

Hip Disease

Terrible Results of a Fall—How Health Was Restored.

"I was injured by a fall and began to have pains in my knees, and one of my limbs cramped and pained me severely. Physicians decided that I had a severe case of hip disease. I was taken to a hospital and underwent an operation but a cure was not effected. I had seven running sores on one limb. At last I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and improved from the first bottle. Hood's Sarsaparilla has entirely cured me and I am to-day in perfect health."

Munjak.

In the island of Barbadoes large quantities of a mineral have been found which the natives call "munjak." It is of a bright black color and occurs at a very slight depth, sometimes on the surface, in beds one to two feet thick. It generally appears under an angle of about 40 degrees, and in the immediate vicinity of rock. It is presumed to be solidified petroleum, which is often seen there exuding from the earth or floating on the water. In its composition this mineral is similar to the pitch of Trinidad, to the Gilsonite of Utah and the Canadian Albertite, but it is of a much better quality. The best varieties of "munjak" contained 20 per cent. of water, 70.85 per cent. of volatile organic substances, 26.57 per cent. of ditto solid, ones and .38 per cent. of mineral parts. Trinidad pitch contains from 21 to 30 per cent. of water, and about 38 per cent. of ashes. Hence the munjak mineral is much richer in natural bitumen. It is used, among other purposes, for the insulation of electrical conduits, for varnish, bituminous concrete and for fuel, mixed with peat, etc. It may to some extent supplant gutta percha as an insulating medium.—Savannah News.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN

And How Mrs. Pinkham Helps Overcome Them.

Mrs. MARY BOLLINGER, 1101 Marianna St., Chicago, Ill., to Mrs. Pinkham: "I have been troubled for the past two years with falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, pains over my body, sick headaches, backache, nervousness and weakness. I tried doctors and various remedies without relief. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, the relief I obtained was truly wonderful. I have now taken several more bottles of your famous medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured."

Mrs. HENRY DORN, No. 806 Findley St., Cincinnati, Ohio, to Mrs. Pinkham: "For a long time I suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen and bearing-down feeling. Was very nervous at times, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhoea. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply past belief. After taking four bottles of Vegetable Compound and using three packages of Sanative Wash I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable remedies have entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering. I have her alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am grateful. May heaven bless her for the good work she is doing for our sex."

HEADACHE

"Both my wife and myself have been using CASCARETS and they are the best medicine we have ever had in the house. Last week my wife was frantically with headache for two days, she cried some of your CASCARETS, and they relieved the pain in her head almost immediately. We both recommend Cascarets."

ENGLAND'S GREAT STATESMAN DEAD.

WM. E. GLADSTONE.

The Aged Premier, Surrounded by the Members of His Family Quietly Passes Away—Will be Buried at Hawarden.

Mr. Gladstone had been unwell since the 14th of August, and had been in bed since the 15th. He died at 5 a. m. Thursday, at Hawarden, Eng.

Mr. Gladstone had been unwell since the 14th of August, and had been in bed since the 15th. He died at 5 a. m. Thursday, at Hawarden, Eng. Mr. Gladstone had been unwell since the 14th of August, and had been in bed since the 15th. He died at 5 a. m. Thursday, at Hawarden, Eng.

Though a national funeral will probably be accepted by the family, there is little doubt that the remains of Mr. Gladstone will be laid to rest in the peaceful graveyard at Hawarden, adjoining the church where he was married more than half a century ago.

During the crisis Mr. Gladstone's breathing was 3/4 to the minute and the members of his family were summoned. Rev. Stephen Gladstone read prayers and hymns, including Mr. Gladstone's favorite, "Rock of Ages." When this was concluded Mr. Gladstone was heard to murmur "Our Father."

It is now virtually decided that Mr. Gladstone's remains shall be interred in Westminster Abbey. It is learned that the family do not oppose the nation's desire, and that the only objection left was that he should be buried at Hawarden, unless there should be an unmistakable national wish for an interment at the abbey.

