Quay's Interpretation.

The following editorial which appeared in last week's Somerset Standard, contains so many facts and is so thoroughly to the point that we deem it worthy of reproduction.

"During the campaign which closed last week it was repeatedly asserted from the Republican stump, through the newspaper organs of the Quay machine, that the issues of the campaign in this state were purely and wholly national; that a vote for the entire Republican ticket would be an expression of confidence in the splendid administration of President McKinley, and that Quayism had no place or part in the campaign. Now these same Quay-machine organs are claiming that in voting for the ticket the Republicans have stood loyally by Senator Quay. In other words, these organs are advertising their dishonesty.

During the campaign, when the misdoings of his infamous machine were gnawing at the very vitals of the party, Senator Quay's friends impudently tried to speak an allaying speech, but with cowardly and ysteric silence he refrained, knowing that any injection of Quayism at that time could only have a disastrous effect. But the result of the election was hardly announced when Mr. Quay stepped from his seclusion, and with that brazen audacity peculiar to him, interpreted it as his personal triumph and vindication. This is the taunt that Mr. Quay flings into the face of fully 200,000 Republicans in the state who would vote against him and his machine if a proper opportunity were offered, but who voted for Colonel Stone, last week.

This statement is proportionately true of Somerset county, and the proof is at hand. At the Republican primary election in this county, last spring, Senator Quay was a candidate for 'endorsement.' He had no opposing candidate; there seemed to be nobody else who needed 'endorsement.' Yet of the 5,000 Republicans who went to the polls at that election, more than 2,500 took the time and trouble to scratch the name of Matthew Stanley Quay from the tickets they voted. These Republicans, with possibly a few exceptions, voted last week for Colonel Stone, and Mr. Quay jumps up and interprets their action in so doing as a personal triumph for himself, and his organs exult in the fact that the 'Republican voters have stood loyally by him.'

But, further: At the primary election held in this county, last spring, the issue was plain—Quay and anti-Quay. Two avowed anti-Quay candidates for the Legislature were nominated and three avowed anti-Quay candidates for delegates to the State Convention were elected. These candidates received the votes of from 2,000 to 3,000 Republicans, a very large number of whom must have voted for Colonel Stone, last week. This is what Mr. Quay interprets as personal vindication, and this is what his organs call 'standing by him.'

And let it be understood that the Republicans of this county knew what they were doing, last spring, when they scratched Mr. Quay's name from their tickets and voted against his machine, and they knew why they did it. Only one year before, the machine's branch in this county denied them an election, and then poured 'Barker liniment' upon the sore. If the feeling against this Quay machine was so great at that time, what must it be now that some of the machine's doings have been laid bare, and the uncovering only fairly begun?

Mr. Quay announces that he will be a candidate for re-election to the Senate. He is not satisfied with the danger into which he and his machine have plunged the party; he and his wrecking crew must further ply their vocation. This crew, or a part of it, was up in Congressman C. W. Stone's district, recently, and succeeded in defeating a Republican and electing a Democrat; and this while the campaigners were calling upon Republicans to hold up the hands of the President. Another part of the crew was operating in this (the Twentieth) district at the same time, but did not meet with so much success. Congressman Stone had been a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination without asking Mr. Quay's permission, and Mr. Tropp was known to be opposed to the machine; hence both were placed under the machine's ban.

Now Mr. Quay wants to continue the turmoil in the party by making a final effort to retain his place and power, and he opens his campaign with one of the most marvelous bluffs of the century. He offers $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone endeavoring to bribe any State Senator or Representative! The fellow who thinks of going after this reward will probably remember Quay's message to Dear Hopkins: 'If you buy and carry a thousand Met. for me I will shake the plum tree! Hopkins, you know, killed himself.

Mr. Quay's bluffs are not often called, but that $10,000 one has been, or, rather, it has been raised. Mr. Wannamaker has raised it just $20,000. Fearing that Mr. Quay's offer may have been as loosely made as some of his promises, and determined that any effort aimed at the debauchery of legislators shall be properly rewarded, Mr.

Wannamaker offers $20,000 to any person or persons who will give information that will secure the conviction of anyone who corruptly gives or offers to give, directly or indirectly, to any member of the General Assembly any money, appointment to office or thing of value to secure the vote of such member for any person for the office of United States Senator, and in addition to this Mr. Wannamaker agrees to procure counsel and pay all the costs of prosecution in any case coming within the purview of his offer.

The fight against Matthew Stanley Quay and his infamous political machine is on, and it will be to a finish. The record of the last Legislature has brought reproach upon the State, and it is a record that no party can countenance and live.

A Inventive Englishman.

Westchester, (Pa.) News.

