BIG ANTI-QUAY VICTORY.

Quay Loses Ten Members of the Legislature in Philadelphia. Martin's Great Speech.

QUAY'S LETTERS IN EVIDENCE.

Mr. Wanamaker's Terrific Rebuttal to Chairman Elkin—The Chairman Denied That Quay Had Driven Colonel Stable Out of Office and Mr. Wanamaker Produces Quay's Written Orders to That Effect—An Affidavit That Tells All About the Crooked Deal in York County.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Harrisburg, Sept. 27.—The anti-Quay movement in Philadelphia won a splendid victory in the primaries in Philadelphia last week. Senator Quay lost 10 votes in the next legislature, among them two senators. It was a magnificent achievement, and the Quay combination in Philadelphia is utterly routed and downcast.

As showing how the anti-Quay tide travels 12 out of the 13 men from Philadelphia who voted for John Wanamaker for United States senator were re-nominated, while but five out of the 23 men who voted for Beles Penrose were returned. One of the great and striking features of the conventions in Philadelphia was the speech of Secretary David Martin. In all the past years in which Mr. Martin has been vilified and abused he has held his peace. Through misrepresentation, slander, false accusation, he has quietly bided his time. No one before last Thursday knew that David Martin was a forceful, vigorous speaker; an orator whose words, well chosen, carried conviction with them. In his speech accepting the nomination, unanimously tendered him by the citizens of the Eighth senatorial district, Mr. Martin said:

SECRETARY MARTIN'S GREAT SPEECH.

"Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the convention: I thank you for this nomination. If I did not I would feel that I was ungrateful to you and unfair to myself. I was born and raised in this district, and to receive your nomination for state senator is no small honor. It is the largest manufacturing district in this state, and is the largest Republican district in Pennsylvania.

"I have felt for several years that I would not take any nomination for public office, but when the crusade was made against me by the senate of '95, which threatened to drive me out of politics and ruin my reputation, the thought crept into my mind that there would be a chance for me some day to strike back, and if elected I will, on the floor of the senate and in the presence of some of the men who tried to ruin my character and reputation, fling back in their teeth the scandals they tried to heap upon me.

"I will, if elected, be in a position to prevent any dollar marks being put on me or any friend of mine without cause and show to the citizens of my native city that a politician can be as honest as any other man.

"I will vote and work for the good of the whole people and I desire to impress on the minds of the delegates in this convention that I am a Republican and will vote with my party on all party questions. I am not pledged to any one for any place and will make no such promises until after I am sworn in as a senator at Harrisburg. I will not vote to cut down the school appropriations; I will not vote to pay the expenses of the Lexow committee; I will not vote for any of the expense bills that were vetoed by our honest governor now at Harrisburg; nor will I vote for any of the bills which were passed by the last legislature and vetoed by Governor Hastings.

SERVE THE PEOPLE; NOT QUAY.

"It will be my aim to serve the whole people, and not one or two individuals.

"The people who were in control twenty-four years ago, when this, the Eighth senatorial district was formed, urged me at that time to be a candidate for the position which you today have nominated me for, but I declined. My candidacy was again urged when young Senator Henry S. Taylor died, nine years ago, but I refused, and the only reason I have now to go to the senate of this state is to serve the people of this city and of this state.

"One word in conclusion: I desire you to go back to your people in your words and divisions and say to them that your nominee is a Republican and never faltered in the duties he owed to his party, and that the banner you have placed in his hands will be carried by him in triumph, not only for himself, but for the entire Republican ticket nominated today in the various conventions, and for the state ticket nominated at Harrisburg in June last.

"Gentlemen, again I thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me." Secretary Martin threw down the gage to Senator Quay. The time has come when by deeds and not by words, as a senator of Pennsylvania, Mr. Martin can refute the calumnies that have been hurled against him. He will make a memorable career in the upper house; and more than this he will yet be one of its leaders and foremost members.

The next most startling incident was the terrible rebuttal given to State Chairman Elkin by Hon. John Wanamaker. It has been told in these dispatches how the Quay Republicans in the Twenty-seventh congressional district have linked arms with the Free Silver Democrats to defeat Hon. Charles W. Stone, late candidate for governor. They are doing this to get Congressman Stone out of the road, and to work vengeance on him because he ran for governor against the wishes of Senator Quay. These facts were published in the Philadelphia Press of Sept. 10. A few days after State Chairman Elkin, in an address before the county chairman of the state at the Walton hotel, in Philadelphia, declared the statements to be false. This is the way the Philadelphia Press tells the story of the startling revelation:

On the day following the publication of this dispatch (about Quay men helping Sibley) State Chairman Elkin in an address before the members of the Republican state committee, said: "The story is false and malicious in every particular and has been circulated by persons who are engaged in an effort to defeat the Republican party."

