TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease CONSUMPTION, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, CATARRH, BRONCHITIS and all throat and lung MALADIES. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address,
REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, Brooklyn, New York.

TOPICS AND COMMENT.

If Congress were one man, he would often be in danger from "Judge Lynch," and deservedly too.

If the suicide of a Detroit private detective should be followed by an epidemic of suicide in that craft, the country would not be much out.

WHATEVER else may be dragged into partisan politics, there are two things which should never be pensions, and the financial system of the country.

OUR present Commissioners, who were elected to be servants of the people, imagine themselves masters of the people. It is time to relegate them to the rear.

The average man of political prominence who imagines himself self-made, would be a bankrupt if compelled to pay what he really owes to the newspapers.

The recent decisions in Pennsylvania, in the Evangelical Association church squabble, have been in favor of the Dublites. The Esher and Bowman faction seems to be downed in this state.

Owing to a late act of the Legislature, burgesses in this state can no longer be elected for two terms of office in succession. The same act gives them the power to veto certain classes of ordinances, and their term of office has been increased to three years.

The Democratic wheel horses won. The colts were not "in it." This is just as THE STAR predicted, although both factions have some very good men. When they down Johns and Coffroth they have got to get up early. In fact they have got to stay up all night.

The Meyersdale Register is for the present board of Commissioners. But that is on account of their patronage, consequently does not count. We doubt whether the Register man will vote for them, but of course on account of patronage bestowed, he must sound praises for them, which he well knows they do not deserve. Such is life.

GENERAL GRANT was both and raised a Democrat, but during the war he became a Republican, and immediately thereafter he was elected President of the United States. He was a good President and a faithful Republican to the end. Yet, because M. H. Hartzell was a Democrat away back, thirteen years or more ago, some fellows who are paid for electioneering against him are trying to make people believe that they should not vote for him. Shame on such tactics! Hartzell is all "O. K. and don't you forget it."

AGUSTUS DAVIS, in the presence of S. J. Lichty, the editor and others, remarked that if he does not get a good vote in Salisbury he will feed Salisbury people on stale oysters when they come to Somerset. He further said that he never stole anything from Salisbury people, hence ought to get a big vote here. Now, Gustie, dear, let us whisper a word in your ear. Remember you cannot compel people to vote for you by using rudeness and bad manners. You can lead a bull to water, but you cannot make him drink. You never stole anything of us, 'tis true, but that may be because you never had a chance. But be that as it may, the other candidates never stole anything from us, either, as Samuel J. Lichty told you. So, Gustie, dear, when you come over here, don't bowl up with beer, and snarl and sneer, and get on your ear, or you'll be scalped clean and clear; for we're full of good cheer, none of us "skeer," and we know no fear, says THE STAR with a leer. Do you hear?

PUT on thy working garments, O Salisbury! Let thy maidens attire themselves in gorgeous array; let them wear garlands, and laurels and wreaths of flowers. And let their voices rise loud, as they smite the symbols together and sing to thee. Behold, the winter is over, the sunlight sparkles on the grass, on the foliage of the trees, and on the early cucumbers. Breezes which are perfumed, yea, perfumed by the flowers of the surrounding mountains, are wafted o'er thee, with a sighing as sweet as the murmuring of the musician's lyre! Let thy stalwart sons gird up their loins and boom the town in a way to make the fur fly. Let them toil as becometh good husbandmen; toil that we may have electric light, and a board of trade, and water works, and a new name for the town, regular passenger service on the Salisbury railroad and other things too numerous to mention. How beautiful upon the mountains are the footsteps of the gentlemen who try to boom thee, and sing thy praises from the rising of the sun to the going down of the same—who patronize home industries and spend their shiekles with their home business men. Full soon the summer will be over and the harvest ended; and when that day cometh, may no enemies have cause to say that there are flies on Salisbury.

