Don't Forget This.

Watch the man that wants to sell you goods of Marble at 40 per cent. below price. He must have something in view in the future to catch up to a living price; so watch him and his work, and then you will place your orders with the old, reliable firm of J. B. Williams, Frostburg, Md., for first-class work.

S. F. WILSON,
Salesman for J. B. Williams.

WANTED! One hundred of our subscribers to pay their subscription to THE STAR as soon as possible.

We want to buy an engine for our printing office, and to buy an engine we will need considerable money; but 100 of our subscribers pay up promptly, we can get an engine on short order. Several hundred of our patrons are owing us amounts ranging from $1.50 to $3.00, and nearly all of them can easily pay the small individual amounts they owe us. By paying these small amounts they will not bankrupt themselves, but collectively they can raise enough money in a few days to buy the engine so badly needed.

We must have it, as it is almost impossible for us to get along without steam power any longer. Therefore, do your Christian duty by paying what you owe us. As soon as we get that engine there will be no more delays in getting out the paper, and the paper will also be better in every way. Besides that, it will be a great credit to Salisbury to have a large steam printing office. Join the procession of progress and help us to boom the town. You can help us greatly by paying what you owe us. Don't delay in the matter, for the money is due us; pay up at once.

Miss Olive Livengood has gone to Chambersburg, where she will attend the Wilson College.

Dr. Bruce Lichty, of Grantsville, has returned from the World's Fair. He reports a nice time.

Painter W. F. East is giving the Lutheran church what it has long needed—a good coat of paint.

Miss Fannie Getty, of Grantsville, was the guest of David Lichty and family, several days this week.

And now it is Irv Rayman that is singing "After the brawl is over." It's a boy, this time, says Irv.

If you want to buy a very desirable home, don't overlook what Mrs. Alice Farmer, of Rockwood, has to say on 4th page.

Francis J. Countrman, ex-County Commissioner, died on Monday, aged about 70 years. He died of cancer of the tongue.

Our genial friend W. H. McBride, the well-known fruit tree agent, is delivering a large number of trees in this vicinity, this week.

Miller & Collins, the popular Meyersdale clothiers, mean just what they say on this page. It will pay you big to watch their space.

The Hyndman Bulletin and Meyersdale Commercial have been hammering away at each other until each of them got a new head put on it.

It is reported that Rev. A. D. Gnagey, of Meyersdale, has secured the Meyersdale Register plant for the publication of his church literature.

THE STAR is under obligations to David Lichty for several news items which he sent to the office, this week. We are always glad to receive items of news.

We are under obligations to John R. Lichty, of Carleton, Neb., for good wishes expressed in a letter containing $1.50 for a year's subscription to THE STAR.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is to build a piazza of glass around its new Broad street station in Philadelphia. This unique porch will extend two blocks.

Dispatches from Washington say that ex-Lieutenant Governor Channey F. Black is to be Assistant Secretary of State, in place of Josiah Quincy, resigned.

We doubt whether there is a county in the state that has more substantial banks than those of Somerset county, and the Valley Bank of Elk Lick is as solid as any of them.

The Somerset Herald is authority for it that the store of G. W. Phillips, at Rockwood, has gone Democratic, having been closed by the Sheriff. We are sorry to hear this.

J. L. Barchus, after spending several weeks at the World's Fair, Niagara Falls and other noted places of interest, returned home last Saturday evening. He reports a very nice time.

Stewart Lichty, telegraph operator and clerk of the B. & O., at Connellsville, is enjoying a vacation of 10 days. He took in the World's Fair and is now spending a few days at his home, this city.

Harvey Fogle is at present serving as an annex to a fine assortment of boils; but he seems to be just as patient as our old friend Job was, who was afflicted in a similar manner, some years ago.

The Somerset Vedette has rounded out its first year and looks robust and healthy for a paper of such tender age. The Vedette is a good newspaper, and THE STAR hopes to see it live long and prosper.

Rockwood has a very active Republican club, which is very proper. Every town should have at least one Republican club. They are a good thing and will "knock the persimmon" in 1896.

Says the Somerset Vedette: "One of the pathetic things in these stringent times is that the Hyndman Bulletin is still being published and is dearer than ever." That is the unkindest cut of all.

