It is that 'employment is of more value than mere cheapness' Employment means wages; wages means money; money means the power of buying. Want of employment means no wages, no money no buying; it means, in fact, 'going with out.' Everything is cheap, comparatively, for the man who has money to buy; nothing is cheap to the man who has no

Dunning by Postal Card.

There is a very general impression mong merchants and others who are particularly interested in the subject, that it is a criminal offense under United States laws to mail a dunning letter written on a posta card. A person in this neighborhood worte to the First Assistant Postmaster General asking for information, and re-ceived a reply giving the decision of Judge Thayer, Dec. 14, 1889, on the wording of a postal card that was mailable and one that was not.

The mailable one read: "Please call and settle account, which is long past due, and for which our collector has called several times, and oblige." The unmailable one reads: "You owe me $1.80. We have cabled several times for same. If not paid at once, we shall place with our law agency for collection."

The last sentence, it is stated, ruled out this communication. Postal cards are not mailable if they contain languof "a threatening character," and it is a very serious threat to the average man to tell him that you are going to sue him. There is no law, however, to prevent you from putting an X on your card to let your debtor understand that you are really cross with him .- Ithica Journa
