

The Somerset County Star.

P. L. LIVENGOOD, Editor and Publisher. Mrs. P. L. LIVENGOOD, Associate Editor.

Don't Forget This.

Watch the man that wants to sell you goods or Marble at 40 per cent. below price. He must have something in view in the future to catch up to a living price; so watch him and his work, and then you will place your orders with the old, reliable firm of J. B. Williams, Frostburg, Md., for first-class work.

S. F. WILSON, Salesman for J. B. Williams.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

J. W. Pile is all smiles. It's a new girl.

Tuesday morning they had a heavy frost over at Somerset.

Services in the Lutheran church, Sunday afternoon, at 2 p. m.

Ice Cream Soda at Speicher's drug store, Saturday afternoon and evening.

L. A. Maust, the genial Garrett station agent, was a Monday visitor in this city.

Trams are getting to be exceedingly numerous in these "good old Democratic times."

J. C. Lowry and family, of Somerset, are visiting Mr. L.'s parents in this city, this week.

The Keystone Fence Co., of Friedlens, will, it is said, erect a factory for the manufacture of their goods.

Tobacco is injurious! Stop it by taking Hill's Chloride of Gold Tablets. All first-class druggists sell them.

Rev. Benjamin Johnson has decided to hold a camp meeting at Meyersdale. It begins on the 19th of this month.

S. A. Kimmel has returned from Washington, Pa., and will make this thriving burg his headquarters for some time.

The picnic which was to take place near the Wilhelm church, Aug. 19th, has been postponed and will be held on the 26th.

M. J. Beachy and family went west, Monday morning, to attend the World's Fair and visit relatives in Nebraska and other states.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Jones are mourning the loss of their babe. The little one died last week. THE STAR extends its sympathy.

Mrs. Eva Williams started on a trip to Illinois, Monday morning. She will visit relatives at Gibson City, also take in the World's Fair at Chicago.

An ethnologist is endeavoring to prove that Adam was a monkey, but we rather incline to the theory that he was a wine; for was not Eve made of a spare rib?—EX.

Lutheran reunion at Rockwood, Aug. 24th. Excursion train will leave West Salisbury at 8:20 a. m. and return from Rockwood 5:35 p. m. Fare, 65 cents for the round trip.

David S. Patterson, of Nebraska, is 75 years old, and has been totally blind from infancy, and yet he has invented and recently patented an improvement in the driving gear of locomotives.

All of the distilleries in this county operated by Edward Walters, of Baltimore, have been ordered closed until times get better. It would be a fine thing if all other distilleries would close also and remain closed.

W. H. Dill, of Meyersdale, has received an appointment in the Revenue service. The Johns and Coffroth men seem to be getting the revenue appointments, while the Hay and Fisher people are knocking the postal plums.

The Linger-Gagey wedding, at Grantsville, took place Wednesday evening as per announcement, and was a very nicely arranged affair. THE STAR will publish an account of it in full, next week. Time is too short to do it justice in this issue.

Last week unsuccessful attempts were made to rob Mrs. Benjamin Kline and Hon. Noah S. Miller, both of Jenner township. Robbers also entered the house of Christian Baer, near Davidville, last Friday, and in the absence of the family stole $31.

The Borough school board this week hired the following teachers: Miss Edith Lichtner for the A Grammar room, Miss Clara Zinn for B Grammar, Miss Milliron for Intermediate, Miss Lizzie Livengood for Primary. No teacher hired yet for the High school.

The Salisbury school board has given the contract to furnish text books for our schools, for the ensuing year, to Chas. H. Fisher, the well-known Somerset stationer. As before stated in these columns, Charles is a great hustler for trade, and he generally gets what he bids for.

Robert Arnold, of West Virginia, spent several days with friends and relatives in this town, this week. Mr. Arnold recently returned from a tour through Great Britain and France. He says the English are very enthusiastic over Cleveland's election and feel certain that they will have very prosperous times on their side of the pond during the Democratic administration.

The people of Salisbury surely ought not to "go back" on THE STAR of that place. THE STAR reaches high, as its name gives it a right to do. THE STAR is persistent and wants a board of trade, electric lights, etc. It is the constant dropping that weareth away the stone. THE STAR, or any other paper that hammers away will achieve something.—Somerset Vedette.

