

UNITED STATES WAS HER DELIVERER.

A CUBAN MANIFESTO.

The Provisional Council of the Island Aims to Establish a Permanent Republic—American Intervention Gratefully Acknowledged.

The provisional council of the Cuban Republic has issued the following manifesto, praising the United States and declaring in favor of a republic:

"We always felt confident that through our own perseverance we would be able to free our Spanish dominion; but we must acknowledge that an indefinite prolongation of the struggle would have annihilated the little that was left of our weak and disorganized republic. Upon the field of a powerful and decisive factor, upon which we have always relied and toward which the hearts of all Cubans have always turned, has put an end to the horrors of war, to the benefit of all concerned.

This prompt solution we must acknowledge we would never have obtained. It is proper to acknowledge the evident truth that the United States has to our gratitude. We were abandoned by the world, some nations ignoring us through selfishness, others, ignorant of our real condition, considering us an obstinate and ungovernable people, because we did not accept the cajoleries and flatteries with which Spain tried to soothe our just anger.

"This was our situation when the people of the United States, their government and Congress, came to our rescue and took upon their shoulders the task of delivering us at once from an unbearable yoke, as our sufferings could not be endured or permitted longer. They have accomplished their programme brilliantly. What is more, they have liberated in one way or another from the rule of Spain all peoples unite and irrevocable. Spain has been expelled from this hemisphere. We are grateful.

"It is now the duty of this council to explain to the people of Cuba in its opinion the policies toward the United States and toward ourselves and what are the rules that ought to direct our conduct.

"When, after a long struggle, the United States Congress recognized the right of the people of Cuba to be free and independent and ordered the Spanish forces to withdraw from the island no Cuban government was recognized, but the one we had established, though not recognized, was not opposed, and has not been opposed.

"The people of the United States have all along appreciated the fact that the majority of the people of Cuba are in agreement with our principles; for the motto of the United States government has been the same as our own—absolute independence for Cuba. Under these conditions the Americans could not take a hostile attitude toward us or consider our authority illegitimate and harmful to the welfare of the Cuban people.

"These considerations have convinced us that we should not dissolve and that the powers we have received from an assembly elected by the people under arms should not vanish. On the contrary, we feel that we should remain as a nucleus and guide for those who have vested such power in us."

In conclusion the manifesto gives a number of reasons why the proposed assembly should be convened and some with the character of a government as yet, but as an official representation of those Cubans who fought against Spain and of those who, in the cities under Spain's control and in foreign countries, have helped and supported them.

THE ROUGH RIDERS.

The Heroes of San Juan Mustered Out of Service. Cheers for Roosevelt.

The camp of Roosevelt's rough riders at Montauk was crowded last Wednesday morning. The relatives arrived by the score to spend with this unique band of fighters the last day in which the troops were together. All was activity and before night the last man of the First United States Cavalry—cavalry was mustered out and departed for pastures new.

"Tuesday night was given over to safety and celebration. Huge bonfires were kept burning, and hamper and boxes loaded with good things to eat and drink were brought forth. Four of Roosevelt's rough riders appeared on the observation balcony of the stock exchange in New York Wednesday. They were immediately became known on the floor and a cheer went up from those who "saw them first." Excitement prevailed for a few moments, until every man on the floor was looking in the direction of the heroes of Las Quiamas. One of the rough riders proposed three cheers for Col. Roosevelt, and the response which came from every corner of the exchange, was deafening.

LONG ORDURE FOR THE TEXAS.

Capt. Sigbee Will Command the Ship on Her Way to Manila.

Officials of the Navy Department estimate that the battleship Texas will be able to reach Manila by the steamer Canal in about 27 days after leaving New York. The voyage may consume more time, however, as Captain Sigbee will be told that he is not expected to make a record-breaking trip.

Arrangements for the ship have been completed for coaling on the way. The department has received assurances that none of the Powers will refuse coal under the provisions of the neutrality laws.

"The United States has a large supply of coal in storage at the entrance to the canal, which was purchased by the United States Consul to prevent it falling into the hands of Admiral Canina.

Trace Commissioners Sail for Paris.

The American Peace Commissioners left for Paris on the Campania last Saturday. In regard to the work of the commission the state department has issued the following statement: At the very outset it will be made clear to the Spanish commissioners that, as in the case of the preliminary protocol, there can be no deviation from or modification of the demands made by the United States. The decision arrived at by the President after a full consultation with the members of the commission subsequently received the cordial and unanimous approval of the Cabinet at a meeting held Friday afternoon.

