Is Fully as Important and Beneficial as Spring Medicine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to keep the blood rich and pure, create an appetite, give good digestion and tone and strengthen the great vital organs. It wards off malaria, fevers and other forms of illness which so readily overcome a weak and debilitated system.

The year 47 B. C. was the longest year on record. By order of Julius Caesar it contained 445 days. The additional days were put in to make the seasons conform as near as possible with the solar year.

How He Fought.
Dukane—Before war was declared Spiffin was very anxious to fight. Gaswell—Well, he fought all through the war. "Did he?" "Yes, he fought shy of the recruiting officers."—New York Journal.

Forty-seven muscles are called into play in the production of the human voice.

To Cure Constipation Forever.
Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

The cost of keeping up the drinking fountains and cattle troughs in London is $8,500 per annum. A single trough in a busy thoroughfare costs $250.

Beauty In Blood Deep.
Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascarets, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean, by stirring up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. Begin to-day to banish pimples, boils, blotches, blackheads, and that sticky bilious complexion by taking Cascarets, 10c for ten cents. All druggists, satisfaction guaranteed, 10c, 25c, 50c.

Dry-Plate Photography.
The first amateur pictures on dry plates were made something after the method employed by Charles Lamb's celebrated Chinaman in obtaining roasts pig. The Chinaman burned his house to roast his pig; the amateur tore his camera to pieces to get his picture. The first hand camera was a pinboard box containing one plate. A pinhole served as a lens, and after the exposure of the plate the box was taken to the dark room, cut open, and the plate extracted. This was rather expensive picture-making, and it was not long before a magazine camera was invented; and suddenly all the world began taking pictures. The date of the invention of the dry-plate dates back scarcely eighteen years; but in that short time the growth and application of photography have been so remarkable that it can be compared to nothing more aptly than to the amazing development of the genie which the unlucky fisherman released from the jar. In 1880 the outlay for photographic material was, in round numbers, $25,000. Ten years later it amounted to $2,500,000. During the first-named year perhaps one hundred and fifty persons were employed in its manufacture. Today one single firm has fifteen hundred employees. This firm alone manufactures in a week so much sensitive film that, if made into one long strip seven inches wide, it would measure over one hundred miles in length.

Favorite Subject for Photography.
Perhaps no celestial body has been photographed so many times as the moon. At Lick Observatory the "man in the moon" sits for his picture many times during the year. Jupiter and Saturn are also frequent subjects, and no day passes in which some sun-spot does not leave its celestial abode on the sensitive plate. Many astronomical discoveries have been made through photography, the greatest of them being the discovery, by Professor Draper, of oxygen in the sun. The applications of photography are so many and so varied that a whole volume of the St. Nicholas would be required to describe them; for there is no department of knowledge in which it has been so extensively used, and none to which it has been so universally helpful.

YOUNG AT SIXTY.

Serene comfort and happiness in advanced years are realized by comparatively few women. Their hard lives, their liability to serious troubles on account of their peculiar organism and their profound ignorance concerning themselves, all combine to shorten the period of usefulness and fill their later years with suffering. Mrs. Pinkham has done much to make women strong. She has given advice to many that has shown them how to guard against disease and retain vigorous health in old age. From every corner of the earth there is constantly coming the most convincing statements from women, showing the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming female ills. Here is a letter from Mrs. J. C. Orms, of 230 Horner St., Johnstown, Pa., which is earnest and straight to the point: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I feel it my duty to tell all suffering women that I think your remedies are wonderful. I had trouble with my head, dizzy spells and hot flashes. Feet and hands were cold, was very nervous, could not sleep well, had kidney trouble, pain in ovaries and congestion of the womb. Since taking your remedies I am better every way. My head trouble is all gone, have no pain in ovaries, and am cured of womb trouble. I can eat and sleep well and am gaining in flesh. I consider your medicine the best to be had for female troubles."