Jack Pile had an accident, last week, that might have cost him his life. He was driving past Chamberlain's mine, his horse became frightened and took vehicle, Jack and all down a steep bank about ten feet high. Fortunately, however, neither man nor horse were hurt much, but the vehicle and harness were pretty badly used up. There ought to be a fence along that bank.

Collins Hamilton, Joseph Hoffman, William Koozts, Matthew Koozts and two others were recently arrested and placed in the Somerset jail, charged with being implicated in the recent robberies of aged Squire Beam and wife. Hamilton is the man who was first arrested and charged with the Umberger murder.

Scott Brown has returned from Virginia and brought several of his colored friends with him, who were desirous of visiting in the great Keystone state. We hope they will enjoy their visit. We don't know how true it is, but it is said that our genial friend Brown took a leading part in a big colored camp meeting, while in Virginia, and that he was elected to the ministry in the capacity of Bishop.

Some thirty New York merchants gave public interviews a year or so ago of the method they employed to avoid the dull season in trade. All of them agreed that since they had adopted the policy of advertising steadily through the summer, they had no dull season in their trade. Most of them stated that instead of lessening their advertising in the dull season of trade, they increased it, and found it to be profitable.

The Elk Lick school board met last Saturday and hired teachers as follows: For West Salisbury Grammar school, M. H. Pike; West Salisbury Primary, Miss Janet McKinley; Chestnut Spring, D. H. Bender; Sawmill, W. H. Yutz; D. Hay school, Mr. Stevanus; Lichty, M. S. Maust; Lowry, A. L. Maust; Pleasant Hill, N. Kretchman; Thomas, Miss Annie Haselbarth; Cross Roads, E. K. Blanch; St. Paul, Miss McClintock. No applicants for the Peck and Haysville schools. Elk Lick township pays its usual Chinese wages; nearly all the rest of Somerset county, ditto.

Brick-layers are at work on T. Grotfely's new house, also on E. Statter's mammoth new residence; ground has been broken for Dr. Lichty's new office; stone masons are building the wall for Lichtner's new business block; Tom Eckard is erecting a new house; Frank Wagner has just completed a wall for a large new residence; Silas Wagner has lumber on the ground for a postoffice building 22x32 feet; preparations are also being made for other new buildings. Thus it will be seen that Salisbury is forging ahead and building up in spite of the hard times. There are no flies on Salisbury, but she needs a new name, a board of trade, electric light, etc.

Don't fail to attend the big picnic that will be held at the Big Spring, on Negro Mountain, August 26th. It will be the grandest affair of the season. A good road will be cut through the woods to the spring, so that no one will need to walk part of the distance to get to the picturesque spot, as was the case heretofore. This picnic is the get-up of some of the best citizens in the mountain region, and you can rest assured that it will be a well arranged affair. There will be no lack of refreshments and no pains will be spared to give everybody a good time. People will be there from Petersburg, Listonburg, Confluence, Ursina, Rockwood, Salisbury, Grantsville and other places. No one can afford to miss it. For further information, see bills.

A Bloody Meloe. Quite a ripple of excitement was created in town, yesterday, when Archie Hamilton, a citizen of Boynton, walked into town with his face covered with blood. Upon inquiry it was learned that two young men of this town (William and James Eckard) had been pelting Archie's house with stones, and when Archie tried to stop them, they began to hurl stones at him, bruising and cutting his face in a terrible manner. Warrants were at once issued for the arrest of the two young hoodlums, and in a short time Policeman Fresh and Constable Garber had them in tow and escorted them to the court of his honor Esquire Lowry.

Here the cowardly, but would-be brave fellows were given a hearing, after which they were taken to the lockup. A few hours later a settlement of the case was effected, the Eckards paying Mr. Hamilton $25, also paying the costs and giving a bond in the sum of $100 to keep the peace for one year.

The boys can be very thankful that they got off so easy, as they would have stood a very good chance of going to state's prison if the case had been pushed. These two young men have respectable parents, for whom there is much sympathy expressed, and it is hoped that this experience will teach the boys a valuable lesson. Such capers as they have lately been cutting do not constitute bravery, as they seem to suppose, but are sure evidence of the lowest kind of cowardice. We hope they will reform before somebody will have to slap them clean into the middle of the next week or send them behind the bars.