Mrs. Geo. H. Suhrie is taking lessons in banking, at the Farmers' bank, in Meyersdale. Looks as though THE STAR was right when it stated that Mr. and Mrs. Suhrie would move west and start a bank.

Jacob Glatfely has broken ground for a new residence, which he will build on Corliss street, near the school house. Jake is a first-rate, whole-souled fellow, and we are glad that he is going to become a citizen of the borough.

The two colored hotel hostlers of this town had a fight today, in which the Hay hotel lad was badly worsted, being struck on the head with a stone and shedding blood by the bucketful. Now, boys, don't cut up any more such capers.

"Mart" H. Hartzel, of Rockwood, anticipates a voyage to Brazil, some time during the next few months, in connection with the affairs of John K. White & Bro., of Hyndman, who recently assigned to Mr. Hartzel and J. J. Hohlitzel, White Bros. have large interests in Brazil.—Herald.

It is reported that Simon Glatfely's private carp pond was recently blasted and that hundreds of fish were killed. This is one of the worst outrages we have heard of for a long time. The Commercial says the blame is laid to men that pass themselves off as pious and reformers of Meyersdale.

The following named Democrats have recently been appointed store-keepers and gaugers in the Revenue service: Jonas McClintock, of Addison; Jacob J. Berkebile, of Northampton; Daniel S. Wilson, of Stonycreek; H. B. Schlag, of Jefferson; Frank Topper, of New Baltimore; John E. Johnson, of Shade.

Since other papers have got to blowing about big apples, THE STAR will state that an apple was recently handed to its editor, by Casper Wahl, that weighed one pound. It was of the Monster Rambo variety and grew on one of Mr. Wahl's own trees. That was a good apple, for a dry season, and we have read of no larger ones this year.

The boiler of the steam heating plant at the school house, today sprung a leak and no steam could be raised to heat the building. This will no doubt be joyful news to the mossbacks who were opposed to putting in the steam plant, but their joy will soon be at an end; for the boiler will soon be repaired and heating will go on as smoothly as before.

Pittsburg papers of last week state that Adam Nicholson, August Sellers and Alex. Nicklow, all of Somerset county, blew out the gas at the Merchants' hotel in that city, when they went to bed, and that their mistake was discovered by the hotel clerk, just in time to save their lives. They had a narrow escape and were unconscious for three hours.

Jonas J. Beahly called at THE STAR office, this week, and gave us a full account of the robbery that recently occurred at his home in Garrett county, Md. His report differs very little from that given by our Grantsville correspondent, last week. Mr. Beahly takes his misfortune very calmly, but he feels his loss, nevertheless, and we sympathize with him.

A. O. McKinley writes from Baltimore, as follows: "I am now located and down to hard work; but I must have THE STAR as a letter from home to keep me posted. If I take three years in medicine and two in the hospital, I think I ought to equal at least the average M. D." THE STAR just wishes to add that our friend McKinley is bound to succeed. He has grit as well as brains.

The big extract factory at Salisbury, the largest manufacturing establishment in Somerset county, is still doing business at the old stand, and its wheels are rumbling day and night. But where, o h where are the great wooden pin and electrical supply factories of Meyersdale? They are "up the stump," the fate of all concerns of that kind that try to exist in a quiet residence town like Meyersdale.

We notice that some of the preachers of the warring factions of the Evangelical Association are boring the public by reviewing their church fight through the columns of several newspapers. They should not do so, as the general public has long ago grown tired of their unholy warfare. There are men in both factions that have been making fools of themselves in ways that are neither creditable to their church nor to themselves.

The Herald says an average of 80 men are steadily employed at the Listic coal mine, near Somerset, and that the mine's shipments average 12 carloads of coal per day. That is an average of about 140 tons per day, or 12 tons per day for each man employed. Great Caesar! but the Listic miners must make money. Here in the Elk Lick region there are scores of miners that will each dig 10 tons of coal per day, as regular as clock work, and some days some of them will dig a great deal more. The Herald also says that the Listic Co. will likely erect a lot of coke ovens.

