GREAT STATE FIGHT GOES ON.

The Ex-Postmaster General Greeted With Packed Houses Wherever He Has Spoken—The Pennsylvania Senators Are Torn Up For Their Treachery—A Nameless Senator Who Wants to Be Lieutenant Governor.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Harrisburg, April 26.—On Saturday last Hon. John Wanamaker again demonstrated his genuine patriotism and sincere love of country by reiterating the offer of his services to Governor Hastings, not as an officer, but as a private in the ranks of the regiment he has ready to march. This telegram, as received by the governor, reads:

Philadelphia, April 23.

Hon. Daniel H. Hastings, governor of Pennsylvania, Harrisburg:

Anticipating the call likely to be made, I desire again to tender and urge acceptance of a thousand men to be ready to report to you for service in 48 hours. If the fact that I have not had military experience stands in the way I waive all preference of place and will be willing to take subordinate position or go in the ranks. I earnestly beg your early authority to form this regiment.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

Governor Hastings was obliged to reply to Mr. Wanamaker, as follows:

Harrisburg, April 23.

Hon. John Wanamaker, Philadelphia:

Replying to your telegram of this date, the entire National Guard of the state has been tendered to the president. Until we receive a response to that tender no arrangements can be made for enlisting volunteers. I thank you for your patriotic offer.

DANIEL H. HASTINGS.

Earlier in the week, in his speech at Dubois, Mr. Wanamaker said:

READY TO ANSWER THE CALL.

"Answering in this public way the letters that are waiting for me wherever I go through the state, let each man put his affairs in order to respond to the governor's call for volunteers when it comes. I conversed with over the telephone from Dubois this morning and put myself at the call of the adjutant general, offering to return to Philadelphia by the next train or by a special car if I could get it and complete my offer to raise a regiment. I am at his command at any hour day or night. He informed me that the National Guards have the first call and then the way is open for volunteers."

"Some people say that I propose to go as a colonel. My answer is that I am willing to go as colonel or corporal, drummer or high private. What the hour calls for is a man. Some one asked Garfield when a young fellow what he intended to do with his life and he replied 'I am going first to be a man. If I fail in that I shall be nothing.'"

Mr. Wanamaker's tour last week in the Twenty-eighth congressional district was a whirlwind success. Men by hundreds were turned away in Dubois, Clearfield, Phillipsburg and Bellefonte. Nothing like it has been known in any gubernatorial campaign, with the exception of the great Hastings tour of three years ago.

QUAY A TRAITOR TO M'KINLEY.

Mr. Wanamaker scored Quay and Penrose for voting with the Democrats against the president on the Cuban recognition matter. It was a base and ungrateful desertion of the party in the hour of its trouble. Mr. Wanamaker, at Bellefonte, said:

"Standing at the wheelhouse, the old ship rocking in the gale, President McKinley, in Washington, called out to the engine room of the Capitol of the dangers ahead on the Cuban shore, where the Maine men sleep until the long roll call. Some of the old senate speculators, apparently unconscious of the grave situation of affairs, scorned their Republican garments and took sides with the president's enemies. Sad it is to say it, and sadder to be the truth. Among these foes of the president were our two Pennsylvania senators, and remained so until driven out of their dishonoring positions when in sight of the last vote, about to go against them, when they hurried in from the enemy's camp."

"Do you think Thaddeus Stevens would have done that, or James G. Blaine, or Benjamin Harrison? God send us again men, unbargaining, unswerving, unswerving in such an hour who are from the patriots and straight path. Every day but deepens the shadows that fall upon the Republican party in other states as well as ours. It will be enough for us to attend to our own business, and that we must attend to or the Republicans in Pennsylvania are doomed for years, if not forever."

THE LEXOW LUXURIES.

He also scored the Lexow luxuries again, showing that the people would have to pay for W. H. Andrews and others if Quay can "own a governor."

At Clearfield Mr. Wanamaker said:

A FEW EXAMPLES.

"I will give you a few examples: The Lexow bill for $65,000. This Lexow bill concerns the whole state, though the expenses were incurred by a bogus investigation of Philadelphia affairs. But Senator Quay and his bosses propose to make the whole state pay for his attempt to frighten a few men in Philadelphia into making terms with him. William H. Andrews, late of Crawford county, and the manager of William A. Stone's campaign, was chairman of that committee and prepared this expense bill."