Mora Wary for Spain.

It is expected that the Spanish peace commissioners will be appointed without delay. A painful impression has been caused at Madrid by a statement made by the Pals, saying the United States intends to demand $20,000,000 in indemnity in behalf of American citizens who have suffered through the insurrection in Cuba. The Spanish peace commissioners will strongly oppose this, it is claimed.

MOVEMENTS TOWARD PEACE.

There are no more Spanish prisoners at Santiago.

The horses of the Rough Riders will be sold at auction in New York.

The garrison of Cuba will consist of regulars, volunteers and immunes.

Admiral Montefiore, defeated by Admiral Dewey at Manila, has been suspended.

Major General Joe Wheeler will command the cavalry to be sent to Cuba.

New York City council recently voted thanks to Miss Helen Gould for her patriotic deeds.

A new army department is to be formed to train the troops in Cuba and Porto Rico.

Five hundred men of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania volunteer troops left for Porto Rico last Wednesday.

The United States transport Saratoga which reached New York Tuesday had 9,000 captured Spanish rifles on board.

The peace commissioners at Havana transacted their business by an interchange of notes and not in joint session.

A tank of oil fell onto an assistant engineer of the Resolute now lying in Matanzas harbor, killing him almost instantly.

At his own request Capt. Bob Evans has been relieved from the command of the Iowa. He will be assigned to shore duty.

Brig. Gen. Edward Morrell has been tendered Gov. Hastings his resignation as commander of the first brigade, National Guard.

The camp at Montauk will be deserted in a few days. Fourteen hundred sick were brought to New York from the camp Sunday.

General Garretson has arrived at New York from Porto Rico, with him on board of the transport Manitoba were the Sixth Illinois volunteers.

Thirty-three enlisted men detailed as nurses in the provisional hospital at Lexington deserted their posts in a body and will be court-martialed.

The peace commissioners will act alone, their opinions will not be dictated by the President, said Senator Frye, one of the commissioners a few days ago.

Gen. Wheeler has returned to Montauk. He came from his home in Andover, N. H., where he had buried his son who was drowned at Camp Wikoff last week.

Battery B, the only Pittsburg troops who saw active service in Porto Rico, were welcomed home by almost the entire population of the Smoky City yesterday.

President McKinley asserted he is determined to have the war scandals probed to the bottom, and has no idea of giving up the proposed investigation at this stage of the game.

Before leaving for Spain, Admiral Cervera, through the press, thanked the people of the United States for their generous treatment extended toward him and his companions.

It has just been discovered that the cruiser Brooklyn was severely strained when she ran aground near Cuba a few days ago.

The three battleships which have just been contracted for have been assigned as follows: The Ohio to the Union iron works, San Francisco; the Missouri to the Newport News Company; the Maine to Cramp & Sons, of Philadelphia. The ships are to be built in 33 months.

The latest estimate as to the distribution of the prize money resulting from naval victories follows:

Admiral Sampson, $100,000; Admiral Dewey, $50,000; Admiral Schley, $50,000; the captains in Sampson's fleet, each $4,000; the captains in Dewey's fleet, each $2,000; the men on an average, $150. It will probably be distributed about Christmas.

The United States transport Comal will probably be compelled to return to the United States from Havana without discharging its cargo of commissaries as the Marquis de Montoro, minister of finance, insists upon a duty of $60,000 being paid before the cargo can be discharged. The matter has been referred to the American commissioners, but they refuse to take up an affair which is not in line with their business at Havana.

STARVATION IN HAVANA.

The Civil Governor, However, Says That Want and Distress Have Disappeared.

The streets and public places at Havana have again become crowded with beggars since the closing of the soup kitchens. Nothing could be more ridiculous than the statement of Civil Governor Fernandez de Castro, that want and distress have disappeared.

In Pinar there is almost a total lack of food, clothing and medicine. Hundreds of children, mere skeletons and hollow-eyed, colorless, naked men and women are dying by inches.

The municipal authorities are doing absolutely nothing to remedy the evil. Commissions composed of ladies are visiting the streets and business houses collecting relief supplies and medicines for the Cuban troops, but the collections are far short of the actual requirements. The Spaniards have contributed generously, even the most rabid of the conservatives.