Just a few days after this declaration of State Chairman Elkin, Joseph C. Sibley, Populist and Free Silverite, stamped an absolutely true statement of the Press correspondent from Oil City, by declaring his intention of entering the contest for congress against Charles W. Stone, and when in the course of his letter of acceptance in reply to the request of the Quay Republicans and Free Silver Democratic committee that waited on him, he spoke of his Quay Republican supporters as follows:

"Having been selected without the expression of a desire on my part for such an honor, as their candidate for representative in congress, not only by friends of the same political faith, but also in the form of personal requests, a great number of letters and numerous signed petitions by those who in the past have been conspicuous for their devotion to the Republican party, and under whose leadership it has so often marched to victory, the nomination under those circumstances and conditions seems to come as a genuine and urgent call to service which no citizen may feel at liberty to refuse. In this spirit of deference to the wishes of the sovereign people I accept your call."

SIBLEY'S OBLIGATIONS TO QUAY.

Still later, in a speech delivered from the same platform with Hon. George A. Jenks, at Oil City, on last Wednesday night, Mr. Sibley still further confessed his obligations to the Quay Republicans when he said:

"I feel from the number of letters received from men prominent in the ranks of the Republican party, and the Republican party."

State Chairman Elkin reiterated his denial of machine complicity in the Sibley matter at mass meeting at Media, Delaware county, which was addressed by Candidate William A. Stone and himself on Saturday night last. He explicitly denied that there was any truth in the statement that Senator Quay and his friends were endeavoring to defeat Congressman Charles W. Stone. Then he went a step further, and in the most impressive manner declared that Senator Quay had not interfered to defeat the nomination of Colonel Stable two years ago, which resulted in that district going Democratic. State Chairman Elkin said:

CHAIRMAN ELKIN'S DENIAL.

"Another charge made by these political disturbers is that Senator Quay and Colonel Stone defeated the renomination of Congressman Stable in the Nineteenth district. To this charge I reply that it is untrue. I answer in this positive manner because there is in my possession the convincing evidence of the renomination of Congressman Stable which was defeated by a barter and sale deal made by the friends of Mr. Wanamaker and in his interest."

The present widespread interest aroused in the case of Colonel Stable, an old soldier, a staunch Republican and an honest man, is now owing to the fact that if it can be shown that Congressman Stable was deliberately and persistently pursued by the machine and by Senator Quay; that his nomination was opposed and fought by the machine simply to work vengeance on him, then the case can be regarded as proven as to Congressman Charles W. Stone also, who is, it has been alleged, marked for defeat, just as was Colonel Stable two years ago.

There is living in York a gentleman who is more thoroughly conversant with some of the secret details of the machine plot that defeated Colonel Stable than any other man living today, with the exception of Hon. M. S. Quay. This gentleman is Mr. V. K. Frey, editor of the York Pennsylvaniaian. Mr. Frey was one of the conferees elected to represent York county and Colonel Stable in the congressional conference of 1896. Almost immediately after his appointment as a conferee of 1896 were set on foot to induce him to vote for another candidate. By a peculiar chain of circumstances Mr. Frey was induced to listen to the propositions advanced by the machine. The story of his part in the transaction, and of the part which Senator Quay played, is best told in Mr. Frey's own words, in the following affidavit:

MR. FREY'S AFFIDAVIT.

"In the congressional contest of 1896, in the Nineteenth district of Pennsylvania, the candidates were Colonel James A. Stable, of York county, and Frank E. Hollar, of Cumberland county. I was appointed one of the 11 conferees to represent York county and Colonel Stable. In August of 1896 I had some correspondence with Senator M. S. Quay relative to the congressional contest in this district. As a result of that correspondence, Senator Quay, who was extremely anxious to defeat Stable, agreed with me that if I would cast my vote for Mr. Hollar in the conference between York, Cumberland and Adams counties, he would have me appointed deputy collector of internal revenue at York in 1898, and on the expiration of the term of the present postmaster in 1900 I was to be appointed postmaster at York.

"In a letter to Senator Quay, dated Aug. 25, 1896, I outlined my idea of the conferee's work, with which he agreed, and in a letter from Beaver of Aug. 27, he said:

"If what you suggest can be carried out your wishes meaning that the conferee's work will be gratified, I am very anxious that Hollar should be nominated."

"In this same letter to me he said that he took it for granted that I would have the endorsement of Mr. Gleessner and our other friends in York. I saw in this way for Senator Quay to avoid fulfilling his agreement by a refusal of the local Quay leaders to endorse me. I wrote him to this effect, saying that if I agreed to vote for Hollar in return for the appointment of deputy collector and postmaster it must be independent of the local leaders, and solely upon his endorsement and recommendation. He replied to this by a letter of Sept. 8, 1896, from national headquarters in New York, in which he said:

SENATOR QUAY'S ANSWER.

