CONGRESS.

By a vote of 29 nays to 19 yeas the senate Thursday declined to take up for consideration the bill limiting to eight hours daily the services of laborers, workmen and mechanics on government works or on work done for the United States by private firms. This is a decided defeat for the labor organizations, as they were almost a unit urging its passage.

The annexation of Hawaii is now accomplished, so far as the legislative branch of the government is concerned. The resolutions providing for the annexation of the islands were brought to a vote in the Senate Thursday afternoon, and they were passed by the decisive vote of 42 to 21.

The test vote came up on an amendment offered by Mr. White (Cal.), to change the title of the resolutions. It was offered with no expectation that it would be adopted, but merely to place the ideas and opinions of the opponents of annexation on record. It was rejected by a vote of 40 to 20, indicating that the annexationists were strongly in the majority.

Amendment after amendment was offered, but the advocates of the resolutions stood solidly together, gaining rather than losing strength on the successive voting.

Finally, at 5.30 p. m., the resolutions themselves, in precisely the form in which they were received from the House of Representatives, were reported to the Senate and the roll call began.

In a manner so simple as to be almost negative the Senate and the roll call processive to the senate and the roll call began.

ported to the Senate and the roll call began.

In a manner so simple as to be almost perfunctory the Senate at 2.06 Friday adjourned without day. For nearly an hour previous to adjournmen President McKinley and all the members of his cabinet, except Secretaries Day and Long, were in the President's from adjoining the Senate thamber. During that time the president signed a large number of engrossed bills, many of waich would have falled had it been necessary to send them to the executive mansion for his signature.

failed had it been necessary to send them to the executive mansion for his signature.

Mr. Morgøn (Ala.) opposed the proposed adjournment, maintaining that it would be far more desirable for Congress to take a recess till the first Monday in September.

In response to a question by Mr. Allen as to whether it was not likely that peace negotiations, in view of the dispatches published this morning, might not require the attention of Congress soon, Mr. Morgan said the suggestion was correct and apt.

Mr. Gallagher said there were just 116 general and 30 odd pension bills left over, a number fewer than had been on the calendar at adjournment at any time during the past 20 years. At 1.65 p. m. the Senate went into executive session. It was just one minute of 2 o'clock when the executive session ended. The clock by which the Senate regulates its business had been turned back five minutes in order that the extra time might be gained.

Representative Berry of Kentucky, a member of the house committee on foreign affairs, Tuesday introduced the following joint resolution: "Joint resolution tendering the thanks of congress to Commodore Schley, U. S. N., and the officers and men under his command.

"Resolved, That the thanks of congress and of the American people are hereby tendered to Commodore Schley, U. S. N., and the officers and men under his command for their heroic and distinguished conduct in destroying the Spanish fleet in Cuban waters on the third of July last."

Both Houses of Congress agreed Thursday to adjourn sine die on Friday.

After the resolution was agreed to in the House there was a clamor characteristic of the closing days of a session, members in large numbers being constantly upon their feet, appealing for recognition and consideration of their local measures.

The bill to incorporate the International American Bank was called upbut by unanimous consent it went over to the first Wednesday after Congress shall meet in December.

The Senate resolutions extending thanks and directing the giving of medals to Lleutenant F. H. Newcomb and the officers and men of the Hudson in the fight at Cardenas, and directing the retirement upon full pay of Captain Daniel B. Hodgson, of the McCulloch, in the Manilla battle, were laid before the House. Mr. Hepburn asked consent for its consideration, but Mr. Berry (Dem., Ky.), objected unless the Schley resolutions should be taken up with them. This condition was not conceded and the Senate resolutions went over.

The Fifty-fourth Congress passed out of existence Friday by the adjournment sine die of both Houses.

The end of this session in the Lower House was marked by a notable incident. It was sensationally partisan, well nigh resulting in personal conflict on the floor of the House. The scene followed a motion of Mr. Handy (Dem., Del.) to strike from the Record poritions of partisan remarks of Mr. Ray (Rep., N. Y.) in a speech made Thursday. Handy contended that Ray had not made the remarks

106.
Later in the session Mr. Cannon explained that Mr. Ball had addressed his remarks not to him personally, and, therefore, he desired to withdraw his offensive statement.
Then amid the singing of patriotic songs in which the galleries joined, and with cheers for the president, the speakers and the heroes of the present war the house adjourned.

TRADE REVIEW.

Being Consumed.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade reports as follows for last week:

The usual half yearly statement of failures by branches of business is peculiarly interesting because it shows that war and fears of war have not caused increase in commercial disasters. The surprisingly large and general decrease in trading defaults would without doubt be accompanied by corresponding returns as to manufacturing, but for excessive expansion in some lines and the helpless condition reached by a few large firms in other branches. Fallures during the second quarter have been smaller than in the same quarter of the past four years in trading, and in manufacturing smaller than in the same quarter of any year excepting 1894.

The fiscal year has ended with financial results a shade beyond general expectation, and the new war tax begins to increase revenue, not seriously disturbing business in any line. No reason yet appears to apprehend that the war revenue bill will fall below expectations.

The cotten crop looks better and the prospect is reflected in a decline of a sixteenth in the spot price. The manufacturing works at the north are quite well employed, much more than usual during the vacation season, and the demand for goods is somewhat improving. Abroad the state of the manufacture does not encourage hopes of an extraordinary demand for the raw material, while the stocks held by millers are known to be unusually large. The south is increasing the manufacture and linen.

The manufacture of wool hesitates, although a distinctly better demand has appeared during the past ten days, because prices at which western wool is held are too high for profitable manufactures, and business is good and growing in silks, bagging, hemp products and linen.

The manufacture of wool hesitates, although a distinctly better demand has appeared during the past ten days, because prices at which western markets and apparently too high for profitable manufacturers, against 14,120,500 last year, of which 6,889,500 were domestic,
