Light Eyed People.

A correspondent states that in many parts of South America the Indians are suspicious and very dangerous. Some of them will trade with strangers, but can never be relied on, while others will be friendly and have a fairly good reputation in the matter of dealing with foreigners. But on one point all the tribes agree—they do not trust a man with eyes like a cat. In many places in South America a man with light eyes is never safe, and the Indians are apt to kill such a man on sight. If no present opportunity should offer itself of gratifying this prejudice, they will often hang around for days for the chance of disposing of the intruder. It is related that not long ago a French trader was sitting quietly among some Fojira Indians, discussing business, when a party of the same tribe who had been filling up with mescal came along, and the cry was raised: "A man with eyes like a cat! Let us kill him now." There was a scramble and a daring rescue, for the trader's companions reached his side only just in time.

A Sailor's Prayer.

Chicago Times-Herald.
Gen. Edward E. Bryant, of Madison, tells a story that fits in at the present time very nicely. There was a pious man in the crew of an iron-clad. He had been told one evening that in all probability the next day would witness a great battle. When he prayed that night he put special stress upon the plea that the vessel upon which himself and his comrades were serving might escape disaster, saying among other things: "O Lord, shield us from the shells and other projectiles of the enemy, but if any shells and solid shot do come to our vessel, I pray Thee that they may be distributed as prize money is distributed, mostly among the officers."

The Donkey Club.

A minister in a town not many thousand miles away surprised his audience, a few Sundays ago, by making the following announcement from the pulpit: "The regular session of the Donkey Club will be held as usual at the close of service. Members will line up outside the church door, make remarks and stare at the ladies who pass, as is their custom. Any member known to escort a lady to church and sit with her like a gentleman will be expelled from membership." The application was to the point, the effect was marvelous, it is said.

The Mountain Chautauqua.

The sixteenth annual session of this famous Chautauqua will be held August 4th to 28th. It is the most superb and sensible summer resort in America, 2,800 feet above sea level on the line of the picturesque B. & O. The climate and scenery and social surroundings are all that could be desired and $300,000 have been spent in improvements. Mountain Lake Park is furnished with electric lights, and water works are now being put in. Five splendid hotels and two hundred and fifty cottages, many of which receive boarders, open their doors at reasonable rates to tourists. The charming lake furnishes excellent boating and fishing. The Chautauqua Summer Schools are in session for four weeks. They include thirty departments of important study under the care of enthusiastic and capable teachers out of leading American colleges. The Chautauqua program with three entertainments daily furnishes the best thing in lectures, entertainments and music which genius can devise or money procure. The beautiful detailed illustrated program can be secured by addressing the agent of the B. & O., Mountain Lake Park, Md. 8-25

The Scientific American Navy Supplement.

The Scientific American, which has always been identified itself very closely with the interests of the Navy, is to be congratulated on the extremely handsome and valuable "Navy Supplement" which it has lately put before the public. We think that, if the average reader had been asked beforehand what kind of a work he would prefer upon the Navy, he would have asked for just such an issue as this.

Both the illustrations and the reading matter are of the straightforward explanatory kind which is necessary to put a technical subject clearly before the lay mind. It was a happy thought to preface the work with a chapter upon the classification of warships and insert a few diagrams by way of explanation of the subtle differences between cruisers, monitors and battleships; for after digesting this chapter one is prepared to follow intelligently the detailed descriptions of the various ships which make up the bulk of the issue. One of the best things about this number is that it does not merely give an external illustration of each ship, but it takes the reader down below decks, and initiates him into the mysteries of the magazines, handling rooms, ammunition hoists and motive machinery. The sectional views of the interior of the turrets of the monitors are exceptionally fine, as are the large wood engravings of the engines of the "Massachusettses." The last page of the number contains complete tables of the new Navy, the auxiliary fleet and the various naval guns. A handsome colored map of Cuba and the West Indies is furnished with this issue. We extend our congratulations to our contemporary on the production of a work which is well conceived and admirably carried out. This work is published by Munn & Co., of 361 Broadway, New York, for 25 cents.

Value of the Umpire.

Boston Herald.
A game of base ball was played in New Jersey, the other day. It was a model game, as there was no swearing at decisions, no kicking and no cry "Kill the umpire!" Good balls were called bad, strikes went as balls, fouls were pronounced fair and fairs foul; yet neither side revolted. The umpire was John L. Sullivan.

Cooking Invention.

An inventor in India has constructed an apparatus for cooking by the heat of the sun. It consists of a box made of wood, lined with reflecting mirrors, at the bottom of the box being a small copper boiler, covered with glass to retain the heat of the rays contracted by mirrors upon the boiler. In this contrivance any sort of food may be quickly cooked.

Knew It All.

Boston Transcript.
"By the way, Tom," said Mr. Manning to his son, fresh from academic groves, "I have been thinking the matter over, and I have come to the conclusion that I had better go to school somewhere and that you had better take the business and run it. It cannot help improving under the eye of one so gifted as yourself."

Judgment Notes and Receipts, put up in neat books, with perforated stubs, for sale at THE STAR office. Prices very low.

The Times is a tireless newsgatherer, is edited with extreme care, spares no expense to entertain and inform its readers. It prints all the news in compact shape, caring always more for quality than quantity. It keeps its columns clean, but at the same time bright. Nothing that is of human interest is overlooked by it. It aims to be reliable rather than sensational. It believes in the gospel of get there, but it gets there with due respect for the facts. Test any department of it you choose—political, religious, markets, sporting, editorial, society, near town news—and you'll find the Times may be depended upon. $3 a year, 6 cents a week.