The late Right Hon. William Ewart Gladstone, M. P., C. C., was the fourth son of the late Sir John Gladstone, Bart., of Esauque, County Kincardine, N. B., a well-known merchant of Liverpool, and was born there December 29, 1809.

During his stay at Biarritz, in February, 1894, a London journal announced Mr. Gladstone's retirement, but the report was contradicted in very guarded terms. After his return to England the rumor was renewed, and in the midst of the uncertainty Mr. Gladstone delivered his last speech as prime minister in the house of commons on the first of March—the occasion being the lords' amendments to the parish councils bill.

The next day his resignation was made public, and the discovery that the premier was suffering from cataract in both eyes was given as the chief cause for such a decisive step. On March 3 Mr. Gladstone, in an audience with the queen, gave up the seals of office.

Since that period Mr. Gladstone rarely took any part in public affairs, but made some exceptions, when he interested himself in favor of the Armenians. While at Cannes, in March, 1897, he wrote and published a letter to the duke of Westminster pleading the cause of Crete and Greece against Greece. A stained-glass window was unveiled in Hawarden church in recognition of Mr. Gladstone's efforts in behalf of the oppressed Armenians and Mrs. Gladstone was presented with a portrait of his holiness Mithridath I, supreme pontiff of the Armenian church. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone left London for Cannes on November 25, 1897, and arrived at the latter place three days later. They remained there for nearly two weeks and the homeward trip was begun on the 16th of last February and they reached London on the 19. He has since been slowly dying.

SIX MEN KILLED.

An Elevator Drops One Hundred Feet With Awful Results.

Eight men in the employ of the Columbian Fireproofing Company at Boston, Tuesday fell a distance of more than 100 feet with an elevator in the building now under construction for the Boston Wharf Company on A street. One man was instantly killed, five others have since died of their injuries, and there is very little hope for recovery of the other two. The dead are: O. S. Brown, foreman for the fireproofing company, twenty-five years old, a resident of Pittsburg, Pa.; Michael Griffin of Pittsburg, Mass.; William Duncan, 30 years old; Bruno Samaroo, Larborne Caramene, Henry Harvey, Theodor Daniel, Joseph, assistant foreman, both legs crushed; Pietro Pane. Both the injured are fearfully crushed, and it is thought they cannot live.

Brazil's Minister Leaves For Lisbon.

Senor Salvador de Mendonca, who has represented Brazil in Washington in the capacity of minister since 1891, Wednesday presented his letter of recall, preparatory to being transferred to Lisbon, Portugal. The ceremony, which is in many cases little more than an idle form, was in this case remarkable from the magnificent tribute paid to our great republic by Senor Mendonca, who, having occupied the post of consul general of Brazil at New York for many years preceding his promotion to the legation, has had more abundant opportunity for just criticism than falls to the lot of most diplomatic representatives.

TRADE REVIEW.

Unusual Prosperity in the West—Greatest Output of Iron Ever Known.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s review of trade reports as follows for last week:

Growing accustomed to war possibilities which are mostly far from probabilities of evil, and finding the nation moving along steadily in its industries, people are grasping the idea that it is throwing away some months of active and profitable life to wait until war clouds have passed. Western business has no greatly overbalanced timidity of eastern capital that actual business done increases; railroad earnings promise better for May than a month ago for April, and payments through clearing houses for the week in May show a gain of 38 per cent over last year and 7.5 per cent over 1892, while a month ago the increase over last year was 23.6, and compared with 1892 there was a decrease of 7.2 per cent. Several large contracts, kept back for some weeks because of hostilities, have now been placed, and instead of works closing or reducing force, returns show the starting of new works being made, and increase of force or of hours at others. Government works occupied many establishments, but it counts for little compared with other demands.

