will have its innings. There are a great many people in this part of the county that read no other county paper than THE STAR, and the petitioners so stated, but their request was ignored, just the same.

J. L. Barchus this week sold his stock of hardware to Beachy Bros., and hereafter he will not handle any goods of that kind. Mr. Barchus did what was right, as it does not look well for our general stores to handle hardware, when we have two good hardware stores in town. How would it look for our hardware merchants to sell dry goods and groceries? It would not look right, by any means, but it would look just as well as it does to see our dry goods stores selling hardware. It is all right for a dry goods merchant to make a sort of junk shop of his store, if there is no hardware store in town, but otherwise it is not right. Let every business man handle only what properly belongs to his line. That will give us better stores, and that will help to build up our town. When each business man in a town attempts to keep a little of everything, he seldom keeps a sufficient stock of anything, and people necessarily must go away from home to buy. That very thing has kept this town back for years, but we are glad to see that a wiser policy is being inaugurated.

During the progress of the sale at Peter Heffley's farm, on Wednesday last, Jacob W. Wasmuth, of Meyersdale, who was a stranger to most of those present, commenced bidding at a lively rate on the horses offered for sale. Sheriff Good demanded that he pay for the articles bought and Wasmuth did so, showing a goodly roll of bills. It seems that Wasmuth had presented a check for $200 at the First National bank, which Cashier Berkeley, knowing him to be a man of honesty and credit, cashed unhesitatingly. This was the money he used at the sale. The check, however, was returned from the Meyersdale bank, on which it was drawn, marked "no funds," and Cashier Berkeley on Saturday entered suit against Wasmuth, who was arrested and lodged in jail, where it was developed that he was crazy. Friends of the unfortunate man came over from Meyersdale on Monday, adjusted the financial difficulties and secured Wasmuth's release. He was taken home and will be cared for by his friends. He has been insane for some time, but has always been harmless.—Somerset Democrat.

On the 21st of February next there will be an election held for the purpose of choosing township and borough officers for the ensuing year. Under the new ballot law nominations must be made by the several parties so that said nominations can be certified to the Auditors of the several districts on or before the 11th of February. In view of this fact, Committees should call a meeting of the voters of their districts at an early date, so that nominations for the various offices can be made in time. Call these conventions at an early day, nominate your candidates and certify these nominations to the Auditors of your district at once; such certification must be made on or before the 11th of February. There is no use to delay these conventions. In certifying a nomination to the Auditors, state when and where the meeting was held, by whom it was held and give the names, party represented, occupation, residence and office for which nominated. After filling out this certificate to the Auditors of your district. Do not delay in calling your convention.

How to Get "The Star" Without Money.
We will send THE STAR free of charge for one year, to all who secure us three new subscribers, at $1.50 each per year, cash in advance.

Right You Are, Bro. Smith.
The Meyersdale Commercial reels off a large chunk of truth and good common sense in the following:
Postmasters, a word in your ear: You frequently get orders from your residents to notify publishers to discontinue sending the copy of the paper coming to their address. Every reputable publisher—and we have no other in this county—will promptly discontinue sending such—unless there are arrears of payment due. If the paper continues to be mailed it is proof positive that the man at the other end of the line wants his pay before dropping the name from the list. Perhaps if this is generally known there will be fewer attempts at "paying a bill" by simply ordering the postmaster to "send that paper back," than there now are.

A Big Enterprise.
The County Commissioners on Monday granted a franchise to Messrs. John J. Bell and George W. Clark, of Lonaconing; William Pearce, of Cumberland; James B. Stewart and F. V. L. Turner, of Washington, D. C., to construct an electric railway from Cumberland to Westernport, via the Georges Creek coal region. The company will be known as the Lonaconing and Cumberland Electric Railway Company, with a capital stock of $250,000. The distance from Cumberland to Westernport is 28 miles, and the route will take in every town in the region. The projectors of the scheme are John J. Bell, mayor of Lonaconing, and George W. Clark, a prominent citizen of that place. Both are hustlers. The first division of the road will be built during the coming spring from Lonaconing to Frostburg, with a power-house in each place. It will carry passengers and light merchandise, and cars will run at the rate of 20 miles an hour. It will be a tremendous addition to rapid transit facilities in this county.—Frostburg Mining Journal.