It is a well-known fact that most of the circulars sent to the busy men nowadays are consigned immediately to the waste basket, without so much as a hasty perusal. An English firm, realizing this, got around the difficulty by printing the following on the envelope: "Caution: Remove the envelope carefully and exercise still greater care in handling the inclosed circular. Don't throw it in the waste paper basket or give it to the servant to light the fires with, as the most disastrous results will follow, inasmuch as the circular is dipped in a solution of dynamite, the most powerful explosive known. Hang it up in a cool, dry place, and after a few days' exposure its dangerous properties will disappear, and it can be burned like any other circular." Then at the lower edge of the envelope was printed: "N. B.—Most firms do their heavy lying in the circular; we alone do all of ours on the envelope."

A War Relic.

Commodore Philip has sent a unique souvenir to the governor of Texas as a testimony of the loyalty and efficiency of the battleship which was christened after that state. He has taken one of the armor plates which was pierced by a six-inch projectile from the guns of the Vizcaya and has framed it in handsome style, to be hung as a memento in the state house at Austin.

An Alternative.

A small Scotch boy was summoned to give evidence against his father, who was accused of making disturbances in the streets. Said the baillie to him:

"Come, my wee man, speak the truth, an' let us hear all ye ken about this affair."

"Weel, sir," said the lad, "dy'e ken Inverness street?"

"I do, laddie," said the magistrate.

"Weel, ye gang along it and turn into the square, and cross the square—"

"Yes, yes," replied the baillie, encouragingly.

"And when ye gang across the square ye turn up to the right, and keep up High street till ye come to a pump."

"Quite right, my lad, proceed," said the magistrate. "I know the old pump well."

"Weel," said the boy, with the most infantile simplicity, "ye may gang and pump it, for ye'll no pump me!"

The Soldier's Wife.

He offered himself for the land he loved, But what shall we say of her?

He gave to his country a soldier's life; 'Twas doer by far to the soldier's wife; All honor to-day to her!

He went to the war while his blood was hot, But what shall we say of her?

He saw for himself through the battle's flame, What honor is due to her?

He offered himself, but his wife did more, All honor to-day to her!

For danger than life was the gift she gave; In saving the life she would die to save; What honor is due to her?

He gave up his life at his country's call, But what shall we say of her?

He offered himself as a sacrifice, But she is the one who pays the price; All honor we owe to her.

She never ran with a hoop, nor blew Soap bubbles out of a pipe, nor knew In all her days what a world of fun It was to scamp and jump and run.

She was born to weep and a house of pride And must be proper and dignified.

Dear little girl, I am sad for you; They have fleeced your world of its roscet hue;

Fighting to Get Mr. Quay's Bank Transactions Before the Courts.

QUAY'S FRIENDS OPPOSE IT.

John Dalzell and Charles W. Stone Out For United States Senator Against Quay—The Machine Admits Its Defeat in the Lower House of the Legislature—Proposed Combination of Anti-Quay Men and Democrats Frightens the Quay Followers.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Harrisburg, Nov. 22.—The friends of Senator Quay in Philadelphia and throughout Pennsylvania—the real, earnest, honest friends who admire Mr. Quay personally—received a shock last week when they learned that every possible effort was being put forth to prevent the appearance of certain important witnesses for the commonwealth in the approaching trial of Senator Quay and others for the misuse of state funds.

Cashier Montgomery, of the Allegheny National bank of Pittsburg, and Cashier Stone, of the Beaver National bank, were subpoenaed by District Attorney Graham to appear in court with their books and papers to testify as to Senator Quay's transactions with these two institutions. It is believed that the object of the district attorney of Philadelphia is to fasten on Senator Quay, by the indisputable evidence of these cashiers and their bank books, that Mr. Quay for years has benefited by receiving interest on state moneys. It is well known that Senator Quay had an extensive business connection with the national bank at Beaver and the Allegheny National bank at Pittsburg. The latter is today one of the heaviest holders of state treasury funds in Pennsylvania.

BEAVER BANK BOOKS.

It is said that the books of the Beaver bank were demanded for the time that Senator Quay was state treasurer. Of course the object of all this is to show that somebody has been largely benefited by the use of state money. From the beginning of this trouble the friends of Senator Quay have maintained that there was nothing to conceal. That his bank dealings were straight. That when the time came he would show up books and papers with the utmost freedom. It was admitted that he had speculated in stocks, but this, it was alleged, was all the charge that could justly be brought against him. It was with a shock, therefore, that the announcement was received that the proposition to have the books of the Allegheny National and the Beaver National banks brought into court would be fought bitterly. And it was, and the inference is that every other step will be fought just as bitterly.

The case set up by Cashiers Montgomery and Stone was that they had no right to betray a confidence reposed in them as bankers exhibiting the banking affairs of Senator Quay. The result was a bitter contest in the courts of Philadelphia. Senator Quay and his friends came off second best, for the judge decided that the books must be produced. The Quay side of the case immediately carried the case to the superior court, where it remains for a decision.

QUAY'S CASE TO BE PUSHED.

District Attorney Graham declared that the case against Senator Quay, as well as against Richard H. Quay and ex-Senator Treasurer Haywood, will be pushed immediately to trial and a verdict. Senator Quay is now in Florida. It has been asserted, and is not denied, that Mr. Quay has sent for a number of the doubtful members of the legislature to come and visit him at his Florida resort. Several of the wavering members-elect have started for the sunny south.

