ALL THE YEAR ROUND. The greatest success hitherto attained in the Magazine field must be accorded to the Cosmopolitan, jumping as it has from 16,000 copies in 1889 to an edition of 150,000 copies for January, 1893. That there is cause for this success goes without just cause, I will not be responsible for any debts that she may contract.

No other public and all others to sell her nothing of any description, before the public makes the effort to give its readers the best of everything, and succeeds in doing it as does this monthly. Its illustrations lead the world; its literary merit is certainly of the highest order that money can buy or brains produce. Each month, from year's end to year's end, can be found in side its covers something to instruct and please every member of the household. In fact a year's careful reading of the Cosmopolitan means a progressive step in the education of any man or woman in the land.

OFF TO THE HOSPITAL.

Reminiscence of a Former Citizen of

There were two things during the war that I dreaded more than anything else, and they were the hospital and a Rebel prison. But my physical condition at the close of the campaign in '62 made it ecessary to go to the former place: but fortunately. I was allowed to remain in the regimental hospital, which was nothing but a large tent, with rude bunks made of small poles, and pine boughs for mattresses, over which was spread a blanket. While I was in the hospital I had nothing to eat and drink but rice had nothing to eat and drink but rice and tea, and that would invariably taste of smoke. I got so disgusted with rice that to this day I can't bear to see it on the table. While is the hospital I saw many of my comrades die, and I was reduced to 97 lbs. Often at night I would If you want a fine Diess or a nice Spring Coat, go to S. C. Hartley & Co. They can please you.