"My understanding of the matter was that it was settled. Go ahead and nominate Hollar."

and to Cumberland six votes. They refused to accept this proposition, and proceeded to organize, casting three votes each for Hollar; six in all. Our conferees from York organized in the same room by electing John Ruby chairman. Ten votes were cast for Colonel Stable. I did not vote at all.

"Earlier in the conference Mr. Hollar came to me and asked me to support him, after saying that Quay had told him to see me, as everything had been fixed satisfactorily with me, and that I would vote for him. The result of the conference on that day was that Colonel Stable was not nominated, and the Nineteenth district went Democratic, Hollar not polling anything like the full Republican vote. George J. Benner, a Free Silver Democrat of Gettysburg, was elected to represent the district. Mr. Hollar subsequently told me that he had been assured by Senator Quay that everything was all right and satisfactory in my case, and that he had promised to take care of my interests if I would vote against Colonel Stable and for Hollar.

V. K. FREY.

Sworn and subscribed to before me, an alderman in and for the city and county of York, this, the 19th day of September, A. D. 1898.

C. F. KEECH, Alderman.

SENATOR QUAY QUOTED.

It is evident that Senator Quay did not fully inform State Chairman Elkin on all of the facts connected with the defeat of Colonel Stable. Accompanying the above statement from Mr. Frey are two letters to him from Senator Quay, a portion of whose contents are quoted in the affidavit. The letters in full are as follows:

"Beaver, Aug. 27, 1896.

"V. K. Frey, Esq., York, Pa.

"My Dear Sir:—I have your letter of the 25th inst., and if what you suggest can be carried out your wishes will be gratified. I am very anxious that Hollar should be nominated.

"When the time comes I take it for granted that you will have the endorsement of Mr. Gleessner and our other friends. Very truly yours,

"M. S. QUAY."

The next letter, the last sentence of which is most expressive of Senator Quay's desire to knock out Stable, is the letter in the paper of the Republican national committee, New York. It reads:

"New York, Sept. 8, 1896.

"Mr. V. K. Frey, York, Pa.

"Dear Sir:—Yours of yesterday received. My understanding of the matter was that it was settled. Go ahead and nominate Hollar. Very truly yours, "Edw. F. W. M. S. QUAY."

It is needless to say that the above letters prove emphatically that Senator Quay was personally interested in the defeat of Colonel Stable. He confesses it in the letters given above, and of which facsimile copies are herewith produced.

THE STATE AROUSED.

The result of all this has been a whirlwind of indignation over Pennsylvania, for it is shown that the Quay machine will stop at nothing to crush men it cannot bend.

In a great meeting held at the courthouse at Media, Delaware county, on Saturday night last, Mr. Wanamaker exhibited Senator Quay's letters and the affidavit of Editor Frey. It was on the same platform where just one week before State Chairman Elkin had declared that Senator Quay and William A. Stone had nothing to do with defeating Colonel Stable and turning his district over into Democratic hands. There promises to be not only an anti-Quay victory, but an anti-Quay landslide this fall.

JAMES BEAL, Prop., Salisbury, Pa.

I have used Ripans Tablets with so much satisfaction that I can cheerfully recommend them. Have been troubled for about three years with what I called bilious attacks coming on regularly once a week. Was told by different physicians that it was caused by bad teeth, of which I had several. I had the teeth extracted, but the attacks continued. I had seen advertisements of Ripans Tablets in all the papers, but had not read them, but about six weeks since a friend in need to try them. Have taken but two of the small eight-cent boxes of the Tablets and have had no recurrence of the attacks. Have never given a testimonial for anything before, but the amount of good which I believe has been done me by Ripans Tablets induced me to do so. I have many testimonials you doubtless have in your possession now.

A. T. DEWITT.

I want to inform you, in words of highest praise, of the benefit which I have derived from Ripans Tablets. I am a professional nurse and in this profession a clear head is always needed. Ripans Tablets does it. After one of my cases I found myself completely run down. Acting on the advice of Mr. Dewitt, I took one of the small eight-cent boxes of Ripans Tablets with grand results.

Miss BESSIE WEDMAN.

Mother was troubled with heartburn and sleeplessness, caused by indigestion, for a good many years. One day she saw a testimonial in the paper endorsing Ripans Tablets. She determined to give them a trial, was greatly relieved by their use and now takes the Tablets regularly. She keeps a few cartons Ripans Tablets in the house and says she will not be without them. The heartburn and sleeplessness have disappeared with the indigestion which was formerly so great a burden for her. Our whole family take the Tablets regularly, especially after a hearty meal. My mother is fifty years of age and is enjoying the best of health and spirits; also cats hearty meals, an impossibility before she took Ripans Tablets.