Outside of the matter of these pilgrimages to the Quay shrine, one other matter of interest attracted attention over the state. It was the announcement that Congressman John Dalzell, of Pittsburg, and Congressman Charles W. Stone, of Warren, had entered the contest for United States senator against M. S. Quay.

DALZELL AND STONE AGAINST QUAY.

Both Congressmen Dalzell and Stone were in Philadelphia last week, and were visited by a large number of Republicans. They were urged to become candidates. Congressman John Dalzell is one of the most conspicuous members of the national house. Congressman Charles W. Stone, who has just been defeated by "Free Silver" Sibley, is the most conspicuous victim of Quay machine hatred in the state. The case of both of these gentlemen their candidacy will prove a safety valve to thousands of Republicans in counties where Quay members have been elected under pressure of the machine. Both have been encouraged to come forward as candidates against Quay—y men who are associated with the Quay machine, but who for various reasons are compelled to go along with it and serve it in the most abject manner. They are in the candidacy of these men an avenue of escape for them and for the party.

The Quay machine is badly frightened over the prospect that is before it in the legislature. The prospective combination of anti-Quay Republicans and Democrats to elect an anti-Quay Republican to the United States senate is keeping the machine leaders awake at nights. The machine recognizes that so far as the lower house at Harrisburg is concerned it is defeated. That an invincible combination of decent Democrats and anti-Quay Republicans confronts it. To show just how badly the machine is frightened, it put out an official statement from Republican headquarters on last Friday night to the effect that the alliance of anti-Quay Republicans and Democrats, for the overthrow of Quay and Quayism, lacked eight of a majority.

ADMITS IMPENDING DEFEAT.

Think of it! The Republican machine admitting that the fight was close that eight men would decide it! Unfortunately for the machine and for Mr. Quay himself the anti-Quay combination has a great many more than enough votes to knock out the ringsters, the roosters and the machine politicians. All stories to the contrary are put out by the machine leaders themselves to bolster up their lost cause. When the Quay machine admits that it is within eight votes of being whipped no better evidence is needed that it is already defeated.

The anti-Quay Republicans declare with the utmost emphasis that Senator Quay is already a whipped man. They do not care to give out estimates, or to submit their strength by counting, for this would attract the purchasing agents of the machine to a large number of districts in the state. They content themselves with declaring that Quay is defeated for the senate, and that his successor will be an independent Republican.

I have used Ripans Tablets with so much satisfaction that I can cheerfully recommend them. Have been troubled for about three years with what I called bilious attacks coming on regularly once a week. Was told by different physicians that it was caused by bad teeth, of which I had several. I had the teeth extracted, but the attacks continued. I had seen advertisements of Ripans Tablets in all the papers but had no faith in them, but about six weeks since a friend induced me to try them. Have taken but two of the small 5-cent boxes of the Tablets and have had no recurrence of the attacks. Have never given a testimonial for anything before, but the great amount of good which I believe has been done me by Ripans Tablets induces me to add mine to the many testimonials you doubtless have in your possession now.

A. T. DEWITT.

I have been a great sufferer from constipation for over five years. Nothing gave me any relief. My feet and legs and abdomen were bloated so I could not wear shoes on my feet and only a loose dress. I saw Ripans Tablets advertised in our daily paper, bought some and took them as directed. Have taken them about three weeks and there is such a change! I am not constipated any more and I owe it all to Ripans Tablets. I am thirty-seven years old, have no occupation, only my household duties and nursing my sick husband. He has had such distress and I am trying Ripans Tablets for him. He feels so better but it will take some time, he has been sick so long. You may use my letter and name as you like.

Mrs. MARY GORMAN CLARKE.

I have been suffering from headaches ever since I was a little girl. I could never get a carer; into a crowded place without getting a headache and at my stomach. I heard about Ripans Tablets from an aunt of mine who was taking them for catarrh of the stomach. She had found such relief from their use she advised me to take them too, and I have been doing so since last October, and will say they have completely cured my headaches. I am twenty-nine years old. You are welcome to use this testimonial.

Mrs. J. ENOCH YVRE.

My seven-year old boy suffered with pain in his head, constipation and complaint of his stomach. He could not eat like children of his age do and what he did eat did not agree with him. He was thin and of a saffron color. Reading some of the testimonials in favor of Ripans Tablets, I tried them. Ripans Tablets not only relieved but actually cured my youngster, the headaches have disappeared, bowels are in good condition and he never complains of his stomach. He is now a red, chubby-faced boy. This wonderful change I attribute to Ripans Tablets. I am satisfied that they will benefit any one from the cradle to old age if taken according to directions.

E. W. FINCH.

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABLETS packed in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced set is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (12 tablets) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPIANS TABLETS COMPANY, No. 12 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABLETS) will be sent for five cents. RIPANS TABLETS may also be had of some grocers, general storekeepers, news agents and at some liquor stores and barber shops. They banish pain, induce sleep and prolong life. One gives relief.
