CORRESPONDENCE.

Berkley's Mills.

C. F. Critchfield and wife were visiting in Millford, last week. Suppose "Pat" went over his old hunting ground.

Our band boys are having a festival and dance, this week. It will be in progress every evening during the week, beginning on Tuesday evening. All are invited to come and have a good time.

Wm. Moser and wife, of near Boynton, were visiting Wilson E. Walker on Saturday and Sunday.

The band boys are having ice but up, so they will have their own ice when needed.

Irvin Shumaker's children are getting along nicely with their frozen fingers. Dr. Meyers attended them.

Prof. Dickey, of Salisbury, passed through our town last Sunday. He was visiting S. W. Fritz. When you come again, we want you to stop at B.

Jan 23d. 1893. PELL MELL.

Travelers may learn a lesson from Mr. C. D. Cone, a prominent attorney of Parker, Dakota, who says: "I never leave home without taking a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with me, and on many occasions have run with it to the relief of some sufferer and have never known it to fail." For sale by Copland, the druggist, Meyersdale, Pa.

Grantsville.

Owing to the good sleighing, our town was crowded with visitors on Sunday.

Attorney Hamill and Mr. Shatzer, both of Oakland, were seen on our streets on Monday.

Miss Kate Daugherty, who had been visiting at Mr. Dorsey's, last week, has returned to Meyersdale again.

Dr. Lichty and Miss Getty spent Sunday in Meyersdale.

During one of the coldest nights of last week, William Bittinger, who lives near the top of the mountain, became somewhat deranged in his mind and left his bed, about mid-night, and covered a distance of about four miles in his stocking feet, and dressed otherwise in proportion. As a result his hands, feet and ears are frozen. Dr. Bevins is the physician in charge, and says in all probability his feet will have to be amputated.

Last Sunday the following persons registered at the Farmers' hotel: John Schramm, Tillie Dash, George Walker, Alice Null, David Livengood, Robert Brandler, Elvira Martin, Wilson Martin, Bell Walker, H. M. Reitz, Jennie Fallon, John Shunk, John C. Lichter, Edith Lichter, A. B. Kauffman, J. O. Getty and Miss Emma Hammond.

As a word of praise for the Salisburyans, we wish to say that C. M. Livengood has told us that whenever a crowd behaves as respectfully as the last one did from Salisbury, his house will always be open. We are glad to note, as some young folks across the line have everything but a gentlemanly record here.

Rev. Eolow has commenced his series of meetings.

Dr. Lichty's house is undergoing repairs, but he says it will be ready for rent or sale by April 1st.

Hon. T. H. Bittinger has received the appointment of postmaster of Grantsville, and one day last week the office was moved from the A. L. Gnagy stand into his grocery store. We must say of Mr. Bittinger, even if he is a Republican, that a more congenial and accommodating man than he is for the position, is hard to find. BRUTUS.

Jan. 23d. 1893.

Mr. William T. Price, a Justice of the Peace, at Richland, Neb., was confined to his bed last winter with a severe attack of lumbago; but a thorough application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm enabled him to get up and go to work. Mr. Price says: "The Remedy can not be recommended too highly." Let any one troubled with rheumatism, neuralgia or lame back give it a trial and they will be of the same opinion. 50 cent bottles for sale by Copland, the druggist, Meyersdale, Pa.

Deaths From Joy, Fright, Grief, Etc. We read in Livy that when Hannibal had vanquished the Romans in the battle of Cannae, two women, seeing their sons whom they had supposed dead return in good health, died immediately from excessive joy. A Frenchman, who had by chance passed over a narrow plank lying across a deep gorge in the dark, on viewing the spot the next day fell down dead while contemplating the dangers of the previous night. Montague relates the case of a German nobleman who died of excessive grief on discovering that his son had been killed in battle. "He stood," says Montague, "like a stock, with his eyes fixed on the corpse till the vehemence of his sorrow having overwhelmed his vital spirits, he sank stone-dead to the ground.—St. Louis Republic.

Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa, desire to inform the public that they are manufacturers of the most successful preparation that has yet been produced for coughs, colds and croup. It will loosen and relieve a severe cold in less time than any other treatment. The article referred to is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a medicine that has won fame and popularity on its merits and one that can always be depended upon. It is the only known remedy that will prevent croup. It must be tried to be appreciated. It is put up in 25 cent, 50 cent and $1 bottles. For sale by Copland, the druggist, Meyersdale, Pa.