THE Baker ballot law, as finally amended and passed, is decreased to one-half its present size. Only one set of ballots and sample ballots is necessary; reduces the percentage for party nominations from three to two; increases time allowed for printing the ballots, provides that the printing of ballots for spring elections shall be under the supervision of the County Commissioners; certificates of nominations for members of the House of Representatives shall be filed with the County Commissioners instead of the Secretary of the Commonwealth; provides that one mark in a circle at the top of a column of candidates shall be a vote for every one in that column. Where the circle is not marked, a mark for every candidate voted for is then required; a screen or door must be placed on the front of each booth, thereby better securing privacy; provides for greater thickness of paper for ballots and the corner of the ballot folded over shall be printed black so that the number cannot be seen through the paper; in case a person votes for more persons than he is entitled to, the ballot shall not be entirely thrown out, but so much of the ballot as is properly marked shall be counted. The disability clause of the act of 1893 is unchanged, but a penal clause is provided for any one who falsely represents his disability.—Ex.

Concerning M. H. Hartzell.

Of all the nonsensical campaign rot that is going the rounds, the most foolish and contemptible is the story circulated concerning M. H. Hartzell, the sum and substance of which is to the effect that he used to be a Democrat. Some of the Hoover men are trying to make it appear that he flopped over, recently, with no other end in view than to be elected to office. The statement is a campaign lie of the first water. It is true that Mr. Hartzell was born and reared a Democrat, but he showed his superior good sense, years ago, by coming over to the Republicans. For the last thirteen years, Mr. Hartzell has been a staunch advocate of Republican principles, and a more energetic, ceaseless and fearless worker than he has been in the Republican party since coming into it, never existed in Somerset county. He has been one of the wheel horses ever since he came from the Democratic ranks and has done much effective Republican work in many hotly contested campaigns. Besides that, Mr. Hartzell is a man of strict business integrity, manly principles and generous-hearted in the highest degree. He is one of nature's noblemen—kind and sympathetic, yet courageous and brave as a knight of old. If elected, he will be a sheriff excelled by none in the state as a competent and reliable officer. No better reasons can be given for voting for Mr. Hartzell.

There are especial good reasons why the people of this locality should vote for him. Coupled with his excellent qualifications for the office are several deeds of valor that have bound him to many of our best citizens with ties of gratitude and respect that can not be severed. It will be remembered by many that some years ago, in Uniontown, he saved the life of the noblest, the grandest, the most philanthropic man that ever resided in Salisbury. The life he saved was that of Dr. C. G. Stutzman, who was about to be shot down like a dog by an English nobleman, who was rebuked by the doctor for denouncing our American free school system. Had it not been for the speedy interference of M. H. Hartzell, who interfered when most men would have fled, the noble, generous doctor so much beloved by all his fellow citizens, for his good deeds, would have been converted into a corpse then and there. Can any of us then go back on Mr. Hartzell at the coming election? THE STAR hopes not. Another thing, Mr. Hartzell is a worthy hero of the Johnstown flood. He was there at the time the awful event occurred; and when he saw men, and fond mothers with their little babes struggling in the angry waters, did he do as some men did—stand and look on? No; he imperiled his life, time after time, and rescued the drowning ones until he was himself completely exhausted. He is accredited with rescuing more people from the Johnstown flood than any other one man.

We do not publish these things at the solicitation of Mr. Hartzell or any of his friends. It is done unknown to them, and solely because we feel it our duty since his record has been assailed in so unjoint and utterly false a manner, by some of the opposition. We have no ill will toward Edward Hoover, Mr. Hartzell's opponent, but some of the Hoover boomers ought to be ashamed of the willfully malicious and untruthful campaign thunder they are making use of. Either of the two men may be well qualified to officiate as Sheriff, but in the estimation of THE STAR, Mr. Hartzell has the best claim on it this round, and we hope there will be enough Republicans of this opinion to elect him. He was the next highest man the last time, and in justice to him in that as well as in other respects, we believe he should have the preference this time.

FOWLS, when allowed their liberty, find many articles of a spicy nature upon which they feed. In confinement they cannot furnish themselves with such articles, but must be provided with them by their keeper. By the use of them their health is promoted—and healthy fowls are equivalent to profitable fowls. Prolific Poultry Food supplies just this need and is easy to get and convenient to use; also not expensive. L. B. Lord, Proprietor, Burlington, Vt. For sale by Mrs. S. A. Lichtler.