The eloquent entertainment given in the Opera house, last Saturday evening, by Byron W. King, was indeed a grand treat for the people of this town. Mr. King understands his business, but there is one thing he can not do worth a cent, and that is impersonate the Irish. At least that seems to be the general opinion of those who heard him last Saturday evening. However, he is a great all-round impersonator and elocutionist and pleases his audiences wherever he goes. THE STAR hopes he will visit Salisbury again. We are glad to note that Mr. King was greeted by a large audience here.

The other day we heard a Salisbury man remark that he can't see why so many women of this town always go to Meyersdale to buy their coats of S. C. Hartley & Co. The answer is easy, when Hartley & Co. get anything new, they are not afraid to invest in enough printers' ink to let the public know it. Every lady in Salisbury will read their "ad" in this issue, and a good many of them will go there and buy new coats.

We can prove this by the ladies themselves. The merchant that whines and says he is too poor to advertise, is usually too stingy to advertise, and people do not like to deal with a stingy merchant. The grand jury of the United States court at Pittsburg yesterday returned a true bill against P. A. Johns', ex deputy collector of internal revenue in this district, for embezzlement. There are reported to be six counts in the indictment. The prosecution of Johns is but a continuation of that of last spring, which resulted in such a triumphant vindication of the late deputy collector. It is being engineered by the same gang, and is likely to result as the former trial did. Johns' friends in Uniontown say they feel no alarm whatever and that when the proper time comes they will proceed to make it interesting for the unscrupulous gang that defrauded Johns for Sheriff, and not satisfied with that, have kept hounding him ever since.—Uniontown News.

We notice in a Nebraska exchange that one of our old fellow editors in that state has quit the newspaper business and entered the ministry. This news, together with the report that Brother Suhrie, of the Meyersdale Register, is going into

Pass It Along.

The editor died and went above, Where all is joy and peace and love. —Somerset Democrat.

The subscriber died and went below, Where it never rains and never snows; Now the cause of this great affliction:—He owes the editor a year's subscription. —Meyersdale Register.

For us to know the delinquent's dead, And has no snow on which to sled, Cuts no figure in this world of splutter, And is a poor substitute for bread and butter. —Hyndman Bulletin.

The inference drawn from the above is, no doubt, That the editor and delinquent are in life inseparable; But at death they must each take a different route. Because the wrong of the latter is then irrefragable. —Somerset Standard.

And if the subscriber dies in debt, Will the Lord forgive it all? No! He'll send him where he'll ever sweat, For passing through life on "gall." —Herald.

Deserving Praise.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Sold by A. F. Speicher Druggist.

Boston has more electric trolley cars running in its streets than any other city in the world.

Loss by Fire.

Last Friday evening Milton J. Beachy's hay shed, which has long been known as "the tobacco stable," was consumed by fire. The building contained about 13 tons of hay, all of which was burned. No insurance.

The stable having been situated a remote distance from Mr. Beachy's house, and near the railroad, it had become noted as a harbor for tramps and women of the "Soiled Dove" fraternity. It is supposed, therefore, that the fire was either of incendiary origin or was caused by the carelessness of tramps. Mr. Beachy has the sympathy of the community in his misfortune.

Rockwood.

J. D. Snyder, a member of the R. C. band, is visiting the World's Fair.

John Stein has assumed his official duties as postmaster at this place.

Phillip Smith died at his home, this place, last Thursday morning, at 7:30 o'clock. The funeral services took place, Saturday morning, at 10 a. m., at this place. The body was taken to Somerset for interment. The funeral was one of the largest ever witnessed in Rockwood, which showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held by our citizens.

Mr. Smith was born on a farm in Somerset township, about 3 miles from town, afterwards moved to Waterloo, Iowa; from there he moved to this place, where he died at the age of 71 years.

Jake Shultz's dwelling on Broadway is nearing completion.

W. H. Sorber returned from the World's Fair, last week. He reports a very pleasant time.

Rev. D. R. Ellis, the newly appointed U. B. pastor for this charge, moved, last Tuesday.

F. O. Dupont's new dwelling is rapidly being constructed.

Miss Maggie Baker, after spending a few weeks among her friends and relatives in Pittsburg, returned home, last Saturday evening.

The editor of the Hebron (Neb) Register rejoices with exceeding great joy. Hear him: "Received, Wednesday morning, on subscription, one-half bushel of turnips—the first collection made in two months. It makes our head swim."
