

How to Keep Young.
 We find this circulating in the newspapers. The author is unknown to us. It contains much truth:
 "Past grief, old anger, revenges, even past pleasure, constantly dwell upon—all dead, decaying, or decayed thought—make a sepulchre of the soul, a cemetery of the body, and a weather-beaten monument of the face."
 "This is age."
 "The women who never grow old are the student women—those who daily drink in new chyle through memorizing, thoroughly analyzing, and perfectly assimilating subjects apart from themselves."
 "Study is development—is eternal youth."
 "The student woman who makes wise use of her acquisitions has no time to corrupt her brow with dread of the beauty destroyer leaping fast behind her."
 "Not considered or invited, old age keeps his distance. Brain culture, based on noble motive, means sympathy, heart gentleness, charity, graciousness, enlargement of sense, feeling, power. Such a being cannot become a fossil."—Scientific American.

A CYCLONE'S AWFUL PATH.

SEVERAL PEOPLE WERE KILLED.
 Almost the Entire South Was Ravaged by the Gale. Houses and Factories Demolished.

A terrific cyclone swept over northern Mississippi and the western portion of Tennessee late Thursday afternoon, leaving death and devastation in its track. Reports were numerous. Every countryman who came in added horrors to the situation. Kelly, Miss., is only a small place of about 20 houses, of which 12 or 15 were entirely swept away, and there remains nothing to show there was ever a residence there except the mass of debris which is scattered in all directions. As far as can be learned there was not a house left standing within the scope of the cyclone, which ranged from a quarter to a half mile in width south-west of Kelly. The trees were mown down and torn up by the roots as though a scythe had clipped them.
 At Murray, Ky., 20 residences and 15 stables and barns were demolished. Only one person, Miss Abigail Stubblefield, was seriously injured. The loss will reach $25,000.
 Bowling Green, Ky.—The cyclone did great damage to property, but no lives were lost. The loss to the Louisville and Nashville railroad on the building and locomotives is estimated all the way from $75,000 to $100,000. The roofs were blown off about 20 buildings, including the court house. The damage is about $10,000.
 Louisville—A terrible cyclone swooped down on the town of Rowland Thursday night and almost entirely destroyed it. The postoffice building was swept entirely away, together with all the mail, some of which was found two miles off. Every house in Rowland was more or less damaged.
 Indianapolis—In this city 50 houses were wrecked in the northwest portion. At Tuxedo, a suburb, many houses were wrecked. Many of the residents passed the night in their cellars. Advice from all parts of the State indicate much property damaged and some persons maimed. The loss will amount to many thousands of dollars. At McConville the farm house of James McCord was blown to pieces and Mrs. McCord was fatally injured.
 Alexandria, Ind.—The cyclone partially wrecked the mammoth lamp factory of the Lippincott Company, killing William Angel and his son, aged 10 years.
 Nashville, Tenn.—Half of the Big State penitentiary, which covers 80 acres of ground, was torn to pieces, entailing an enormous loss. The convicts, 500 in number, had just moved out of the mess hall when the building collapsed.
 A two-story brick in North Nashville was blown down, killing Alex. and Eugene Drumright outright, and horribly maiming W. T. Bradford, who is fatally hurt. W. R. Wright, his wife and two children, who were in the building, were buried in the debris and were more or less wounded. Out at Derden, a suburb of the town, the entire place was obliterated by the storm and fire. The damage to Nashville property alone is over $100,000. The cyclone ploughed its way down the Cumberland valley and destroyed property and life.

