Profoundly Grateful Help Derived From Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I am profoundly impressed with the medical virtues of Hood's Sarsaparilia. I was threatened with cancer, and disagreeable eruptions on my back and other places. The cancer was appearing on my lip. Providentially I obtained a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilia, and by the time it was gone, the bad symptoms had nearly all disappeared. I have used four bottles, and I believe it has Acted like Magic! Suffered Years with Kidneys and Liver. LIFE WAS A BURDEN!

Mr. McCoy is a wealthy and influential citizen of Van Wert, and a man known for miles around. See what he says:—
"For years I was a terrible sufferer with Kidney and Liver trouble, also nervons prostration and poor health in general. I was all run down and life a burden. I tried physicians and every available remedy, but found no relief. Was induced to give Swamp-Roota trial, which acted like magic, and to-day I am entirely cured and as good a man as ever. It is without question the greatest remedy in the world. Any one in doubt of this statement can address me."

Burke, of the New Yorks, leads his club in base running. Anson, Chicago's Captain, has been twenty five years in harness.

CARPER, of Yale, has the "strike-out" record for the season. He retired sixteen Princeton batsmen. He has struck out 137 men already this season.

No matter how strong the pitcher, most of them feel the disadvantages of the new rules and lose their effectiveness in some part of the game. The large number of games being lost or won in one inning shows this.

ONE of the greatest dangers to ball players is in sliding to the home plate, where the catchers are allowed to deliberately block the runner off. The base runner should be entitled to a chance to reach the base.

complete mastery of mind over matter."

"You are looking," said the older man, "to that time when the mind will sit in an inert body and do nothing but command. True it is that the tendency is in that direction; but it is a matter of grave question whether the good of the human race calls for the fulfillment of the plan. The mind of man is the master, but the man who looks forward to the hour when he can sit and by the pressing of a button have the world at his feet is not the man who will bring these things about. We yearn for improvements that will make life easier; yet with the time-saving methods of yet with the time-saving methods of to-day the race is busier and less rest-taking than ever. I agree with the old gentleman who thought the forty-acre farmer with happy surroundings the richest man he ever knew."

Slaves That Do Not Work.

Slaves That Do Not Work.

Englishmen are apt to confound African slavery with the forms of slavery known to European Nations. One of the curiosities of domestic slavery in darkest Africa pointed out by the St. James's Gazette is that, while the native slave owner can, by custom, compel his slaves to fight for him and possesses other extensive powers over them, he cannot "legally" compel his slaves to work for him. On the Congo and its affluents native (not Mohammedan) slave owners pay wages to their own slaves whenever the latter are required to transport ivory and to their own slaves whenever the latter are required to transport ivory and produce to the coast. Even Tippoo Tib pays his numerous slave soldiers under such peaceful circumstances. The explanation of this anamoly seems The explanation of this anämoly seems to be that war is a far more ancient and primitive institution than labor. When domestic slavery was "first introduced" into Africa regular labor was unknown; the right to monopolize the slave's labor was therefore never incorporated among the slaveholder's privileges and prerogatives. It is white men who have really introduced and acclimatized the idea of work or "labor" in Africa. When Pharaoh compelled the children of Israel to "work" for him he was considered a dangerous revolutionist by Egyptian conservatives. The Spaniards first introduced labor slavery in the western world. We moderns have completely forgotten that the slave was originally in the main a fighting retainer, nor a working man.

"Hy father used to tell me about the richest man he everknew," said a steady young fellow a few days ago, says the Detroit Free Frees. "That man had a wife and three children on a cozy little forty-acre farm. He had a few hundred dollars in the bank and was always adding to it, for his expenses were far below the profits of his little place. That man had no sickness in his family. He was happy. He had everything that he wanted and was independent. So he was the richest man my father ever knew. I cannot say that I agree with my respected ancestor," continued the young man, "for that man never knew of the modern luxries of life, those thousand and one little improvements and conveniences that go to make ease for man, the gradual working out of the theory of the eventful complete mastery of mind over matter."

Tricked by the Jolly Tars.

A pretty good story is told of the way in which the officers of a certain sloop-of-war of the North Atlantic squadron succeeded in getting their ship's slow and antiquated steam launch replaced by one of a later and more fashfonable type. It happened that the vessel hauled into a navyyard for its periodical repairs. While there the launch was loudly complained of as too heavy and unwieldly for a sloop-of-war to carry, and a careful weighing by the yard authorities verified the complaint. Thereupon a new and swift little craft which cost Uncle Sam ever so many hundreds of dollars was substituted, and the sloop-of-war steamed exultantly away. But when the old launch was sent to the boat shop for overhauling the workmen found snughter the start of the start of the start of the launch was sent to the boat shop for overhauling the workmen found snugoverhauling the workmen found snug-ly stowed away out of sight along the keelson nearly a thousand pounds of superfluous ballast iron. The appar-ently unaccountable weight of the re-jected boat was readily explained.— Boston Journal.