The condition of the Spanish troops is hardly better in the country. The average death rate among the Spanish soldiers was 100 daily during the first fortnight of the present month.

The principal causes of death were malaria and dysentery caused by the lack of food and the bad quality of that obtainable.

An Austrian Consul Killed.

Chevalier M. Proskowitz, acting chief consul of Austria-Hungary, at Chicago, lost his life in Fort Wayne, Sunday night, while on route to New York. He was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited. At 9:20 o'clock the dining car was cut off at the station. The consul was restless and was walking through the train. He did not notice that the dining car had been cut off. He stumbled headlong just as the baggage car was being pushed back on the train and was ground under the wheels, both legs being frightfully crushed. He was taken to St. Joseph hospital in ambulance, and died an hour later.

Mobilizing Troops in the South.

The military movements are being directed rapidly towards the assembling of a large army in southern stations for winter camps and preparatory to the military occupation of Cuba and Porto Rico. About 70,000 troops are now located in the South, and orders will be issued sending the First, Second, Sixth, Ninth and Tenth cavalry from Montauk to southern stations.

In Favor of the Czar's Proposition.

President McKinley has endorsed the czar's peace sentiment, but has not yet named a representative of the United States to attend the conference.

TROUBLE AMONG MANILA'S PRIESTS.

COMPELLED TO LEAVE.

Archbishop Dozal Declares in Favor of Foreign Intervention—Religious Orders Quarrel Among Themselves—Assembly in Session.

In an interview at Manila with him by the correspondent of the Associated Press, Archbishop Dozal of the Philippine Islands said: "I earnestly hope the islands will not remain Spanish, because the rebels are now so strong that such a course would inevitably cause an appalling bloodshed. The rebels have been three lives impossible until after years of the most cruel warfare."

He also expressed the hope that the islands would not become absolutely independent, because it is certain that discussions would occur which would result in incessant strife and a lapse into barbarism and the natural indifference of the tropical race. The only hope, the archbishop declared, was that a strong western power would intervene now. Delay was dangerous because the people are intoxicated, vain-glorious and restless.

He said it was undeniable that the religious orders had quarrelled, and the whole people had determined to abolish them now that they were unable to render their retention impossible. He laid the chief blame for the quarrels upon the Dominicans, Augustinians, Franciscans, the richest orders, and next upon the Benedictines and Capuchins, which are of less importance. The Jesuits, Archbishop Dozal says, are comparatively blameless and they should remain in Manila if Spain was reinstated in the control of the islands. Many of the Spanish soldiers refuse to serve again, and Spanish officers are utterly disgusted with the rottenness of Spain's government, and prefer to become American subjects.

The annexationists have a majority of 71 in the national assembly, but the discussion of the subject has not been finished.

The assembly unanimously resolved to reject the proposals of a joint Spanish-American protectorate over the Philippine Islands.

A native priest privately stated to the correspondent that the reason the archbishop hopes for the expulsion of the friary orders is that they have grown too powerful for him, and that he wishes to strengthen himself.

Several responsible Spaniards said that they would rather remain in Manila if Spain was reinstated in the control of the islands. THREE HUNDRED DEAD.

Kingston, the Capital of St. Vincent, in the West Indies, Recently Destroyed by a Cyclone.

A boat from the island of St. Vincent, 100 miles west of Barbados, arrived at the island of Grenada and reports that St. Vincent has experienced the most violent and destructive cyclone ever known there.

Kingston, the capital of St. Vincent, is totally destroyed. It is estimated that 300 lives have been lost in that island and that 20,000 people are homeless. The bodies of the dead are being buried in trenches. Thousands are starving or being fed at the public expense.

The amount of property destroyed in St. Vincent cannot yet be estimated. Every small house is down and many large ones have been destroyed. The demolished buildings include churches, stores and almost all the state buildings. Three large ships are ashore on the windward coast and many smaller vessels are stranded.

Guadaloupe, the French island in the Leeward group, has experienced very heavy weather. Nineteen deaths are reported, and there have been destructive landslides.

According to the latest reports from St. Lucia the storm which broke upon the island of St. Vincent Sunday night developed almost unprecedented violence, being accompanied by a tidal wave and tremendous rains. Numerous landslides were caused, and many houses, bridges and cocoa estates have been destroyed.

People are flocking into Kingston, St. Vincent, from the country round about for shelter and food. Everywhere it appears that all the small buildings and many large ones were destroyed, and there is no doubt that the fatalities were enormous.

