CORRESPONDENCE.

Grantsville.

Last Sunday evening while Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Beachy and an invalid son were enjoying the evening chat, there suddenly burst upon them a crowd of six ruffians, confronting them with revolvers, a club and a lantern. To offer resistance just at that time was entirely out of the question, so Mr. Beachy in his hospitable way gave them free access to their surroundings. The thieves rummaged all over the house, and in about an hour and a half relieved him of $10 in money, a government sugar cask calling for $28, two watches, woolen stockings and socks, woolen knit mittens, pair of scissors, spoons, pocket knives, bread, butter, milk etc. The other members of the family had gone to church and did not return before the villains left the house. In their hurry to get away after they were through searching the house, they left their lantern, but took Mr. Beachy's instead, and also left a lap robe, many-colored and somewhat worn. Of late there is more or less stealing done in this community all the time, but the people are preparing themselves for emergencies, and some time or other some of these low bred humans who are a shame and disgrace to the mothers who bore them, will be sent to their long, last home. Saturday evening Miss Fannie Getty returned from her trip to Cumberland; she is looking unusually well and reports having had a pleasant time.

Dr. G. C. Keller and family are expected home this week.

Lewis Gingerich is wearing another unusually happy smile. It is only a girl, but it must weigh about 10 pounds. Communion services in the Reformed church, by Rev. Hassler, were well attended, last Sabbath.

On Monday last the following visitors arrived at Jonas E. Gnagey's: Eliza Gnagey, Waterloo, Iowa; Ida C. Gnagey, Chicago, Ill.; Rev. Joel Gnagey and wife, Meyersdale, Pa.; Andrew Gnagey and wife, Dysart, Iowa. ENRICA, Oct. 17th, 1898.

We could not improve the quality if paid double the price. De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best Salve that experience can produce, or that money can buy. A. F. SPEICHER.

Still Waiting.

Husband in? asked the gas collector, cheerfully.

No, answered the woman, he is not at home.

Expecting him soon? asked the collector.

Well, the woman replied, thoughtfully. I don't know exactly. I've been looking for him seventeen years, and he doesn't turn up yet. You travel about a good deal, and if you see a man who looks as though he'd make a pretty good husband, tell him I am still awaiting' and send him along—EX.

All that honesty, experience and skill can do to produce a perfect pill, has been employed in making De Witt's Little Early Risers. The result is a specific for sick headache, biliousness and constipation. A. F. SPEICHER.

Lucky Friday.

Friday is not an unlucky day. Washington was born on Friday, February 22, 1732; the Hudson river was discovered on Friday, March 25, 1609; Columbus discovered America on Friday, June 13, 1492; the Pilgrims made the final landing at Plymouth Rock on Friday, December 22, 1620; the late Rev. Dr. Spurgeon, the celebrated English preacher, was born on Friday, June 10, 1834; the first Masonic lodge was organized in North America on Friday, November 20, 1731; the first newspaper ever printed by steam, the London Times, made its appearance on Friday, November 28, 1814; the town of St. Augustine was founded by Melendez, on Friday, September 7, 1455; the first known newspaper advertisement was published on Friday, April 8, 1646.

Little vegetable health producers: De Witt's Little Early Risers cure malarious disorders and regulate the stomach and bowels, which prevents headache and dizziness. A. F. SPEICHER.

Can a Lawyer Be Honest?

Several exchanges are gravely discussing the question of whether or not a lawyer can be honest. Doubtless to be honest is among the possibilities open to a member of the legal profession, but once having started on his career, he seems inevitably to prefer to keep right on being a lawyer.

One word describes it—"perfection." We refer to De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, cures obstinate sores, burns, skin diseases and is a well known cure for piles. A. F. SPEICHER.

Perfectly Scandalous.

He evidently was from the rural districts and the World's Fair chorus had hardly begun on Handel's "Messiah" before he rose and hurried out of Choral Hall.

That's all I want to know about that show, he said emphatically to a bystander. What's the matter? inquired the sympathizing stranger.

W'at, you can bet your boots I'm mighty glad none of my women folks was along. I hadn't hardly got seated afore a lot of scrawny old maids got up and began to yell: Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given. Then the whole gang of basses began to bawl: Wonderful! Wonderful! Wonderful! That's enough for me!

And he strode away toward the Agricultural Building, shaking his head.

If you can afford to be annoyed by sick headache and constipation, don't use De Witt's Little Early Risers for these little pills will cure them. A. F. SPEICHER.

He Was Unselfish.

The tramp peeped over the back fence to see if there was a dog in the yard, and seeing none he slipped up to the kitchen door and knocked.

"Y' ain't got no dogs around, have you, miss?" he said to the cook who answered the summons of the stranger.

"No, but we've got a Bengal tiger tied around the corner."

"Is he tied purty safe, miss?"

"Yes, but I can untie him, and he's hungry."

"Much hungry, miss?"

"Very; he hasn't had anything to eat for two days."

"That's my fix exactly, miss, and I can sympathize with him. Untie him. The cook laughed.

"Come in," she said, "and eat all you want, so the tiger can have a decent meal," and the tramp chuckled softly as he went in.

Ignorance of the merits of De Witt's Little Early Risers is a misfortune. These little pills regulate the liver, cure headache, dyspepsia, bad breath, constipation and biliousness. A. F. SPEICHER.