The present Mrs. Pinkham's experience in treating female ills is unparalleled, for years she worked side by side with Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, and for sometime past has had sole charge of the correspondence department of her great business, treating by letter as many as a hundred thousand ailing women during a single year.

FOR WOMAN'S BENEFIT.

A Woman's Good Work.

Mme. Pescova of Prague has been decorated by the Emperor of Austria as an acknowledgment of the work she has done for women. Some time ago she erected a fine building where about 2000 Bohemian women are annually prepared for the Prague university. She is well known as a writer on educational matters and as a poet.

Engagements in Denmark.
"In Denmark a girl never knows the pure, unadulterated joy of receiving a diamond engagement ring," remarked a returned traveler. "She gets a plain gold band known as a wedding ring in that country, and it is worn on her left third finger. On the day of her marriage the bridegroom changes it to her right third finger, which is the marriage finger in that country of queer customs. When the husband dies his widow changes her ring again to her left third finger, and everybody knows that she is a widow. Being engaged can't mean a great deal of happiness in Denmark any way you take it, for a girl is never, under any circumstances, permitted to see her betrothed one minute alone."—New York Sun.

A New Dress Preparation.
A new thing in dress material preparation is said to be one of the most pronounced successes of the season. The material is sponged so that it will neither shrink nor spot. Two pieces of material exactly alike can be taken, of which one will be treated with the preparation and the other left untouched or sponged in the usual way. Both will then be sprinkled with water. The prepared material will dry flat and smooth as when new, while the other spots and wrinkles up. Serges often shrink when wet; facon cloths and even covert coating will spot, and alpaca is an almost impossible wet weather fabric. When treated to the new finish they are said to be not only rain proof, but softer and silkier than ever. For cycling and seaside wear the new process is earning golden opinions, and women are said to be blessing the inventor of it.

Short Sermon on Shoes.
Many reasons have been given for the preference shown by women generally for high heels. One is that the practice adds height to the body; another that it adds gracefulness to the carriage. To the latter one might take exception, for it may do so as long as the wearers stand still, but when they move about it imparts what can best be described as a wobbling motion which is the reverse of graceful. Tight shoes, again, are worn with the object of making the feet look smaller, but, as a matter of fact, the better shape a foot is the smaller it will look, but in the disproportionately small foot there is always involved an awkward gait. The foot of a tall woman should be larger than the foot of a small woman. The foot in length should be the length of the ulna, a bone in the forearm, which extends from a protuberance in the outer portion of the wrist to the elbow. Of course the ulna is longer in tall people, and to be graceful the foot should be also. Many people may be surprised that the foot should be as long as the forearm, and might be inclined to dispute the fact unless proved by demonstration.—Philadelphia Times.

Shoulder Wraps and Capes.
Something in the way of a light wrap is considered an indispensable accessory to every well arranged toilet. It may not constantly be worn, but it is exceedingly convenient and useful to have in case one boards an open car or has occasion to remain any length of time out of doors or in a current of air. The prettiest wraps are masses of lace and fluffiness. They must have a tolerably firm foundation, but diaphanous fabrics make up the larger part of them.

One model has a shawl shaped middle portion and ruffles in the greatest profusion. These ruffles are made of lace edging four inches deep. This edging is put on extravagantly full, so much so, indeed, that it makes ruchings that might almost suggest a burdensome quantity. There are nine of these ruffle ruchings and they overlap so as to make a length of about 22 inches at the extreme point. The shawl shaped middle is more popular than the circle, which seems to indicate what has long been predicted—the gradual return to favor of the old-fashioned shawl, which has been out of use so many years that very few people possess one that is at all available. Exception, of course, is made to the owners of India shawls, who seem to cling to them with the utmost pertinacity. Other capes are made in shawl shape and trimmed with bands of flat garniture or very rich embroidery. One model is large enough to cover the figure and extends some distance below the waist line; indeed, the point at the back falls at least a third of the distance over the skirt. The collar is high and flaring and elaborately trimmed with feather ruchings. The border has five rows of rich galloon set on at regular intervals and attached to the fabric by embroidery stitches.—New York Ledger.