The key of the situation is the prospect of the West, which altogether unprecedented marketing of breadstuffs has caused, with the prospect of good crops to come. These prospects, and actual receipts of wheat amounting to 3,576,710 bushels for the week against 2,439,169 last year, with advances also in other grain and cattle, have produced a demand for rails, cars, car materials, fencing, agricultural implements, boots and shoes, and all textile goods, which was not anticipated from eastern indications. Exports of wheat do not diminish, but in three weeks from Atlantic ports, flour included, have been 7,562,556 bushels, against 7,478,742 last year, and from Pacific ports 223 bushels, against 610,637 bushels last year. The price of May wheat fell 1/4c on Saturday, rose 1/2c on Tuesday and closed 1/2c higher for the week.

In iron, notwithstanding the greatest output ever known, the demand has caused some advance in Bessemer pig, with only a slight decline in the price of gray iron at Pittsburg, but full quotations were obtained at Chicago and Philadelphia. Demand for iron and steel is strong, but the West is strongly sustained by demands for car building, tin plate manufacture, and other uses. In plates and structural forms all the works are fully employed, and generally crowded for months ahead. One contract for 6,000 tons of armor plate for Great Britain has been taken up, works far inland, with another of smaller quantity, showing that the demand, in spite of higher ocean freights, is not yet arrested. Tin is sustained at 15.5 cents by large consumption, and lake copper at 12 cents, in spite of American production amounting to 2,000 tons for the month, 10 per cent larger than last year, with a slight decrease in the production of foreign mines.

The textile works are doing rather better, even the cotton mills, in spite of the strike over production of some of large importance have recently started again, and print cloths are a sixteenth higher. Numerous woolen mills have been pushed to new activity by government orders and prices for a few grades of goods are better, with a stronger tone in the market generally, although some mills of importance have stopped as their orders for the season have run out. While sales of wool are small, 628,300 pounds for the three weeks past, against 27,963,700 pounds last year, the manufacturers have ample stocks, although some are obliged by government orders to seek in the market goods of higher quality, which they had not expected to require.

Failures for the week have been 250 in the United States against 248 last year, and 29 in Canada, against 37 last year.

The president last week approved the Alaskan homestead and right of way bill.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE LAW.

Its Disadvantages Discussed by President Ingalls of the Big Four.

The injustice and disadvantages of the present Inter-State Commerce law both to the railroads and to the people were fully set forth in a recent address by Mr. M. E. Ingalls, President of the Big Four and Chesapeake & Ohio railroads. The occasion was the tenth annual convention of Railroad Commissioners held in Washington, May 10.

Mr. Ingalls said that the railroads had reached a crisis, where something must be done to avoid disaster not only to the railroads but also to the material interests of the country. Since the enactment of the inter-state commerce law in 1887, some provision of that law has been constantly under consideration either by congress or the courts. Now it is admitted that state legislatures have control over the railroads with regard to local business and congress has power as regards inter-state business.

In reference to the control of States the Supreme court has just decided that state control must be reasonable, and that rates should be reduced below a point where railroads can earn their expenses and a fair profit. In 1897 it was decided by the Supreme court that the Sherman anti-trust law applied to the railroads contrary to the assertions of railroad men. Under the rulings of this law it was practically impossible to make any arrangements for the maintenance of tariffs. The tariffs are now but little respected by the railroads. Private arrangements with large shippers will sooner or later utterly ruin the smaller traders. Many railroad managers are carrying freight far below cost.

It is not to be forgotten by which railroad tariffs can be maintained and the practice of secret rates and contracts discontinued. The settlement of this question not only concerns the railroads but also one-fifth of the people of the country, who are directly interested in railroads.

The chief difficulty with the inter-state commerce law is that the punishments are entirely out of proportion with the offences. The imprisonment clause has no public sentiment in its favor, and it also prevents one railroad from prosecuting another.

The public does not believe in the law and what is the result? Honest railroads see their business going to opposing lines; honest merchants are undersold by others who have no scruples in making private contracts with railroads. Honest railroads and merchants are thus compelled to necessity to break the law themselves or face certain ruin.