Specimen Cases. S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at A. F. Speicher's drug store.

It Pays to Advertise in "The Star." ELKHART, IND., Aug. 10th, 1893.

MR. P. L. LIVENGOOD:—We are agreeably surprised at the number of inquiries we have received from our advertisement in your valued paper, and it will please us to have you as well satisfied as we are with our first business transaction. We hope to be with you next season. Yours Respectfully,

After Swiping the Tariff at Election. "Wat's all the bloom'n racket?" said Grover-on-parade. "They've shut the bloody mill down," the horny-handed said. "Why have they shut the mill down?" said Grover-on-parade. "All on account of you, old man, and your bloom'n' old free trade," And Grover he looked weary, the horny-handed he looked mad, And the Congressmen looked tired, and the Britishers they shut the mill down. And the Cabinet looked solemn, and affairs looked very bad. After swiping the tariff at election. "Wat's all the bloom'n' racket?" said Grover-on-parade. "We're sellin' wool for 18 cents," the sturdy farmer said. "Why won't it bring much more than that?" Said Grover-on-parade. "Cause it'll be on the free list when you've given us free trade." And Grover he looked sorrowful, and the farmer he looked bad. For he was only getting 50 cents for 60 pounds of wheat. And he swore he'd kick himself if he'd another pair of feet. For swiping the tariff at election. "Where are the people rushin' to?" said Grover-on-parade. "They're rushin' to the savin' bank," the banker sadly said. "Wat are they rushin' there for?" said Grover-on-parade. "To draw their money an' salt it down before you bring free trade." And Grover he looked puzzled, and the banker he looked blue. And every bloom'n' depositor in haste his money drew. Some hid it in old stockings, some put it up the flue. After swiping the tariff at election. —Pittsburg Times.

De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cures piles. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cures burns. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cures sores. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cures ulcers. A FEW of the woolen mills which have orders for goods are running full time, and a large number have shut down altogether. The sequence of idle machinery is a dull wool market. The present depression in manufacturing circles is more severe than any that has preceded it for a generation. There is no panic, but the mills are being closed to escape a loss that cannot be avoided if the proposed program of tariff revision is carried out. The New York Post, which is very close to the administration, in speaking of the subject says: "It is not a mere possibility of tariff revision that confronts us; it is the certainty. If this means ruin, then ruin will come as surely as the sun will rise tomorrow." Statements of this nature from sources apparently well informed, lead to the conviction that tariff revision of some sort will be adopted. A restoration of confidence would undoubtedly result from an official announcement that no tariff reductions would be made. Money is abundant, but, owing to the prevailing alarm, it is withheld from circulation. Neither banks nor trust companies are making loans to any extent, and their funds are withheld from circulation to such a degree as to have deranged the usual process of exchange between different localities. In manufacturing circles there is no difference of opinion as to the cause of the present trouble; nor is there any doubt as to what action is necessary to set the spindles again in motion. The business community do not fail to observe the strong contrast between the condition of business today and that of one year ago, when this country was the only prosperous nation in the world. Doubt as to the policy which will be substituted for the system of protection adds to the universal distrust. If the Sherman silver law (which many believe is the paramount factor, that is causing the decline in wool) is repealed, it will then be seen that the cause for the present depression lies deeper, for other staples, such as cotton, for instance, not menaced by tariff, changes remain steady, while the menace of free wool has caused Merino grades to fall from 60 cts. scored on the 1st of March to 40 cts. today, because the free wool or London value is only 30 cts. scored. If the Sherman law is responsible for the tumble in prices, the removal of the cause should restore them to the old figures. Nothing can prevent a fall in American prices to the free wool level except the abandonment of the proposed changes in the duties upon wool and woolsens, to which the administration has been so publicly committed.—Justice Bateman & Co., Philadelphia. Can't Live on Tin Roosters. W. C. Catlin, of the Illinois Steel Company, says when the firm shut down its mills at Joliet, a short time ago, a delegation of workmen called on C. Pettigrew, the home manager, to see how long they would be idle. "I am afraid," said Mr. Pettigrew, "from the present outlook that the works will be closed all winter." "But what will become of us?" the leader of the men asked. "We can't starve."