Uses and Abuses of Veils.
Little by little the veils are climbing upward, and Paris says that they may now be worn no further over the face than just beneath the nose. This fashion has certainly its convenience to recommend it. Some one has remarked: "What a comfort to be able to drink an ice cream soda or take a cup of tea without all that bother of raising the veil and the worse bother of getting it down again."

There are all sorts and kinds of veils, but, before buying, a little study of effect is necessary. A face that looks well behind a thin gauze, with occasional dots, will look wan and haggard under a Russian net, heavy with chenille balls. Women who persist in wearing a dotted veil under one of chiffon are simply ruining their eyesight. Doctors say that the wearing of veils, dotted ones in particular, is ruinous to the eyesight, and also that oculists owe a large part of their incomes to this feminine habit.

If veils must be worn, the bow at the back must be avoided, and the ends drawn into the smallest kind of a knot and tucked out of sight. The smartest dressed women do not wear veils, though this may be only a hot weather fancy.—New York Tribune.

Caring for Hats.

To the dainty woman who wishes to keep her hats up to the standard without a great outlay of money or constant recourse to Madame Milliner, the practical hints given her classes by a first class teacher of millinery may prove worthy of consideration. The best velvet, says this woman who knows, is better than silk velvet, so far as durability and keeping in order are concerned, for making or trimming hats. Rain will not soil a good quality of velveteen, as a little steaming will make it as good as new, while a few drops of water on silk velvet makes little indentations hard to remove. For black hats, chip or straw, beginning to grow rusty, liquid shoe polish may be used to good advantage. Hats should be brushed every day before laying aside to keep the dust from grinding in. Artificial flowers, drooping and crushed, may be brightened and freshened by shaking for ten minutes through the steam from the boiling teakettle. Ostrich feathers respond to the same treatment. A good quality of ribbon makes the most durable, and consequently the cheapest, of all hat trimmings, standing the moisture of the sea or flying dust of business streets or country driving better than flowers, feathers or lace.

Steel ornaments may be made as good as new by scrubbing in hot soapsuds, using a nail brush to reach the interstices, then polishing it with a chamotte or drying in sawdust. To renovate old black thread or French laces dip into a solution of weak green tea, then spread out upon several thicknesses of newspaper laid upon the ironing board or other flat surface. With a pin pick out each little point or scallop, cover the lace with sheets of newspapers, and put a weight on the paper, allowing it to remain 24 hours. Fine white laces, delicate ribbons and silks, may be freshened and cleaned with powdered magnesia, or, if not too badly soiled, with hot flour—taking care that it is not browned in the heating. Sprinkle the magnesia or flour upon a smooth sheet of wrapping paper, lay the silk or lace upon the paper and sprinkle more magnesia over it. Cover with another sheet of paper, place a book or some light weight on the paper, letting it rest there several days. Take the fabric up, shake well, and brush with a soft brush. For laces that require stiffening rinse in a pint of water in which gum arabic the size of a pea is dissolved, roll about a bottle and pull or pat with a soft towel until dry.—Philadelphia Times.

Fashion Hints.

Steel and malachite form a combination noted in the newest buckles. Nearly all of the dressy gowns this season have a sash tied in the back or at the left side. Skirts are much gored and have flounces at the foot. These usually widen toward the back. Neck ruchies made of very fine white Brussels net, finely dotted with black chenille, are stylish and becoming. They are finished with long, graceful ends.

Entire gowns of heavy black knotted silk, with deep flanged edges, are in vogue for evening wear. They look best made over a foundation of black satin. Ribbon trimmings will be much used in autumn millinery on both hats and toques. This is a sensible fashion, since ribbon is not easily hurt by uncertain autumn weather. The wide director to the still remains popular.