"The committee only sat once in awhile, and if all its sessions were lumped they would not amount to over 30 full days of actual work. Yet their bill was $65,000.36, and here are some of the items that you people of Crawford county are asked to pay: Expenses for witnesses, mileage and fees, $28,071.06; stenographer, $9,812.25; expert witnesses, $4,951.16; bill at Hotel Walton, $5,912; clerk hire and detectives, $5,162; attorneys' fees, $12,000. The committee held 57 meetings at a cost of $65,908.96, or $1,156.28 per session. The committee was in session 137 hours at a cost of $485.72 per hour."

PRINCIPALLY PAY FOR WITNESSES.

"Just 433 witnesses were examined at a cost of $38,000, or at the rate of $75.73 per witness. Compare this princely pay with the witness fees paid in Clearfield county.

"The expenses of the committee at the palatial Hotel Walton, in Philadelphia, because only the best hotel and accommodations will satisfy the bosses, for 57 sessions were $5,912.40, or a cost of $103.72 per meeting for hotel expenses alone, a rate of $23 for each senator present. The bill of the stenographer employed was $9,812.25, or an average of $172.14 per session. At this rate the committee paid $71.23 per hour to its stenographer. Thousands of shorthand operators would be delighted to get for a month's work what the Lexow committee paid for an hour's work."

"As there were 436 witnesses examined, the stenographer got or he will get, if Senator Quay can elect his man governor, $22.50 for reporting the testimony of each witness.

"If you add the stenographer's charge of $22.50 per witness to the average cost for mileage and fees for each witness, viz., $75.73, you have the sum of $98.23, which it cost the Lexow committee to summon and examine each witness. And you, the people of Crawford county, are expected to pay this bill incurred by A. S. Quay and William H. Andrews, the political sponsor of William A. Stone.

"The counsel fees for the Lexow committee, the sum charged by the three lawyers employed by the committee, though there were at least two lawyers members of the committee, were $210.53 per meeting."

A NAMELESS SENATOR.

The nameless senator who figured in the insurance scandal at Harrisburg, and who now wants to be lieutenant governor, was touched up at Phillipsburg in this fashion in Mr. Wanamaker's speech:

"You have all heard so much of investigating committees in a general way. Let us go a little into details and see some of the self fixed ways your representatives have placed upon themselves."

"I wish to make the sweeping statement that no investigating committee appointed at the last session of the legislature accomplished any good, and those that were not frauds and fakes were failures. Chief among the fakes was the committee to investigate the management of the state treasury. It found nothing irregular, nothing to criticize, nothing to recommend. Their report had scarcely been adopted when the state treasurer confessed that large sums of money had been advanced without authority of law. For the while that it was used to cover up the mismanagement of this department, the state was charged $4,734.81. The few members of the committee held were all in Harrisburg, and on days that the legislature was in session."

"Take No. 2, to investigate rumors that certain state senators, one of whom was Quay's chosen chief of the senate, had demanded $50,000 of a New York insurance company to kill an insurance bill."

NAME NOT DISCLOSED.

"The star chamber meetings of this committee were most effective in handling a bad mess. So well was it handled that until this day the name of a senator who was most intimately connected with the story has not appeared in any paper in Pennsylvania, though every member of the legislature knew his name. He is now a candidate for lieutenant governor, and claims to have the support of Senator Quay."

Mr. Wanamaker has not decided on his programme for this week, but the fight will still go on as hard and as fast as ever.

Marching Southward.

Again the fire of Bunker Hill fills every martial band; Again the sound of marching feet is heard throughout the land.

The hosts are streaming through the South Along historic ways, And Chickamauga sees again The campfire's faithful blaze.

Now Southern marches side by side His friend from lands of snow, And every blade is drawn against The Nation's common foe.

Among North Georgia's somber hills The bugle calls to strife, And ghosts that dwell on Kennesaw Are stirred again with life.

The Times has a larger circulation by many thousands than any other daily newspaper published in Pittsburg. This is admitted even by its competitors. The reasons for it are not hard to find. The Times is a tireless newsgatherer, is edited with extreme care, spares no expense to entertain and inform its readers. It prints all the news in compact shape, caring always more for quality than quantity. It keeps its columns clean, but at the same time bright. Nothing that is of human interest is overlooked by it. It aims to be reliable rather than sensational. It believes in the gospel of get there, but it gets there with due respect for the facts. Test any department of it you choose—political, religious, markets, sporting, editorial, society, near town news—and you'll find the Times may be depended upon. $3 a year, 6 cents a week.