To be Buried Alive. Andrew Jackson Seymour, of Rockford, Ill., a mild reader by profession, is to do something even more wonderful than reading the mind of a dupe. Mr. Seymour proposes to be buried next June, first throwing himself into a state of insensibility. He is to be placed in a grave, earth is to be thrown on his coffin, and barley to be sown above his head, to keep his grave green. After the barley has ripened Mr. Seymour is to be exhumed, and then he will return to consciousness, if he has arranged the combination correctly.

This performance is not an original one with Mr. Seymour. It is averred that it has been done often in India. According to Mr. Seymour it is a voluntary suspension of the ordinary manifestations and functions of life, by an act of will power. He says he has sufficient control over his mind and nervous system to perform the feat. The experiment, if he does not shrink from it at the appointed time, should receive careful scientific observation. Man is fearfully and wonderfully made, and he by no means knows himself yet, even after centuries of centuries of careful study. Therefore, an opportunity like this to ascertain something of the capabilities of the human frame, will be made full use of.—Pittsburg Telegraph.

The Arizona Kicker on Booms.

For two straight years the Kicker has persistently opposed the idea of a boom to attract attention to our town. We have watched this boom business in scores of other places, and in every instance it has reacted disastrously. Our course has aroused the ire of certain speculators, but we shall continue it just the same. We've got 200 acres of cactus pasture which we should like to dispose of to some Ohio farmer who wants to better his condition, and who can be worked up to part with $3,000 in cash, but we haven't the cheek. We own half a mile of side hill, which won't even grow rattlesnakes, but we haven't the gall to boom it for a peach orchard. A million years hence we may have six railroads here, but we can't force ourselves to whoop-la! hurrah! on the prospect. We own about fourteen billion dollars worth of wild cat mining stock, every mine being situated in the clouds, and but for our honesty we'd proceed to boom and unload. We are at the head of a company to turn the Pacific ocean into the desert of the west.—President of the Great Strawberry Growers' Association, etc., but we were born honest and we can't look a tenderfoot in the eye and lie to him.

No, gentlemen, this town is what it is and no more. It isn't going to be a second Chicago. It has no Niagara Falls. There isn't even good fishing within 30 miles of us. We simply have the great Arizona Kicker, 148 saloons, 16 gambling houses, five stores and a population of 3,800 souls, most of which will take "the road" when the judgment day arrives. That's all, and those who don't want to come can stay away.

A Cow Drowned in a Small Spring.

A few days ago a cow belonging to Mis. Solomon Weimer was drowned in a small spring. At the east end of the old circus ground on South Side is a walled spring with a very small opening. Driven by thirst, the cow forced her head into the aperture, but was unable to withdraw it. In her struggles to free herself her head was drawn under, and she was drowned in a few inches of water.—Meyersdale Register.

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

BEST LINE TO THE WEST

Superb Dining Car Service

1852 — 1892.

As long a time as David reigned, so long has the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway run trains westward from Chicago.

The Rock Island is foremost in adopting any advantage calculated to improve speed and give that luxury, safety and comfort that popular patronage demands. Its equipment is thoroughly complete with vestibuled trains, magnificent dining cars, sleepers and chair coaches, all the most elegant and of recently improved patterns. Faithful and capable management and promptness of service from coast to coast are important items. They are a double duty—to the Company and to travelers—and it is sometimes a task of accomplishment. Passengers on this line will find little cause for complaint on that ground.

The importance of this line can be better understood if a short lesson in geography be now recited.

What is the great Eastern terminus of the Rock Island Route?—Chicago. What other sub-Eastern terminus has it?—Peoria. To what important points does it run trains to the Northwest?—St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Waterloo and Sioux Falls, Dakota. To what important Iowa and Nebraska points?—Des Moines, Davenport, Iowa; Omaha and Lincoln, Nebraska. Does it touch other Missouri river points?—Yes; St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth and Kansas City. Does it run trains to the foothills of the Rocky Mountains?—Yes; to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo, solid vestibuled from Chicago. Can it import cities not yet reached by the Rock Island Route?—Yes; its capital city, Topeka, and a full hundred others in all directions in the State, and it is the only road running to and into the new lands opened for settlement in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Reservations.

It will thus be seen that a line tapping, as the Rock Island does, such a varied territory, has much in that regard to commend it to travelers, as all connections are sure on the Rock Island, and passengers can rely on a speedy journey, as over a bulk of the system through trains are run, and it has become, and rightly too, the popular line.

A very popular train on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway leaves Chicago, daily, at 10 p. m. It is called "The Big Fly," is only one day out, and passengers arrive at Denver, Pueblo or Colorado Springs early the second morning.

The Rock Island has become a popular Colorado line, and the train above referred to is 1000 feet high, and carries the Rock Island's excellent Dining Car Service.