A new silk maslin which has some of the stiffness of horse hair and silk moreen is being made up into petticoats. It rustles almost as industriously as real silk, and when trimmed with lace and plenty of ruffles it is a good substitute. A somewhat striking effect is produced by the use of white linen duck skirts and black satin or brocade jackets. There is a blouse front, preferably of white India silk, with a bit of lace and a collar that is much less voluminous than any of those heretofore seen.

New dresses show flounces placed lengthwise of the skirt in the seams. They are much narrower at the top than the foot, and are so arranged that they fall in jabot fashion. They are cut off at the hem of the skirt even with the braid, and simply hemmed. Double faced cashmere and drap d'ete will share French honors with Venetian cloth in the making of elegant tailor costumes for dress occasions. Silk gowns, velvet ribbon in various widths, white satin and gold braid are the chosen decorations for these gowns; otherwise cream or white satin, overlaid with guipure lace, will be used.

A Domestic Incident.

From the Observer, Flushing, Mich. "Early in November, 1894," says Frank Long, who lives near Lannon, Mich., "on starting to get up from the dinner table, I was taken with a pain in my back. The pain increased and I was obliged to take to my bed. The physician who was summoned pronounced my osteo-muscular rheumatism accompanied by lumbago. He gave me remedies and injected morphine into my arm to ease the pain. "My disease gradually became worse until I thought that death would be welcome release from my sufferings. Besides my regular physician I also consulted another, but he gave me no encouragement.

On Getting Up From the Table.

"I was finally induced through reading some accounts in the newspapers regarding the wonderful cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, to try them. I took the pills according to directions and soon began to notice an improvement in my condition. Before the first box was used I could get about the house, and after using five boxes was entirely cured. "Since that time I have felt no return of the rheumatic pains. I am confident that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life and I try to induce my friends who are sick to take the same remedy. I will gladly answer inquiries concerning my sickness and wonderful cure, provided stamp is enclosed for reply.

Even to before me at Venice, Mich., this 15th day of April, 1895.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Slang from the Days of Old Rome.

Passing through a vacant lot the other day where some boys were having a game of ball, I heard one of them who had got a rap on the knuckles from a "foul," exclaim, "Jimmy, that hurts!" and then, after rubbing his fingers a moment, he went back to his place on the field, little dreaming that he had just uttered a solemn invocation to the old Roman demigods Castor and Pollux. For our vulgar "Jimmy" is but a corruption of the Latin "gemini," twins, a name applied to Castor and Pollux, the twin sons of Jupiter and Leda. These hero gods were the patrons of games and festivals of all kinds; hence, when an old Roman exclaimed, "O Gemini!" it was a devout appeal to the gods for help or protection, very much the same as when a knight of old called on his patron saint, —Miss E. F. Andrews.

CHOOSE FOR YOURSELF.

We usually advertise a specimen bargain from one of our catalogues, but we don't do so in this advertisement because we're perplexed. Our furniture catalogue consists of 160 pages, every page filled with bargains. Now, how are we to select one? We say to you, if there's anything on earth in the furniture or carpet line that you want, you'll find it in our catalogues at least 40 per cent. cheaper than you can buy it anywhere else.

Would we spend our money advertising our furniture and carpet catalogues (they're absolutely free, not even a stamp necessary if they weren't worth having)? Not much. If you get these catalogues you'll see for yourself what an enormous amount you can save by buying from mill owners and furniture manufacturers like we are.

That carpet catalogue that we are so anxious you should have, is the finest thing an artist ever designed, and you can select carpet from it just as though you were in the sample room of one of our mills, because it's lithographed in ten colors from hand-painted plates.

We couldn't exaggerate the value of our furniture catalogue if we tried. Just think of 160 large pages devoted to furniture, and every page filled with bargains. Will you be a friend to yourself? Will you write for these catalogues at once? Address (exactly as below):
