Soldier Scully Complimented.

The Detroit Free Press in making mention of the soldiers stationed at Fort Wayne, near Detroit, pays the following fine compliment to our friend Mr. George S. Scully: George Sherman Scully, the handsome dashing soldier, is the favorite of the fort. He is a great grandson of Gen. O'Hara, who served under Wash-soldier. He is also a nephew of Col Norman M. Smith, of the 18th U. S. A. volunteers. George's recitations cannot be beaten, and his flashing gray eyes will never be forgotten by the boys. He lived in Detroit in 1892.
