Don't Forget This.

Watch the man that wants to sell you goods or Marble at 40 per cent. below price. He must have something in view in the future to catch up to a living price; so watch him and his work, and then you will place your orders with the old, reliable firm of J. B. Williams, Frostburg, Md., for first-class work.

S. F. WILSON, Salesman for J. B. Williams.

I hereby give notice to merchants and all others that my son James is over 21 years of age and is responsible for debts of his contracting. He draws his own earnings and will settle his own bills. I am no longer responsible for debts that he may contract. ROBT. COCHRANE.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

I. D. Leydig, of Glencoe, was with us again, this week.

J. W. Miller, of Waterloo, Iowa, is visiting friends here.

Landlord Zimmerman and wife, of Berlin, made our town a visit, this week.

J. C. Lowry, of Somerset, was circulating among Salisbury friends, this week.

WANTED! The editor of THE STAR wants a good girl to do general house work.

Dr. Shaw, a brother of the West Salisbury merchant, was a Tuesday visitor in town.

Mrs. W. A. Glotfelty, who has been very ill for some time, is on the mend, and we are glad to say.

Thos. S. Williams recently shipped nine good horses to Philadelphia. He accompanied the car to its destination.

W. H. McBride, the popular and well known fruit tree agent, is visiting relatives and friends in our town, this week.

Billmeyer & Balliet have bought a tract of timber of Truman Maust and Hon. B. Weiffley and have moved their sawmill onto the same.

R. B. Shepard, our popular barber, has shaved off his handsome mustache and now has the appearance of a jolly, round-faced Dutchman.

Wm. P. Hay, Philip Hay, W. H. Hay and A. L. G. Hay were all in town recently on political business. It looked real Hay-zy here for a few days.

Rev. Benjamin Johnson, a colored minister of Meyersdale, is in town this week visiting our colored citizens. Rev. Johnson is thinking of holding a camp-meeting here.

Last Thursday evening two of our would-be pugilists went outside of the borough limits to pommel each other, and all on account of a dispute they had about a piece of pie.

H. A. Reitz is talking of erecting a double business block in West Salisbury, on the site of the old grist mill. He will not build a new mill, we are informed by Station Agent Riley.

For a set of blowhards and self-laudatory nonentities, the present County Commissioners take the cake. Garbled statements from men that want to be kept in office don't count in this campaign.

A son of Simon Glotfelty's met with a mishap on Tuesday that might have cost him his life. While hauling rock he fell under the wagon and the load passed over him. Fortunately, however, he was not hurt much.

J. E. Gnagev, of Grantsville, was in town on Monday, somewhat disabled, but still in the ring. A plank dropped on his foot while making pavement, severely injuring that valuable member of his body. Better luck to Jonas, next time.

H. C. Shaw has rented Wm. Petry's new business building and will take possession July 1st. He has rented it for five years, at $14 per month, and will use it for both a residence and a store. So saveth Sam Mier, our informant.

Urias D. Yoder thinks it pays to advertise in THE STAR, and so it does. Last week he inserted a few lines, advertising 40 pigs for sale, which he sold in a few hours, on Tuesday. Plant your "ads" in THE STAR; it will pay you every time.

John P. Vogel is one of the best Republican committeemen that Elk Lick township has ever had. He has always done all in his power to bring out a good vote, which is the duty of every committeeman. Read his notice in this issue.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. of this place has decided to have a mammoth picnic, at this place, some time in August. The most extensive preparations will be made and the citizens will be asked to co-operate. Further announcements will follow.

Married, Tuesday evening, June 13th, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Frank Billmeyer and Miss Nina Brieg. Rev. Enlow, of Grantsville, performed the ceremony, after which the couple started for the groom's home, in the eastern part of this state.

The Knights of Labor, over at Coal Run, have bills out for a grand picnic, which will be held at that place on July 4th. They have one of the finest groves in this locality and will do as they did last year—have the best 4th of July picnic held in this part of the county.

Squire Cook, the popular insurance agent of Meyersdale, was a Tuesday visitor in town. He was agreeably surprised at the advancement Salisbury has made in the past year or two. In the way of hotels he thinks our town can not be excelled by any other in the county. He is right.

Our genial friend Jack Pile is receiving much merited praise as a road supervisor. He has done some of the best work on the road between here and Meyersdale that has been done for years. He believes in doing the work right as he goes and quitting when the money is all used. A sensible idea.

We call special attention to the reading notice of the Middle-States Building, Loan and Construction Co., which appears on 4th page. It is very important that a branch of this company be organized here. Mr. Hast, the agent, will be here next Thursday and Friday, and can be seen at Hay's hotel.

Agent Hast, of the Middle-States Building, Loan and Construction Co., has now written up about 45 or 50 shares of stock, here, and that we will have an organized branch of said company is now almost an assured fact. Our citizens are beginning to see that it is a most excellent thing and that it will in time prove a great benefit to the town.

Michael Smith, Jr., son of our genial old friend Michael Smith, Sr., was called to the old home in this town, a few days ago, by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother, "Mick," as he is commonly called, is looking well and is as genial and pleasant as of yore. He has been railroaded for the past few years and resides, we are informed, at Youngstown, Ohio.