A St. Vincent, British West Indies, cablegram says: The official reports reduce the number of deaths here during the hurricane. It was at first estimated that 300 lives were lost, but it is now believed that the number is considerably smaller. The exact figures are not obtainable. The ship Loanda, and the bark Grace Lynwood were cast ashore here and wrecked.

The Loanda, of 1,447 tons, Captain Dodge, was from Rio Janeiro, and the American bark Grace Lynwood, of 592 tons, Captain Gilley, was from New York for Port Spain.

Kingston, Jamaica, cablegram says: The Governor of St. Vincent is imploring the latter to send prompt assistance to the sufferers.

The destruction of Barbados was equal to that at St. Vincent. Barbados, presenting practically a flat surface, was completely swept by the vortex of the cyclone. The entire area of cultivation was obliterated and a majority of the buildings destroyed. Two-thirds of the dense population of 160 to the square mile were rendered homeless. The distress is unparalleled in the history of the West Indies. Outside relief is absolutely necessary.

ANARCHISTS FRIGHTENED.

Europe Determined to Exterminate the Band of Assassins.

The powers of Europe are getting together to suppress anarchism more readily than they are to promote the czar's plan for peace. A suspected anarchist conspirator will probably, when caught, be imprisoned for life as one of the most heinous crimes, and ordinarily understood will not be necessary. Such is the panic in ruling circles that to punish one guilty man will be thought worth the cost of justice to many innocents. As the world is flooded with piracy and the slave trade so they hope to crush the new social enemies. In a few days, it is said, Germany will formally propose the life imprisonment plan to the powers. Co-operation between England and the United States is regarded as necessary, as anarchists have heretofore found asylum under their liberal laws. A general exodus of the red brotherhood to the United States is sure to come, and has probably begun.

SYMPATHY FOR A STRICKEN NATION.

M'KINLEY'S TRIBUTE.

A Beautiful Floral Design Placed at the Head of the Murdered Austrian Empress—The Cold-Blooded Assassin Still Glories in His Deed.

The funeral of Empress Elizabeth, the victim of an Italian anarchist, took place last Saturday at Vienna. The sorrow of the people was intense.

Emperor Francis Joseph, Saturday morning, received the special representatives of foreign sovereigns.

The inhabitants of Vienna streamed in dense crowds toward the chapel of the Hofburg, and defied before the casket containing the remains of the late empress.

Emperor Francis Joseph, Prince Hohenlohe, the German imperial chancellor, and Baron von Buelow, the German minister for foreign affairs, received Emperor William at the railroad station. The emperors shook hands and kissed each other's cheek three times. They then proceeded to the church, where Emperor William deposited in the casket containing the remains of the late empress, an Austrian floral wreath which his majesty had brought from Germany.

At 4 o'clock the tolling of bells announced the starting of the procession. The route from the Hofburg to the insignificant church of the Capuchins whose vaults entomb the Hapsburgs is so short that only a small proportion of the population was able to crowd into the adjoining streets.

A large number of priests in full canonicals met the procession at the Augustine church and proceeded with it to the church of the Capuchins. The clergy there marched down the aisle before the coffin and united in intoning prayers which were also, exquisitely chanted, during the service by the court choir.

During the last prayer the coffin was lifted from the catafalque and the clergy, bearing torches, walked before it. Emperor Francis Joseph, attended by the highest officers of state, bearing wands, followed.

The procession slowly passed from the sight of the congregation down a stone stairway to the vaults. After the last benediction had been pronounced in the vaults the mourners ascended and the high chamberlain handed the key of the vault to the Capuchin who is the guardian of the imperial mausoleum.

Among the multitude of wreaths accumulated in the Burg Palace was conspicuous a splendid structure of palm branches and white and red carnations and gladioli, draped with the Stars and Stripes. On two of the broad satin stripes is the inscription in gold:

"From the President of the United States of America, a tribute of hearty sympathy to the memory of a noble and gracious lady." The tribute was placed there by the United States Minister, by direction of President McKinley.

The Geneva correspondent of one of the Vienna papers reports Luigiini, the assassin, as saying in an interview: "I am a soft-hearted, glorious anarchist. It was my ideal to strike society in one of its summits. I have attained that ideal, and I am indifferent to what the world says. I am no coward; I fear not death. I have addressed a prayer to the Federal Council to judge Luigiini in Lucerne, where capital punishment is in force. I wish to suffer the guillotine. The judge interposed, calling this swagword, knowing the impossibility of it."