ASHLEY TALKS NOW.
 He Answers Arthur, But Develops No New Facts in Case Under Discussion.
 General Manager H. W. Ashley of the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railroad makes the following reply to Chief Arthur's statement:
 "Since Mr. Arthur has made the merits of the differences between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and this company of public interest, it seems my duty to state the facts from the other point of view. This company pays all its freight engineers $50 per 100 miles, and overtime after 14 hours at 30 cents per hour. The men are not classified. This is a higher rate than is paid by any road in Michigan, except the Michigan Central. Ninety per cent of the engineers run freight trains. There are only seven men engaged in passenger service; of these two remained with the company and are still at work. They express themselves as satisfied. The men on these runs earn from $1,200 to $1,400 per year, for service of eight hours or less per day, on trains of two or three cars, scheduled at 24 miles per hour. This work is considered the most desirable on the road.
 "The freight engineers all earn between $100 and $140 per month. This is what Mr. Arthur calls the 'grinding process.' The facts from the other point of view. This company pays all its freight engineers $50 per 100 miles, and overtime after 14 hours at 30 cents per hour. The men are not classified. This is a higher rate than is paid by any road in Michigan, except the Michigan Central. Ninety per cent of the engineers run freight trains. There are only seven men engaged in passenger service; of these two remained with the company and are still at work. They express themselves as satisfied. The men on these runs earn from $1,200 to $1,400 per year, for service of eight hours or less per day, on trains of two or three cars, scheduled at 24 miles per hour. This work is considered the most desirable on the road.
 "On Sunday, February 28, less than 20 out of a total of 40 members of the brotherhood met in secret session in Owosso, and a small majority of those present determined to make demands for more pay and new rules. They claim, and members of the brotherhood have testified in court, that neither a strike nor a boycott can be effective without Mr. Arthur's order or consent. It seems immaterial by what name he exercises his authority; it is not denied that such a conspiracy cannot be made effective except with his approval. The men themselves speak of it as 'Arthur's order.' In this instance Mr. Arthur ordered or approved both the strike and boycott, not only with a knowledge that both were illegal, but with the knowledge that the United States court had issued a mandatory injunction to his men in connecting lines not to refuse to handle Mr. Arthur's cars. Yet Mr. Arthur advertises himself as a law-abiding citizen.
 "By his own confession to the court, it appears that he was the chief party to the conspiracy either to force the Ann Arbor Company to pay the wages and submit to the rules he thought reasonable, or to ruin the industry of every corporation or private person who was dependent upon its railroad for the transportation of his goods. I do not understand that the desirability or legality of organized labor is in question. The discussion raises the question only of the right of men to labor or not as they may elect; and of the right of other men who do not belong to an organization to engage in their places.
 "The rights of men to quit the service of the company in any manner and at any time which does not endanger lives or property have always been conceded, but they denied the right of others to perform the same service at the rates of pay refused by them, and have individually and collectively destroyed property, placed the business of outside persons in jeopardy and made themselves felons in the eyes of the law in order to accomplish their purpose. Yet Mr. Arthur continues to advertise himself as a law-abiding citizen.
 "This afternoon Manager Ashley offered $1,000 reward for the apprehension or conviction of the person or persons who caused the derailment of a passenger train near Owosso, Mich., on Wednesday night. A switch lock was broken, the switch thrown and the danger signal broken off the top of the switch.
 "The strikers have sent notice to the railroad commissioner of Michigan informing him that the Ann Arbor is daily breaking the law which compels all trains to come to a dead stop before crossing at junctions.
 "According to the 'Vossische Zeitung,' Berlin, a syndicate has acquired from Herr Dove, the Mannheim tailor, the bullet-proof cloth invention which has made the tailor's name famous every where.

HEREDITARY FOES.

The memory of the Pimas, nor do his traditions, run so far back that a mortal enmity with the Apaches did not exist. The first thing the Pima child is taught is to hate the Apache, the vaudal of the great American desert, and he seldom forgets his teaching. Though it is not so bad now that the Apaches have surrendered to the United States Government, still the hatred exists, and when the opportunity is presented the Pima heads all kinds of contumely upon the heads of the Apaches.
 As is known the Pimas seldom leave their valley homes, and as the Apaches are now on the reservation under the surveillance of troops, it is rarely that they meet, though last winter a company of the Apache soldiers were brought through the city under a United States officer. Before they had been here an hour their old enemies, the Pimas and Maricopas, all knew of it, and by the middle of the afternoon fully 2000 were in town to see them. The Apache sentinel had been taught enough military discipline to know that he must not resent the insults heaped upon him by the Indian onlookers, but it must have been a hard trial to his wild nature.
 Years ago the Apaches and the Pimas often settled their differences by single combat or pitched battles, and there is now a Pima living who killed six Apaches in one day in single combat near where the Sacaton Agency is located. The Pima used his ironwood club, about two feet in length, and the Apaches their spears and war clubs. It is wonderful how skillful these Pimas are in the use of their clubs, fencing with them equal to the exhibition of a French master of the foils.—Phoenix (Arizona) Herald.

Royal Baking Powder
 Is Absolutely Pure
 WHILE there are so many alum baking powders in the market, the use of which all physicians decide render the food unwholesome and liable to produce dyspepsia and other ailments, housekeepers should exercise the utmost care to prevent any powder but the Royal from being brought into their kitchens.
 In the use of Royal there is an absolute certainty of pure and wholesome food.
 The official State Chemists report: The Royal Baking Powder does not contain ammonia, alum, lime, nor any injurious ingredients. It is absolutely pure and wholesome.
 The Government reports show all other baking powders to contain impurities.
 In the use of any baking powder but Royal there is uncertainty if not actual danger.
 It is unwise to take chances in matters of life and health.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
 Gentlemen:—I desire to make a brief statement for the benefit of the suffering. I had been afflicted with catarrh of the head, throat and nose, and perhaps the bladder for fully twenty-five years. Having tried other remedies without success, I was led by an advertisement in the Sentinel-Democrat to try Hall's Catarrh Cure. I have just finished my fourth bottle, and I believe I am right when I say I am thoroughly restored. I don't believe there is a trace of the disease left. Respectfully,