Samuel H. Smith, the great fifer and drum corps enthusiast, came up from Meyersdale this week to spend a few days in Salisbury. He thinks the young men here ought to organize a good drum corps, and he says he would be willing to help it along and make it the best organization of that kind in seventeen states. We believe Sam's idea should be carried out. Go ahead, boys, and organize.

Last Sunday while S. A. Beachy and family were in church, some one broke into their house, broke open some drawers with a hatchet and raided things in general in search of money. We are informed that aside from some small change nothing of any value was taken. Mr. Beachy is one of the sensible men that never keep much money about the house, or he might have been fleeced on a large scale.

The Railroad Co. has put in a coupon ticket case for Station Agent Riley and he is now prepared to sell tickets to all parts of the country. This, however, will not be of much benefit to the people here, unless a regular passenger train is put on the branch. But since the company has fitted up our depot with a coupon ticket case, it looks as though the much needed passenger service would follow. We hope it will, for we need it badly.

E. H. Werner, the clerk of the County Commissioners' office, is a first rate fellow and a very able clerk; and of course he wants to hold his job, for which we do not blame him. For that reason he is doing all he can to have the old Commissioners re-elected. He knows just what kind of campaign literature and figures will suit their case, as well as what figures will not, but the scheme won't work. The people are onto the dodge, and don't you forget it.

Fowls, when allowed their liberty, find many articles of a spicy nature upon which they feed. In confinement they cannot furnish themselves with such articles, but must be provided with them by their keeper. By the use of them their health is promoted—and healthy fowls are equivalent to profitable fowls. Prolific Poultry Food supplies just this need and is easy to get and convenient to use; also not expensive. L. B. Lord, Proprietor, Burlington, Vt. For sale by Mrs. S. A. Lichliter.

According to what a prominent citizen of Garrett county, Md., told us a few days ago, the Grantsville communication that last week appeared in THE STAR and dealt with the subject of Christian Science, has opened the eyes of people in that county. In other words, the people out there are beginning to see that they have been victimized. Christian Science, so called, is a hollow mockery, a delusion and a snare. It is sacrilegious to pretend to heal the sick in the way that the Christian Scientists resort to.

We call attention to the political announcement of John Roberts, which appears in this issue. From the fact that this is the third run for Mr. Roberts for Treasurer, and he being the next highest man for that office at the last Republican primary, it is altogether probable that he will this time be elected. Without saying a harmful word against any of his opponents, we can truthfully say of Mr. Roberts that he is both a gentleman and an exceptionally well qualified man for the office to which he aspires.

Levi Lichliter has returned from the World's Fair and reports a pleasant trip. Before returning he visited our old fellow townsman, Rev. Marshall Bowlin, who is located at Maquon, Ill. He reports Rev. Bowlin and family prospering nicely. He also found Harvey Smith in the same town and says Harvey has grown to be fat and hearty. Mr. Lichliter has been unwell since his return, being troubled with something on the order of flux. Some of the other members of the family have had the same trouble, he informs us. The malady is attributed to impure drinking water.

A delinquent subscriber writes us that if we need money now he will remit. Need it! Well, we should say we do need it. Country editors always need it. There never was a time when we needed it more than right now. The editor's wife has been sick a few days since Monday a week ago, and when a fellow's wife is sick ailed, and there are doctor bills to pay, small children to be cared for, etc., etc., it's mighty hard getting along, even with lots of money. Mrs. Livengood has been confined to her bed a great deal of the time ever since we came here, and of course that makes it very expensive for THE STAR. Yes, we need money and need it badly; our patrons will greatly oblige us by paying promptly.

On Monday E. McDowell and L. S. Keim went to the headwaters of Pine run for the purpose of catching trout. They camped out that night, but the next day hastened home on short notice, on account of McDowell getting very sick. "Mack" was so near "gone up" that Tom Broadstock's mule and cart had to bring him home. They ran across Broadstock and his rig somewhere in the woods, and after hiring the mule and cart they felt better; but they came near having trouble when passing Mr. Broadstock's house. It was this way: Some of the young Broadstocks saw the two strangers, and knowing nothing of the bargain made with their father, at once accused the weary fishermen of stealing the rig and demanded them to deliver up. It was hard to explain matters satisfactorily, but they were finally allowed to proceed in peace. L. S. thinks it's all-fired hard to go fishing and get nothing, and harder still to have all the mosquitos in the woods present their bills and people accuse a fellow of stealing a mule and cart.

Be not Deceived. Let Justice Prevail.

ROCKWOOD, PA., June 10th, 1893. TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—We are informed that there is a report circulated over the county that M. H. Hartzell, who is candidate for Sheriff, voted for John M. Reynolds, Democratic candidate for Judge. We wish to say, in all fairness to M. H. Hartzell, that the report is not correct. We know that M. H. Hartzell voted for J. H. Longenecker, the present Judge.

Hoping this untruthful rumor will not be the means of misleading anyone, we are, Respectfully yours,