When questioned if he avenged his fatherless poverty, he answered: "No, I fulfilled a mission. You may take me for an anarchist or a scoundrel, a coward or a brave man. I am satisfied with my deed, and that suffices."

When asked whether he worked in Trieste, he said he had other irons in the fire at Trieste.

In the passage Luigiini asked the correspondent for a match to light his cigar.

The Austrian mad house doctor, questioned whether Luigiini is a type of criminal according to the Lombroso system, said: "No. Luigiini has none of the abnormalities of criminality."

Luigiini or Luichessi, the assassin of Empress Elizabeth, appeared last Friday before the correctional chamber.

He entered the court smiling, saluted the public with a wave of his hand and asked the president of the tribunal in good French to allow him to inter-upter. The examination appeared to show a plot involving other Italian Anarchists.

INDIGNATION IN AUSTRIA.

Murder of the Empress Excites the Wrath of the People Against Italians.

Dispatches from Vienna say the entire Austro-Hungarian empire is inflamed against the Italians, as a result of the assassination of the empress Elizabeth, and that violent anti-Italian demonstrations have taken place at Trieste, where the Italians and natives have been fighting in the streets with sticks and stones, sometimes using revolvers. Six deaths are reported to have occurred there and the troops were called out to suppress the disturbances. At Gratz an Italian soldier has been hanged, and at Vienna fully 1,500 Italians, employed on the municipal works have been summarily dismissed in order to avert a popular revolt. The Italian embassy at Vienna is guarded by a strong body of infantry.

The anti-Italian demonstrations in Austria have made a deep impression at Rome. The newspapers urge the government to see that Italy is protected from unjustifiable attacks. Numbers of Italian workmen are returning to Italy owing to the threats of the Austrians.

Investigating Committee.

The expectation is that Hon. Charles Denby, ex-minister to China, will accept the president's invitation to become a member of the commission which is to investigate the conduct of the war department. This, with the other persons who have practically indicated their willingness to serve, makes six all, the remaining five being Messrs. Howell, Sexton, Keen, Dodge and Gilman.

Spain Accepts the Peace Protocol.

The Spanish chamber of deputies Tuesday adopted the Hispano-American protocol. The chamber considered the protocol in secret session, the Republicans, Carlists and dissenting conservatives being absent. The chamber vote on the Hispano-American protocol was 151 against 48. The president, Marquis Vega D'Armijo, called Senator Uria to order, intimating that Gen. Primo de Rivera has enriched himself at the expense of the treasury.

Father Had Made a Positive Identification.

The supposed victim of the Bridgeport (Conn.) murder, Miss Marian Grace Perkins, arrived at her home at Middleboro, Mass., a few days ago in perfect health to see that Italian Anarchist and the unbounded astonishment of the entire community. Her father at the time of his daughter's arrival was on his way back from Bridgeport with the grievously remains which he had identified as those of Grace.

GEN. GOMEZ PROTESTS.

The Insurgent Commander-in-Chief Resigns on Account of the Passing of the Cuban Republic—Robert Porter's Mission Regarding Withdrawing.

A report was received by Gen. Lawton, at Santiago a few days ago, that Gen. Maximo Gomez, the insurgent commander-in-chief, has tendered his resignation of the command of the Cuban army to the Cuban government at Camaguey, and that it has been accepted.

Gomez, it appears has been protesting against the Cuban government's yielding the control of the affairs of the island to the Americans and the explanation for resigning was his disapproval of "passive submission to conditions tending to the practical discrediting and retirement of the Cuban republic, as such, and the establishing of the absolute dominion of the United States."

The Cubans at Santiago were much excited by the report and there was an animated scene at the San Carlos club when the matter was discussed. The report was disbelieved by many who say that Gen. Gomez's resignation at this time is utterly improbable. Others, however, say Gomez resents the putting of the Cuban army under the authority of the American generals, and claims the Cubans should resist even by force of arms if necessary.

Gen. Cebreco, Castiella, Perez, Perez and other insurgent leaders have turned over their commands to Gen. Lawton.

Lieut.-Col. Rowan and Capt. Parker, accompanied by Lieut. J. Carlos Garcia, son of Gen. Garcia, and two other Cuban officers, arrived at Santiago on horseback from Gib