Two changes should be made in the present laws to better the condition of affairs. First, the imprisonment clause should be stricken out and a fine of $5,000 imposed instead. The shipper should not be punished at all in his efforts to secure low rates. Should you punish him you would not be able to secure his testimony.

Second, railroads should be permitted to contract with each other for the maintenance of rates and the division of business. These would legalize contracts between railroad corporation. To-day such a contract would be conspiracy.

There should be no friction between the inter-state commerce laws and the railroads, but the commission should become the aid of the railroads. Unless some change is made as has been indicated the small shippers will be extinguished, and a few men of large capital will control the entire merchandise business.

A School Girl's Battle.

From the Mail, Milford, Ind.

Miss Emma Rybolt, a prepossessing school girl of Milford, Ind., is of more than usual intelligence, and is ambitious to rise in the literary world.

"In the fall of 1896," said Mrs. Rybolt, "Emma was taken ill. She was a close student and her work began to fall on her. She grew weak, pale and nervous, and complained of pains in her back, chest and limbs. A few weeks passed and she grew worse. The doctor said she was a victim of nervous prostration, and should have been taken from school weeks earlier. She graduated a few weeks later, but her nerves were so tense that the least noise irritated her, and she had a fever and a continual twitching in her muscles. The symptoms were much like St. Vitus' dance."

"A year passed, and under a change of physicians, Emma became somewhat better but soon was as bad as ever. One day I read of a case similar to hers which was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I decided to try them.

"Emma had no faith in proprietary medicines but tried the pills, and after taking a dozen doses, she began to improve. It was about the first of April when she began and by the middle of May, after taking about eight boxes, she was entirely cured.

"What she lost in twenty-eight pounds, but now weighs more than ever before. Her nerves are strong and she is in perfect health. We are all confident that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People cured her, and I cheerfully recommend them in all similar cases."—Mrs. E. A. Rybolt.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this third day of September, 1897.

ODD DUCKS OF PORT TAMPA.

Of the Wild Variety, They Respond Readily to Man's Call.

The most interesting thing at Port Tampa is the duck. Port Tampa is a collection of piers, but there is a hotel built on piles that are dressed in sewer-pipe trousers to keep the teredo away. No shooting is allowed around the grounds or the piers, and, of course, not a little stuff is thrown from the hotel that is good food for ducks, pelicans and gulls. Accordingly these birds come about the hotel in flocks, and not only are they without fear of the people there, but they have learned to come for food when any one whistles for them as if for a dog.

"At first it seems as if the birds come as readily to the call of one person as of another, but the fact is that two or three people about the hotel are on speaking terms with them. The birds know their voices, and are plainly very friendly with them. At an old boarding stage the pelicans gather a dozen at a time, and sitting there in the sun, preen their feathers and scratch their ribs with their long, ungainly looking bills. The fact that a lot of people are standing six feet away is in no way disturbing to them unless some unmanly fellow pokes them with a cane. In that event the bird gives the intruder a white-eyed look of astonishment and utters a protest in a voice that is so gentle and delicate as to make one wonder where in the world such an ungainly bird got it. Then it flops its way to safety beyond the piers.

If undisturbed the pelicans often pillow their heads on their backs and take a nap, but in that position they are quickly observed by the tourist who thinks it is fun to make trouble for quiet folks, and they are quickly snared by a cane-crook and sent dapping to the water.

"Only the smaller ducks come about the hotel, but they are exceedingly beautiful and graceful in their movements, while the gulls in their dancing flight are of endless interest. No one has tried to teach the birds to come to hand for food, it is said, but it is plain that any one with knowledge and tact and love might establish an acquaintance there that would enable him to write a most interesting story about our feathered brothers afloat."

Ministers Will Be Scarce.

During the academic year 1896-'97 the twenty-one German universities granted 2,371 doctors' degree, 1,187 of them in medicine, 829 in philosophy, 835 in law and 20 in theology. Erlangen seems to be the favorite place for the final examinations, 332 degrees having been taken there.
